In Memoriam

EDMUND JANES JAMES
1855-1925

His work is not done. The initial impulses which he gave are finished; but through generations to come, the influence of his mind, his heart, will be felt in the life of the University of Illinois and the people of America.

A great teacher, a great administrator, a great leader, a great man.

—President Kinley.
In Memoriam

IRA OSBORN BAKER
1853-1925

For more than half a century he was an inspiring teacher of engineering, and a leader in the development of the university, as one of its foremost builders.

Dr. Baker was the finest product of an advanced Christian civilization, a credit to his state and his university alike.

ADMINISTRATION
University and the State

The history of the University of Illinois is comparatively short. The University is younger than its neighboring sister state institutions, for Illinois was one of the last states of the Middle West to have a state university. But the rise and growth of the University runs parallel with the rise and development of culture and industry in Illinois and the history of its University is an index of the cultural and economic life of the people of the State.

The early years of the second half of the nineteenth century were years of comparative industrial and agricultural poverty in Illinois. For the most part, the people were still pioneers in those days. In the fifty or sixty years following, however, agriculture, industry and commerce grew rapidly, and today Illinois is the greatest industrial state west of the Atlantic seaboard. So, too, in the early years of the University of Illinois, there was a great lack of interest in higher education and even the facilities for elementary education were few and crude. Out of this educational poverty, the people of Illinois have fashioned a system of public education which, from the elementary grades to the highest type of graduate and professional training, ranks with the best in the land. Young the University may be in years, but its achievements in the less than three score years of its life are indicative of the spirit and will of the people of Illinois.

During these years the University has been an agent in promoting the economic and cultural activities of the State by providing instruction for men and women in the arts, industries and professions; by solving problems of science, agriculture, the mechanic arts and commerce through research and scientific investigations; and through its extension activities by bringing the fruits of these investigations to the many who have been unable to secure a higher education.

All of this is but a beginning, a mere indication of what the University can do as the developmental agency of the State. Much of what has been done is quite recent, for it has been only during the last thirty years that the University has received anything like adequate support from the State.

Finally, the University has preserved, in the face of material difficulties and discouragement, democratic ideals. It has kept faith with the purpose of its founders to provide public higher education for the many. It is helping Democracy through the training of leaders, and Democracy needs many such men and women.

David Kinley

President.
FOR more than thirty years President Kinley has been an outstanding figure in the development and progress of the University.

In 1894 he was made Professor of Economics and Head of that Department; he was for many years Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences; he was the first Director of the School of Commerce, and for a dozen years or more Dean of the Graduate School. From 1914 until he was elected President of the University he held the office of Vice President.

He has had a wide vision; he has dreamed many dreams with regard to the University and its development and has had the influence and force of character to make many of these dreams come true.

History of the University

The University was incorporated by an act of the General Assembly, February 28, 1867, as the Illinois Industrial University. This action was taken following the act of Congress known as the "Morrill Land Grant," whereby the national government gave each state in the Union public land scrip equal to 30,000 acres for each senator and representative in Congress, "for the endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college whose leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts.* * * in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life."

The institution was placed under the control of a Board of Trustees, consisting of the Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the President of the State Board of Agriculture, members ex officio, and twenty-eight citizens appointed by the Governor. The chief executive officer was called the Regent, and was made ex officio a member of the Board and presiding officer of both the Board of Trustees and the faculty. In 1873 the number of members was reduced to eleven—the Governor and the President of the State Board of Agriculture, ex officio, and nine others, who were still appointed by the Governor. Since this time also, the President of the Board has been chosen by the members from among their own number for a term of one year. In 1887, a law was passed making membership in the Board elective at a general State election and restoring the Superintendent of Public Instruction as a member ex officio. There were then, therefore, three ex officio and nine elective members. In 1917, the General Assembly passed a law reorganizing the administration of the State. By virtue of this law, on January 1, 1919, the office of the President of the State Board of Agriculture was abolished. There are now, therefore, eleven members, two ex officio and nine elective.

In 1885, the General Assembly changed the name of the institution from the Illinois Industrial University to the University of Illinois.

The office of executive head of the institution has been held by six persons: Dr. John Milton Gregory, Regent from 1867 to 1880; Dr. Selim Hobart Peabody, Regent pro tempore from 1880 to 1881 and Regent from 1881 to 1891; Dr. Thomas Jonathan Burrill, Acting Regent from 1891 to 1894; Dr. Andrew Sloan Draper, President from 1894 to 1904; Dr. Edmund Janes James, President from 1904 to 1920; and Dr. David Kinley, Acting President from 1919 to 1920, and President since 1920.

The University opened on March 2, 1868. The number of students enrolled was fifty; the faculty consisted of the Regent and two professors. During the first term another instructor was added, and the number of students increased to 77—all men.

During the first term instruction was given in algebra, geometry, physics, history, rhetoric, and Latin. During the autumn of 1868 a chemical laboratory was provided, and laboratory work in botany was begun the following year. In January, 1870, a mechanical shop was equipped with tools and machinery, and here was begun the first shop instruction given in any American university.

On March 9, 1870, the Trustees voted to admit women as students. In the year 1870-71, twenty-four availed themselves of the privilege. Since that time they have constituted from one-sixth to one-fourth of the total number of students.

In 1892, graduate work was undertaken under the name of the Graduate School. The first summer session was held in 1894. The department of music became the School of Music in 1897. The work in law was organized as the School of Law in 1896—the name being changed to the College of Law in 1900. The General Assembly made a special appropriation in 1900 to establish courses of training for business life, and the Trustees organized the Courses in Business Administration, which in 1915 became the College of Commerce and Business Administration. In 1905, the Trustees established a School of Education, which became the College of Education in 1918. The School of Railway Engineering and Administration was created in 1907, following the establishment in 1906 of the department of railway engineering. The General Assembly in 1909 established the department of mining engineering. In 1913, the College of Literature and Arts and the College of Science were united to form the present College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.
The Dean of Men

Thomas Arkle Clark, '90, Dean of Men, was born in Minonk, Illinois, on May 17, 1862, and studied at the Universities of Illinois, Chicago, and Harvard. He has been Dean of Men here since 1909, and his work has gained him national recognition as an authority on all phases of a university man's life. During the sixteen years of his service he has probably been guide, counselor, and friend to more young men than any other man in the country.

The office of the Dean of Men was organized primarily to aid the University men in securing an environment which would encourage good citizenship as well as high scholarship.

New functions have been given to the office and the scope of its work has been widened. Dean Thomas Arkle Clark has added Mr. Fred H. Turner, Assistant Dean of Men, Mr. J. Gladwyn Thomas, Assistant Dean for Freshmen and Foreign Students, and Mr. Roger Hopkins, in charge of student organizations and activities, in order that he may devote more time to the individual student.

The purpose of the office has not changed, but the work of assisting men to be better students, and providing better living conditions for them is being constantly extended.

Assistant Deans

Fred H. Turner  J. Gladwyn Thomas
The Dean of Women

Miss Maria Leonard, Dean of Women, was born in Indianapolis, Indiana. She was graduated from Butler College in 1906, and received her M. A. at the University of Colorado in 1910. Since that time she has been constantly engaged in Dean's work, having served as Dean of Women at the University of Idaho from 1910 to 1912, at the University of Iowa from 1912 to 1923, and at the University of Illinois since 1923.

The office of the Dean of Women seeks to serve the needs of the women students of the University of Illinois individually and in groups. Its purpose is to secure wholesome and healthful living conditions for Illinois women, more genuine interest in and incentives for high scholarship, and natural means of developing intellectually, socially, and spiritually.

This has been attempted through personal contacts with as many women as possible. Any student may secure an appointment with the Dean of Women or her assistants at any time to discuss personal or group interest.

Conferences are held with students, housemothers, parents, and out-of-town visitors from 8:00 A.M. until 6:00 P.M. More than three thousand callers are received at the office each month. The whole organization of the office of the Dean of Women seeks to serve the needs of the individual student, the group, and the campus in general.

ASSISTANT DEANS

Cora K. Miller

Helen W. McKNAIR
The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is, and has been for many years, the largest college in the University, both in the number of students enrolled and in the size of the faculty. It consists of nineteen separate departments, and not only offers the student a good general education, but also presents the opportunity of preparing for the advanced study of law, medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, theology, or social service. Besides this very definite work of its own, the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences provides instruction in rhetoric, romance languages, mathematics, and the social sciences for students registered in all the other colleges at Urbana. In fact, this phase of the work has grown to such an extent that for the past few years over one-half of the total energy of the teaching staff has been devoted to the instruction of students enrolled in other colleges.

Kendric Charles Babcock, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, was born in South Brookfield, New York, on September 8, 1864. He studied at the University of Minnesota and at Harvard, completing his work there in 1896. On leaving Harvard, he became an assistant professor at the University of Colorado, which position he left to accept the presidency of the University of Arizona in 1903. From 1910 to 1913 he served as a specialist in higher education on the United States Bureau of Education, accepting his present position at the end of that time.
The College of Commerce and Business Administration

The College of Commerce and Business Administration reaches back educationally to 1902, when the work was established in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences under the guidance of Dr. David Kinley, who was then Dean of the College. The educational ideals set up at that time have been followed studiously, with the result that today the College of Commerce and Business Administration is regarded as a leader among the Collegiate Schools of Business which give major attention to broad fundamentals rather than to technique and routine.

The College, as it is now constituted, was organized in 1915 with three departments: Economics, Business Organization and Operation, and Transportation. In the meantime, the student body has grown from a few hundred to more than two thousand, and the faculty from less than a dozen to seventy-five.

Charles Manfred Thompson

Charles Manfred Thompson, '09, Dean of the College of Commerce and Director of the Bureau of Business Research, was born in Fairfield, Illinois, on November 10, 1877. On completing his undergraduate work here he went to Harvard University, where he studied in 1900-01, returning to the University of Illinois in 1912 as an instructor in economics. He continued his graduate work here, receiving his Ph. D. the next year. Since that time he has been serving continuously on the faculty, accepting his present position in 1916.
College of Engineering and Engineering Experiment Station

The College of Engineering has ten departments of instruction and offers fifteen specialized curriculums; namely, Architecture, Architectural Engineering, Ceramic Chemistry, Ceramic Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Gas Engineering, General Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Mining Engineering, Municipal and Sanitary Engineering, Engineering Physics, Railway Civil Engineering, Railway Electrical Engineering, and Railway Mechanical Engineering. The physical plant of the College of Engineering is extensive and its equipment for instruction and research is in most instances unexcelled. Its faculty includes many men who are everywhere recognized as authorities in their subjects.

No institution in America has done more to promote research in engineering science than the University of Illinois. Wherever engineering is practiced, the Engineering Experiment Station is known for its valuable contributions to knowledge. The Station has published 154 bulletins and 12 circulars, and numerous manuscripts presenting the recent results of investigations have been accepted for publication. Over eighty investigations are in progress at the present time, the completion of some of which will be of tremendous importance to members of the engineering industries.

Milo Smith Ketchum, '95, Dean of the College of Engineering, was born in Burns, Illinois, on January 26, 1872. Since finishing his undergraduate work, he has been constantly connected with universities, except for two brief periods. In 1897-9 he served as bridge and structural engineer for the Gillett-Hertzog Manufacturing Company, and in 1903-4 was with the American Bridge Company in Kansas City. Before assuming his present position in 1922, he served in similar capacities at the University of Colorado from 1909 to 1910, and at the University of Pennsylvania in 1910-20.
The College of Agriculture

The College of Agriculture gives instruction in the various lines of agricultural work. The needs of the student who expects to return to the farm are kept prominently in mind, and the record of the Alumni shows that 80 per cent are engaged in agricultural work of some kind. A conscious effort has been made in formulating the curricula in agriculture, however, to make the course a broadly cultural rather than a narrow, technical one. The object is to make good citizens as well as good farmers and agricultural leaders.

The Agricultural Experiment Station is rendering a valuable service in investigating the many questions involved in agricultural production and marketing. The Agricultural Extension Service adapts and disseminates the facts determined by the Experiment Station to the people of the state.

H. W. Mumford

Herbert Windsor Mumford, Dean of the College of Agriculture, was born in Moscow, Michigan, on February 26, 1871. He received his education at the Michigan Agricultural College, from which he was graduated in 1891. Returning to his alma mater in 1893, he served as an instructor and assistant in the Agricultural Experiment Station, attaining his full professorship in 1899. In 1901 he became professor of animal husbandry at the University of Illinois, and since that time has been here continuously, serving in his present capacity since 1922.
The College of Law

The College of Law was established in 1897. Its primary purpose is to prepare its students for the legal profession. The law curriculum is constructed and arranged to give a legal training to students whose preliminary education and maturity have fitted them for serious professional study. It aims to give a thorough knowledge of fundamental legal principles and to develop the power of independent legal reasoning. The curriculum covers a minimum period of three academic years and gives an adequate preparation for the practice of law in any American state.

All law work at present is conducted in what is known as the “Law Building.” This building has served as the home of the College of Law since 1902. Recently the Board of Trustees assigned to this College the present Library Building. It is expected that law work will be taken up in that building at the beginning of the next academic year.

Albert James Harno, Dean of the College of Law, was born in Holabird, South Dakota, on January 30, 1889. He graduated from Dakota Wesleyan University in 1911, and three years later received his LL. B., magna cum laude, at Yale University. He practiced in Los Angeles until 1917, when he became Dean and Professor at Washburn College of Law in Topeka, Kansas. In 1919 he went to the University of Kansas as Professor of Law, transferring to the University of Illinois in 1921. He has served here as Professor of Law since 1921, and as Dean since 1922.
The College of Education

The College of Education is organized for the purpose of giving an opportunity to those who wish to enter the teaching profession to secure training which will, so far as possible, equip them for successful work. While the majority of those graduating from the University, who are entering educational work, secure positions as teachers of academic subjects in high schools, the College of Education does not limit its activities to training people for this particular type of work. The training of athletic coaches and teachers of physical education; of vocational teachers of agriculture, home economics, and industrial education; of teachers of music; and of supervisors, principals, and superintendents of city schools, is carried on as part of the work of the College of Education.

Charles Ernest Chadsey, Dean of the College of Education, was born in Nebraska City, Nebraska, on October 15, 1870. He studied at Leland Stanford University and later at Columbia University, where he finished in 1897. In 1907 he became Superintendent of Public Schools in Denver. In 1912 he accepted the same position in Detroit, and in March, 1919, became Superintendent of the Public Schools of Chicago. He left Chicago later in the same year to accept his present position.
The School of Music

Frederic Benjamin Stiven, Director of the School of Music, was born on July 17, 1882, at Ionia, Michigan. He received his B. Mus. at Oberlin College in 1907, and for two years remained there as an instructor in organ. From 1909 to 1911 he studied music in Paris under Alexandre Guilmant and Charles Marie Widor. He returned to Oberlin in 1911 as a Professor of Organ, and held that position until 1921, when he became Professor of Music and Director of the School of Music at the University of Illinois.

The School of Music, housed in the most beautiful building on the campus, contributes in a large degree to the cultural life and interest of the students of the entire University. The weekly Students' Recitals, the Faculty Recitals, and the various concerts given under the auspices of the school afford an opportunity to hear much good music. The students who are matriculated in the School of Music receive a complete four-years' course of collegiate grade. A major in piano, voice, violin, cello, organ, wind-instruments, or theory may be chosen. In addition to four years' work in the major subject, a minor subject in applied music, a thorough course in the theory and history of music, and certain academic subjects are required. The University Orchestra, the University Choral Society, the Glee Clubs, and various other musical activities sponsored by the School of Music help to extend its influence throughout the University.

Frederic B. Stiven.
The University Library not only supplies many volumes for class use by our large number of students, but also gives to our advanced students and to members of the faculty the use of the uncommon or rare books so often required in their work. We have no large reference library in our immediate neighborhood, and consequently we must provide in our own library all the printed resources we need. The library staff organizes more than six hundred thousand volumes for effective use.

The Library School is a professional school for the training of librarians, admitting only college graduates to its curriculum. Students come to it from every part of the country, and its graduates are in libraries located in all parts of the country. The number, resources, and educational value of libraries are steadily increasing, and this condition has created an increasing demand for college trained librarians.

Phineas Lawrence Windsor, Director of the University Library and the Library School, has spent twenty-six years in library work. He was graduated from Northwestern University in 1895, and studied at the New York State Library School from 1897 to 1899. On leaving there he began his active work as assistant New York State librarian, but changed to the copyright office of the Library of Congress in 1900. In 1903 he became Librarian of the University of Texas, serving there until 1909, when he accepted his present position.
The Graduate School

Arthur Hill Daniels, Dean of the Graduate School, was born in East Medway, Massachusetts, on October 19, 1865. After receiving his Ph. D. from Clark University in 1893 he came to the University of Illinois as an instructor in philosophy. In 1900 he went to Europe, where he studied and traveled for one year, returning to the University in 1901. For two years previous to Dean Babcock's arrival in 1913 he was Acting Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Since 1918 he has been connected with the office of the Dean of the Graduate School, being Assistant Dean for one year, Acting Dean for two years, and Dean since 1921.

The Graduate School represents the organized efforts and resources of the University for the purpose of giving opportunities for the most advanced study and for the promotion of research. These two functions, however, are by no means separate, for the spirit of research is the life of graduate study. The ideal of graduate work is one and the same for all graduate students. Some are fitting themselves for higher teaching and administrative positions. Others are looking forward to careers in business, industry, engineering, and the several professions. But it is the purpose of the Graduate School to train all in the methods and the use of the materials of their subjects so that they may become not only experts and authorities, but also independent workers in their chosen fields.
CHICAGO.
DEPARTMENTS
THE total registration in the College of Medicine has continued to increase during the past year; the number of students at the present time being five hundred ninety-one. A corresponding increase has also occurred in the Graduate School of the College. Progress has been rapid in graduate work, especially in connection with the clinical departments, in which a number of new men, including several heads of departments, have been acquired. Notable among these has been the appointment of Dr. C. A. Hedblom, who has come to us as head of the department of Surgery from the University of Wisconsin; and the appointment of Dr. F. H. Falls to the headship of the department of Obstetrics. He comes from the University of Iowa.

Probably the most outstanding feature during the past year in the development of the medical school was the opening of the Research and Educational Hospitals on April 1, 1925. This has made it possible to bring patients from the dispensary, and keep them under observation for study and treatment. The opening of the hospital has not only furnished facilities for teaching, and care of patients, but it has also resulted in a higher and better standard of instruction in all departments.

David J. Davis

David John Davis, Dean of the College of Medicine, was born in Racine, Wisconsin, Aug. 10, 1875. He studied first at the Racine Academy and later at the Universities of Wisconsin, Vienna and Freiberg and at Rush Medical College. He served in the capacity of Pathologist at St. Luke's Hospital, 1911-13, and became a Professor of Pathology and Bacteriology at the College of Medicine in 1913. He has written several treatises on the spine and is the author of other medical books. He began serving, first as acting Dean, in April, 1925, and succeeded to the Deanship in September, 1925.
The outstanding feature of the recent work of the College of Dentistry is the establishment of a children's clinic, which has a two-fold function. In the first instance, routine dentistry for children up to twelve years of age is related entirely to the children's clinic. This is in keeping with the newer methods of medical education in which the child and his diseases is not confused with the adult and his diseases. The deciduous tooth in the child calls for a different kind of treatment than the permanent tooth in the adult. All of the work in the orthodontia is also conducted as a part of the children's clinic, including both undergraduate and graduate instruction. In connection with the work in orthodontia and the routine dentistry of childhood, investigation has been inaugurated in the study of the causes of tooth decay. This problem is undoubtedly metabolic in character and is being studied both in its relation to the problem of diet on the one hand and infection on the other.
The School of Pharmacy

The School of Pharmacy enjoys the distinction of being the oldest Chicago department of the University of Illinois. It was organized as the Chicago College of Pharmacy in 1859, and became a part of the University on May 1, 1896. In its early years the School of Pharmacy was managed by an association of pharmacists of Chicago, and was one of the best known schools of pharmacy in the country, having alumni numbering nearly one thousand when it was taken over by the University.

The aim of the school is to prepare young men and young women for the practice of pharmacy as retail pharmacists or for positions in pharmaceutical laboratories. Many of the students have been stimulated to take more extended courses and to qualify for medicine, teaching, pharmaceutical journalism, or for some other phase of pharmaceutical activity. The school is not only the largest in the west in point of attendance, but its graduates are found in responsible positions in every part of the country. With the beginning of the session 1925-26 the curriculum was expanded so as to include three years of work. This is a part of a country-wide movement to increase the curricula of colleges of pharmacy. For ten years or more the school has offered a three-year course along with a two-year course. The latter will now be abolished and only the three-year course will be given. This extension of the curriculum will enable the school to more fully prepare pharmacists for practice under modern conditions and to retain its rightful place among the stronger schools of pharmacy in the country.

William Baker Day, Dean of the School of Pharmacy, was born in Peru, Illinois, on February 15, 1871. He attended the Chicago College of Pharmacy, where he received his Ph.G. in 1892. Since that time he has been constantly on the faculty of the School of Pharmacy, serving as an instructor until 1900, when he became a Professor of Histological Botany and Materia Medica, and served as Acting Dean from 1914 to 1919, when he assumed his present position.

UNIVERSITY LIFE
University Life

Life at Illinois is more than purely academic activity. It includes a well-rounded group of activities. The various phases of this life are reflected in the pages that follow. They are presented with the hope that they may serve to preserve the memories of these days, and may give those who are unacquainted an impression of University activities.
THE BROAD WALK IN WINTER
PART OF THE SOUTH CAMPUS
Above and below: The crowds of a record-breaking registration, which necessitated three days for its completion.

The Freshmen were greeted by President Kinley, and were introduced to other notables. The annual Pow-Pow has become a permanent institution in the activities of the University.

The band leads the crowd into the Stadium for the second annual Illini Welcome.
During the ten minutes while classes pass, the campus walks are crowded. The bell rings and they are deserted except for stragglers dashing from a P.E. class in the gym to the New Commerce building.

Right: The senior bench receives its annual decoration of freshman numerals, followed by the usual futile attempts of conscientious members of the class to cleanse it.

ATHLETICS
GEORGE HUFF has had a greater influence for good on young men than any other man in the history of the University.”—President Kinley.

Presiding over the athletic destiny of Illinois—foster father of its past, director of its present and prophet of its future—G. Huff epitomizes Illini spirit, a force he instilled into athletics here with the first football team, which he has crystallized into a living thing in his quarter-century reign as director of athletics, and which will be Illinois’ lodestar through the decades as her sons march on to the triumphs which Huff’s vision has made possible.

This is his code: “To play fairly and within the rules, to give the other fellow just the same chance you would like yourself, to win without boasting and to lose without excuses.” And it was for the furtherance of this code that Mr. Huff raised his voice against betting on college sports, creating a campus sentiment unfavorable to this practice and causing many other college authorities to follow his suit.

G. Huff played baseball for Illinois during four years from 1889 to 1893, captaining and managing the team during his last two years. Huff played on Illinois’ first football team in 1890, watching the sport struggle from its swaddling clothes stage to one which placed Illinois in the nation’s sporting spotlight. He became assistant director of athletics here in 1895, coaching in all sports, and director in 1901. Illinois gave him the title of director of physical welfare in 1924.

Mr. Huff has seen farther than intercollegiate sport. He was one of the first to outline a program of “athletics for all” and the Illinois system of intramural sport is famous.

The crowning achievement of George Huff’s career is the Memorial Stadium. There was another outstanding figure in the remarkable campaign, which inspired alumni and students to pledge more than two million dollars, Robert C. Zuppke, whose zealous service will never be forgotten by Illinois men; but it was Mr. Huff who conceived the idea, dared to dream of the great structure and, step by step, carried it through.

Architect’s sketch of the New Gym. The south unit is now being completed. The Gym seats 7,000 spectators, more than 3,000 of them in the balcony in “opera” chairs and the rest in temporary bleachers.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HAS OUTLINED AN EXTENSIVE EXPANSION PROGRAM, AND IT IS PLANNED TO FINANCE THE PROJECTS OUT OF FOOTBALL PROFITS. THEY PROPOSE TO—

Build concrete walks and streets at the Stadium.
Build a skating rink in the west Great Hall.
Floor and wall the east Hall for intramural athletics.
Sod six playing fields at the Stadium.
New baseball stand for Illinois field.
Construct 200 tennis courts.

Endow University chairs of research in athletics.
Construct a tunnel from the armory to the new gym.
Construct a south main stand of the Stadium to seat 16,000 people.

This will give you an idea of the appearance of the west Great Hall of the Stadium when it is converted into an artificial ice skating rink, one of the projects which the Athletic Association will undertake. The rink will be for the use of the student body from Oct. 1 to April 1. The Hall is 414 feet long, 50 feet wide and 30 feet high.
Illinois Spirit Built This Stadium for Fighting Illinois

MAJESTIC, almost overpowering in its magnitude and grandeur, Illinois' Memorial Stadium is a magnificent expression of the loyalty of more than 20,000 alumni and students whose contributions made it possible.

The Stadium is unique in American architecture. Most stadia, built with the sole idea of accommodating the largest number of spectators, are unadorned masses of steel and concrete, whose brightness soon weathers into dingy gray. But Illinois' Stadium is more than a gigantic grandstand built around a football field. Beauty has been combined with utility by the use of red brick and white stone, and age will only add to the attractiveness of its walls.

The Stadium is an impressive memorial to the men of Illinois who gave their lives to their country in the World War. Their sacrifice is nobly commemorated by stately memorial colonnades surmounting each stand, one column for each man who died. These two great promenades, each 414 feet long and 15 feet wide, overlook the campus and surrounding country at a height of 62 feet.

Utility has been well served, for 75 per cent of the seats are along the sides of the gridiron, "between the goal posts," as commonly expressed. Yale's bowl accommodates only 33 per cent of its crowd and Ohio State's stadium less than 50 per cent, in such a favorable location. The present seating capacity, 55,000, can be increased to 67,000 by the use of temporary stands. But the Stadium is so constructed that in the future it may be enlarged to accommodate as many as 120,000.

Without approaches, the building itself covers eight acres. Each stand, including the "ramp" towers at either end, is 540 feet long and the top is 112 feet above the level of the playing field. There are no stairs to climb—access is by means of "ramps" (inclined passages). The Stadium can be emptied in eight minutes.

Beneath each stand there is a Great Hall, 414 feet long, 50 feet wide and 30 feet high, without interfering supports, which will be used for basketball, handball and other sports. Training quarters and team and locker rooms, are located in towers on the north end of the stands. The football field is circled by a quarter-mile track, with two 220-yard straightaways.

The Stadium will be the center of a vast recreation field, which will include numerous baseball diamonds, football gridirons, tennis courts and fields for other sports. These will be used for the intramural athletics.

Varsity Cheerleader

Under the new system, the Varsity Cheerleader is selected from competition, by the Athletic Council, and does not have to be a senior.
Russ Hughes is the first Cheerleader to be chosen under this new plan.

CAPTAIN GRANGE

gained more than two miles of ground in his 20 games for Illinois. He acquired 31 touchdowns, and made himself the most feared man who ever stepped on a college gridiron. No halfback was ever so closely watched or planned against. Grange personified the all-time, all-American back.

"I'll say right here that 'Red' Grange is the greatest player I ever coached."

Thus Coach Bob Zuppke spoke to a mass meeting before the Ohio State game in 1924, and "Zup" has coached four all-Americans among the many stars he has uncovered at Illinois. "Red," the thrice all-American halfback, is mightiest of all.

[ 191 ]
Bob Zuppke has blazed many new paths in football. Many of the newer stratagems of the last decade were devised by his fertile, active mind. The screen pass was first developed by him in 1906. The “huddle” formation for calling signals was first used by Coach Zuppke in 1921. He also originated strategy maps to aid the quarterback, and has organized and simplified game strategy. “If there ever was a student of the gridiron art, it is Zuppke,” said Walter Trumbull, in the New York Herald. “He is always visioning new plays and formations, and then getting out on the field and making them come true. Zuppke is known as an inventor of formations and as a man who mixes his football with psychology.”

Bob Zuppke is a fighter, every inch of him. But he believes in fighting fairly, and Illinois prizes, even more than its record of victories, the reputation of its teams for clean and sportsmanlike play.

His is a dynamic, forceful personality. He speaks with power and fire, and in the campaign for the Memorial Stadium his voice was a great factor in making possible the great structure, where Illinois teams battle for the honor of the Orange and Blue.

It is improbable that any other coach has influenced football in the last decade as much as Bob Zuppke. For eleven years in the summer course he expounded his ideas to the coaches of the United States. Add to them the graduates of the four-year course and it is likely that the strategies and methods of more than 2,000 coaches reflect his football thought. In 1924 he was signally honored by his profession when he was elected president of the national association of football coaches.

In addition to these 68 conference games, Zuppke’s teams have played 27 non-conference games, of which 22 were won and 5 lost. This gives a grand total of 95 games played, 64 games won, 25 lost and 6 games tied.

Illinois, under Zuppke, has won 5 Big Ten championships, 3 clean cut and 2 tied.

Junior Managers
The West Stand of the Stadium at the Homecoming Game; Michigan Won, 3-0.

ILLINOIS' football team played before approximately 370,639 people at home and abroad during the 1925 season, the greatest combined attendance in the history of American football. Michigan's 1925 attendance, 353,000, was second.

The Illinois figures were made up as follows: home games—Nebraska, 29,552; Butler, 10,363; Michigan, 67,886; Chicago, 70,000; Wabash, 26,461; out-of-town games—Iowa, 28,000; Pennsylvania, 67,877; Ohio State, 85,500.

Illinois' total attendance in 1924 was 217,806 and the increase in 1925 therefore was 153,595. The estimated gross football receipts for Illinois are $334,594. Out of this must come the football expenses, which up to Nov. 30, 1925, totaled $50,555.66, and the money to pay for the losses in other sports, salaries, and the general running expenses of the athletic association.

Desire of the public to see Grange unquestionably played a big part in this attendance record.

On the other hand, without discounting the drawing power of "Red," it should not be forgotten that the Stadium was filled in 1923, before he was famous. Chicago and Michigan probably will draw better than any other teams at Illinois and the Illini last fall had the capacity to take care of the people here. The Stadium has been filled four times—1923 (Chicago); 1924 (Michigan); 1925 (Michigan and Chicago). Ohio's stadium was filled when it was dedicated in 1922 and not again until the Illinois game Nov. 21. The Buckeyes increased their capacity to 75,000 and besides sold about 10,000 standing room tickets. Grantland Rice in Collier's says that this was the largest crowd ever within stadium walls.

Illinois' football attendance since 1920 is as follows: 1920—125,805; 1921—89,836; 1922—141,329; 1923—202,110; 1924—217,806; 1925—379,039.

Next Year

ILLINI hopes for football success in 1926 are very bright. Only ten of the 1925 "I" men will be lost by graduation. They are "Red" Grange, Britton, Brown, Greathouse, Muhl, Fisher, Jenkins, Cooledge, Hall and Wickhorst. Grange and Britton are the only regulars lost in the backfield, and their places will be hard to fill, while "Chuck" Brown is the only loss in the line and "Zup" counts on plugging that gap with freshman material.

The following "I" men—all regulars—will be back in the fall: ends—Captain "Chuck" Kassel and D'Ambrosio; tackle—Marriner; guards—Shively and Mitterwallner; center—Reitsch; backs—Daugherity and Green. In addition there are Wilson, end; Grable, tackle; Muegge, guard; and Leonard and Gallivan, backs—all capable reserves.

With an experienced and powerful line, and a speedy, veteran backfield reinforced by such promising freshmen as Nowach, Peters, Lanum and Timm, Illinois can hope for a title-contender's claim for 1927.
"Red" ran alone.

THREE words tell the story of Illinois' first defeat in the Stadium and Nebraska's 14 to 0 triumph in the first game of the 1925 season on a day which fittingly inaugurated the "Year of the Big Mud."

Grange's interference just wasn't there. Leading the team as Captain for the first time, the twice all-American halfback of the Illini time and again thundered against the veteran Husker forward wall with which Illinois' green line, lacking from tackle to tackle a single veteran of that 1924 line which never had been strong, could do absolutely nothing.

The new men—Wickhorst, Muegge, Mitterwallner, Grable and Reeder—tried hard, Grange gave all he had, running behind a green line without interference on a muddy field which precluded fast running or secure footing. The mighty star was set in a new constellation. The men who had cleared the way for him in 1923 and 1924—Hall, Rokusek, and McIlwain—were absent that day.

Intercepted passes broke Illinois. The Illini line let Nebraska through just as Grange loosed one in the first quarter, and Dailey, Nebraska's fleet back, converted it into a touchdown. And in the waning minutes, as Britton and Daugherity threw passes unavailingly in hopes of scoring, another Illini heave found Husker hands. Then "Choppy" Rhodes found a hole in the line for 35 yards, scoring a few plays later.

So Ernest Bearg triumphed over his old tutor, Bob Zuppke, in a game which surprised the football world. He had pointed from the first for this game, while "Zup" was waiting for Pennsylvania and Chicago, knowing that his men would derive invaluable experience from a hard opening game.
THE price of Illinois and "Red" Grange stock was low after the Nebraska debacle. Hopes of a conference championship were beginning to fade into the background and merge with the ever-present specter of tragedy resulting from a green line. The sport world was questioning Grange's greatness.

The questions were answered when Butler invaded the Stadium for the season's second game, incidentally the only home game played on a dry field. "Red" swung into his stride of former years for a "Grange-labeled" dash of 70 yards and yet another 11-yard sally accompanied by his first real interference of the season, contributing two touchdowns to the 16 to 13 victory.

Grange's greatest evidence of return to his old form came in the first quarter when he picked up a rolling Butler punt, ran back toward his goal line and then wide around to the right, cutting back across the field in his old way, aided by timely interference, and dashed the remainder of the 70 yards to the goal. Britton's placement, following "Red's" second touchdown, completed Illinois' scoring. Butler scored first on a recovered Illinois fumble and again in the last quarter on daring football, threatening yet again in the closing minutes.
Illinois broke Illinois' championship hopes and all but broke her fighting heart when the Illini invaded Iowa City for their first conference game.

Zuppke's men lost, 12 to 10, in the last two minutes of play. Never was defeat more bitter and less deserved. Hawkeye fight finally overcame a renovated, battling Illini team and the "arrival" of "Red" Grange in his old-time form which had carried him to stardom.

The defeat was a heartbreaker, nothing less. "Red" Grange apparently started to do against Iowa the tricks he showed Michigan in 1924, for he scored on the first kickoff after traveling 85 yards straight down the length of the field. And the same Illini team which gave him perfect interference on that dash backed him in his fierce and unstoppable thrusts into the Iowa line all through the game, halting three of Iowa's goalward drives without scores, allowing but two placements on two of Iowa's other desperate challenges, and finally giving way only in the last two minutes before the sheer force of the not-to-be-stopped advances of Kutsch and Fry, the former scoring the last-minute touchdown which meant victory.

The Illini, riding an early lead on the strength of Grange's touchdown and Britton's placement, coasted on the homestretch and were nipped at the tape by Iowa's closing rush.

Illinois 10, Iowa 12
Yost and Michigan took their revenge.

"Red" Grange and Illinois, battling gamely but futilely on a mud-covered gridiron which gave the mighty halfback no chance to get under way against Michigan's powerful line, lost a 3 to 0 decision to Yost's self-styled "greatest team," and the Wolverines derived what satisfaction they could from a three-point victory in recompense for their 39 to 14 licking on the same field the previous year.

Michigan's renowned passing attack failed miserably, and Illinois' unrespected line rose to mighty heights on defense, repelling Michigan's touchdown attempts. But the Ann Arbor steamroller progressed just far enough to let Bennie Friedman kick a placement in the second quarter.

The two teams spent the afternoon throwing passes to each other as fast as they could wipe mud off the ball. Intercepted and incomplete aerials spoiled Illinois' last-minute attempts. "Pug" Daugherity reeled off the longest Illini run when he dashed 30 yards to the Michigan 19-yard line. Bad passes threw the scoring chance away.

Neither team made substitutions. Grange piloted the team at quarterback, doing a superlative job of it and calling other plays than his own when he could not gain against the muddy field and Michigan's powerful line. "Old 83," Yost's favorite play, produced no touchdowns that day, and Michigan's revenge was but scanty.
Illinois 24, Pennsylvania 2

Pennsylvania and the East just had to be shown. And they were shown, for it just had to be done. A skeptical East, never really convinced of “Red” Grange’s greatness, and a football world which would not allow that Bob Zuppke at last had a football team, were given a sample of “Red,” “Zup,” and Illini fight when Grange escorted his men to Philadelphia for the biggest intersectional game of the year. They then went about producing the greatest gridiron upset of the season, humbling Pennsylvania’s vaunted hosts, conquerors of Brown, Yale, and Chicago, by a 24 to 2 score on another mud covered field.

Before the game was four minutes old, Grange broke away with a 56-yard run for his first score through the center of Penn’s line and secondary defense. On the following kickoff, he dashed to a point 25 yards from Penn’s goal, Britton scoring from the one-yard line soon after.

Following Penn’s only score when Britton’s kick was blocked for a safety, “Red” counted again on a 17-yard jaunt after a run from midfield in the third quarter. He touched off his work in the last period with a third score after a 24-yard run, when the Illini resurrected Zuppke’s old “flea flicker,” a triple pass from Britton to Kassel to Grange.

The Red and Blue was paralyzed. The East was astounded. “Zup” crossed up the opposition by sending his plays back on the weak side. “Red” was never mightier, but it was Illinois’ victory.

Grange is away on his 56-yard run and first touchdown.
Illinois 13, Chicago 6

"YOU'RE a smarter man than I am, Mr. Zuppke."

Thus quoth Coach A. A. Stagg after Illinois' sensational victory over Pennsylvania, and thus Bob Zuppke proved himself to be with a satisfying triumph, by a 13 to 6 score, over Chicago the following week—a game replete with fumbles and void of Grange's epic runs but filled with dramatic situations which satisfied Illini after the unlooked-for 21 to 21 tie of 1924.

Earl Britton, giant halfback, kicked Illinois to a victory. That is the story. Throughout 60 minutes of dreary toil on a hog-wallow gridiron, "Brit," faultlessly handling the slimy ball, kept the Maroons from the Illini goal with punts which averaged more than 50 yards.

But Chicago fumbles, mental and physical, turned the tide. Two miscues in succession by Kernwein, who was trying to punt, followed by a mental lapse of kicking a free ball behind his goal, made it Illinois' ball on the three-yard line. Britton plumped for the score. Late in the third quarter Kassel and Reitsch blocked a Maroon punt deep in Chicago territory and D'Ambrosio fell on the ball for a touchdown. And Britton's kicks kept danger away until the whistle. That's the story—that and Chicago's fumbles. It wasn't "Red" Grange's day.
MISTS and shadows, closing in between the ghostly white walls of Ohio State’s great stadium, were the curtains which closed “Red” Grange’s career as an Illini in the last game of the season at Columbus.

And in his going “Red” played truly the hero’s part. Seeing it through with a battered, helpless arm which made his efforts impotent and nullified chances of reiterating the thrilling sallies by which he had risen to fame, Illinois’ captain and all-American passed out of the picture with a brilliant performance—void, however, of “Grange-made” touchdowns. The largest crowd which ever paid its way into an American football game watched him go.

Illinois started right out for a victory, depriving Ohio of the ball in the first few minutes of play and marching for a touchdown, registered by Britton. Passes from Grange and Daugherty to Kassel netted another just before the half ended. A miscued pass from center—Bob Reitsch, Spartan-like, concealing his illness from Zuppke—gave Ohio a safety, and the Bucks later took a touchdown by virtue of Cunningham’s mighty passes and Marek’s runs.

It was an all-Illinois victory, but the glory went to Grange. A worthy captain and dependable quarterback, he shunned selfish, last-minute glory, ignoring his own signal and sending the last four plays into the line as the whistle ended his glorious career.

Wabash's "Little Giants" proved tame enough in the last home game of the season, and Zuppke's lineup of substitutes proved adequate for a 21 to 0 decision.

The Cavemen never threatened. Illinois scored in every quarter with painless ease. The gridiron was worse, if anything, than on any other day during the season, and real interest began to be manifested in the game only when the crowd, with Captain "Red" Grange's career on his own field fading into seconds, rose up and demanded a view of him—their last chance to watch Illinois' all-American perform on the field from which he somersaulted to national prominence and all-time fame.

They got him, and with three minutes left to play, Coach Bob Zuppke, relenting as they knew he would, motioned "Red" to go in. He called four signals, none of them his own, and retired from the field, followed by his last ovation from the fans who had watched him for three years.

Gallivan's plunging gave Illinois its first score almost as soon as play began. A safety in the second quarter was followed by Leonard's touchdown in the third, and "Bud" Stewart provided the greatest thrill of the day with two Grange-like dashes, the first from midfield and the second for 13 yards and the score in the fourth quarter when all the "kick" was gone from the game.

So ended the career of Grange on his home sod. He was the only first string man who played and he was not needed that day. He merely got his shoes muddy for the edification of 1,500 school children who clamored for a sight of him. But his going meant the passing of a god.
The Penn Game

"‘Red’ Grange’s Masterpiece," by Johnstone of the New York World, is a graphic sketch of the Pennsylvannia game, and the cartoonist has well displayed the impression left with the Easterners by Grange and Illinois.

The band also left an impression long to be remembered. The East was thrilled, and praised Director Harding and his musicians highly. The generosity of alumni and townspeople made it possible for the band to make the trip.

ILLINOIS was dismantled of her traditional glory in baseball last year, finishing fifth in the conference standing.

Lacking veterans, balanced pitching strength, and a single real .300 hitter, Coach Carl Lundgren led the Illini through a schedule which was fairly successful when his handicaps are considered. The team showed balanced hitting power, scored plenty of runs, and fielded fairly well for an inexperienced club, but the pitching burden devolved mainly on Fritz Kinderman who won five of the six conference victories. Therein lies the tale.

Illinois won four of her five conference starts, then turned around and dropped four of the last six, two of the last three going by overwhelming himself from a bad hole, and the Southerners sewed up the game.

"KINDY" MASTERS AGGIES

The Illini came back with an 8 to 7 verdict the following day. Kinderman was master until the eighth inning when Barta relieved him, stifling the Aggies' threats as darkness gathered. Illinois took an early lead of seven runs gathered in four innings, but the Aggies pounded out 14 hits and almost tied up the game in the eighth. Paxton sewed up the game with a theft of home in the seventh.

Illini errors spoiled a noble effort by Joe Barta in the first game against the University of Alabama. Six errors coupled with Alabama's six hits gave the home team a 4 to 0 win. Illinois gathered but three singles from Moore's delivery. However, Lundgren's men came out of their hitting slump the next day and piled up a 3 to 1 lead in the third inning behind Hoffman's pitching. At this point rain deluged the field, and the game was called, spoiling a chance to even the count with the Crimson Tide.

Continued rain caused the next game with Auburn to be postponed. In the double-header the following day, Illinois split the bill after taking the first game behind Kinderman's masterful hurling. "Kindy" allowed Auburn two hits, and Illinois won, 3 to 0. Kinderman then went back to his job on first base, and O'Shaughnessey took up the pitching burden in the second game. He pitched hitless ball until the sixth inning, when bunched hits gave Auburn the 3 to 2 victory.

George Hoffman started his fourth game of the Southern trip when the Illini faced the University of Cincinnati in the concluding battle. He allowed one hit until the seventh inning while the Illini were piling up a 4 to 1 advantage. The Buckeyes scored twice in the ninth, but O'Shaughnessey rushed to Hoffman's rescue and stopped them, aided by luck, when, with two men on base, a long fly failed to clear the fence. Erickson stole home with the tying run while Kinderman's homer clinched the game.

The Illini opened their home season with a 14 to 1 slaughter of De Pauw. Home runs by Kinderman, Paxton, and Simonich featured the nine extra base blows among the 16 hits. Margolis, Simonich and Jestes each clouted out three hits, while Worth's three runs featured the clusters of four counters in the fourth and five in the eighth. Barta started but was relieved by O'Shaughnessey when De Pauw scored in the third.

Iowa, led by Burt Ingwersen, Lundgren's assistant coach of the previous year, invaded Illinois field for the first conference engagement, an Illinois victory, 4 to 1. Kinderman allowed the Hawkeyes only two hits, but his mates accumulated no more than that number until the eighth when Margolis' triple accounted for two scores. Iowa errors had given Illinois two counters in the fifth, enough to win, for the Illini played excellent defensive ball. "Maggy" got two hits while his mates collected three more.

Lundgren's wrecking crew had another field day at Purdue’s expense in their second conference game, disappointing the Boilermakers' home fans with a 14 to 1 defeat. Barta allowed five hits and struck out five men, while his mates smote out 15 hits, being led by Godeke with three singles and a homer, Margolis with a four- ply swat and three other runs, and three hits each by Paxton and Simonich. Illinois started early and never quit, scoring five in the third and four in the eighth innings.
A third conference victory was added when Illinois journeyed to Madison, winning 10 to 4 behind Kinderman’s slants. The Illini got the jump on the Badgers, Simonich’s homer and Margolis’ triple putting them far out in front. Everybody got a hit except Godeke, while Simonich got three. Worth, Kinderman, Margolis and Major each clouted two blows among the total of 14 assembled. Kinderman allowed but six.

Iowa took revenge for its earlier beating and Illinois suffered her first conference loss at Iowa City, 9 to 7. Inability to make hits count in the scoring column lost the game. The Illini jumped into a five-run lead in the first inning, but O’Shaughnessy’s wildness, when he relieved the rapidly sinking Barta in the fourth, enabled the Hawks to tie the score. Kinderman’s arm, tired in the Wisconsin game, could not hold his foes after he had gone to Eddie’s rescue. Iowa matched nine hits against Illinois’ 15 and won the game.

All the thrills of fiction’s fairy tales of pitching duels were called upon when Kinderman led Illinois to a 1 to 0 triumph over Michigan at Ann Arbor following the Iowa defeat. Jerry Jordan scored Illinois’ only hit when he beat out a slow bunt, later scoring on Jablonowski’s error and Haggerty’s overthrow at first base for the lone counter of the game. “Kindy” allowed but three hits and never lost control of the situation. His mates played errorless ball, while Michigan erred four times. Those bobbles meant the ball game.

ILLINI BEGIN TO FAIL

The Illini, winners of four of their past five conference games, began their fatal drop from the top of the ladder when they failed to hit Chicago’s pitching for more than one real blow, losing their first game in ten years to the Maroons by a 5 to 4 count. Kinderman started, bequeathing a terrible situation to Hoffman in the fifth after the Illini had tied things up in their half of that inning. Hoffman allowed but one damaging blow, and that one meant the ball game, although Illinois almost tied it with a run in the ninth, the tying and winning runs dying on the bases.

Purdue won its only game of the season and dropped Illinois to fifth in the standing with its second one-run defeat of the week, the third loss. in the last four games, by a desperate ninth-inning rally on Illinois Field. The score was 7 to 6. Hoffman gave Purdue five runs in the first two frames, Illini errors also contributing to the debacle. Lundgren's men began to hit behind Barta in the late innings, getting two runs each in the sixth, seventh and eighth, and Chief Jestes' homer with Barta on base put Illinois into the lead in the last named frame. Menke's sharp single over the drawn-up infield with the bases filled gave Purdue the game in the ninth, and the Illini faded after Paxton's single in their half.

Eleven Illini hits grouped about home runs by Johnny Worth and Theo Ponting gave Illinois a 12 to 1 verdict over Notre Dame in a casual nonmore in the next frame scored Kinderman and "Jake" Stahl.

BUCKEYES DIE HARD

Ohio State refused to be beaten and Ollie Klee, perennial nemesis of Illini teams, scored the tying run in the ninth, and Jestes' stop of Walther's hot shot saved the game. During the three extra innings "Kindy" allowed no single hit, and his bunt in the twelfth with the bases filled scored Jestes with the winning run.

The Buckeyes exacted retribution the following Wednesday on their home field, however, raking O'Shaughnessey for six runs in the first two innings. Barta finished the game, but his mates connected for six runs and never threatened. Mental lapses were partly responsible for the 8 to 0 licking.

Michigan's powerful team followed Ohio in taking vengeance for earlier beatings when 16 Wolverine hits and 10 Illini errors accounted for 19 runs while Illinois was getting five. Kinderman and Jablonowski took up the gage of their ancient duel, but “Kindy” left the scene in the second inning and his rival followed him in the next frame, when Illinois scored four times. Walters finished for Michigan, while Lundgren paraded six pitchers to the slab, finally finding one—Hinze—who could finish. It was a woeful game of ball.

However, the Illini closed their season successfully with a triumph over Wisconsin, 7 to 3. The six hits “Kindy” allowed the Badgers did little damage, while the Illini bunched three in the second for six runs and the ball game, the rally being featured by Kinderman’s customary homer.

The return game with Chicago, scheduled for the last of the year, was called off on account of the death of President Burton of Chicago, and the Illini were left in fifth place at the end of the season with six wins and five losses.

Chief Jestes, elected to captain the Illini in 1926, was declared scholastically ineligible, Jerry Jordan being chosen to succeed him. Other returning “I” men were: Barta, Hoffman, Kinderman, Major, Worth and Margolis. Ponting, Erickson, Godeke, Simonich, Paxton and Jestes were the only losses. The most brilliant freshman team in years sent up Dick Barrett, Ludlam, Stewart, Finn, Flanagan, Kusinski, O’Keefe, Sweeney and O’Grady to give Coach Lundgren brilliant prospects for a championship team in 1926. They should give Illinois tremendous pitching and hitting strength—and fighting Irish spirit.

THE 1926 SOUTHERN TRIP

Hopes were high when the Illini trekked south for their annual Southern trip at the start of the 1926 season, and Lundgren led his men through the most successful trip in his history, with five wins, one tie, and two losses, against the best college teams in the South. Johnny Ludlam pitched five innings of hitless ball after relieving Barrett in the first game against the Mississippi Aggies, and Illinois won, 5 to 4. The boys repeated the next day with a 6 to 5 win, Kinderman leading his mates up from behind a three-run handicap in the fourth inning with a home run and five innings of almost hitless pitching.

Illinois split two games with the University of Alabama, winning the first behind Ludlam, 8 to 6, but losing the next day with Barrett on the mound when the Illini failed to hit, 10 to 0. After one postponement due to a train wreck and misdirected trunks, Illinois took the first game of a double header from Ft. Benning, Ga., army team, 2 to 1, with Bud Stewart on the mound, tying the second tilt 5 to 5 in the eighth inning, when Kinderman led Illinois up from behind to tie the count after a bad start.

The Illini battled to a 5 to 3 victory in 13 innings against the University of Georgia the next day, Stewart saving the game with the score tied in the ninth, and Margolis' home run winning it later. Illinois lost the last game the following day. Barrett and Kinderman allowed but two hits, but adverse decisions on close plays in the last inning let Georgia win, 2 to 0.

Indoor Track Season of 1925

It was but a shell of the mighty Illini track machine of 1924 with which Coach Harry Gill, greatest college track coach, began work for the indoor season of 1925. A squad of about 13 "I" men with few outstanding sophomores answered his call.

But there was another list of "I" men—athletes... who had earned 40 of the 74 points with which Gill’s 1924 machine had won the conference outdoor meet the preceding June, doubling the count on its nearest rival and startling the sports world with its display of power. That team was called by Ted Meredith, Olympic and world’s champion in the middle distance runs, the “greatest assemblage of track and field athletes ever brought together at one college at the same time.”

These other athletes, members of that team, were unavailable for Gill’s use at the start of the season. Included in the number were such famous names as Dan Kinsey, Dean Brownell, Joie Smuts, all ineligible scholastically; Captain Eddie Mieher and Bud Evans, both ill and out of shape, negligible factors during the indoor season; Seth Hughes and Johnny Koonz, injured; and Schidauer, ineligible for competing for the I. A. C.

With these stars in school not available, Coach Gill began the work of reconstruction, beating Iowa and Notre Dame in dual meets during the indoor season and taking second in the conference meet. The available veterans were Schock, Warner, Mieher, Miller, Rehm, Wallace, Marzulo, Makeever, Ponzer, Sweeney, Usrey, Hunsley, Wright, Shively, and Flint. Evans and Kinsey became available in time for the indoor conference meet, while Hughes recovered his physical, and Brownell his scholastic good standing during the outdoor season, although Hughes was hurt again. The new men, who included Mehock, Sittig, Yates, Yarnall, Rue, Werner, Fell, Barnes, Seed, Meislahn, and Stuttle, gave Illinois a well balanced team.

Notre Dame took eight first places among the eleven events, but the Illini took seconds and thirds in seven events, slamming in two others—the high and broad jumps—and garnered yet another victory in the half mile, in the season's first dual meet. As a result of this demonstration of all-around strength, Illinois won the meet, 54 to 41. Ponzer broke the Illinois indoor record by winning the half mile in 1:57.0.

Illinois took all three places in both hurdles and slammed in seven other events while giving Iowa a severe trouncing in the last indoor dual meet. Another Illinois indoor record fell when Sittig, Yates, Mehock and Schock ran the mile relay in 3:28.4. Other brilliant performances were Schock's quarter mile of :51.6, Ponzer's 1:58.4 half mile, and Miller's victory in the half mile. Iowa presented no competition whatsoever in the hurdles, four Illini tying for first in each race.

Traveling to the conference meet, not conceded by the experts to have a chance and damaged by last-minute injuries of Yarnall and Makeever, Illinois' well-balanced strength proved itself by tying for second place in the meet with Michigan, scoring 19 points, behind Wisconsin's 20½, without taking a single first place. Illini placed in eight of the ten events. Ponzer was second in the half, Hunsley, runner-up in the pole vault and the Illini mile relay team of Mehock, Yates, Sittig and Schock came second in its event. Kinsey took third in the high hurdles, Evans fourth in the 50-yard dash, Rehm fourth in the hurdles, Warner fourth in the mile, Kimmel fourth in the shot, and Seed a tie for third with Krieger of Wisconsin and Northrup of Michigan in the pole vault.

On the long trip south for the Texas and Rice relays, between the indoor and outdoor seasons, Illinois took premier honors from Butler at Rice by one point. The team did not fare so well at Texas, taking second to Butler in the mile relay and third in the half mile relay. Warner, Mieher, Makeever and Ponzer won the two-mile race, however, and Dan Kinsey won the high hurdles in :14.8 after jumping the gun, Guthrie and Snyder of Ohio State being disqualified. Brownell was second in the pole vault, and in a special event Harold Osborn '22 broke his own world's record for the running high jump by leaping 6 feet 8½ inches, bettering his record of 6 feet 8 ¼ inches made on Illinois Field during the Olympic tryouts in 1924.

Illinois took revenge on Butler at Rice the following day, winning the two-mile again and tying with Butler in the half-mile relay, while taking third in the mile. Kinsey's stumble forced him out of the hurdles.

Coach Gill divided the squad for the Kansas and Ohio relays which opened the outdoor season on the same day. Yarnall, Hughes, Schock, and Evans burst into national prominence and record-breaking fame when they shattered the world’s record for the half mile relay in :42.7, beating Kansas in a hair-breadth finish despite a poor baton exchange which lost about two-fifths of a second. Evans was but two inches behind Fisher when that speedy dash man led Kansas to a second world's record in the quarter-mile relay in :42, surpassing Illinois' mark of :42.3 made at the Drake relays in 1924. Fisher surprised Evans at the tape while Bud was watching another runner, wary because of a tendon he strained in the home stretch.

Brownell vaulted into second place with a 13-foot effort, the best he did all year. The mile team was fourth and the four-mile team second in their relays. Sweeney was second and Fell tied for third in the broad jump. Kinsey took second in a special low hurdle race, placing third in the high hurdles after being set for breaking. Stuttle placed in the javelin.

The delegation sent to the Ohio relays did creditably. Shively won the field events triathlon with a new record of 2286 points. Barnes tied for first in the pole vault, Wright was second in the high jump, Merigold third and Rehm fourth in the high hurdles, Wallace fourth in the broad jump, and Kimmel fourth in the shot put.

Illinois outpointed every team in the Drake relays the following week without winning a single first place. Seth Hughes pulled a tendon in the quarter-mile relay trials, breaking up that stellar quartet with an injury which kept him on the bench until the conference meet in June.

The Illini were second in the half-mile, third in the two-mile, and fourth in the one and four-mile relays. Stuttle was third in the javelin, Kinsey third in a special low hurdle race and second by six inches in the high hurdles, Merigold coming fourth, while Barnes tied for second in the pole vault, Hunsley finishing fourth. Wallace was second in the hop, step and jump, Meislahn coming in fourth. Wallace tied for first in the broad jump, Sweeney being third and Fell fourth.

The Illini dedicated the Stadium to Varsity track competition with a convincing win over Notre Dame, 87 to 39, in the first outdoor dual meet, taking ten firsts and slamming in both hurdle events and the broad jump. Bud Evans starred, tying his Illinois records of :09.8 in the century and :21.2 in the 220-yard dashes. Stuttle's javelin throw of 180 feet, nine inches was the next best performance. Rue won the mile for the only remaining victory in the track events, while Kinsey took the high and Yarnall the low hurdles, Shively the shot put, Brownell the pole vault, Wallace the broad jump, and Meislahn the high jump.

Taking every point in the quarter-mile dash, high and low hurdles, mile run and pole vault as well as first in five other events, Illinois gave Iowa a cleaning in the year's second outdoor dual meet, 89 to 46. Dan Kinsey gave a versatile exhibition by winning both hurdles and taking second in the javelin, while Bud Evans was second high point man with victories in the dashes. The most sparkling performances were Joe Makeever's 4:25 mile and Ernie Ponzer's 1:56.6 half-mile. Schock won the quarter, Shively the hammer, Stuttle the javelin, and Brownell, Barnes and Hunsley tied for first in the pole vault.

The Orange and Blue were lowered to a foe in a dual track meet for the first time since 1920, and the sixteenth time in the 22 years of Coach Gill's history here, when Michigan's powerful team of stars, later to become conference champions, took revenge for the 106 to 29 defeat administered to them in 1924, by eking out a 69½ to 65½ victory over Gill's team in the last dual meet of the year.

The victory was barely won. Michigan, with a great aggregation of individual performers, took eleven of the fifteen first places. For Illinois, Evans won the 220-yard dash, Kinsey, the low hurdles, Werner, the high hurdles, and Joe Makeever the mile. The Illini took slams in the last three events named, and although the Orange and Blue came second and third in the 440, pole vault, two-mile, javelin and hammer, Gill's well-balanced squad could not quite garner enough points to win, failing by 2½ points when Brownell, out of shape, failed to place in the pole vault, the crisis of the meet. Mehock was barely beaten in the quarter-mile after a great race with Feinsinger in :51. Kinsey with first in the low hurdles, and seconds in the highs and the javelin, led Illinois’ point getters. Weakness in the field events lost for Illinois, but it was a great meet.

With her ineligible and injured stars watching from the sidelines, Illinois went to the conference meet at Ohio State. Michigan’s individual stars won the meet with 45½ points. Illinois came in fifth with 24½ points behind Wisconsin, Ohio State and Iowa. Kinsey was the only Illini to win a championship, taking the low hurdles in :23.9 and breaking the Illinois record. Wallace jumped 24 feet, 1½ inches to take second in the broad jump, also setting a second mark for Illini athletes to shoot at in the future. “Chick” Werner lost the decision in the high hurdles to Guthrie of Ohio State by five inches in :14.6, thus beginning a great rivalry which was to be continued during the following year.

The Illini mile relay team of Hughes, Yates, Mehock, and Schock took third in its event. Evans placed fifth in the 100-yard dash, and Ponzer fifth in the half. Merigold came fifth in both hurdle races. Fell was fourth in the broad jump, Barnes tied for third in the pole vault, and Shively took fifth in the hammer. The team drew an unusual amount of hard luck when Evans pulled a tendon in the 220-yard dash, Shock was knocked down in the quarter, Kinsey was set back at the start of the high hurdles, being disqualified for knocking down too many hurdles when the incident threw him off his stride.

Four Illini placed in the national collegiate championships the following week. Kinsey was fourth in the low hurdles, Shock fourth in the 440-yard dash, Wallace third and Fell fifth in the broad jump.

Seventeen "I" men were left to Gill as a formidable nucleus for a 1926 team under the captaincy of Dan Kinsey. Sixteen "I" men were graduated—a heavy loss—but stars such as Kinsey, Wallace, Ponzer, Makeever, Schock, Werner, Barnes, Stuttle and Shively promised a favorable season in 1926.

COACH Harry Gill performed one of the miracles for which he is famous last fall in conference cross-country competition.

Taking a green squad which included no "I" men or veterans of ability, Gill developed a squad of sophomores which surprised the conference by taking third in the Big Ten meet at Ann Arbor, soundly beating Michigan and Iowa which had taken the measure of the Illini in early season meets, and almost nosing out Ohio for second place.

"Chuck" Johnston was the only man with conference experience of any sort at the start of the season. However, Gill brought along a strong squad of new men, which included Dickinson, Stellner, McElwee and Fairfield. Their leader was Harold White, another sophomore, who had been captain of the freshman team in 1923 but dropped out of school the following year.

It was in 1923 that White ran second only to Joie Ray, America's premier miler and I. A. C. star, in The Chicago Tribune's annual cross-country race after setting the present Indiana State record for the mile while in high school. Beginning the season without a captain, since no "I" men were on the roster, the Illini later chose White to lead them into the conference meet. A first-meet injury slowed him up all year, however, and it was McElwee and Dickinson who proved of most value and consistent performance.

In the first engagement, a dual meet with Iowa, Illinois lost by an 18 to 37 score over a four-mile route. McElwee led the Illinois men in fifth place with Fairfield and Stellner right behind him and Dickinson tenth. White fell on the icy side of a hill, giving his knee an injury which kept him from doing his best all fall.

Ohio and Michigan came to Illinois for a triangular engagement in the next meet. The Buckeyes won, with 38 points and Michigan was second with 40, while the Illini brought up the rear with 44. McElwee and Dickinson were right behind the leaders in third and fourth places respectively, Hornberger and Briggs of Michigan tying for first in 27:48. White was eighth, Fairfield thirteenth and Stellner fifteenth.

In a practice run prior to the conference meet, White covered the five-mile course in less than 27 minutes, far better time than that made in the triangular meet and setting a record for the course, but his strenuous effort to get in shape placed too great a strain on his injured knee and he came in sixteenth in the conference meet.

Dickinson led the Illini in sixth place, while McElwee, Fairfield and Stellner were nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-first.

This balanced strength gave Illinois third place with 78 points, just three points back of Ohio, but far ahead of Iowa, Michigan and the others. Wisconsin won with 39 points. This showing surprised the conference which was not expecting Illinois to be in sight at the finish.

Letters were awarded to White, McElwee, Dickinson, Fairfield, Stellner and Johnston. Only two men, Johnston and Dickinson, will not be back for next year. With four star distance men available, the conference is wondering what limits Illinois will eclipse next year, and a championship is in sight.
Illinois Relay Carnival

STREWING the wreckage of six carnival records and one world's mark in the wake of their flying heels, more than 400 athletes—the pick of the Middle West—gathered in the Armory for their yearly assault on the handicaps of time, height, and distance in the ninth annual Illinois Relay Carnival.

Three world's marks were tied and two carnival records equaled by the large field which rivaled the record number of 1925, and had never been equaled for quality of competition in the carnival's history. And Coach Gill's men, who had failed to make a single first place in 1925—an unprecedented occurrence—outscored all other teams in the meet in points, although competition was not on a team basis.

Two performances were outstanding—the duel between "Chick" Werner of Illinois and "Phin" Guthrie of Ohio State in the high hurdles and the world's record toss of 50 feet, 6 3/4 inches by John Kuck of Kansas State Teachers' College in the shot put, bettering the carnival mark by more than three feet and his own world's record by almost 18 inches.

The Werner-Guthrie duel was all it promised to be—the individual thrill of the meet. Each won his trial heat in 109.4, which equaled the world's record set by Dan Kinsey, '26, in the 1924 meet. Breezing through their semi-final heats in easy fashion, this great pair staged a history-making race in the finals and the judges called it a dead heat. The time was :109.4. Both judges picking "first" chose Werner, while the two picking second place also named "Chick." Rather than draw criticism for "favoritism" or for "falling over backward," since there was no discernible difference between the men at the finish, the judges called it a tie, which was fair enough, and the decision between the rivals was postponed until the indoor conference meet.

The other world's records were tied when Alderman of Michigan Aggies came from behind in the... stretch to beat Locke of Nebraska in the 300-yard dash, a dazzling finish in :31.2, and when Hester of Michigan beat Grim of Michigan Aggies in the 75-yard dash in :07.6. Alderman's time bettered the carnival record of :31.8, while Hester tied the old mark.

Michigan cracked the last record in the University four-mile relay by winning the race from Illinois in the home-stretch by four yards in 18:16, one second better than the time set by the great Illini quartet of Yates, Patterson, Wharton, and McGinnis in 1922, a mark which was established despite a dropped baton.

It was a great race, close all the way. Illinois dropped back on the first relay when Stellner, crowded on the first turn, was spiked and fell to the ground, losing 20 yards, but regaining some of them. Dickinson closed the gap, and "Spike" Rue gave Harold White a two-yard lead. Forced to set his own pace all the way, and nervous from his first big Varsity race, White was unable to muster his sprint and Freyburg gave Michigan the victory.

Spence of Detroit won the low hurdles in the air-tight finish with Werner, while Tommy Yarnall was fourth, Burg of Chicago took the high jump in another "dope" upset, while Meislahn of Illinois was in an octagonal tie for fourth.

Fell and Simone, two Illini, were first and second in the broad jump. The winning distance was 22 feet, 1½ inches. Harrington of Notre Dame, American intercollegiate indoor recordholder, took the pole vault. Earl White of Illinois tied for second, while Barnes was in a six-way tie for fourth.

"Choppy" Rhodes, Nebraska's football halfback, won the all-around championship with a total of 5,355 points. Doherty of Detroit was second, while little "Pete" Wallace, star Illinois broad jumper and a surprise entry, came third. Pete took four first places: in the high hurdles, 75-yard dash, broad jump and half-mile run, but two weak spots in his program, the pole vault and shot put, let him down with 4,092 points.

The 1926 Season

ILLINOIS’ apparent strength was her real weakness during the 1926 basketball season. Starting the year with a veteran team and every prospect of being a real contender for the championship, Coach Craig Ruby’s Illini played through a perfectly constructed schedule to a tie with Ohio State for fifth in the conference rating, an even break in twelve games.

Seven “I” men in Captain Haines, ex-Captain Mauer, Lipe, Daugherity, Martin, Reynolds and Kassel made Illinois look strong in pre-season dope and gave her the best balanced team in the race; but ambition and dashing play were lacking under Ruby’s scientific, deliberate system as the season progressed. The loss of Mike Reynolds by scholastic ineligibility with the season one-third completed was the decisive factor, and although Ruby’s men struggled along to four straight wins after Reynolds’ loss, two of the four were by one point margins and a third by but four points.

VERNE HAHNEMAN
Manager
They eventually collapsed, losing the last two home games to the two strongest teams in the conference and subsided to fifth place when the strain of a hard finish at the end of the race told on them. They fought hard, but circumstances, lack of championship class, and outstanding scoring aces beat them.

The Illini opened the season with a thrilling victory over Butler's strong team, 23 to 22, the game being saved in the last half minute after Butler had come up from a 23 to 11 score in the last eight minutes. Illinois had a comfortable lead at the half, 18 to 5, due to three baskets each by Martin and Mauer.

Swinging into the West, Ruby's men dropped a heartbreaker to Drake by a 26 to 16 score under atrocious playing conditions in the smoke filled Coliseum over a concrete floor covered with boards four inches wide. Reversing the situation, Illinois walloped Ames, 35 to 14. Mauer scored 14 points to lead the way to a whirlwind finish after a listless first half which ended 7 to 3.

Johnny Mauer sprang one of his famous one handed, last minute baskets and gave the Illini a victory over the Kansas Aggies, 30 to 28 in the last game preceding the conference season. With the Illini trailing 28 to 16 and six minutes to play, Mauer and Haines led an attack which brought the Orange and Blue up from the rear to a win after Daugherity had kept Illinois in the running with his twelve points, but Johnny Mauer won the ball game.

FIRST GAME A WIN

Ruby's quintet opened its conference flag chase with a win over Minnesota in the most wretchedly played game of the year. The final score was 17 to 8. Neither team ever started, due partly to the slippery floor bequeathed by the Junior Prom, and both got nowhere, but the Illini controlled the ball all the way and allowed the Gophers but two field goals. Both were late in the second half, one of them by Rasey after Mike Reynolds had left the floor accompanied by his four personal fouls. Mauer's three baskets led Illinois' scoring.

Journeying east on their first Big Ten road trip, the Illini stumbled and fell against Ohio State's fast team, losing by a 30 to 18 count after leading at half time. Ruby's boys missed more shots during the second half than the Buckeyes tried during most of the game. Ruby "sicced" Reynolds on Captain Cunningham, and Mike allowed him one basket. Daugherity and Mauer each got two for Illinois.

Just to even things up on the road trip, Illinois beat Michigan's great team out of a victory in the last 15 seconds of a game which was "the kind you read about." Martin scored the last of his three goals as the final seconds waned. But other Illini were heroes too. Daugherity's six field goals and five free throws gave him high scoring honors, and Mike Reynolds did his bit by not allowing Harrigan, scoring ace of the Wolverines, a single goal.

That victory put Illinois in front of the conference race, but an unexpected upset at Chicago's hands the next week dropped them back. The Illini were forced to take long shots by the stiff defense of the Maroons which allowed them two goals during the first half. Captain Haines in his element, as usual, at long range work, counted three times from the field but the Illini came second when Chicago made its free throws count. Two Maroons shot goals while turning their backs on the basket.

Notre Dame's great team, bidding for a western championship which they later won, took a mid-season, non-conference game from Ruby's men by a 26 to 14 score in decisive fashion. Playing a better team without the services of Deimling and Reynolds, Illinois never had a chance. Its offense, though functioning fairly well, was hurried and its famed defense, though present, could not stop the best team in the west. The Nyikos brothers were mainly responsible.

ILLINI UPSET DOPE

Illinois got back into the title race and broke its 50-50 standing for four games with a mighty dope-upsetting victory over Purdue's powerful five, squelching a dying effort of the Boilermakers to drag the game out of the fire in the closing minutes. The score, 29 to 28, was a triumph for Jack Lipe, who finally found his shooting eyes with four baskets and two free throws. Daugherity, Mauer and Haines assisted in the heavy scoring, while Deimling came through with the winning point when Spradling fouled him. His great guarding helped stop Purdue's spurt.

Two days later Illinois climbed to second place by beating Ohio State 35 to 31 in a thrilling overtime finish. Goals by Mauer, Lipe and Bud Doolen cinched the game for Illinois after a 29-29 count at the end of the regular playing time. Jack scored 12 points, six of them when points were most needed. Ohio started to rush the Illini after taking a 16 to 9 handicap at the start of the second half, but a trio of baskets each by Daugherity, Mauer and Haines put Illinois just far enough ahead to send the game into the overtime period. Lipe's work saved the day.

The outstanding surprise, perhaps, of the entire conference season occurred when Ruby’s boys took Indiana into camp by a 21 to 20 score and snatched undisputed possession of leadership in the conference race. The Illini took a 12 to 2 lead late in the first half, and climbed to an 18 to 10 advantage with seven minutes to play after stifling the Hoosiers’ rally. Deliberate play, stall- ing tactics and impenetrable defense spoiled Indiana’s closing rally. Lipe was high scorer with three goals and a free throw.

Illinois’ fourth consecutive victory, a 24 to 16 win over Chicago, gave the Orange and Blue a six-won, two-lost rating in the flag race, and the Illini appeared to be “in.” The inevitable “let-down” after the Indiana game resulted in a slow, uninteresting game. It was a battle between two strict defenses, and long shots by Daugherity and Haines helped win. “Pug” was the high point man with ten markers.

Riding the crest of the conference race, Illinois looked to the three coming games with Michigan, Purdue and Indiana with high hopes. Michigan dealt them a cruel blow with a 33 to 24 victory in the New Gym when Illinois got down to real work too late to catch the Wolverines, just beginning to hit their real stride. Fighting up from the low end of a 21 to 5 score at half time, the Illini brought the count up to 29 to 24, and then languished.

PURDUE WINS, 28 TO 23

A journey to LaFayette, Ind., resulted in a 28 to 23 disappointment for the Illini, but left them a chance to tie for the title in the coming two games. Purdue started fast and never stopped, a belated rally leaving the Illini still behind on a 23 to 17 score late in the second half. It was Purdue’s night of retribution, and the Illini missed the few short shots they were able to take, Jack Lipe leading Illinois’ halting offense.

Indiana, proving itself to be the best team in the conference, read the last funeral rites of Illinois’ title hopes with a 28 to 25 victory achieved over a fighting Illini team in the last home game of the year. After allowing Indiana an early start, Illinois took up a six-point handicap with the score 17 to 11 and carried the Orange and Blue into a 25 to 18 lead with a furious rush late in the closing period. Beckner and Sponsler hit the basket for four baskets in rapid-fire order to cinch the victory after Deimling had left the floor via the personal foul route. Daugherity's cold kept him out of the game, and Winston's height permitted Indiana to control the ball. Thus died Illinois' title hopes.

Minnesota closed Illinois' season with a 28 to 21 defeat of Ruby's hopes for an undisputed possession of fifth place. Haines' five brilliant baskets at long range could not overcome the balanced strength of Minnesota, just reaching the height of its game, and a tired Illini team, weary after a long train journey without a day of rest from the hard Indiana game, fought futilely.

Hopes for 1927 are very bright. Assistant Coach Cord Lipe has sent up the best freshman squad in history to Coach Ruby to add to his list of five returning letter men: Captain-elect Russ Daugherity, Jack Lipe, Ken Deimling, Chuck Kassel and Mike Reynolds. It should be an Illinois year.

It takes a champion to make a champion, and class will always tell.

Consequently, Illinois' wrestling team, conquering mighty handicaps of inexperience and injury, surprised the entire conference and somersaulted to a championship during the past season, and the man who showed the way after many setbacks proved his right to the title of the world's greatest intercollegiate wrestling coach—Paul Prehn.

The Illini won four of their five dual meets, beating Ohio State's team of six veterans in the championship match when not conceded a chance, winning their fifth championship for Prehn during his seven years here, while rolling up a total of 30 victories in 34 dual meets. It was his third undisputed title, the Illini having had sole claim to the flag in 1920 and 1922 and tying for the honor in 1924 and 1925 with Indiana. Inability to meet the Hoosiers was the only real disappointment of the season. Prehn's record is unparalleled in college wrestling, especially considering the fast competition of the Big Ten.

Illinois had ended the 1925 season with seven "I" men available for 1926, but only two of these men, ex-Captain Kenney and Captain Geis were at all available this past year.

Consequently, after harboring the prospect of a veteran team, Prehn was forced to start from the ground, building a mid-season team around one "I" man, "Hek" Kenney, who had been re-elected captain when Geis left school.

The new-built Illini machine ground its way to an 18 to 2 victory over Minnesota in its first dual meet, Kenney and Geis winning by falls. Shively, heavyweight; Thacker, bantamweight; Humphrey, light heavyweight; and Law, featherweight, won their bouts by decisions, Sams losing the only match in the welterweight class. The con-

Conference, expecting to see Illinois dazed by losses and injuries, sat up and took notice.

Prehn next took his men on Illinois' longest trip in history, a jaunt to meet West Virginia's powerful team. The Illini suffered their first dual meet loss in three years by a 19 to 6 score. Kenney and Geis took decisions, which count three points in the East, for Illinois' only scores. Inexperience lost the meet, for Ritz pinned himself by carelessly rolling over on his back and lying there while maintaining a hold on his opponent and Thacker grew careless and leaned, while leading in time advantage, too far forward while completing a figure four scissors.

The thrills of an entire season were crowded into the last match in the Iowa meet, and nothing short of one of "Red" Grange's famous runs ever produced as much excitement as swayed the large crowd when Illinois won the meet from the Hawkeyes' powerful team in the last 11 seconds. Recuperating from their loss to West Virginia, Prehn's men came through to a 9 to 8 victory, spoiling Iowa's record with its only blot of the season for the fifth time in many years.

Ralph Webster, sophomore heavyweight, was the hero of the meet. Soga, wrestling his first meet in the featherweight class, and Thacker in the bantamweight division had taken Illinois' four points by decisions. Captain Kenney had been beat for the first time in three years, and Iowa had rolled up an 8 to 4 advantage when the last bout was called. Prehn won the meet when he selected Webster instead of Shively as the man most likely to go out and get a fall, for five points were needed for a victory.

Webster pursued Hobart for 11 minutes, his opponent playing a safe game while the crowd begged for a fall. Securing a farther bar-arm and half-nelson as the seconds waned, Webster forced his man to the mat with a grip like grim death which left his forearms paralyzed and himself almost unconscious for five minutes after the match, but the Hawkeye's shoulders touched the mat with 11 seconds to go. Then bedlam broke out.

Three days later Illinois took two falls and two decisions from Chicago for a 14 to 6 victory, earning the right to meet Ohio State for the conference title. Stangle and Gunlock, wrestling their first bouts of the year, won by falls, while Shively and Law won on time advantage.

FIRST LOSS IN THREE YEARS

The Illini lost their first conference dual meet in three years to Wisconsin, 13 to 11, in a miserably wrestled meet. Stangle took his second fall of the week and Kenney won a decision, Soga and Ritz earning draws in their bouts.

With the conference title hanging in the balance, and the "dope" all against them, the Illini went to Columbus for the year's final meet between the two division champions. Thacker won the first bout with a decision, Soga sprang the surprise of the meet by beating ex-Captain Snyder, hitherto undefeated, and Kenney then took a decision. Gunlock lost by bare time advantage of 1:03, but Ritz gave Captain Watkins his first defeat by winning a decision, piling up an 8 to 2 lead. Humphrey and Shively, instructed by Coach Prehn to take no chances, took none whatsoever, and the meet was won 8 to 6. Each man wrestled his best bout of the year.

The Illini failed to win a conference individual championship the following week, Thacker reaching the finals but lost to Weir of Iowa. Shively lost his first bout by failing to call a coin's toss after he had secured 24½ seconds advantage, 5½ seconds too few, over Fisher of Indiana in their overtime bout. Ritz lost his first bout in the overtime period, while Kenney reached the semifinals.

Bernie Shively was elected to lead the 1927 team. Humphrey, Ritz, Gunlock, Soga, Thacker, and Webster of last season's "I" men will be available for next year while the only losses are Bussey, Law, Stangle, Tossetti and Captain Kenney—the greatest loss of all. It looks like another good year in 1927 for Prehn and Illinois.
Beginning the season with but two "I" men, Captain Goodwillie and Johns, Illinois' tennis team, battled through a hard schedule to a successful season in 1925, winning three conference meets, and tying Butler.

Shoaff, brilliant Illini sophomore, led Illinois to its first victory over Purdue, four matches to two. After losing to Michigan in a hard fought meet, 4 to 3, Illinois beat Chicago 4 to 2, and Ohio State 6 to 1, the same week.

Illinois suffered a rather disastrous season in gymnastics during the past year. The Illini lost three dual meets, Chicago winning by a 1,225 to 1,091 score, Iowa by the narrow margin of 1,077 to 1,041 points, and Purdue by 775 to 751 points over Coach Heidloff's men. McDonald was awarded his major "I" for his work at the conference meet where he was second high point man.
With two brilliant sophomores, Tewksbury and Kunstader, to back up Captain Humphreys, "Swede" Hall, and Hunt, the only veterans, Illinois went through a fairly successful season in golf last year.

The Illini won their first two meets by overwhelming scores, beating Purdue 20 to 3, and almost whitewashing Northwestern, 21 to 1. However, Michigan took Coach Swank's men down the trail, 15 to 9, and Chicago made it even worse in the last meet, 18 to 4. Scattered points were all the Illini could win, their balanced strength taking these in the "best ball" play.

Kunstader set the pace in the conference meet's qualifying rounds, later reaching the semi-finals, but Rolfes, Novotny, and Dawsons of other years were absent. "Bill" Tewksbury was chosen 1926 captain.

Brownlee took second in the foils at the conference meet, while Goddard was fourth in the epee and Voorhees fourth in the broadswords' play. Brownlee earned his major "I" by his good work. Perry, Goddard and Voorhees are the minor letter men, who will be available next year, while King, Deane, and Brownlee will graduate.
Proving themselves the class of their inter-collegiate bowling league which included Yale, Syracuse, DePauw, Navy, and Rensselaer, Illinois bowlers rolled into so large a lead in their telegraphic matches that the team was expelled from the league for violation of the "foul line" rule, a technical charge, which might have been applied to every team in the league.

Reid Tombaugh, captain of last year's co-championship team, was the only veteran of the quintet managed by Don Stoops, which included Captain Dave Mallory, Flowers, Koepke, Krick and Tombaugh. Mallory had the high average of 197 pins for six matches, while Koepke was second with 191 and felled the largest number of pins with 4,021 in seven matches.

The Illini rolled their high match against Syracuse with 3,014 pins with a high game of 1,100 in the same match, and the only non-telegraphic match was against DePauw, Illinois winning 2,490 to 2,337.

Varsity Water Polo

Led by Captain Powers, an all-conference selection, Coffel and Blackman, Illinois’ water polo team won five meets and lost one during the past season, piling up 39 points to their opponents’ 15, while winning four of their five conference meets and registering the best record in the Big Ten.

Illinois beat Purdue 10 to 0, Indiana 13 to 0, Iowa 6 to 5, Wisconsin 7 to 3, losing to Chicago 7 to 3 and beating Washington University 8 to 1 in a post-season match. Only Powers, O’Brien, and Quackenbush are lost for next year.

Varsity Swimming

Moulding a team of sophomores around six veterans, Coach Manley led the Illini swimming team to three victories in six dual meets last season. Captain Bill O’Brien removed any doubts of a successful season by diving to the national inter-collegiate championship at Annapolis and completing his career undefeated in dual meets, rating the All-American Team.

Illinois beat Purdue 39 to 30 and Indiana 44 to 25 to start the season, losing to Iowa by a 44½ to 24½ score, to Chicago 42 to 27 and to Wisconsin 35 to 25, the fancy diving event being thrown out due to a disagreement over the number of judges. A victory over Washington University, 38 to 31, closed the season.

O’Brien, Blankley, Captain-elect Lamb, and Fisher started consistently for Illinois. O’Brien and Sekera, both divers, and Taylor are the only graduation losses.
PROVING themselves the class of 1,300 entrants entered from 182 Illinois high schools, Danville and Eldorado athletes tied for honors in class “A” while Hinsdale walked off with laurels in class “B” of the thirty-first annual state interscholastic track meet in the stadium last May.

The winners in Class “A” scored 17 points each to beat out a well-matched field in a closely-contested meet. Senn of Chicago was third, with 15, Tilden Tech fourth with 13 and West Frankfort fifth with 12½ points. Hinsdale counted 28 points. Carlinville was a good second with 22½, while Wenona was a distant third with 11 in class “B”.

Only one record was broken owing to a heavy, wet track and a high wind. “Bo” Orlovich, Joliet’s star quarter miler, maintained the traditions of the meet for breaking at least one record annually by racing the class “A” quarter mile in 51.6, shattering by one-fifth of a second a record which had stood unchallenged since 1908. Orlovich ran into the wind for 325 of his 440 yards, and his performance is all the more exceptional because of this fact and the wet track. Given a good day, he might have equalled his record competition time of 50.

Borsum of Hinsdale shared honors with Orlovich as individual star of the meet by winning the broad jump and low hurdles in class “B” and running anchor on Hinsdale’s winning relay team. McDonough of Carrollton also won two firsts, the 100 yard dash and the high hurdles. Patterson of Tilden and Wiggins of Eldorado tied for high point honors in class “A”. Patterson won the 220 and came second in the century dash, while Wiggins took the shot put and was second in the high jump.

Hinsdale’s individual stars won class “B”, taking four firsts, while Carlinville’s well-balanced strength placed her second. Three athletes gave Danville a tie for honors in class “A”, Howry winning the mile, Whitlock the javelin, and Mason the low hurdles while coming fourth in the highs. Eldorado also required no more than three men to tie with Danville. Wiggins took the shot put and was second in the high jump, Murphy won the broad jump and Tison was third in the javelin.

Brilliant performances were lacking as a rule, except for Orlovich’s feat, due to adverse weather conditions, but the leap with which Wachowski of Harrison Tech won the high jump, 5 feet, 11 ½ inches, was noteworthy.
MARKED by a record list of entries in every sport offered from competition, the 1925-1926 intramural season proved the most successful of history, all the records for entries made during the past year being discarded, due to the increasing popularity of this branch of athletics.

The 1925-1926 season was inaugurated on October 20, by the intramural fall track meet in the Stadium after several weather postponements. Delta Tau Delta won with 23 points, the Dekes being 4⅔ points behind and Chi Phi a good third. Stephens took firsts in both dashes and the broad jump for the Delts, being high point man of the meet. The work of Orlovich, Kappa Delta Rho, in winning the quarter-mile dash under distressing weather conditions was one of the outstanding performances.

Emmett Paré, Theta Kappa Phi, twice former national junior clay court champion, made a walk-away of the fall tennis singles, beating Thompson in the finals, 6-0, 6-1. The two then paired in the doubles and swept through the meet.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the team trophy in fall golf, while “Bill” Jordan, Sigma Phi Sigma, beat Carter, Zeta Psi, for the individual title.

Pi Kappa Alpha trounced Sigma Pi in the finals of the fall playground ball league, 9 to 5. Worth allowed but eight hits, in turn clouting three blows which figured prominently in Pi K. A.’s fight back into the lead after losing a commanding early lead.

Chi Beta beat Phi Delta Theta in the volleyball finals for the second consecutive year with a convincing 15-7, 15-8 victory. The Phi Kappa Tau pledges beat those of Tau Epsilon Phi in their final match, 12-15, 15-6, 15-7.

Featured by the fancy diving victory of Groh over Bill O’Brien, Varsity tank captain, the intramural swimming meet was held on Dec. 6 with few noteworthy performances.

Zeta Beta Tau won the water basketball title from Delta Upsilon after a tightly-fought match, 4 to 3.

Nine records fell and two were tied in the fifth annual intramural athletic carnival which drew 1,300 entries and was held in the Armory, March 20. Garland Grange broke the 75-yard dash record in 9.78. Tau Kappa Epsilon set the only new relay mark in the fraternity freshmen relay. Other records were established by Cox in the rope climb, Hattley in the sack race, Tarlowsky and Valentine in the military three-legged race, Mitchell in the tumbling event, Theta Epsilon in the sorority needle race, Miller in the horizontal bar event and Mittleman in the walking race.

Stevens took the light heavyweight title from Travis in the feature bout of the intramural boxing finals during the carnival. Clark, a diminutive bantamweight, featured the mat and ring bouts by winning the titles of his weight in both rings.

Delta Tau Delta climaxed the winter season by beating Sigma Pi 20 to 8 for the campus fraternity title and the next night wallowing Nu Sigma Nu, champion of the University's medical college teams at Chicago, in a hard fought battle which ended 30 to 23.

After the Braeuninger club had beaten the Chillers in the independent finals, this flashy five took on the Delts for the all-University intramural title. It was Delta Tau Delta all the way, "Squints" Doolen leading his team to a 26 to 17 victory.

Sigma Pi's "B" team beat Phi Kappa in the finals of their league.

Mason, Psi Upsilon, won the spring intramural golf championship by beating Hafer in the finals, 3 and 2. Friedlander, Sigma Alpha Mu, beat Kaiser in the tennis singles after a terrific four-set battle, 7-5, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1. Montgomery and Stephens beat Miller and Westby, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2, in the doubles finals.

"Moon" Trenkle, Kappa Delta Rho, won the horse-shoe singles championship by beating Lowe. Phi Pi Phi, in the finals, but Trenkle and Holmes later lost the doubles title to Hunsley and Dowell, Alpha Gamma Rho.

Pi Kappa Alpha ended the 1925 spring season by taking the baseball championship for the second year in succession, beating Theta Xi 2 to 1 in the finals.

Sigma Pi won the intramural participation trophy during the 1924-1925 season for the second year consecutively. Pi Kappa Alpha was second.
ILLINOIS WOMEN
Almost any woman by diligence and perseverance is able to obtain a fair measure of success in any one specialized field. It is not every woman, however, whose success is measured in terms of all round ability, who partakes in athletics, activities, social life, and obtains good grades in addition. These girls who have won recognition in all these fields, who have been nominated by popular student vote and have been judged as representative leaders, deserve much credit indeed.

It is the function of the Woman’s Welfare Committee to supervise the three co-operative houses, Alpha, Beta and Campbell Cottage. The committee provides the furnishings for these houses with the proceeds from the operetta it gives each year. The girls who occupy the houses operate them themselves, doing their own cooking and housekeeping, thus helping earn their own way through school.

The operetta, “Robin Hood,” was a great success this year, having the added asset of some especially fine, trained voices and the picturesque costumes of the period of Robin Hood.

THE Gold Feather organization, started on this campus a year ago, has proved the nucleus of the sophomore women's activities. The new idea of having sandwich sales to raise money for the student aid fund was quite a financial success.
WEDNESDAY means Woman’s League Tea, and Woman’s League Tea means (besides cookies and tea) the chance to meet many new friends and to chatter awhile with all the old friends that one has not happened to run into on the campus during the week. Each sorority and honorary sorority has the privilege of serving and entertaining at this tea at least once a year.
THE charming and traditional festival of May Fete took place on the week-end of Mother's Day. A courtly parade, enhanced by flower-decked girls in beautiful costumes, opened the program of picturesque dances. W. A. A. sponsored May Fete, and Charlotte Woodward was chosen May Queen by popular vote. Esther Wieland (in circle) acted as chairman of May Fete, and Mary Burnier was chairman of Mother's Day Committee.
THE fact that so many girls are working on committees of our Y. W. C. A. and the fact that everyone has a profound interest in all its functions, prove how very important is its function at the University of Illinois.

THE custom of having a Doll Show is probably confined to this campus. The dolls are dressed to represent assigned topics, and a cup is given to the house having the best dressed and best represented dolls. The subject this year was “Topics of the Day.” Some of the dolls are sold here in the Y. W. C. A. and the rest are shipped to Chicago to a benevolent society. Alpha Delta Pi and McKinley Hall were first and second winners. Nora Null was chairman and a large committee served under her efficient managership.
Kappa Kappa Gamma won the Y. W. C. A. Stunt Show this year with a unique and clever stunt entitled “U. of I. 1925 B. C.,” depicting the supposed college life of our cavemen ancestors.

Delta Delta Delta won second place in an original stunt called “Angels and Devils.” Frances Lewinthal won the individual cup.

THE large number counted in the membership of the Woman's Athletic Association, and the still larger number that are striving to earn enough points to become a member, proves without doubt what an active part athletics now take in our college women's life. Under Miss Freer's guidance W. A. A. has inaugurated several changes this year. The number of points required to become a Major I. A. Girl has been raised and the Minor I. A. group consists of those who are well on their way to obtaining their Major I. A's.

ACTIVITIES
PUBLICATIONS
THE Illini Publishing Company is the general organization established for the purpose of conducting the student publications. Originated in 1911 as a corporation not for profit, the company consists of eight members, four of whom are appointed from among the faculty by the Council of Administration and four elected by the students from among their own number.

All business of this company is conducted by a board of directors consisting of the same members as the corporation. These directors appoint the editors and managers of all student publications, own all the property of the various publications and determine all matters of general policy.

The board of directors allow a wide range of freedom to the editors and managers of the different publications. This plan was worked out originally to place all candidates for positions on publication staffs on a competitive merit basis, to give continuity to the editorial and business policies of the separate publications, and to improve the quality of the work turned out and the experience that the members of the staffs gain in their work.

Professor F. W. Scott, who is now Editor-in-Chief of the D. C. Heath Publishing Company of New York City, was the conceiver of the form of this company. He was the head and the most active member of the board from the time of its organization until the present year.
THE Illini Publishing Company employs a general manager who conducts the business affairs of the company, including the printing establishment, and is business adviser to all the managers; it also employs an editorial adviser, known as the graduate editorial manager, who gives professional advice to the editors, and links the activities of the editorial staffs with the work in journalism.

All of the publications, with the exception of the ILLIO, are printed in the company's own plant in the Illinois Union Building. A portion of all the net earnings of these member publications goes into the treasury of the company and is used for the benefit of the publications and for supplying and maintaining the printing plant. These earnings have amounted in the past fourteen years to something over $60,000.00, invested in the printing plant and office equipment.

The scheme of organization inaugurated here has been used as a model for publication organizations throughout the country. Most of the schools in the Big Ten now have publishing companies directly patterned after the Illini Publishing Company.

SOCIETY
THE Dance Supervision Committee, composed of seven members of the Senior Class, is appointed by the Student Council. It supervises all class functions, has charge of all ticket sales and acts as a means of preventing illegitimate entrance to these functions.

The Committee of 1925-26 has had a very successful year with a well-devised system of ticket sales and checking.

The Junior Prom

In the midst of a winter castle Richard Jones and Sarah Fisher led the annual Junior Prom on the night of December 4th, 1925. It was the first university function which took place in the new gymnasium.

The decorations gave a magic effect of sparkling icicles. Blue and red rights flashed upon the silvery snow.

The music was furnished by Jinks Bryan and his orchestra, and specialty dances were given by university dancers.

THE Junior-Faculty Reception, the first informal faculty-student reception, was held in the upper parlors of the Woman’s Building, Friday, November 13.

Richard N. Jones opened the program with a short welcome to the faculty, and Dean A. J. Harno responded.

Alice Rawson gave a specialty dance, and Phyllis Feingold played several violin selections. The Seven Illini Aces furnished the music.

DRAMATICS
THE main value of the Illini Theatre Guild has been in centralizing all control and coordinating all the units present in campus productions. It employs the services of a campus director, who stages all productions given during the year. Properties, in the nature of furniture, lighting apparatus, drops, and scenery, have been accumulated and are used to the best advantage. The Campus Theatre Fund is entered on the books of the Illinois Union, which organization is the trustee of the fund. This money will be of use when a campus theatre is eventually built. Managers are chosen for all productions, dates are established for dramatic presentations in order to avoid conflicts, admission prices and complimentary lists are approved, production expenses are carefully studied; in short, everything pertaining to the management and production of a campus performance is handled by the Theatre Guild.

We Are Seven was not what might be called the last word in good drama, but was, on the whole, amusing enough. Frances Levinthal, as a young lady with a maternal complex (she intended to have seven children, and the last was to be named Hope), undoubtedly copped most of the honors. Francis Edwards did as well as possible with a role that a Barrymore couldn't make credible. The others were all right, and there was nothing at all wrong with the direction.
The First Year

A comedy by Frank Craven, was presented by Mask and Bauble on March 12 and 13, 1926, in the Rialto Theatre.

The First Year was excellent in every way. John Luhrs and Louise Bresee, as, respectively, an awkward and unprepossessing husband with a soul for higher things, and his very young and eager wife, gave performances which would do credit to the professional stage. There was not a false note in this production. Mr. Smith deserves a great deal of praise for his direction.
The Players Club

THE Players Club, organized in February, 1906, is a social-dramatic organization of members of the faculty of the University of Illinois. Its purposes are the study of drama and the occasional presentation of plays that offer exceptional interest. As one of the members of the Illini Theatre Guild it is also co-operating in the purposes of that organization, more particularly in the securing of an adequate theatre for the dramatic interests of this university community. In the earlier days of its existence the club gave special attention to the classic masterpieces of English drama. In 1908 and again in 1914 it presented plays written by one of its members, Thacher Howland Guild. In recent years it has devoted itself chiefly to more modern plays of English, Irish, and American authorship.

The Devil’s Disciple

A melodrama by George Bernard Shaw, was presented by the Players Club in January, 1926, in the Rialto Theatre.

This bitter melodrama of Shaw’s was given a very creditable performance by members of the Players Club. Mr. McCluer, in the title role, was properly sardonic, and rose at times to considerable histrionic heights. Mrs. Stevens, in her brief appearance, effectively set the tone of the performance. Miss Sergeant fainted gracefully; Professor Oliver, delivering no more than two lines, completely created his character; and Dr. Landis was thoroughly ironic.
Robin Hood

An opera by Reginald de Koven, was presented by Woman's Welfare on December 11 and 12, 1925, in the Auditorium.

CHORUS

Robin Hood was noteworthy mainly for Mary Hartley's singing and Rusty Lane's acting. The chorus and the greater part of the cast did justice to the charming music of this opera, but its other beauties appeared somewhat tarnished in the Auditorium. An additional week of rehearsals would have proved beneficial.

SIN was an irreverent and clever parody of different phases of campus life. Chase Judah, Ed Lesch, and Ray Seng wrote the book and lyrics. Bill Donahue composed the music. Harold Beane sang, Wallie Jentsch danced, and Hickman, Beck, and Thorek made funny faces to keep the audience amused.

DELTA ALPHA EPSILON
A series of dramatic hours was presented, as has been done before, weekly throughout the second semester. The plays brought before campus audiences at these times were acted, managed, and directed entirely by the students in Mr. Smith’s Public Speaking 11 class. Mr. Smith himself had nothing to do with the productions, except, in his own words, “to tear them to pieces after the performance.” Each play was performed in the Vagabond Theatre, before the class, previous to its public presentation in Morrow Hall. The program of the plays given this year is as follows:

March 16—The Price of Coal; Lonesomelike; The Burglar.
March 18—Extreme Unction; The Conflict; The Rising of the Moon.
March 31—The Thread of Scarlet; For Distinguished Service; The Stepmother.
April 15—God Winks; The Sisters’ Tragedy; The Loving Cup.
April 27—Campbell of Kilmhor; The Master of the House; The Boy Comes Home.
May 13—Womankind; $X = 0$.
May 27—The Drums of Oude; Green Chartreuse; A Night at an Inn.

Irresponsible youth saving the family honor in a crisis was the theme of The Goose Hangs High. Milly June Goelitz didn’t carry off all the honors: Marjorie Davis did excellent work as the mother, and Willard Wheeler and Art Aquart were natural and convincing as the male juveniles. The remaining members of the cast were not only adequate; they were much more than that.

Debates

The first debate of the year in which Illinois took part was held on the night of October 26. At this time a team from Cambridge, England, met a home team in the Auditorium. The question debated was, “Resolved, that this house pities its grandchildren.” The Illinois team, composed of R. L. Oliver, E. E. Olson, and A. G. Hall, defended the negative side of the question. There was no decision.

The Minnesota-Iowa-Illinois triangular debate, for the first time in many years, did not take place, due to Minnesota’s inability to enter. In its place there was held, on November 15, a debate between Illinois and Iowa, at the latter University. Illinois defended the negative side of the question, “Resolved, that a complete realignment of the political forces in the United States is necessary.” Those who debated for Illinois were Mary Gene Stifffield, C. S. Kemp, J. L. McShane. There was no decision.

The third debate of the year, between Illinois and Knox College, was held before the Rotary Club of Galesburg on January 19. Illinois with a team composed of C. R. Johnston, Donald Korshak, and K. J. Tarpley, defended the negative side of the question, “Resolved, that the aviation service should be organized into an independent branch of national defense co-ordinate with the army and navy.” There was no decision.

The triangular debate held on March 19 between Michigan, Wisconsin, and Illinois, finished the season. Illinois' negative team, composed of Elizabeth Turnell, H. T. Owen, and C. K. Theis, went to Michigan, while the affirmative team, composed of W. S. White, J. R. Lane, and H. G. Roberts, remained here and debated against Wisconsin. The question was, “Resolved, that the tendency to centralize power and responsibility in the federal government should be opposed.” Illinois was unfortunate in losing both decisions.
MUSIC.
The University of Illinois Concert Band has been dubbed by John Philip Sousa, "The Greatest College Band." To the very able leadership of Director A. Austin Harding is this credit due, for his efforts have been persistently and unremittingly toward such an ideal.

The Sixteenth Annual Concert Tour, terminating with the Thirty-sixth Anniversary Concert in the University Auditorium March fifth, proved to be one of the most successful that the band has ever taken. Further laurels were added during the football season, when the band accompanied the football team to Philadelphia and while there recorded with the Victor Talking Machine Company three Illinois songs. Nearly 50,000 of these records had been sold by March first.

Each spring, as soon as the weather permits, the Concert Band gives a series of Wednesday evening concerts in front of the Auditorium. These "twilight concerts," as they have come to be known, have proved to be very popular.

There are, besides the Concert Band of ninety pieces made up from the best musicians on the campus, two other bands—the First and the Second Regimental Bands. The First Regimental Band maintains a membership of about one hundred and constitutes a constant and efficient training school for the Concert Band. The Second Regimental Band has a total membership of about one hundred twenty pieces.

THE University of Illinois Glee Club was organized in 1892, with Professor S. W. Par- ras director. During the past five years, Professor Frank Tatham Johnson, of the School of Music, has been the director.

Under the efficient management of Robert E. Fisher, the club made a trip during the Christmas vacation which included Vincennes, Indiana; St. Louis, Missouri; Flora, Hillsboro, Alton, Canton, Macomb, Quincy, Beardstown, Jacksonville, Springfield, and Decatur, Illinois. Another trip was taken in the spring when concerts were presented at Berwyn, Barrington, and Oak Park, Illinois; and the club competed in the Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest in Orchestra Hall, Chicago. The club placed second in this contest, fifteen clubs participating for honors.

The Re-Union Concert in the fall and the Home Concert in the spring were presented by both the First and Second Glee Clubs, making a combined organization of one hundred voices.

MILITARY
The R. O. T. C.

Under provisions of the Morrill Land Grant of 1862 Military training has been required. By a subsequent Act of Congress passed June 3, 1916, six units of the Reserve Officers Training Corps were established in the University. With passing years the institution has grown and with this growth there has been a commensurate advance on the part of the Brigade. And with the passing of time this department has improved, not in quantity but in quality. Strength of the Brigade has been lim-

...ted to three thousand men. These are chosen selectively by means of a rigid physical examination. The unfit are eliminated. The appointed group are adequately equipped and instructed by the Federal military department. Four years of training in rigid basic and advanced courses has filled these men with self-reliance—a definite assurance of national integrity and a promise that good citizenship can be bred and promoted. To the young man who achieves merit in his military work go the rewards of official promotion.

THACHER HOWLAND GUILD MEMORIAL PRIZE, 1925
Won by EDWARD C. LESCH
Honorable Mention to Miss Opal Jackson

The Thacher Howland Guild Memorial Prize is awarded annually to the student whose one-act play is considered to be the most original and to possess the greatest literary merit. This prize was endowed by friends and relatives of the late Thacher Howland Guild, formerly an instructor and associate in English at Illinois.

Synopsis of
"The Return of the Crusader"

War does not always exalt the soul, nor is the American soldier always the heroic saint that he appears on Christy posters.

The scene is the lobby of the Court House at Danville, Illinois; the time is several months after the close of the Great War; and the occasion is the return in state of the body of one of the native sons, killed in battle. Three National Guardsmen are awaiting the arrival of the coffin, over which they are to stand guard that night. They are Corporal Bliff, Private Swope, and Private Ing. None of them had served in the war, for various more or less imaginary disabilities, but they know a lot about peace duty, and have acquired the technique of griping and profanity. Far from being awed by the solemnity of the occasion, they spend their time swapping yarns, abusing their officers, and quarreling with Lt. Rosen over the manual of arms—especially Ing, the laziest, foulest, and most proficient of the three.

At length the coffin arrives and is received in a more or less military manner. Ing prepares to pass a comfortable night over a bottle, when a diversion is made by the violent entry of three soldiers, Mac, Dwig, and Dago. These gentlemen, having served with the dead Curt in France, are determined that no—Guardsmen are going to do the honors for their buddy. So after a wordy resistance they expel the guard and take over their arms. They jaw about old times in France and about Curt. Already well oiled and being supplied with their own and Ing's liquor, they become maudlin. It turns out that Dwig had sat up with Curt the night he died of flu and had gone to sleep. His conscience tells him that his negligence was the cause of Curt's death. He grows hysterical—wants to look at Curt again. "I want to see if he is smiling. I can tell if he is mad because he will be biting his lip like he used to when he was sore." So he pushes the lid off the coffin. Mac looks in.

Dago—"Come on, let's play a hand—if I can get these damn cards together. (Looks up.) Well, is he smiling?"

Mac—"He's grinning, Dago, he's grinning!"
THE FRANCIS J. PLYM FELLOWSHIP IN ARCHITECTURE

Won in 1925 by
EARL VICTOR GAUGER

Through the generosity of Mr. Francis J. Plym, of Niles, Michigan, a graduate of the University of Illinois of the class of 1897, the Trustees have established a fellowship for the advanced study of architecture. The stipend attached to the fellowship is one thousand dollars. The winner of the award is required to spend a year of study and travel in Europe. The fellowship is awarded annually by competition in architectural design.

THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS MEDAL

Won in 1925 by
HOMER F. PFEIFFER

The American Institute of Architects offers each year a medal to the senior in the Department of Architecture whose development during the four years' course is the most consistent and best. The award is based upon scholarship in all the work during the course, the purpose being to prevent over-specialization in design.

In 1925 this medal was awarded to Homer F. Pfeiffer, who was one of the highest standing students in Architecture.

THE SCARAB MEDAL IN ARCHITECTURE

Won in 1925 by
LEONARD SUMOROKOFF

The Scarab Medal is offered each year to the student in the College of Architecture who submits the best solution to a problem in architectural design.
MILITARY HONORS—THE HAZELTON PRIZE MEDAL

Won in 1925 by
CHARLES HENRY COMMONS
Engineering Unit

The Hazelton Prize Medal was provided by Captain W. C. Hazelton in 1890, to be awarded annually to the best drilled student enrolled in Military Science. The competition for this medal is held in May of each year.

The award is made for excellence in military appearance, erectness in carriage, neatness in dress and for excellence in the execution of the school of the soldier, without arms and with and without numbers.

THE SCHAEFER PRIZE IN ENGINEERING

Won in 1925 by
ALFRED JAMES SHOTE

Two prizes are awarded annually to the students in the College of Engineering who write the best technical papers describing some engineering construction or operation with which the student is personally identified in some capacity. The second prize was awarded to Rudolph Earl Peterson.

THE RICKER PRIZE IN ARCHITECTURAL HISTORY

Won in 1925 by
J. DONOLD PROUTY

The Ricker Prize is awarded annually for the best presentation of some phase in Architectural History. The award is given in honor of Nathan C. Ricker, formerly a prominent teacher in Architectural History.

THE IRA O. BAKER PRIZE

Won in 1926 by
J. D. VOORHEES

Two prizes are awarded annually to students of the Civil Engineering School who have distinguished themselves in scholarship and activity in technical organizations. The names are inscribed on a bronze tablet in Engineering Hall. Second Prize was awarded to Alfred Masterson.

THE UNIVERSITY GOLD MEDAL

Won in 1925 by
GLENN G. HALL
Engineering Unit

The University Gold Medal is awarded annually by the Board of the Trustees of the University. The medal is awarded for military excellence shown in the annual competitive drill. The applicant for the medal must have a required standard in scholarship both in Military Science and in his other school work, and he must show a thorough knowledge of the other details as in the requirements for the Hazelton Medal.
Honors Day

Scholarship honors are given on this day to undergraduates who have distinguished themselves for the two semesters preceding Honors Day.

Highest Scholarship

This honor is awarded to the students who are in the upper three per cent of their class in both the junior and senior years. Their names are inscribed on a bronze tablet in the University Auditorium.

Superior Scholarship

This honor is awarded to the students who are in the upper three per cent of their class in either their sophomore, junior, or senior years. They are entitled to wear the Honors Emblem.

High Scholarship

This honor is awarded to the students who are in the upper ten per cent of their class.

Kappa Delta Pi was founded and incorporated as a National Educational Fraternity at the University of Illinois in 1911 under the guidance of Dr. W. C. Bagley, now director of Teachers' College, Columbia University.

The purpose of the organization is to encourage in its members the ideal of consecration to social service. Membership is based upon scholarship combined with high moral character among those who are making educational work their profession.

Alpha Chapter holds monthly meetings, at which men who are prominent in the educational field address its members.

HUMOR
AT THE JUNIOR PROM
She:—Isn’t the music wonderful?
He:—What?
She:—Isn’t the music wonderful?
He:—What did you say?
She:—I said, isn’t the music wonderful tonight?
He:—I’m sorry but you’ll have to speak louder; I can’t hear a thing for that damn music!

COLLEGE A LA SHERWOOD ANDERSON
Moonlight . . . hiding the dirty ashes and empty tin cans upon which we fatuously gaze . . . tempting the unwary to fall into briar bushes in the fruitless search for wilted dandelions . . . disguising the deep, slimy mud into a treacherous, sticky, clutching bog into which we stumble . . . From the too-near orchestra noise . . . harsh, discordant, brazen as the constant clang of the crashing cymbals and the monotonous rumble of the battered tom, tom . . . and you beside me . . . apparent . . . affected . . . disgusting . . . as variable and as changeable as the shifting moonlight . . . but talkative . . . your cheeks plastered with rouge . . . your hair stringy and ragged . . . that light in your eyes that lies, and lies . . . your lips coated with a gooey, sticky mass of crimsoncalcimine . . . and the air heavy with the odour of cheap perfume . . . God! Ain’t it the Truth!

STUDENT SONG
Some students here are merely tools
They study when they’re told;
And listen to instructing fools
The “gag” they use is old.

They sit in lectures taking notes
Most copious and fully;
And often find themselves the goats
Of some facetious bully.

Some slip into the harness drear
To get a Phi Bete key
And some there are who slave each year
To be a Ph.D.

Now education is a fizz
So why should we all try
In fact you see my platform is “Just manage to get by.”

PUBLICITY
There are a number of sorority publicity stunts, to-wit, the good old Pi Phi annual fire, and the shades of Z.T.A. Then of course in this class must come the A.O.Pi davenport and the Kappa Delt skating party. But the Z.T.A.’s, ever on the alert to get their chapter before the public eye, take first place in this year’s competition.

It seems that the Beta Psi’s, who live next door to the Z.T.A.’s, had some of their freshmen out at about one o’clock one day last February, shoveling snow as an initiation stunt. Now a couple of the Z.T.A. sistern who couldn’t sleep, thought it would be a good idea to go down and pay the hard working pledges a visit. So, slipping something on over their pajamas, they quietly made their way down to the kitchen to go out by the back door.

But so quiet had been their exit that they

(Honorary Advertising)
Meeting is called to order, by the mystic words of the president who says, something about, "Eventually, why not now?" Business on hand is attacked by Brother Marsh, who mumbles, "four out of every five have to." Brother Goebel sitting near whispers, "You can do it better with gas," Brothers MacLaughlin and Harrison put a motion to adjourn before the meeting and everyone decides that it is time to re-tire.

PHI DELTA PHI
(Professional Law)
Meeting is called to order by the president who says, "Torts, Equity, Criminal, a cane in the hand is worth two in the fountain." Brother Jones asks to be allowed to plead the case of Brother Green who is slightly owing. Objection by Brother Phelps. Objection overruled. Brother Coale takes the stand for Brother Green, and is given a rigid cross examination. Brothers Miller and Oliver declare that Brother Coale is telling the truth, which breaks up the meeting in much confusion.

ALPHA ZETA
(Honorary Agriculture)
Meeting is called to order by means of the president ringing a breakfast bell. Brother Judson assays to judge the fine points of Brother Baker and vice versa, whereupon so many things are found out that it is deemed unwise to continue.
All this time Brother Powell has been industri-ously currying a rag rug and Brother Rasmussen has employed his time spading up the pile of coats and overcoats.

SCABBARD AND BLADE
(Honorary Military)
Meeting is called to order by firing a cap gun.
The officers immediately congregate in little groups figuring out plans of attack and defense. Over in one corner Brother McLain is conscientiously giving himself commands and immediately obeying them. Target practice is held, and several gunnery exams are given whereupon they all sing Taps and retire.

THETA SIGMA PHI
(Journalism, Women)
Meeting is called to order by the dropping of a matrix. The Sisters immediately begin an argument on who they should bring to the campus to speak. Zane Grey and Harold Bell Wright lead the votes until Sister Miller slyly suggests Edith Maude Hull, which again sets the meeting into a furor. There is a long discussion during which the merits of all are discussed, and the vote finally comes in in favor of Edgar Rice Burroughs.

MASK AND BAUBLE
Meeting is called to order by the president. This order seems to be a signal to everyone to get into character. Immediately Brother Luhrs begins to give an imitation of David Warfield accompanied by Sister Binns' interpretation of Lady MacBeth in the sleep walking scene. Brother Edwards is busily giving Hamlet's soliloquy to Brother Lane, who is himself trying a heart touching impersonation of Uncle Tom. The meeting breaks up at the mention of food.

CHEMISTRY CLUB
Meeting is called to order by combining KC103 and S. under pressure. The brothers are busily engaged making normal solutions, and a few are employed finding the atomic weight of Osmium. Illinium comes in for its share of the credit, each claiming he was instrumental in the discovery.

MINING SOCIETY
Meeting is called to order by throwing coal into a bucket. The members resemble famous sour-

Comfort and charm in a bathroom depend less on size and outlay than on arrangement, color and choice of fixtures. Beauty and convenience can be economically united in small space. In this blue and white scheme, the walls are of painted plaster or cement. The wainscot is scored to suggest tiling and carries the darker shade. The low radiator supports a window seat. The floor is in two-toned cement, with an Indian numnah rug.

In pleasant contrast are the gleaming white surfaces of the Revere lavatory and the quiet Senesto, both of twice-fired vitreous china. Matching their clear color, the Corwith bath of enamel is modeled in four planes. It has a shower curtain of maize Aqua-silk.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming this year was a big success. This one football game of all the rest of the year, has been set aside as a time of reunion and welcome for the old grads, and endeavors to let them in on campus life again. There were some 60,000 visitors in the Twin Cities over the week-end and the old grads found themselves about as welcome as the itch with two broken arms.

JUNIOR PROM

Of course the big dance of the year was the Senior Prom. The Prom prides itself on being the biggest social function on the campus. It was. Everybody was there but the freshmen who owned tuxedos.

After the dance had progressed for nearly two hours, there came back rumors from a few people up toward the front, that there was an orchestra near the door that played a bit between intermissions. Of course this was news to those who were struggling at the rear of the crowd, but nevertheless it was the truth. Several people up in the balcony actually made out affidavits to the effect.

Those who were more fortunate got their hats checked by 12:30 and by 1:25 a.m., had located their dates and maybe had gotten somewhere near the dance floor. At 2 o'clock however, they re-entered the check line and perhaps by 3:45 a.m. received somebody else’s overcoat and scarf and were to be seen vainly flagging every passing taxi.

But it was a wonderful dance, an astounding success, and far be it from us to register a kick.

AXE-GRINDER'S BALL

Of all the effete parties given on the campus the Axe-Grinders Ball is the effest. The delegates were the cream of campus society and the party is one we wish other campus dances would model after.

The grand march was a stately, sedate affair, as becomes so solemn an occasion, the orchestra was divine and the programs and favors were in excellent taste. Some delicious sort of ambrosia was served for punch, much to the pleasure of the attending guests.

Breaking up at the stroke of twelve, this dance holds the envy of all other University dances, which, as a rule, compel the guests to dance until the unearthly hour of 2 a.m.

Terrence MacReddy, master of ceremonies was the very essence of wit and propriety, and made a very charming host, eh, Tom Beebe?

Where Westinghouse Serves

ELECTRICITY—

The Universal Servant—has become the great economizer, the great convenience. Everywhere, for all kinds of people, it is making work easier, faster, and safer; making transportation and communication quicker and less expensive; making living itself pleasant and much more worth-while.

The activities, and the interests of Westinghouse, are just as broad and extensive as the electrical field itself. For products bearing the Westinghouse mark serve in almost every application in the generation and transmission of electricity, and in converting it into heat, light, power and service.

It takes fifteen hundred pages to catalog the products of just one of the many Westinghouse departments. And mankind, everywhere, on and above and below the earth's surface, seeks for and trusts these things that Westinghouse makes, because they are good, and because they meet such a diversity of needs so completely.

MOTHER'S DAY

Mother's Day is usually a big success inasmuch as it is neither for mothers nor is it a day. In this it bears a close resemblance to Dad's Day. Mother's Day manages to spread itself over the better part of Friday afternoon, Saturday and Sunday. The mothers are mere excuses. For the most part the entire family, including grandfather and Uncle Tim, come down for the celebration.

On Saturday afternoon there is the May Fete. If one were to judge from the preparations and gossip, Mother's Day would dissolve to Saturday steam boilers. Water analyzed, and treatment made to correct conditions after noon and let the charming daughters carry off the honors. It is very easy on these occasions to pick out the mothers of sons. These sit solidly in their seats and take stock of the new hats about them. The mothers of daughters sit forward expectantly in their seats until their daughters have performed and then follow the example of the mothers of sons.

Sunday afternoon comes the parting, wherein the daughters weep and all members of the family are touched, then it is father's day.

That Pioneer Train Followed
John Deere Plows

From the Illinois side of the Mississippi river, on an April morning in 1856, came a squat locomotive pulling a half dozen small box cars. With valiant blasts from its whistle, the iron horse snorted its way across to the little town of Davenport, Iowa; and coonskin caps and beaver hats flew into the air, as the crowd cheered the passage.
The first bridge across the Mississippi had stood the test. The new railroad extending into the West, was linked with lines leading into the East. One of the greatest epochs in the commercial life of the nation was begun. And the West was ready. For an earlier pioneer—the John Deere steel plow—had led the way for that first train across the mighty river.
Every year, by the thousands, up and down the Mississippi by boat and then by wagon far into the land of the Indian and the buffalo, John Deere plows had traveled. They were conspicuous among the goods of the first store in every pioneer settlement; the first to turn the virgin soil, as the frontiers of farming pressed westward; the chief equipment of those hardy pioneers who carved farms and states from the wild prairie lands.
The West, with John Deere steel plows, was ready for the stimulation of commerce carried on steel rails.

Since pioneer days John Deere Implements have been leaders because of their high quality

THE SENIOR BALL

One should under no condition miss the senior ball. This warning is scarcely necessary and would most certainly not be included were it not for the case of Sam Korf, who became so interested in the use of a parchesi board, that he did not qualify for the finals. He was using the parchesi board as a seat. The moral of course being do not become a senior unless you have the correct outfit for a fact. The matter of clothes is a very serious setback to most of the uninitiated. One should never leave one of his shoes at home as some one of the other guests may wear his or her track shoes and the man with one shoe would quite likely be at a disadvantage in case the party was not interested in polo or not. When the clothes have been selected and the victim is quite sure that he cannot stand up because of the pain a straw vote should be taken as to the right of glove factories to forget hardly anything. Then the dancer should call for his opponent in three cabs at various time, and then when she admits she is ready place in all three cabs at once and remark that there is no time that both might as well walk. Then catching her quite unawares pay no attention to her. This will cause her to believe that there is no dance, and you, knowing better, will plainly have no advantage.

When the place wherein the dance is to be held is reached, ask her if she really wishes to go on or whether maybe she had not best, after all, go to the senior ball.

After this there is nothing left to do except dance theoretically and without so much as a glance at the floor start dancing.

In case the evening is slow in getting started there are several little standard tricks which will bring about the applause of all. Perhaps best among these is the poker trick. Taking a hot poker, approach the oldest woman at the dance. Catching her off guard, bring the poker down sharply across her neck and at the same time bring the right fist gently but firmly against her eyebrows the while cheering loudly for Northwestern without so much as opening your mouth.

so interesting as the good old "Have My Pin" stunt indulged in by the Triangle boys.

The stunt is played as follows:

First: get a girl (a co-ed if possible) and let her have all your line. Get her to the place where she just can't resist you: (ask any Triangle how it's done).

Second: borrow your roommate's pin, (your own being of course pinned upon some flame in Kokomo) and wend your way over to the afore-mentioned girl's house.

Third: on the way over practice the little presentation speech that you are to give, (ask any Triangle just how this speech goes).

Fourth: deliver, with your heart in your voice and your roommate's pin in your hand, the little speech of presentation that you have prepared, and await results. (Ask any Triangle just what happens.)

THE OLD ARMY GAME

It was news to Campus Mud, and also quite a shock, to learn that the Alpha Z's have been dating rather heavily with soldiers from Chanute Field. Be that as it may; the real dirt of the thing is that moves were made and things were done to remedy this situation, and as a result an order was issued preventing any Alpha Z from dating a man in uniform. So to get around this rule the soldier in question in due time presented himself at the Alpha Z front door in cits, and after one look at him sans uniform and sans his military splendor, his date decided that in cits he wasn't so much after all and the romance ended right there.

A SOUTHERN BELLE

The Sigma Alpha Iota's pledged a southern girl at the beginning of the year. She talked with that delightful little southern brogue, just enough, not too much. And she confidentially told the sisters that she 'just couldn't get out of the habit of saying 'reckon' and 'you all.'" So after she had been pledged and had become firmly settled, it was learned that she hailed from a hick town some twenty-five miles north of Cairo, Illinois.

Progressing With Friends

Each year marks new things at the University of Illinois—new studies, new courses, new departments, new buildings.

Keeping pace with this progress is the continual program of improvements on the Illinois Traction System—improved schedules, new rolling stock, ballasted road-bed, faster trains.

It is pleasant to progress steadily with friends, and such great friends—the University of Illinois and the Illinois Traction System—such two important friends before the people of Illinois, must ever look ahead and continue to progress—together.

LETTERS FROM A COLLEGE BOY TO HIS FATHER

By Tom Morrow

Well pa—Here I am and all set to be a raw, raw boy (ha, ha). This place ain’t so bad accept for everybody tryin to cell you something like the shutakwa but they won get none of my mony not after I come through three YMCA drives at home 30 cents to the good. (ha ha.) I put my mony in three pockets like you told me and didn’t have no troubl accept a smooth guy with sum kind of game about a trunk check and I just laughed and he didn’t say nothing after that. Their was a bunch of bording houses solisting buzness at the train and one by the name of Betta Taka Pie (kind of a cunning name for a bording place) must due a big a buzness as they got evrybody but the conducer and me. Big fellow by the name of Ed Lesch or something was the guy in charge I think id like him. Know follishness, looks like maybe hed studied horses some from a plow. Well I red a piece in the catalog about the ymca, guess Ill go out and look at them Herefords we red about,

Yours three ina hill.

Ps—I may go into the coching coarse insted of the cow college. I saw Zupke and he gets big mony, you wouldn’t believe it. You have to change close pretty fast in this coching school. Its hard alrite but I guess I could learn her. Tell John not to take no wooden nikels. (ha ha)
Axe.

Dear Pa—Well I done it I signed up in this ag school. The coching coarse was allright but you had to take calisthentics and you no the awful time I had getting through them mathematics in high school. I found out wear the Y.M.ca was today and I wont have no difficulty staying off that street. Theyve got some right pretty stock. I signed up for military today. I could have got out of it if they had been anything wrong with me in the physical exam but there aint no slackers in are family. Tell ma not to worry.

Well pa—Im kind of getting axquainted with the folks around. Them wasnt no bording houses that first day but fraternities which is just like bording houses but caused more. They have houses and watch you eat a meal and if you dont cut no one they ask you to come in an pay. Im perty prod of gettin away from them Bettas. There like Woolworths kind of, due buzness on a big scale. All them fraternities was kind of fraid to ask me accept the Cappy delta rows and they make you feel right at home. They kind of want me to join but I told them that you didn’t hold much with them secret socities but maybe the klan. Im waiting for your ideas on the thing.

Well pa:—

I kind of begin to get on to this fraternity thing. All of the boys our just like me. But they have a lot of forks around and everyone is scart that the other guy is used to them forks and he pretends that is used to them and some tims its forty minutes before any body takes a bite, kind of fainting around wating for the other guy to grab a fork so they can tell which fork to us. Then you kind of pretend like you liked everybody else in the club and shake hands and say hello fellers alot. We got most of the big men on the cam pus. One guy is president of the Union which aint nothing like the plumbers union. I ast him what he done an he kind of laughed so I gess they must be a goke abou it. Then another guy is buznes manger of the stewdant papur. I gess he mak moor mony than a guy could with a team. It must be a religus papur. Its in presbyterian haul, I see him going to work all the time. I didnt tell you nothing about rejisturing. They give us abot five yards of papur to article on and it was full of gokes. In one plase it syas what postofis was you borne in. Rite away

The Conquest of Distance

From your own telephone you can talk to any other telephone in the United States—more than 17,000,000 of them. You can talk to Canada. You can even talk to Cuba. Your field is practically unlimited.

You may have a few occasions to talk to places thousands of miles away, but you have frequent use for service to places nearer home.

Rates are reasonable and the station-to-station rates are lower after 8:30 P. M. The different classes of calls and the rates are fully explained in the current telephone directory. The long distance operator will quote rates to any place.

The story goes that all the fuss
O'er gode Queene Helen came
About because the Thetas lead-piped Helen into fame.

Salome danced her way into
The hearts of warriors bolde,
But danced her way right out again
(She joined the Zips, we're tolde).

Persephone, 'gainst Ma's advice
Pledged Chio; then, alack,
Was carried into hell because
She couldn't take it back.

THE CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL

(Dedicated to our Traffic Lamps and Jim White)
Sing, Muse, the crowded ways
And traffic's brazen roar,
The song of other days,
That are (a tear) no more.
Lo, Chaos follows Sin!
Bow, Fool, the reverent poll.
The time of rattling tin
And cars that blithely roll
About the campus, free,
Is gone this saddened while.
Decree follows decree
In brave Imperial style.
Sing, Muse, with muted lyre,
Lament the Student Car.
Then tune thy lay some higher
For Chaos banished far.

Feeling that there are certain things that need explanation about the campus and as there are some 2000 words yet to be written ere the present publication will find it possible to drape its profit fraught pages about among the finn-laden yokels, we utilize this space in which to set forth certain facts. Which doesn't make much difference.

VISITING SORORITY HOUSES

This is an aimless, almost moronic form of sport which, as a usual thing, may be avoided. However, as in the case of suicide, the necessity of a journey into the maizes of the sisterhood will now and again visit its self upon one, the best possible form of attack is here placed so that all may read. Before making the contemplated sorority visit it is best to consider the matter. Perhaps inspiration as to pastime will reach one in the final moment before the fatal step. Mayhap there is a gymnasium meet on this night. This will give a person a chance to stay at home and play checkers.

However, if there is no way for the victim to dissuade himself from the journey, precautions should be taken in the form of a fireman’s axe, three square of roofing, an onion set and 37 snow shoes. Then set out in a dead run in the opposite direction from your destination. When the first automobile is sighted swallow all 37 of the snow-shoes at one gulp. The driver will no doubt laugh himself to death, thus placing the automobile at your disposal. Then, driving swiftly backward down the street, seek out a livery stable, hire a horse and buggy, borrow a motorcycle and ride to the sorority house.

On your arrival, carelessly throw the roofing over your head and give an imitation of a homing pigeon. The girls will naturally think that someone is selling lawnmowers and will rush out to see if there is any chance of it raining. This will give the debauchee an opportunity to open a basement window and go in through the back door.

Then he will go hurriedly to the chaperon and chop her left leg off directly above the knee and hand it to her. The ludicrous look on her face will most certainly cause all the girls to just die laughing. This will give the fellow to call an undertaker, or mortuary shoppe keeper, as he has been nicknamed. The shot will not be a hard one if the object ball is kept hardly. Why it is?

GYMNASIUM MEET

There is nothing more beautiful than a well-appointed gymnasium meet except perhaps it be a far horned catfish. Certain ethical niceties make it necessary for the prospective onlooker to prepare himself for the gymnasium meets as carefully as if he were a blind man on his way to a six day bicycle race in a town which had no race track. At least nine hours before time to start for the meet one should eat nothing hurriedly and do it repeatedly. Then do the very best possible to keep from finding out where the meet is to be held. After two hours of deep silence, accompanied by a bass drum solo, preferably by a player who plays solely by ear, stroll slowly, slightly sideways. Then stop quickly, without for a moment halting the stroll, the while repeating rapidly the last six words on the label of Lydia Pinkham’s bottle multiplied by six and afterwards. Then as the time for the meet arrives, walk briskly to the scene, thumb your nose carefully, at no one in particular, and lock yourself in a phone book, soon afterward taking poison. This will never do. Neither are the Aztecs.

READY TAILORED CLOTHES for GENTLEMEN
FINE FURNISHINGS, FINE HATS
were unheard by two of the other sisters who felt the pangs of hunger about this time and were making a pilgrimage down to the kitchen to raid the ice box.

Hearing the hungry ones coming, and not desiring to be caught in such a situation, the two “visitors” hid themselves in the pantry.

Now while the hungry sisters were prowling about, one of the girls in the pantry happened to make a noise and the girls in the kitchen promptly went into a panic and set up a cry of “Burglars.”

Of course everyone was called out and the Champaign police department included but no burglar was to be found, nor trace of him. But then after all papers had carried a story of the Z.T.A. burglar scare, the sisters finally broke down and confessed that it was all a carefully prepared publicity stunt.

Strange to relate, the Pi Phis also concocted a new publicity stunt. It goes like this . . .

Last summer sixteen campus sororities announced that they were to hold their conventions during the warm months, and the various places of meeting were announced also. And lo! from among the number of organizations planning to hold conventions, Pi Beta Phi was the only one to pick a foreign land!

And so, the story has it, the convention was a huge success. Ontario, Canada, was the place, and the sisters were very pleased with it. Of course the Pi Phis came in for their bit of criticism, but according to the actives who attended, “Boy, o boy, it shure wash worth it!”

Yes, oswald, there are many ways of getting publicity.

And then there is the good old story of the fifteen campus politicians who congregated over at the Kappa Sig house one evening not so very, very long ago . . . but then politicians will be boys, you know, or what have you?

The second battle of the Marne, Napoleon's defeat at Waterloo, the quarantine of the Theta Xi's on the eve of the Sophomore Cotillion, the Death of Arthur and the passing of Illibuck, are all events to be mentioned in the same breath.

He was a good turtle, according to the now famous saying, but what of it?

But he has been duly mourned and buried. It is enough that we merely call attention to him. No more can be done, and while we reverently bow our heads for a moment in respect for him, or her, or it, let us each remember that Ohio never had him. Had we but known beforehand! Think of it! It brings tears to our eyes; had we but known beforehand, Illibuck might have died in Columbus!

But then, according to another old and famous saying, "There is no death, only oblivion." And should that really be the case we need not fear for Illibuck. He has been dead these past three years.

WHY THEY RATE
Theta Xi—Because the President of the Junior class had to live somewhere.
Delta Upsilon—Because Charley Dawes happened to go to college.
Phi Kappa Tau—Because Frank Leahy is one of the most popular men on the campus.
Kappa Delta Rho—Because we’re all brothers in one big fraternity.
Sigma Chi—Because 40 men thought it would be cheaper to hire a cook than to eat out.
Chi Beta—Because they believed that Illibuck needed it worse than they did.
Lambda Chi Alpha—Because high school men need someone to watch over them.
Sigma Phi Epsilon—Because they gave a cowboy party and because of the results.
Pi Kappa Alpha—Because somebody must get Carl Lundgren’s goat.
Sigma Phi Sigma—Because somebody thought it necessary to write poetry about girls and long, low, red roadsters.
Psi Upsilon—Because of their tact in “handling” the Alpha Chi Rho’s.
Phi Kappa Psi, Theta Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Chi Psi and Zeta Psi—Because, because—oh, think of the poor sorority girls!
Chi Omega—Because there must be some way of segregating all the blondes on the campus.
Pi Beta Phi—Because there are so many of them we just didn’t dare to disregard them.
Kappa Kappa Gamma—Because they live across the street from the Dean of Men.
Tau Delta Tau—Because they are the “Little Delts.”
Alpha Kappa Lambda—Because Ivory soap made their fraternity motto popular.

Unfortunately it was impossible to obtain a photograph of the famous Tassel Club for the Roast Section, but a scout was sent out to listen in on one of their meetings and succeeded in obtaining their names. The sisters are as follows . . . Mary Queen of Scots, Anne Boleyn, Catherine iii, Queen Elizabeth, Helen of Troy, Cleopatra, Carrie Nation, and Countess of Cathcart. Two of them are Alpha Gams, two are Delta Gammas, three Pi Phis and one Kappa.

Representative for Champaign and Urbana
This edition of the “Illio” is typical of the results obtained through the entrusting of a complete responsibility for Ideas, Composition, Engravings, Printing and Binding to one responsible organization, possessed of experience and facilities for producing and combining them for distinctive effectiveness. We are proud to include it among the Fine Printed Matter produced by the Manz Corporation.

Fifty-nine years ago this organization had its humble beginning. Today, it stands as the largest complete printing plant of its kind in existence—where everything required for a complete printed job—from Idea to Finished Product—is produced under one roof.

We are ideally equipped to introduce originality and quality, such as you find in this volume, into other Year Books and Annuals. And it will be a real pleasure to proffer a creative service similar to that tendered to the Editor-in-Chief, Business Manager and Faculty Adviser of this “Illio.” Those serving the University of Illinois and other educational institutions in the years to come will find it beneficial to consult us in the initial stages of their work.

Those engaging in commercial enterprises will find here, also, a creative printing service in harmony with that rendered to universities and colleges.
