OF THE FUTURE
THOSE OF THE PAST
SEND GREETINGS

1934
ARTHUR HILL DANIELS

Acting President
ALTHOUGH the past few years have not been easy ones, the developments which have come about partially as a result of the general economic situation have proved an incentive to many of us. It has been very encouraging to witness the determination with which a great proportion of our student body has carried on in spite of adversity. One would be calloused indeed who did not gain strength to meet his own problems through observance of the severe sacrifices which parents have made in order that their children might continue to have the advantages of a college education.

Frequently the finest characters are developed under adverse conditions. Members of the Illini family who make progress now should have no fears for the future. A growing seriousness of purpose upon the part of undergraduate students has become increasingly evident and as college students are among the leaders of their generation this is one of the most hopeful signs that has come out of the present world situation.

It is, then, with a very real sense of appreciation that I extend my congratulations to the members of the student body and to their parents. Your achievements in these trying times have been valuable not alone to you but to us as well.

Acting President,
University of Illinois
Message to the Class of 1934:

We frequently speak of College or University graduates as "College 'trained'" men and women. I hope the members of this Class may rather be referred to as "educated" men and women. Trained animals do their stunts without knowing the reason why. Nevertheless, they do them well but cannot go beyond their training to devise new stunts. Many students pass their examinations because they have been "trained" and not because they have been educated or taught to reason or think for themselves. The great need today is for educated men and women who have imagination or initiative, and who are able to create something new and original for the benefit of mankind.

Test the value of the past four years you have spent at the University by asking yourself the question whether you place yourself in the class of the "trained" or "educated" individual. You are now entering upon a course of study in the great University of Experience, and your success or failure in life will depend largely upon whether you think in terms of "education" or "training".

The College of Engineering

EDUCATION in Engineering was officially recognized by the University Board of Trustees at its second meeting in May, 1867, when it provided for the establishment of "courses in Mechanical Science and Art, Civil Engineering, Mining Engineering and Metallurgy, and Architecture and Fine Arts." Actual instruction in Engineering began January 1, 1870, but announcements of the curricula in Engineering were not published until 1871-72, when four curricula were offered: namely, Mechanical En-geineering, Civil Engineering, Mining Engineering, and Architecture. Today thirteen curricula in the various fields of engineering are offered within the College of Engineering itself, and several more are administered in other Colleges of the University.

In 1903 the Engineering Experiment Station, the first in the United States, was established, and 279 bulletins and circulars have been issued to date. A large number of cooperative research projects have been carried on in recent years for industries in the State of Illinois and for national engineering societies and associations interested in the advancement of knowledge in their various fields.

The work of the Station has had a marked effect in stimulating formal graduate study in Engineering, and many departments are developing graduate courses as rapidly as their resources will permit. The importance of graduate work in Engineering was never greater than at the present time.

Arthur Cutts Willard, Acting Dean of the College of Engineering and Acting Director of the Engineering Experiment Station, was born in Washington, D. C., August 12, 1878. He graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with the degree of B. S. in Chemical Engineering in 1901. Following his graduation he went to San Francisco, California, to teach industrial chemistry in the California
School of Mechanic Arts, and after the earthquake and fire, returned to his birthplace as Assistant in Mechanical Engineering at George Washington University. In 1913 he came to the University of Illinois to take charge of courses and research in heating and ventilation.
He has been Head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering since 1920.

From 1909 to 1913 he was first assistant and later sanitary and heating engineer for the United States Quartermaster Corps in charge of the heating and ventilation of all United States Army posts. During the war he was consulting engineer on heating the National Army cantonnements, and since then has been consulting engineer on ventilation projects for the U. S. Bureau of Mines, the U. S. Public Health Service, the Holland Tunnel, and the proposed Chicago Subway.

The ILLIO
Matthew Thompson McClure, Acting Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, was born at Spottsford, Virginia, April 27, 1883. He did his undergraduate work at Washington and Lee University, receiving a Bachelor's degree there in 1904. He next attended the University of Virginia where he received a Master's degree in 1907, following which he attended Columbia University, from which, in 1912, he received a Doctor's degree. From 1915 to 1921 he was Professor of Philosophy in Tulane University. He came to the University of Illinois in 1921 as Associate Professor in Philosophy. In 1922 he became Professor of Philosophy and he was appointed Head of the Department of Philosophy in 1929. In 1933 he was made Acting Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

The College is the largest in the University. In addition to handling its own students, it provides instruction in rhetoric, romance languages, mathematics, and the social sciences, for students registered in all the other colleges at Urbana. In fact, this phase of the work has grown to such an extent that for the past few years, at least one-half of the total energy of the teaching staff has been devoted to the instruction of students enrolled in other colleges.

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

In 1913 the College of Literature and Arts and the College of Sciences were united into a single College with the late Kendric C. Babcock as Dean. Since then the College has offered instruction in both the humanities and the sciences in a combined effort to integrate the claims of both.

Although specific curricula are arranged to prepare the student to enter any one of the professional schools, the primary aim of the College is to provide the resources for a "liberal" education. "Liberal" means, among other things, that in a program of studies emphasis is placed more on what contributes to a general understanding and interpretation of the problems, conflicts, tendencies and forces of life and experience as a whole, than what leads to an individual career.
The College of Commerce and Business Administration

ALTHOUGH courses in business and commercial training were offered as early as 1902 under the supervision of Dr. David Kinley, Dean of the College of Literature and Arts, it was thirteen years later that the College of Commerce and Business Administration was organized as an independent and educational unit with a dean and a faculty.

Its courses aim at the development of fundamentals, and to further this end, theories rather than practices are stressed in the classroom. Students in the College of Commerce therefore are led to know the way of whatever they undertake. To put the matter in other words, they learn how to make tools as well as to sharpen them.

In addition to this, the College of Commerce aims to teach the students how to think, how to think in straight lines, and how to think without becoming tired too quickly. In an effort to reach these ends, the curricula of the College are arranged so as to furnish an orderly progress in the student's development from the time he enters as a freshman until he is graduated at the end of his senior year.
A very large part of the population of Illinois lives in what may properly be called a rural environment. It is the duty and privilege of the College of Agriculture to train men and women for successful achievement in such an environment.

The need for thorough training for agricultural leadership is obvious. It is becoming more and more evident that the farther removed we are from a frontier type of agriculture, the greater the need of a broad liberal, as well as a technical education of college grade for men engaged in agricultural pursuits. Such an education the College of Agriculture offers. The Experiment Station is not only assisting in the solution of current agricultural problems but also is constantly adding to the body of facts and principles which form the basis of our agricultural teaching and practice.

It is the aim of the College to make available to its students, through systematic instruction, the discoveries of science and the experiences of the best farmers of all time. Through experiment, investigation, and research, the Agricultural Experiment Station is constantly discovering new knowledge which is put into teachable form for the benefit of students and farmers.
The College of Education

The College of Education had its origin in the creation of a chair of Pedagogics in 1893 and the selection of Dr. Frank Martin McMurry as its first occupant. The way for this action had been prepared by Charles de Garmo, Professor of Psychology, who had shown a special interest on the study of education. In 1900 there was established a Department of Education, which became the School of Education in 1907, and finally received its present title, the College of Education, in 1918. From the beginning, the major obligation of the College has been considered to be the training of high school teachers, principals, supervisors, and superintendents. A large proportion of its graduate students, however, have entered the field of the teaching of education in colleges and universities.

In addition to the Division of General Education, there are special curricula in Agricultural Education, Industrial Education, and Home Economics Education. The University High School is maintained as a laboratory school, and the Bureau of Educational Research has as its special function the conduct of investigations in the field of education.
The College of Law

THE primary purpose of the College of Law is to train students for the practice of law. But, as a diversity of types and methods of training, with varying degrees of emphasis, are included under the general title of Education, so is the situation in legal education. The faculty of the College seeks among its objectives to impress on students the value of learning to think clearly and to the point, and to inculcate in them an appreciation of the purpose of law in the social order and the necessity of its growth to the end that it will keep pace with the changing conditions. This process involves a study of the decisions of courts; it also includes the stressing of social and economic factors as forces contributing to and influencing legal decisions and trends in the law.

As an integral part of its program, the College aims to promote legal scholarship and research, to develop an appreciation of the highest ideals of the profession, and to inspire the consciousness of responsibility of the lawyer to society in furthering the wise development of law and in improving its administration. To students of high scholarship so inclined, the School offers opportunity for training for law teaching.

Admission to the College of Law is granted only to graduates of colleges and universities of approved standing and to students of senior standing who are permitted to elect courses in law for the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. The school further requires a scholastic average of C in undergraduate work as a further condition governing the entrance of seniors in the University.
The College of Fine and Applied Arts

The College of Fine and Applied Arts, which resulted from a grouping, in 1931, of the School of Music, the Departments of Architecture and Arts, and the Division of Landscape Architecture, is just completing the third year of its existence as a separate administrative unit of the University. But while the College, as such, is young, the various departments comprising it have long been in existence and have contributed hundreds of competent graduates to the professional and educational world.

The College offers nine curricula in the various branches of the Fine Arts leading to appropriate degrees. These curricula are so framed that the student obtains as wide a training in liberal studies as is compatible with the laying of firm foundations in the particular art which he proposes to practice.

The College enrolls in excess of five hundred professional students annually in addition to almost an equal number from other colleges of the University who desire to avail themselves of the cultural advantages which the College affords. The courses in the history and appreciation of art, architecture, landscape architecture and music are particularly popular with non-professional students.

Rexford Newcomb, Dean of the College of Fine and Applied Arts, was born at Independence, Kansas. He received his preliminary college training at the University of Kansas but studied architecture at the University of Illinois, receiving from this institution both the Bachelor's degree and the professional degree of Master of Architecture. His Master of Arts degree was gained at the University of Southern California. His academic studies were supplemented by wide travel in both Europe and the Orient. Dean Newcomb was for five years Director of the Department of Fine and Applied Arts at Long Beach Polytechnic (California), for four years Director of Adult Education and Principal of the Long Beach Evening High School. Before coming to Illinois he held professorships at the University of Southern California and at Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, at the latter institution also serving as College Architect. He came to the University of Illinois in 1918 and has been Professor of the History of Architecture since 1921. He is the author of a number of volumes and several hundred magazine articles on the fine arts and is well known as an editor and lecturer. He was appointed to his present position in 1932.
The Graduate School

GRADUATE study began at the University of Illinois when its doors were first opened for instruction in 1868 with a faculty of four members and about fifty students. But the name “Graduate School” was not used in any University publications until 1892, when the Board of Trustees authorized the appointment of a special faculty to have charge of graduate work. The principal aim of graduate study is the development of the power of independent thinking and the promotion of the spirit of investigation. The student who pursues an extended course is expected to obtain a wide knowledge of his subject and of related fields of knowledge and to acquire the power of extending the range of what is known. The Graduate School student body last year represented every state in the Union, thirteen foreign countries, and over three hundred universities and colleges. Four hundred thirty-three Masters’, ninety-three Doctors’, and seven professional degrees in engineering were conferred.

The School is the third largest of the 63 graduate schools in the country which are recognized by the American Council of Education. It is qualified to give graduate instruction in twenty-seven fields of work, and in four of these fields, it is rated as giving “distinguished” instruction.
The Library and the Library School

The University Library, through the General Library and its branches, provides the books needed by students for required reading for class work; it provides books for much of the students' general reading, such as those in the Browsing Room; it provides books for graduate students, who in writing theses often must consult many uncommon volumes; and it provides books the faculty need in their investigations. Not having all the books required, especially for the two latter classes of users, it borrows more than 500 books a year from libraries in other parts of the country.

The librarians organize the more than 950,000 volumes into a usable library, and give much assistance to students and faculty.

The Library School is a professional school for the training of librarians, and admits only college graduates, because a librarian's first need is a good, general education. Students come to it from every part of the country, and its graduates are in libraries similarly located.

The instruction in the first year in the Library School covers methods and practice in library work; students who complete this year of work are prepared for positions in library service. In the second year, now transferred to the Graduate School, historical and comparative methods of treatment are emphasized; new subjects and research methods are introduced to give the student the outlook and equipment for responsible positions in large libraries where bibliographic exactness is required.

University of Illinois Library

Phineas Lawrence Windsor, Director of the University Library and the Library School, born February 21, 1871, at Chenoa, Illinois, has spent twenty-nine years in library work. He was graduated from Northwestern University in 1895, and studied at the New York State Library School from 1897 to 1899. On leaving there he began his active work as assistant in the New York State Library, but changed to the copyright office of the Library of Congress in 1900. In 1903 he became librarian of the University of Texas, serving there until 1909, when he accepted his present position.
The School of Journalism

CLASSROOM study of journalism at the University of Illinois has been continuous since 1902, the year in which Dr. Frank W. Scott, Professor Harry G. Paul, and the late Dean Thomas Arkle Clark were responsible for introduction of a two-hour course in editorial practices listed under the name of rhetoric and oratory. In the years that followed, a series of courses and a pre-professional curriculum were developed. The professional program was not developed, however, and the name School of Journalism was not used, until 1927 when college status was conferred upon the division of journalism in accordance with a law directing that a college of journalism be established at the University. In that year the Board of Trustees provided for the transfer of the Courses in Journalism from the department of English in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences to an independent position as a self-governing administrative and educational unit. Since that time the School has gone steadily forward, developing its professional program and providing for the needs of a constantly growing body of students. Its graduating classes now number about 60 each year and plans are being made for a five-year program of study.

The school now offers programs and courses of study leading toward general newspaper work in reporting, editing, advertising, and management, and toward critical writing and reviewing, political correspondence, financial journalism, editorial writing, trade and technical journalism, country journalism, magazine work, retail advertising, publicity, newspaper accounting, house organ work, feature writing, science journalism, agricultural journalism, home economics journalism, and teaching of journalism.
The School of Physical Education

The School of Physical Education, now rounding out its second year, is a reorganization of the Department of Physical Welfare. The chief change was the incorporation of the professional curricula in Physical Education, previously administered by the College of Education, in the new unit.

The School consists of the Departments of Physical Education for men and for women, with their professional curricula, required physical education, faculty recreation and intramural athletics, and also men's intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Health Service, embracing health education, health examination and advice, and campus sanitation, is also included.

The degree of Bachelor of Science in Physical Education is awarded to graduates of the professional curricula. More than 400 graduates are employed in physical education and coaching activities in a majority of the states of the Union. The Four Year Course in Athletic Coaching and Physical Education, the forerunner of the present School, was established in 1919 and was the first of its type. Director Huff, convinced that coaches and physical directors should be educated for their work just as men in other fields, instead of entering it as an afterthought, established the course. Prior to that time, commencing in 1914, Director Huff had directed a University Summer Course in Athletic Coaching. The present curricula is designed to give students an opportunity to specialize in physical education subjects but they must also carry a number of academic subjects.

George A. Huff, '92, Director of the School of Physical Education, was born June 11, 1872, in Champaign. He attended the University of Illinois from 1899 to 1893, and Dartmouth College in 1893-94. In 1895 he returned to the University as an assistant director of athletics and as coach of athletic teams. He coached the baseball team for twenty-four years, winning eleven championships, and tying for one other. He became Director of Athletics in 1901, Director of Physical Welfare in 1924, and reached his present position in 1932.

Men's New Gymnasium
The College of Dentistry

The need for dentists with both professional and technical training has led to a change in the curriculum of the College of Dentistry. The entrance requirements have been increased to sixty hours, and more courses in medicine have been included in the dental curriculum. The graduate in dentistry is now equipped to act as a consultant in problems which involve both medicine and dentistry. These afford an attractive field of investigation to the student who wants to work in a field where the unknown and the unexplored offer endless possibilities for research. The College of Dentistry is making every effort to supply occupants for positions in hospitals and medical schools where the need is for men with a medical background trained in dentistry who can approach intelligently the large problems in these fields.

The College of Dentistry is located in the clinical center of Chicago, opposite Cook County Hospital. The technical departments of the College occupy a separate five-story building with a frontage of 100 feet on Harrison Street and 100 feet on Honore Street. The fundamental sciences are housed in the new Medical and Dental Laboratory Building at the corner of Lincoln and Polk Streets. Both buildings have ample space for laboratories, operating rooms for the several clinics, amphitheaters for general assemblies, class and student activities, and recitation rooms.

Plans for the new building have been temporarily delayed by the depression, but it is hoped that the building will be ready for occupancy within the next few years.
The College of Medicine

DURING the past year, evidence of a unified institution has become more and more apparent. The new Medical and Dental Laboratory Building has been completely occupied and is proving to be excellently adopted for teaching and research. The general hospital now provides 200 beds for general clinical purposes. The Institute for Crippled Children has beds for about 90 additional patients and the Psychiatric Institute for about 65 more. Staffs in these units have now been well organized for teaching and for medical service. The Institute for Juvenile Research adjacent to the Crippled Children's Institute is organized for the study of juvenile delinquency under the direction of the State Criminologist. Close cooperation exists between it and the College and Hospital groups on the basis of a Joint Agreement. The Director is Head of the Department of Criminology and Social Hygiene in the College. In this way the work of this important unit of the Department of Public Welfare is correlated with that of medicine.

The College presents a five year course of instruction. The first two years consist mainly of courses in the sciences fundamental to medicine, and the time of the student is largely devoted to laboratory work. In the third and fourth years the time is devoted to the clinical branches, particularly to practical instruction in dispensary and hospital clinics. The fifth year must be spent either in a hospital course, or in a year of acceptable research work.
The College of Pharmacy

In 1896 the University of Illinois added its first department in Chicago when the Chicago College of Pharmacy, an old and widely known institution, became the School of Pharmacy of the University. The School was then located near the business center of the city, but in 1916 the University purchased for its use the property at Wood and Flournoy Streets which it now occupies. The College is located in the great clinical center of Chicago, close to the College of Medicine and the College of Dentistry of the University. The laboratories have a total capacity of 700 students working at one time, and the library contains more than 5,000 volumes, including many rare books and complete files of the leading pharmaceutical journals.

In 1925, the General Assembly appropriated $350,000 to erect and equip a modern fireproof building for the School. At this time the course of study was lengthened to three years, and again in 1932 to four years, with the first year administered as a pre-pharmacy year. At the same time the title of the School was changed to College of Pharmacy, and the degree offered to that of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy.

The aim of the College is to prepare young men and women for the practice of pharmacy. While its alumni are largely engaged in the drug business, not a few have entered other branches of pharmacy as pharmaceutical chemists, hospital pharmacists and salesmen.
The Division of University Extension

The newly established Division of University Extension is but one of the means by which the University extends its educational facilities beyond its walls. During the first year most of the attention has been given to the introduction of the teaching of college courses by mail. Such courses are prepared and taught by members of the regular teaching staff only, and are the equivalent of courses taught in residence. While this type of teaching is being used at the University of Illinois for the first time, it has been practiced at other colleges and universities for many years.

The Division was approved by the Board of Trustees, in October 1933, after a thorough consideration of the work by the University Senate Committee on Educational Policy. The extension service was started at this time to increase the University's educational service to the state. A large number of high school graduates, who because of economic conditions were unable to enter a college or university this fall, have had, through this extension service, the opportunity of continuing their education.

The Office of the Dean of Women

Counsel and help are always available at the office of the Dean of Women for all the University women, students, parents, chaperons, town house-mothers, and anyone interested in youth. Presidents of organizations, committee chairmen, and individual students, may call any hour of the school day at the office to discuss with Dean Leonard and Miss Pierson personal or group needs. Many confidential questions, such as finance, working hours, the home where each student lives, adjustment to new study-environments, are considered individually as each student seeks counsel. Building toward better living conditions, fine incentives for scholarship, and intellectual living for individual students, their group and the campus in general, is the aim of the office of the Dean of Women.

The Dean directs the problem of employment for the women on the campus, making direct contact between employer and employee, and making certain that the girls forced to work have proper living quarters and will not have undue demands made upon their time. Living conditions for women are under her direction, and she personally inspects all houses in which non-sorority girls room. Her office has charge of Women’s Residence Hall, West Residence Hall, Davenport House, and the co-operative houses. The dean’s office also keeps the grades of the university women and assembles the sorority and group averages. In addition to these duties, Miss Leonard also assists the University women in their extracurricular organizations and activities.

Miss Maria Leonard, Dean of Women, was born in Indianapolis, Indiana. She was graduated from Butler College in 1906, and received her Master of Arts degree at Colorado College in 1910. Since that time she has been constantly engaged in dean’s work, having served as Dean of Women at Idaho State Normal College from 1910 to 1912, at Coe College, Iowa, from 1912 to 1923, and at the University of Illinois since the latter date.
Fred Harold Turner, Dean of Men, was born at Hume, Illinois, on March 22, 1900. He was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1922, and received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the same institution in 1931. He became Assistant Dean in 1922, was appointed Acting Dean in 1931, and succeeded to his present position in 1932.

Dean Turner spends his time primarily with students who wish to see him personally, Assistant Dean Frederick is in charge of student organizations and activities, and Assistant Dean Dawson assists and advises freshmen and foreign students.

An employment bureau is maintained by the Office of the Dean of Men, under the direction of Assistant Dean Bracken, to advise and aid worthy students in getting part-time employment during the college year, and full-time employment during the summer. This bureau affords a central clearing point for all employment of both men and women students, except that situations which involve residence for women are usually referred to the Office of the Dean of Women.

The Office of the Dean of Men

The office of the Dean of Men is organized to advise and counsel the undergraduate men of the University. Members of the office staff are available at all times, and are interested in every phase of undergraduate life. The problems of individual students, of groups, large and small, and the multiplicity of unexpected situations which arise in connection with a large undergraduate body are the especial interest of the Dean and his assistants.

The office staff includes Dean Fred H. Turner and Assistant Deans Charles R. Frederick, Dwight F. Bracken, and Harold S. Dawson. These men are willing and anxious to assist undergraduate men to co-ordinate their scholastic and extra-curricular affairs. It is their hope that the office may serve as a clearing house for general information and as an aid to the men of the University. It is their sincere desire to help every man who wishes to avail himself of the services of the office.

The professional schools of the University, which include the colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, and Pharmacy, are located in Chicago, where they have available a large number of patients for clinical work, in the Cook County Hospital, and in the new University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospital.

In 1931 the new Medical building at 1853 West Polk Street was occupied. The research laboratories in connection with the College have enabled Illinois men to make outstanding advances in pathology and surgery.

The College of Dentistry is making every effort to supply men to fill positions in hospitals and medical schools where the need is for men with a medical background trained in dentistry who can approach intelligently the larger problems in dentistry. To this end the entrance requirements have been increased to sixty hours and more courses in medicine have been included in the curriculum. The graduate in dentistry is now equipped to act as a consultant in problems which involve both medicine and dentistry.

The College of Pharmacy is now in its new building, and is presenting a four year course with the first year as a pre-pharmacy year and offering the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy.

I WANT to say something about the fine spirit which has been shown by the coaches and members of our Varsity teams in cross country, fencing, golf, gymnastics, soccer, swimming, water polo, and tennis.

The necessity for retrenchment compelled the Athletic Association to withdraw financial support from these teams but they have carried on intercollegiate competition. They have all played normal or nearly normal schedules. To do this required determination, courage and some sacrifice, for which they deserve the highest praise.

Our football team did far better than any one had reason to expect and the showing reflected great credit on our players and Coach Zuppke and his assistants. It is pleasing now to recall, as several writers have done, that during the lean years which preceded last season our students and alumni showed such a loyal spirit.

Illinois is known for its tradition of sportsmanship by spectators at athletic contests and in the main this is being upheld. Let us guard this tradition jealously.

The ILLIO
Cheerleaders

A SENIOR, two juniors, and a group of sophomores make up the staff of Illini cheerleaders. They are present at every athletic event on the campus and lead the student body in their vocal approval of the Varsity on the gridiron, hardwood, and diamond.

These men with their strong throats and excited gestures offer through cheers and songs an outlet for the spirit and enthusiasm of Illini rooters. More than this, they attempt to encourage good sportsmanship, so necessary to the success of any athletic event. This staff helps to maintain the Illini code of sportsmanship and to see that, win or lose, every Varsity team is loyally supported.
FOOTBALL
The seniors on the 1933 team started out as sophomores on one of the poorest teams in our history. Their achievement in 1933 should always be an example for Illinois athletes of what can be accomplished by perseverance and spirit.

Every team they met was more powerful in physique. Yet Sam Willaman, coach of Ohio State, said they were the greatest little team he had ever seen and I agree with him. Lacking physical power, they had to depend upon strategy and accuracy.

They missed a tie for the conference championship by failing on goals after touchdowns against Michigan and Ohio State. It is only fair to say that we spent more time than most teams on place-kicking and that we did win the Northwestern game by a field-goal.

As much as we all lamented the loss of the tie for the championship by two points, there was plenty of glory left.

I think that Illinois is on the upgrade in football. I do not mean that we are going to win a championship next year, but I believe we should win our share of games and make things interesting for the best.

Robert C. Gragg
BOB BLOOM, Varsity center for the past two years, first filled this gap in the line after being "discovered" in a physical education football class, and from then on was a permanent occupant of the berth. A consistently hard player, his sole chance for outstanding mention came through his ability to intercept passes when playing a roving position. Though he has played but two seasons, he will be ineligible for further competition next year due to graduation.

Illinois - - 19
Drake - - 6

From deep within the recesses of the second and third teams during his junior year, Dave Cook came back to the first team in his last season, a fullback instead of a halfback, and proceeded to make history as a line plunger and place-kicker, when he nosed out Northwestern, 3-0. After kicking the ball between the posts in the third quarter of that game, he then proceeded to rip up the Purple line with smashing stabs that gained yard after yard for the Illini. He also made a touchdown against Wisconsin.

Illinois - - 21
Washington University 6

Rated on many a second All-Conference team as guard, and captain-elect for the 1934 season—that's the results of Chuck Bennis' work during his junior year. Though one of the lightest men in the conference playing at the "forgotten man" post, Chuck more than made up for the weight he gave away by his fighting spirit and determination. Against the beefy Wolverine forwards, he persistently broke through for tackle after tackle, and in the Northwestern contest, was one of the best men in Hanley's backfield. It was always safe for a radio announcer to guess that "Bennis recovered the fumble for Illinois" after the foe had bobbled, for Chuck was a ballhawk who gained more than one loose ball for the Illini.

THOUGH not a regular in his third year of competition, Casey Straw proved to be an able substitute for Frink and Schustek, and was the first man that Zup thought of when either of the regular wingmen became fatigued or injured. Consequently, by the end of the season, Straw was taking part in at least three quarters of the games, and played almost all of the Ohio State contest. His cheerful attitude when matters looked the worst worked wonders with the morale of the team, and Zup will be hard pressed to find a capable replacement, both in voice and playing ability, for Moline’s representative on the 1933 squad.

Illinois - - 21
Wisconsin - - 0

A regular at an end post for three seasons, IVE Schustek finally was given Middle-Western recognition for his superior playing in his senior year, when he was named on many all-Conference elevens. His furious slashing play against Michigan’s All-American tackle, Whitey Wistert, was instrumental in the fine showing of the Illini, and again in the Northwestern game, Schustek came through with an outstanding performance. IVE’s specialty was breaking through the opposing forwards to nab a ball carrier by the heels for a substantial loss, and his pass receiving was a large factor in the success of the Orange and Blue aerial offensive.

Illinois - - 0
Army - - 6

There should be no depression in the crop of halfbacks for Bob Zuppke next fall, and leading the returning group will be Frank Froschauer, rangy and shifty ball carrier from Lincoln, who has served as a regular for the past two years. Though shadowed by the unique performances of Lindberg in 1933, Froschauer was probably the most dependable ground gainer next to Cook. In the Chicago game, Frank averaged more than three yards for each time he tugged the ball, and against Washington University and Wisconsin, he came through with touchdown efforts.
BEYNON, as field general, from his quarterback position for the Zupmen, directed a devastating attack against a sometimes bewildered foe. Though too small to handle much of the ball-carrying, Jack was able to return many punts for sizable advances, and every now and again, managed to sneak by some mammoth guard or tackle for an individual gain. Benyon was almost unanimously chosen by Western Conference scribes for the quarterback post on the first All-Conference team.

Red Gragg was shifted from the left to right tackle post as the season opened and became a permanent occupant there until the rise of Galbreath and Antilla. However, the hard-plugging redhead kept going strong and by the end of the year was working alternately with his less-experienced contemporaries. Gragg will be on hand this coming season to round out his collegiate grid career.

Hours of practice at place-kicking proved valuable for Bart Cummings, for he made three extra points against Wisconsin and another in the Chicago game. A sudden case of appendicitis cut short his career as a junior gridman, but Bart will be on hand as one of the five returning veteran tackles when Zup assembles his candidates next September.
LIND PIATT, huge guard, was Monticello’s gift to Illinois’ football destinies for the past three seasons. At the first of the season, he started out well but didn’t always keep up this drive. Sudden spurts of speed would often place Piatt on the first team where he would shine with All-Conference brilliance for a short period and then lapse back into mediocre playing. A trick knee that bothered him continually was partially responsible for this in-and-out career. Something unique for a guard—that opportunity to score a touchdown—fell to Piatt’s lot in the Washington game when he blocked a punt and fell on it over the goal line.

Illinois - 6
Michigan - 7

The sudden rise made by Dave Cook relegated Johnny Snook to a first alternate position at fullback throughout most of the year, but Johnny’s vicious smashing work, both on offense and defense, left little to be desired. Against Wisconsin Snook played a great game every minute he was in that struggle. Against the Army, Snook probably turned in his best game of the year and, in that contest, he was one of the few Illini that played above average football. Though a punter in previous seasons, Snook was left to handle other work when Beynon and Lindberg took care of the kicking. Johnny will graduate in June.

Illinois - 3
Northwestern - 0

Playing on the second team throughout most of the year, Harry Palmer had little chance to rise to the top at his tackle position, but his work in the Wisconsin game showed he had the spirit and drive that is necessary for a Varsity berth. Even though he will be bucked by stiff competition next year for his favored position in the forward wall, that game will furnish a basis upon which he can make his stand for a permanent place.
Another one of those "mighty atoms" is Cliff Kuhn, who, although weighing near the 165 pound mark, refused to be awed by heavier, more imposing opponents and went on to become a regular and get off to a good start in collegiate football as a sophomore. Intestinal fortitude in many games accounted almost entirely for his fine showing, and in the Michigan contest he repeatedly outplayed the beefy Wolverine forwards.

Running mate to Kuhn was another midget guard, Eddie Gryboski, who came up from the coal fields of Benton to push his way to the top in Big Ten football. When Gryboski, with Galbreath and Antilla, started the Michigan games, local fans were skeptical of his ability to last against the opponents' mighty line, but Eddie was still going strong after taking all the foe could give him.

Chuck Galbreath, another tough but small candidate for Illinois' football eleven, came into his own at a tackle post during the Michigan game. Having played at a backfield position throughout his high school career and then having moved to center for a while when a freshman, the work at tackle was new for Chuck, but he soon established himself as the leading right tackle by beating out heavier, more experienced men for the job.
Illinois' "Baron," with his shuffling gait, got off to a sensational start by becoming eligible only a short time before the first game, and then proceeding to run wild against the foe and score two touchdowns. Against Wisconsin, Les Lindberg again broke loose and strode for 75 yards to make the final score. From then on he was a marked man and enemy ends made it a special point to gang on Lindberg when he started off around the flanks. However, his remarkable punting kept up his fame, and he climaxed a fine year of kicking by besting Northwestern's Olson in a kicking duel.

Illinois    -    7
Chicago     -    0

Arvo Antilla is his name and not even Notre Dame's league of nations can boast a battling Finnlander like this giant blonde. After playing all his freshman year at end, Zup announced during spring practice that Antilla would be a tackle and the publicity that attended Arv pushed him into a first string berth as the season started. But injuries and Zup's plans kept him out until the Michigan game; then his superb work in that contest practically cinched the position for him.

Illinois    -    6
Ohio State  -    7

He only weighs 147 pounds and he is the fastest man on the team—yet injuries kept Crain Portman from making a letter until his junior year. Broken bones in his leg kept him out all his sophomore year and put him on the sidelines at the start of this past season. In the Chicago game he scored on a pass from Beynon in one of the smoothest plays that Illinois worked all season. His sensational catching of Beynon's passes late in the season gave indication that Crain will be a valuable man to have on hand this coming year.
BASKETBALL
THE 1934 Basketball Team surprised all the experts with its accomplishments. Playing one of the most difficult schedules possible to arrange in the Western Conference, the team defeated Chicago twice and split even with all others including the great Purdue and Iowa fives.

This team, not great in individual ability, responded to the fine fighting Illini crowd and was practically unbeatable on the home floor. When games were played on foreign courts, the ability of the team minus our fighting spectators was just a few points too weak for victory.

The loss of Captain Hellmich, the finest jumping center in the Conference, Chinn Kanam, giant guard, and Fred Fencl will be keenly felt, but if the likely looking Freshman players live up to expectations the 1935 team may be an improvement on the 1934 group.

Ruby, Coach

Hellmich, Captain

Froschner, Captain-elect
ACTING as the steadying force that bound together the Illini basketball team into a smooth-working, capable quintet, Huddie Hellmich, captain of the 1933-34 basketball team, was probably more responsible than any other member of the team for the admirable record that was compiled. His superior height enabled him to control rebounds on both backboards and once Illinois gained control of the ball, Huddie began his task of direction.

Froschauer, captain-elect, probably more than any other member of the team gained prominence for Illinois during the last campaign, for his sensational style of play continually attracted the eyes of the spectators. His remarkable accuracy on pivot shots and his rapid sorties into offensive territory made him the marked man on the Illinois team, yet opposing guards could do little against his amazing ability to elude them.

The largest man in the Big Ten basketball during his three years of competition, Chin Kamm drew many "Oh's" and "Ah's" from opposing spectators not merely because of his size but also because of his remarkable accuracy with those flick-of-the-wrist long shots which seemed to glide through the air and into the basket.

Howie Braun's first year of competition for Illinois, a success in many ways, brought him the added distinction of being the only sophomore on the squad to receive a letter. Though small in stature, Howie, clever and quick, capably held down the opponents, and took full advantage of any breaks by keeping on his toes throughout the contest.

A knee injury meant that Jack Beynon's second year as a Varsity basketball player was short, but in the few Conference games in which he participated, Jack demonstrated the same coolheadedness and ability that won him a letter as a sophomore. His knack of coming through at a crucial moment helped down the Hawkeyes, and the Purdue game was his best of the year.

FOR two years, Fred Fencl toiled along as just another member on Craig Ruby's cage squad, and then suddenly, when his opportunity came early in the year, he took full advantage of it, and became regular guard for the remainder of the schedule. Though smaller than many of his opposing forwards, he stuck with them like a leech, and turned in a brilliant defensive record for the season.

He was particularly outstanding in his ability to get defensive rebounds. In this one phase he was perhaps as good a player as Illinois has ever had. He often completely covered men several inches taller than himself throughout an entire game. Fred is the second and last of the Fencl brothers.

Diligent work for three years was given its reward when Jake Kamm received a letter this past season. Tall and husky, Jake strove hard to gain a first team berth. Though he played in only a few games as a senior, Jake made many of the trips with the team, and rated as one of the best in the line of first reserves.

With the exception of his brother, Chinn, he was probably the most consistent shot on the team, but he was handicapped by his slowness of foot. Jake was respected by his fellow players for his excellent team spirit and unselfish desire to do anything that was for the good of the squad.

Following Cas Bennett's graduation, Craig Ruby was confronted with the problem of obtaining a running mate for Frank Froschauer and after several experiments he named Roy Guttschow for the vacant forward post. Seemingly weak and fragile, he could keep going at top speed for 40 minutes without a letup, and his best work came in a melee under the basket where he snared loose balls time after time.

Guttschow also developed into a great defensive forward. This ability was demonstrated when he held down Lowry of Purdue and Grimm of Iowa to one or two baskets each in games with these two teams. It is entirely probable that his defensive ability coupled with his scoring ability made a difference to the team of three or four victories.
THE ILLIO OF 1934
TRACK
THE 1934 indoor edition of our track team proved itself to be a strong dual meet combination. The team's victories over Notre Dame and Indiana were particularly pleasing. Notre Dame had one of the strongest dual meet teams in the Middle West, but it fell before the fast stepping Illini.

The Illini's victory over Indiana was even more impressive because it was the first defeat suffered by the Hoosiers in four years of dual meet competition. Joe Schoeninger and Crain Portman were the high point winners. Co-Captains Dave Cook and "Chim" Kamm placed one, two, in their specialty, the shot put, while Irv Seely's victory over Steve Divich of Indiana in the pole vault was the deciding event of the meet. Marsh Miller pushed Indiana's great quarter miler, Ivan Fuqua, to a new Armory record (which tied the best American performance on record) of 49.4 seconds.

Little can be predicted for the outdoor season. Ineligibility robbed the team of many points indoor and the loss of these performers will be more keenly felt during the out-door season. We should present some respectable spring relay teams at the Kansas and Drake Relays, while our veterans, Cook, Kamm, Seely and Hellmich should be point winners in all meets of the season.
FIVE first places in five track meets — that was the perfect record that "Chim" Kamm, Illinois' strong man artist in the shot put, compiled during the out-door season of 1933. Co-Captain-elect for the 1934 campaigns, Kamm was given this honor largely through his efforts in the Big Ten meet when he annexed first place.

Early season injuries kept burly Dave Cook from any duplication of the career that partner Kamm experienced in the shot put, but a steady rise throughout the season's schedule brought Dave to a second place in the Big Ten meet when he crashed through with a 46 feet, 5 3/4 inches thrust. He was named Co-Captain, following this meet, with Kamm.

Though the pole vault was more or less Lynn Schlansker's specialty, he was generally in the background picking up a point here and another there in the vault, broad jump, or high hurdles. He tied for first with Lenington and Seely in the pole vault at the Michigan-Illinois contest as his outstanding achievement of the schedule.

Though past records showed him a dash man in the 100 and 220 yards events, Bob Carroll gained his fame last season through his performances on the spring relay teams. He was a member of the 140-yard relay group at the Drake relays that set a new record in this event, and he ran on both the quarter and half mile baton-passing quartets when they captured trophies at the Kansas games.

Lean, lanky Huddie Hellmich was really one of the great 220-yard dash men in the Conference in his junior year. Only a superhuman effort by Michigan's great Ward nosed out Hellmich for first in the out-door meet at Evanston and, prior to this, Huddie had gained a second in the 100-yard dash. He was also a member of the relay teams that captured three trophies earlier in the campaign.

A SECOND place in the 440-yard dash in the Illinois-Indiana-Purdue track meet of 1933 might seem rather insignificant offhand, but it was the climax of “Christy” Christiansen’s efforts last year, and a valuable and successful one at that. For Christy ran in that race against the great Ivan Fuqua, Olympic star from Hoosierland and one of the country’s ace quarter-milers, and managed to force Fuqua hard throughout the entire dash, pressing him close at the finish. Christy was unable to garner a place in the Conference struggle, but was a member of the successful Illini relay teams in the early season games.

Illinois    -    -    57 3/4
Indiana     -    -    73

Not for several years has Illinois had a top-notch broadjumper but it would seem that any worries about that department can be dissolved now, for Al Adams last year gave indication that he will be one of the Big Ten’s leading jumpers for the next two seasons. A leap of 23 feet, 7 1/2 inches gained Al a third place in the Big Ten meet, a fine finish to the campaign that brought him two seconds in the meets that immediately preceded the Conference struggle, and a sixth at the Kansas relays.

Illinois    -    -    57 3/4
Purdue      -    -    42

Big Bart Cummings took up his discus throwing even while the indoor season was still on and consistently spent afternoons perfecting his style by throwing the platter into the net. Then when he moved outdoors he gave indication that this was not wasted effort, for in his first season of competition, he gained fifth in the Big Ten meet at Evanston. Besides that he managed to place in every meet on the Illini card, notching up a second, two thirds, and a fifth.
ILLINOIS' 1933 cross country team brought the University its first harrier championship since 1921 and its second since the beginning of the sport in 1888.

Letters were awarded to Capt. Bill West, Capt.-elect Jacques Dufresne, Verne Landmeier, Ralph Fisher, and Mike Galland. The five letter winners, as well as Paul Talbott and Eugene Mies, each received gold track shoe charms.

Acting Coach Don Seaton had only two lettermen with which to start the season, Capt. Bill West and Jacques Dufresne, but he succeeded in selecting and training a seven-man team which probably was one of the most closely-balanced ever to participate in any sport for Illinois.

If proof is sought, one need only to examine the times turned in by the Illini runners in the various meets. In the Indiana encounter, for example the difference in the time recorded by the first Illinois finisher and that turned in by the fifth finisher was only 53 seconds—and that over a four-mile course.
IN THE first meet of the season, on October 7, the team gave its new coach a welcoming present of an 18 to 42 victory over Illinois State Normal. The surprise of the encounter came when Dufresne and Mike Galland tied for first and defeated Capt. Lyle Hutton of Normal by about three yards in so doing.

The second meet was held on the local course on October 14, when the Illini defeated Wisconsin in the Conference opener. It was the first time that the Badgers had been defeated in a dual meet in nine years. Winston Bone of Wisconsin won the race, Dufresne was second, and Jim Schwalbach of the visitors third, but the team balance served well enough to give the Illini a victory as Mike Galland, Verne Landmeier, Capt. West and Ralph Fisher finished ahead of the third Badger runner.

Illinois - - 26
Indiana - - 30

Indiana lost its first cross country meet in six years when the Illini won a 26-30 victory over the Hoosiers. With a record of 27 straight decisions in dual, triangular, and Conference meets, Indiana found its road ended when the Illini runners controlled second, third, fourth, eighth, and ninth positions to count only 26 points. Capt. Charley Hornbostel of Indiana, Olympic competitor and Big Ten half-mile champion, won the race easily, but the well-trained Seatonmen, finishing closely-bunched as they did, kept the rest of the Crimson runners in check.

Illinois - - 19
Northwestern - - 40

The Loyola University invitational meet attracted the Illinois team. Lyle Hutton of Normal won revenge for his early-season defeat by Jacques Dufresne, and Mike Galland capturing first place and leaving the two Indians in a tie for second. In the final meet at Evanston, the Illini ran almost completely away from Northwestern's barriers to win a 19-40 victory. First, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh positions went to the Illini. Verne Landmeier won the three-mile race, coming home in 15:59 and missing the course record by only four seconds.
Indoor Track

An ankle injury that gave him trouble continually, kept Irv Seely from achieving the heights that brought him fame during his sophomore indoor career, but a leap of 13 feet in the pole vault against Steve Divich of Indiana assured Illinois of victory in dual meet. However, this same Divich took first in the Conference vault.

In his second year of Varsity competition, Red Baughman ably proved his worth as a collegiate half-miler and topped his work of the season with a fourth in the Big Ten games. After running first against Notre Dame, Baughman was able to place only third in the Indiana-Illinois meet when his teammate, Lindsey, beat him to the tape, trailing Chuck Hornbostel. Red has another season left to climb higher in Conference circles and should place even better for Illinois in 1935.

Marshall Miller, heralded as the best 440 man to attend Illinois in years, after a phenomenal high school record, proved himself to be just that in the Indiana contest when he ran under the Armory record time against Ivan Fuqua. Miller was clocked in two-tenths of a second under the old mark. However, he must have allowed "buck" fever to slow his feet in the Big Ten struggle, for here he placed only fifth.
GRAIN PORTMAN moved right from the gridiron onto the Armory track, early in the winter, to become one of Coach Don Seaton's two best dashmen. Here Grain used his exceptional ability as a speedster to collect many points in the low hurdles. In the Big Ten meet he gained fifth in the 60-yard dash, but his best effort of the season came when he nosed out Ivan Fuqua in both the dash and low hurdles in the Indiana encounter. He contributed two firsts in his specialties when the Illini faced Notre Dame.

Illinois - - 55\(\frac{1}{2}\)
Notre Dame - - 48\(\frac{3}{4}\)

Coach Seaton's search for a solution to his hurdling problem ended early in the season when Joe' Schoeninger, a transfer from Wisconsin, reported with the information that he had previously scurried over the sticks for the Badgers. His actions more than carried out his statement for he placed third in the Conference struggle, after winning his semifinal heat in time that equaled Ward's winning time in the final race. Joe was good enough to lead the field in both the Indiana and Notre Dame contests and at present holds the Armory record for the 70-yard high hurdles.

Illinois - - 49\(\frac{1}{2}\)
Indiana - - 45\(\frac{1}{2}\)

After a year's absence from the dash paths, Hunter Russell returned in 1934 to head the Illini sprinters with a fourth in the Conference meet. In a dual contest against "Ivan the Terrible" Fuqua, Hunter managed to nose out the Olympic star for a first place. Winding up his final campaign among the Illinois athletic forces, Russell plans to turn to the cinder path in the Stadium to team up with Portman and Hellmich, thus giving the Orange and Blue an even more formidable dash squad.
BASEBALL
A pre-season examination of this year's prospects for the baseball team of 1934 shows that there are some good men out, potentially capable of filling the vacancies caused by the loss of an unusually large number of good men through graduation. The squad appears to indicate that it will develop into a team that will hit as hard and long as last year's team, and field and run bases much better.

There is plenty of keen competition for both infield and outfield positions by some good versatile men, who are developing rapidly in new positions as well as in those of their own choice. The pitching staff, mostly untried, has good and even brilliant possibilities, yet it appears to be the most uncertain of all the departments. The catching staff has some capable men. It must improve, however, before it measures up to conference competition.

Carl R. Lundgren

Lundgren, Coach

Chervinko, Captain

Frink, Captain-elect
DEAN of the hurlers" will probably be Kip Carlson's title during the 1934 season, for, with the graduation of Joe Wrobke and Dave Smith, Kip heads the pitching list as Lundy's most veteran hurler. A cool, steady right-hander, Carlson reminds Illinois fans of George Mills of several seasons ago; both pitchers seeming to work hardest when the going is the toughest. Kip's masterpiece in 1933 came when he held the Wisconsin nine to three hits and stopped them 7-1. Only the kindness of his heart gave them that run to keep them from a shutout. Kip was also on the mound the day that Illinois battered Chicago into submission.

Illinois - - 14
Ohio State - - 4

After serving two years as an apprentice pitcher, Dave Smith was promoted to a regular berth on the hurling staff. Three of his four victories for the season came in non-conference competition when he turned back Illinois Wesleyan, Ohio University, and Bradley. Curiously enough, Smitty was one of the best hitters on the squad, amassing a .429 average though he made only seven trips to the plate.

Illinois - - 9
Wisconsin - - 0

"Figures don't lie," the old copybooks say, and the batting average of Ben Lewis, third-sacker and leadoff man for the Illini in his sophomore year, is the best kind of evidence for this statement. Ben walked to the plate the most of any Illinois batter and collected 21 safe blows to lead in that department with an average of .480. His work was second only to the slugging of Capt. Chervinko. Three hits against Illinois Wesleyan, four off Purdue hurling, six against Ohio, four in the Wisconsin doubleheader, and three in the second Purdue contest—these, in brief, are the highpoints of Ben's introduction to Big Ten baseball. He has two more years left.

The Sophomore Managers are McManus, McGowen, Waimbold, Adis, Stark, and Quayle.
BISBEE was a consistent trainer and tried hard to overcome the loss of a semester out of school. Playing against Lewis for the third base position, he was facing keen competition, but handled himself well in the games in which he participated.

Illinois - - 15
Northwestern - 2

Jack Yule was one of the five veterans on hand when Landy began to mold his ball club early in the spring of 1933. Although he was given a chance at first base, Yule later moved over to short stop to replace Freddy Kasch and stayed there for a majority of the games. Though not one of the leading hitters on the squad, his past experience lent a tone of security to an otherwise green infield. He was lost to the team by graduation in June.

Illinois - - 7
Wisconsin - - 1

Miller Hotchkin, although only a sophomore on the team, started out the season with a bang. He played hard in right field but ran into a batting slump that kept him out of the games for the last part of the season.

Illinois - - 20
Chicago - - 7

Probably the speediest man on the team, Bill Theobald, gained a great deal of prominence through his ability to beat out short infield hits and snag looping flies in close center field after thrilling runs. His good work as an utility performer at second base and center field will be missed in 1934.
FREDDY KASCH at the start of the season was the outstanding sophomore, and his early slugging earned him a place at short stop. He slumped soon after and was replaced by Jack Yule, but his work throughout the year indicated that he will be a valuable man for Lundy's infield during the next two years. With two hits in the initial Wesleyan game, Freddy was one of the leading batsmen.

Johnny Toncoff was always a catcher until he came into competition with Chubby Chervinko. "Tonk's" slugging caused him to be moved into right field last year, and there he blossomed into the third best hitter on the team. Johnny's best work came in the Chicago game when he knocked out three safe blows in five times at bat. His record for the year shows 19 hits in 42 trips to the plate for an average of .452.

For three years Jerry Depken served as a utility infielder, and was rewarded with a letter at the conclusion of his senior year. Though most of his work came as coacher at third base, on several occasions he broke into Conference games at second base or short stop and performed creditably in the time that he was allowed to play.
THOUGH a senior in academic standing, Claude "Mac" McCabe was playing his first and last year in college baseball in 1933. He turned in a mighty fine job as Varsity left fielder. Gifted with an acute baseball "sense," Mac held the admiration of fans and teammates alike for the big league manner in which he played the game. His ability to keep his head and act quickly in a tight spot was another reason for his berth in the left field.

Illinois - - 12
Michigan - - 1

Tewel did his part on the pitching staff. Probably one of his drawbacks last season was his lack of experience that the other pitchers had gained. He played in several conference games and conducted himself well. Even though Tewel did not make his letter he has a good chance to come through next season.

Joe Wrobke, after defeating Michigan, won his second Big Ten game when Illinois halted Purdue, at Lafayette. He also helped smother the Ohio State team as the Lundy men chalked up their fourth victory in league play. Against the Buckeyes, the Orange and Blue bats connected for 18 blows and Illinois runners crossed the plate in every inning but the seventh.

Illinois - - 5
Purdue - - 6

When Joe Wrobke was named as Lundy's pitcher, the local fans would settle back in their seats and prepare to chuckle at the misfortunes of the opposing batters, for Joe had that art about his pitching that consistently fooled the man at the plate. He gained five wins in Big Ten games and seven for the season. Only the mental lapses that his mates experienced in the Purdue game kept him from earning eight wins. In that contest he gave only four hits but came out second best. He allowed the Badgers but three hits in the first game of a doubleheader, Northwestern could only get six off him, and Michigan touched him for five.

Varsity Wrestling

WINNING five Conference dual meets while losing one and tying one, Coach "Hek" Kenney's Illini wrestling team finished second in the 1933-34 Big Ten mat race, behind Indiana.

Three Varsity grapplers, Peter Pakutinsky, Blaine Adams, and Barney Cosneck, won Conference individual titles. Pakutinsky, a 118 pounder, and Adams, a 126 pounder, were sophomores. Cosneck, a senior, wrestled in the heavyweight division.

To start the season, Coach Kenney had but two lettermen, Cosneck and Ted Frederick. Inexperienced upper-classmen and sophomores were given the usual challenge matches for Varsity berths to complete the team.

The Illini took a three-match Eastern tour covering almost 3,000 miles between the first and second semesters of the academic year. On the trip, the Illini won two and lost one match, defeating Ohio State and West Virginia, and losing to Lehigh.

The final match of the season, that with Indiana in the New Gym, drew 3,000 fans, the largest number ever to witness an Illini wrestling match. The Varsity team, however, suffered its first defeat, for the Champion Hoosiers administered a 20-6 beating to the Kenneymen.
THE 1934 swimming squad, although severely handicapped by the loss of Captain Norm Hines, turned in a most credible performance against some of the best teams that the Conference has developed in the last several years. In the first dual meet, Coach Manley's men overwhelmed Chicago, taking first in all but two events. On the following week-end, Illinois traveled to Iowa and suffered the first defeat of the season. Making a strong comeback, the Illini administered a severe drubbing to Cincinnati U., in the only non-conference meet of the season. Illinois won all eight events, establishing five new tank records in the Cincinnati pool.

Michigan's championship team opened the home season for Illinois and meted out the second conference defeat to the Orange and Blue. In the final home meet, the Illini avenged several Northwestern defeats of previous years.

In the conference meet at Iowa, Flachmann won a permanent place in Swimming's Hall of Fame, winning the championships in the 50, 100 and 220-yard crawl events—setting a new conference record of 24 seconds flat in the 50. As a result, Illinois placed fourth in the meet with fifteen points, Michigan again winning the Conference title.
THE fencing team, defending its Championship and striving for its Sixth Consecutive Title, started its season with only two veterans. Co-Captain Ralph Epstein and Harry Stern were the only two returning lettermen. The others, Freddie Fredrickson, Silverman, Vez Hartz, Milford Benham, Owen Reamer, and Carl Grahl were all new to the squad.

After losing a close meet to the St. Louis Fencers Club, the Illini met Wisconsin and Purdue in a triangular meet. Here, due to the fine work of Epstein and Hartz, the team defeated both of its opponents, Purdue and Wisconsin. On February 24 the team beat Notre Dame and Washington University in another triangular meet. Hartz and Epstein were again the mainstays of the team, winning all their bouts.

Leaving the home floor and meeting Northwestern and Chicago, the Illini were beaten by close margins, 9 to 8 at Northwestern and 10 to 7 at Chicago.

Captain Epstein retained his Conference foils championship for the third consecutive year. Team honors went to the University of Chicago with Illinois falling into second place.

An excellent freshman squad and the loss of only two veterans should enable the Illini to be back in the running for the championship next year.
A RECORD of five victories, two defeats, and a tie in a stiff eight game schedule will serve to put the 1933 Illinois booters on the sporting annals, but the remarkable feat of traveling some 3,000 miles at their own expense stole the spotlight for the season.

Coach Hartley Price was faced with a difficult problem when he started to weld the parts left over from his previous year's machine with some new men. The Illini met and defeated Wisconsin 1-0 during the Homecoming activities at Champaign. Playing a return game at Madison the following Saturday, the booters made the margin even more decisive by coming home on the long end of a 4-0 score. Back on their home field for the next game, the soccermen had an easy time defeating George Williams, of Chicago, 3-0.

In what was perhaps the hardest fought game of the entire season, Illinois, battled the highly touted Maccabees Soccer Club of Chicago to a 1-1 tie. A goal by Captain Bibbs Anderson late in the second half knotted the count and because the Chicagoans were scheduled to play an amateur league game the following day, there was no overtime period. To conclude their schedule, the team took two lengthy trips into Ohio and Pennsylvania. The Easterners proved too strong for the travel-weary Illini and won easily. The season's finale resulted in a victory for the Orange and Blue over Oberlin in a game played at Fremont, Ohio, by a score of 3-2.

At the annual soccer banquet, Phil Cohn, star fullback during the season, was elected to lead the 1934 eleven.
Varsity Gymnastics

CAPTAINED by Ricardo Torres, the Illini gymnasts had a creditable season. Even though much of the outstanding talent was lost through ineligibility, the Pricemen finished third in the Conference meet at Chicago.

It was due chiefly to the outstanding performances of Capt. Torres that the Illini were able to triumph in most of their early meets. In the Big Ten meet held at Chicago he led the Illini contingent by taking three fourth places on the horizontal bars, parallel bars, rings, and side horse. Harry Temple and Bud Jennings were also outstanding in their tumbling performances throughout the year, as evidenced by their second and fourth places respectively in the same meet.

The Pricemen ended the season with a total of five victories and three defeats, winning from Iowa and George Williams College twice, and once from Nebraska, while losing to Minnesota and the championship University of Chicago team.

The season was not without a bright spot, however. Many times when defeat seemed certain, the tumbling trio of Temple, Jennings, and Fisher came through, taking all three places to assure victory.

The brunt of the work fell upon Torres, Waymen, Sader, Jennings, Temple, and Fisher, who were outstanding throughout the season.
Varsity Water Polo

ILLINOIS was again a strong contender for the championship in water polo, but Coach Manley's string of victories was snapped by a defeat in the first game of the season, by Chicago, winner of the Conference title. This was the only defeat of the season, Illinois winning the remaining three games. At Iowa, on the following week-end, the team played an improved game and won by a wide margin. In the two home games, Michigan and Northwestern were both defeated with ease. The defeat of Northwestern at the hands of the Illini was the Wildcat's only defeat during the season and gave Chicago an undisputed championship. The marked improvement of Capt. Hewitt over the last season came to a fitting climax in this final game when he scored all of the Illini's points.

Throughout the entire season, the scoring punch of Captain Hewitt, the defensive play of Dutch VanTuin, and the stellar goal tending of Foss Bennett were outstanding. Flachmann and Crosby used their speed to great advantage in obtaining possession of the ball in the race for the tip-off. Though these men were outstanding in their performances, the team was not one of individual stars, but was a rather well-balanced group that depended upon team work to win its games.
Varsity Golf

COACH MARTIN'S 1933 golf team entered upon its schedule faced with the loss through graduation of the four members of the 1932 team, and with the further handicap of having but two players of any experience upon the squad.

The Illini opened their dual meet season on May 3 at Indiana, where Lyle Hoffman turned in the low score for the day in disposing of Harrell, No. 1 man of the Hoosier squad.

Against Northwestern the Varsity staged an afternoon comeback in the single matches to gain a 9 to 9 tie after having trailed 4 to 2 in the morning. While Hoffman and Baker were scoring individual victories, Smock and O'Neal recovered on the incoming nine to effect the tie.

Journeying to Purdue May 12, the Illini registered their first victory 10 to 8, with Baker and Hoffman sharing low scoring honors for the day. Baker and Pray were victorious in the morning doubles, while Pray added the third singles triumph in the afternoon.

At the conference meet at Northwestern, Michigan successfully defended its team title, the Illini taking sixth place. Lyle Hoffman was low man for the Illini, followed closely by Baker, while Grunewald and O'Neal trailed.
Harold, Captain

Varsity Tennis

The 1933 season found Coach Gelwick’s team sharing the Conference dual meet championship with Chicago and Minnesota by virtue of an undefeated record. With Bailee, Arden Crawford, and Fred Hands returning to form a veteran nucleus for the squad, Norm Siegel and Aubrey Cookman to complete the team. The netmen took pre-season training trips to Topeka and Lexington.

The late spring forced the home matches to be played on the cement Library courts, but this disadvantage did not prevent the Varsity netters from trouncing Purdue and Northwestern on unfamiliar clay courts away from home. They also defeated Iowa and tied with the strong Chicago team when a persistent shower prevented play from continuing.

Clyde Bailee played consistently good singles in the difficult number one position against the best in the Conference, and his steadying influence, along with the hard hitting of newcomer Norm Siegel, made the first doubles team a potent factor in the team victories. Arden Crawford, a senior letterman, steadied his game down after a season of collegiate competition and won in impressive style against his Purdue and Iowa foes.

Captain-Elect Fred Hands, a finalist in the Big Ten doubles championship last season, and Aubrey Cookman, a letterman who showed great improvement in his first season of Conference play, will be back for more action next year.
INTRAMURAL
Intramural

WITH Director Edwin J. Manley and Senior Manager George A. Horch managing the activities of the Intramural department, assisted by two junior managers and a staff of sophomores, the University has maintained a successful year of inter-student activity.

To make the participation more interesting and get a larger number out for each activity, the custom of giving cups and trophies was continued. The huge Participation Trophy was offered as an incentive to get Fraternities to send out teams, and on the basis of the most points was presented to Tau Kappa Epsilon. The trophy is kept for only one year and then passed on, unless it is won three years in succession.

The task of compiling the points and of managing all the events falls upon the junior and sophomore managers. It is their duty to get Fraternities to compete and to see that fair play prevails in the events at all times.

Interscholastic

WITH Rockford winning the 39th Annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet, the three year rule of Oak Park Prep athletes was broken.

Fifty-eight schools were represented in the finals as a trio of state records were broken. Blaine and Wayne Rideout, twin brothers of Tuscola High School, smashed the mile and half-mile marks, while Lowell

Track

Spurgeon, Centralia, established a new record in the high jump.

Blaine Rideout finished seventy yards ahead of the rest of the field to shatter the former mark by 4 of a second with a time of 4:25.2. Wayne Rideout far outran the rest of the half-milers to set a new record of 1:59.4. Spurgeon leaped 6 feet, 5 inches to break the existing record of 6 feet, 3½ inches.
Interscholastic

BEFORE a capacity crowd of 4000, the largest crowd ever to witness an Illinois Big-Top performance, the twenty-sixth annual circus went across the boards at the Armory, May 20, 1933. The circus kept its entire audience alert from the time of the “Grand Entry” to the final “Slide for Life” three hours later.

There was applause when Alpha Kappa Lambda brought in the shoes of Father Time, a re-forestation army, a tall stein of beer, and a shiny silver dollar in the “March of Time” act that won the fraternity trophy.

Circus

The 4000 spectators gasped when Bob Cadle, big ten tumbling champion did his cartwheels and handsprings and when Joe Rehor, Big Ten champion on the high bar, swung through thirteen graceful swings, as the three hundred piece band played “Kiss Me Again” and the vendors loudly advertised their balloons, peanuts, and ice cream bars.

Good natured shouts of “Fake” came from the crowd as a dummy sailed down ninety feet from the roof of the Armory in the sensational “Slide for Life” that ended the program.

This year W. A. A. sponsored a change in its system of awards. Instead of earning points, W. A. A. members now earn credit in sport seasons. Participation in twelve sport seasons is required to win a Major IA. This means that no girl can earn this award before the end of her junior year.

The year is divided into four sport seasons. The association sponsors hockey, soccer, and tennis during the first season which terminates with Thanksgiving vacation, and basketball, volleyball, and ping pong occupy the rest of the semester.

The second semester opens with swimming, apparatus, and the individual sports of handball and tenikoit. Baseball, tennis, archery, and golf occupy the last sport season.

W. A. A. voted to discard the Minor IA award and to substitute in its place class numerals, so that any girl receiving credit for six sport seasons is awarded her numerals.

In previous years, championship teams in the various sports received numerals, but now there are only two awards given by W. A. A.—the Major IA, and the numerals.

A member of W. A. A. can receive credit for only one sport in each season, and to earn four sport seasons' credit in one year, she must participate in one sport in each of the four seasons.

Woman's League

"HIT THE DECK" was the successful Woman's League production for this year. The story was based on the theme that a sailor has a girl in every port. It was made very amusing by the dialogue of the "gobs", which was cleverly worked out, and kept the audience well entertained.

Every university woman has the opportunity to come into direct contact with Woman's League through the weekly teas. These teas, held every Wednesday in the Woman's Building, promote friendliness among all organized groups and independents, and have become a tradition on this campus.

Mortar Board, with its traditional garb, was of great interest to the new women, and urged them to attain the necessary heights to become members of this organization.

The interest of the women is kept alive by the variety of the activities, all of which, from the pleasing formality of the Shi-Ai Sing and the May Day procession to the informality of the long hikes, make university life a pleasure for all women on the campus.
Y. W. C. A. Doll Show

1. Corina group received first honorable mention among groups. 2. Medea won the group competition. 3. The Theta Upsilon entry. 4. Tri Delt—first honorable mention among sororities. 5. The food booth. 6. Committee chairmen. 7. Sorority second honorable mention—A. O. Pi. 8. Theta also received second honorable mention. 9. Virginia Sandberg, chairman, was largely responsible for the success of the Doll Show. 10. The Pi Phi’s won.
WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES
W. A. A.

Through the medium of W. A. A., the girls of the Illinois campus are given an opportunity to participate in organized games and athletics. These pictures are representative of the sports most popular among the women.

In the fall, outdoor sports such as hockey and soccer are the center of interest for the girls. During the winter months, gymnastics, handball, shuffleboard, ping pong, and ice-skating are offered as exciting indoor activities. Swimming seems to hold the interest of the girls all the year around, with many meets and events which bring out individual abilities and skill.

In the spring, the most popular sports in which the girls participate are tennis, archery, and baseball. The climax of the spring athletic festivities is the May Day Program held Mother’s Day week-end. At this time the Queen is crowned, surrounded by members of Torch and Mortar Board.

THE ILLIO, and all other student publications at the University of Illinois, are subsidiaries of the Illini Publishing Company. The latter, chartered by the State of Illinois as a corporation not for profit, has been in existence since May 11, 1911. It is controlled by a Board of Directors consisting of four faculty members selected by the Senate Committee on Student Affairs, and four students elected by the student body.

Like many other administrative and legislative enactments, the creation of a supervisory agency for publications on the University of Illinois campus was partially the result of unwise practices by those who had been entrusted with the responsibilities of editing and managing them in former years.

The condition existing since 1911, with editors and managers and their chief assistants appointed by the Board on the merit system, has resulted in obtaining a much higher level of professional competency on both the editorial and business staffs of campus publications. There has been also a continuity of policy and purpose, and a safeguarding of property, as well as a full settlement of obligations each year with local creditors. Through the employment of Victor L. Krannert as a full-time manager, the Publishing Company has been able during the last thirteen years to provide a means of advising the newer members of the staff each year.

The Military Council is charged with cooperating and coordinating the several Military units and organizations to the end that the R. O. T. C. may have a stronger and better place in University and Military activities. The Council is composed of members representing each unit of the University Brigade and the various military organizations. The members are selected by virtue of their positions.

Each unit of the Brigade is represented by its Lieutenant Colonel and its executive officer and each social fraternity by its president. In this manner each unit and military organization is fully represented on the Military Council which governs the student affairs of the R. O. T. C.

The Council supervises all student functions of the Military Department such as the Military Ball, the Officers' Ball, the University Horse Show, all Military dances, and the Annual Military Show.

The Commandant of the University keeps in close contact with the personnel of the Brigade through the Military Council, learning the student's viewpoint, which is an important factor in his determination of policies for the R. O. T. C.

The Student Alumni Association was organized in 1932 to fulfill the need for an interpretation of the University to the people of the communities from which the students come, and to provide a link between the students and alumni of the University.

The Student Alumni Association:

Strives through its members to serve as a good will agent between the University and the people living in towns throughout the state;

Endeavors to interest superior high school students in coming to Illinois through presenting Illinois programs and "Illini Trail" showings in high school assemblies; seeing that copies of the Daily Illini and the Illio are to be found in the libraries of all large high schools; personal interviews with high school students interested in going to college;

Serves as a link between Illinois students and alumni by assisting in Illini Club activities and by sending a representative to all meetings of the Alumni Association executive committee.
The Alumni Association

TO PROMOTE the general welfare of the University of Illinois and to encourage and stimulate the interest of graduates and other former students in the University and in each other; its purposes shall be limited to such as are educational, social, or charitable.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The University of Illinois Alumni Association, founded June 15, 1873, is the connecting link between the graduates and former students and their Alma Mater. The headquarters of the organization in the Illinois Union Building are the center for the many activities of this association which:

Publishes the Illinois Alumni News monthly;

Compiles and edits, in cooperation with the University, alumni directories about every five years;

Works with the secretaries of sixty-two classes and of the Illini clubs all over the world in the effort to keep up old acquaintances, promote new ones, encourage reunions, and to engender loyalty to the University through lifelong contact with it;

Keeps detailed records of the doings of all the graduates, so far as possible, and of many non-graduates; keeps on file their letters, photographs, clippings, and other biographical data; tries to obtain an up-to-date address for every one of more than one hundred thousand alumni;

Maintains and presents before high schools, Illini clubs, and other meetings, "The Illini Trail," a four-reel sound moving picture of the University;

Has established and now maintains several loan funds for students.

The Alumni Association office is an information bureau concerning not only the alumni world but many other things connected with the University. All students are urged to come in and use its information at any time, and upon graduating are cordially invited to join, in order to keep in close contact with their University.

The Star Course, originally organized in 1902 as a lecture course, grew in response to student demand to include the supervision and management of all concerts and entertainments given at the University by professional organizations. It is a non-profit organization, and now, under its new name, the University Concert and Entertainment Board, conducts the Star Course as a series of concerts by the finest obtainable talent. The University Concert and Entertainment Board consists of representative members from faculty and students, and selects the talent to appear during the year. The business staff is composed entirely of students, with a Senior Manager selected by the Board, and takes care of all negotiations and production work for the presentation of Concerts.

HOMECOMING was begun twenty-four years ago as a means of more closely uniting the University student body with the Illinois alumni. It is usually held over the week-end of the football game which is expected to be the season's best, in order to attract the Alumni on their return to the campus. The Homecoming Committees arrange for Alumni meetings and good entertainment, as well as providing the best service possible for the visitors. Fraternity and Sorority house decoration awards, the Stunt Show, badge and stamp sales, and Alumni registration are some of the activities sponsored by the Homecoming Committees.

DADS' DAY was conceived and made a reality by the late Dean Thomas A. Clark in 1919 for the purpose of setting aside one day in each year on which the fathers of students might visit the University in a body and see the University in action. The day is combined with a home football game, a concert by the Men's Glee Club, and other forms of entertainment. Letters are sent out advising the fathers of the event by both the University and the Illinois Union. As a result of the founding of Dads' Day, the Dads' Association was formed; an organization which co-operates with the University and the Union in every enterprise.
UPON the campus of the University of Illinois are many laboratories, but none for religion, since the University is supported by the state and may not teach religion. Foundations have been built by several denominations, the doors of which swing open to any student regardless of race, creed, or nationality. Experiments are constantly being tried. Many of the activities may be called short courses. Graduates have testified to their worth, stating that often in conducting activities in the communities where they now are, they have had to rely solely on their experience at one of the Foundations.

The Illini Theatre Guild was established in 1924 in order to coordinate the play production activities of those campus groups organized for dramatic purposes. At present the Guild is composed of Mask and Bauble, Pierrots, and Arepo, each with the rank of member; the Players Club as patron member; and two associate members, the Woman's League and the Y. W. C. A. For the 1933-1934 school year, the Guild has scheduled nine productions by members and five productions by its patron and associate members.

It is the hope of the Guild to foster genuine creative activity within the student body and to give the campus and the community a chance to see important plays produced with sympathy and sincerity.

The economic system's rapid change is creating an amount of leisure time for the average man that is unparalleled in history. The theatre is destined to be one of the most important forces in this life of tomorrow. It has thrilling and important work to do. The Guild is trying to keep itself vigorous and forward looking so that it may be ready for new and fascinating fields of service.

"Green Grow the Lilacs"
March 11-12-13-19-20, 1933
LINCOLN HALL THEATRE
DIRECTED BY WESLEY SWANSON

Mask and Bauble's production, "Green Grow the Lilacs," might have been subtitled "An Old Song." The author succeeded admirably in recapturing the great range of mood which characterized the old folk songs and ballads he used to hear in his Oklahoma childhood—their quaintness, their sadness, their robustness, their simplicity, their hearty or bawdy humors, their sentimentality, their melodrama, their touching sweetness.

A complex plot, swift action, and all the other conventions of the ordinary theatre were thrown away in the attempt to represent a wide range of mood and feeling in the simplest of stories.

Carly McClain (Richard Rodl) sang the whimsical, haunting cowboy songs of the show, and Jeeter Fry (York Bishop) was the mean, perverted hired hand who did what he could to come between Carly and Laurey Williams (Helen Bennett), the charming heroine of the piece.
Maxim Gorki's "The Lower Depths," presented by the Illini Theatre Guild, is a realistic drama portraying the life and characters of the Russian proletarian. In it, a group of men and women who have become habituated to lives of crime and degeneracy, are pulled up into some sort of decency only to give up in despair and return to their former habits and customs. The scene is laid in a dark and ominous basement of a Moscow building, the meanness and shadows of which serve to intensify the misery of the "submerged" people of the proletariat. There is a certain grim universality in "The Lower Depths," depicting as it does an utterly wretched sort of humanity that has existed in every age and every country.
As their annual production, Pierrots staged the popular musical comedy, "Good Morning Dearie." The play opens in the dress shop of Mme. Bompard (Edith Buzy), where the heroine, Rose Marie vonnette Wolfram), is employed as a ribbon girl. Billy Van Co. tlandt (Charles Younger) accompanies his fiancee, Ruby (Marcella Clifford), to the shop, and falls in love with Rose Marie. More complications arise when Chesty Castello (Lowell Blanchard), the gangster suitor of Rose Marie, learns of her love for Billy, and is all set to "put him on the spot." The action becomes more involved but all ends well when Ruby elopes with Billy's cousin, Georgie (Lon Porter), and Billy is free to marry Rose Marie.
"The Yellow Jacket"

November 17-18-25, 1933
LINCOLN HALL THEATRE
DIRECTED BY WESLEY SWANSON

Mask and Bauble's production "The Yellow Jacket," a drama in the Chinese tradition, strung the jade beads of Chinese theatrical convention on a thread of universal philosophy, love, and laughter. The scenes were indicated by signs, the property man (Lockwood Wiley) moved complacently about the stage in the middle of the action, while the Chorus voiced the scenes and the history back of the action. The whole production moved as slowly and sedately as the spirits of the most ancient and honorable Chinese ancestors.

The story of the play sets before us the everlasting appeal of maternal self-sacrifice; and it presents the always sympathetic figure of the rightful heir (Preston Tuttle) recovering his place by his own powers.
"I Pagliacci"
December 15-16, 1933
LINCOLN HALL THEATRE
DIRECTED BY KATHRYN J. SUTHERLIN
RUSSELL B. MILES, Conductor

A very successful attempt to bring grand opera to the campus was made by Arepo in the presenting of Leoncavallo's opera, "I Pagliacci." From the Prologue, sung by the clown (Bruce Foote), to the stirring climax, the audience witnessed the unfolding of the plot of this popular Italian opera with unusual interest. The main characters are a troupe of strolling players who present the traditional type of Harlequin and Columbine play to a group of villagers. In this play within a play, Pagliaccio (Libero Monachesi), arrives home to find his wife, Nedda (Eileen Jasper), unfaithful to him. Strangely enough, the situation is identical with the player's real life, and he becomes so enraged at her refusal to divulge the name of her lover that he stabs her. In her death agony she calls for her lover, who is in the audience, and as he runs to aid her, he is also stabbed by Pagliaccio, who then cries to the audience, "La commedia e finita!"—"The comedy is ended."
“Union Minstrel Show”

January 5-6, 1934
LINCOLN HALL THEATRE
DIRECTED BY SEVERINA NELSON
MUSIC BY DICK SHELTON’S ORCHESTRA

Popular chorus numbers and single and double specialty acts again marked the Illinois Union Minstrel Show. Lou Overgard was the “head man” of the show, assisted by his stooges—Bluebeard, Eight Ball, Potash, and Deepstuff. Camille Farrara and Ricardo Torres added a touch of Old Spain with their dance, “La Carmelita,” in contrast to the Bell Hop dance of Marie Handschuh. The Louisville Lady, Josephine Farrara, drew much applause by her crooning, while Potash Layman and Deepstuff Seamanos, almost stole the show with their spontaneous humor and pointless wit. Of course The Campus Scouts, Blanchard and Cohen, came through with their usual entertaining acts and received a great many laughs. It was a full evening of entertainment.
This play of Elmer Rice is an expressionistic exposé of the minds and souls of "white-collar" workers as represented by Mr. Zero (Seth Fesenden), who slaves mechanically all day long in an office, only to come home to a shrewish wife (Helen Ruth Bosley) who berates him for making so poor a living. Even in paradise Zero cannot acclimate himself to a life in which desires and dreams are not to be suppressed. "The Adding Machine" expresses the tragedy of the machine-minded, mediocre spirit, and Mask and Bauble made of it one of the most sincere and moving productions the campus has seen in recent years.
Star Course

Again this year the University Concert and Entertainment Board presented on its Star Course an unusually fine group of artists, the appearance and reception of whom was a compliment to the intellectual and cultural tastes of the campus.

John Charles Thomas, operatic and concert baritone, opened the season on October 18. He was followed by the Don Cossack Russian Male Chorus. The next artists to entertain were Joseph Szigeti, violinist, and the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, which played two concerts under the direction of Vladimir Golschmann. Ted Shawn and his Ensemble of Dancers appeared as a special number, followed by the well known soprano, Dusolina Giannini. A second special attraction, the Roth String Quartet, closed the season.
SOCIETY
Nine hundred senior couples, on the night of June fifth, waltzed to the close of their active social life on this campus. The ultra-humid night could not douse the joyous spirits of the departing seniors. Decorations, cool and springlike, music, soft and dreamy, with formal evening gowns, new and exotic, were a relief for the swaying couples from examination worries.
At ten o'clock on the night of June 5, nine hundred couples, most of them members of the graduating class and attending their last undergraduate social function, began dancing to the sweet music of the bands of Hal Kemp and Maurie Sherman.

The New Gym was decorated to represent a formal garden with trailing roses and some novelty lighting effects to enhance the atmosphere. This Senior Ball, under the new one night plan, was one of the largest and most successful ever held.

The peak of the winter social season was reached on December 22, when the Junior Prom was attended by more than a thousand couples who swayed to the rhythm of Hal Kemp’s famous band. The New Men’s Gym, highly decorated, afforded a most colorful background for the crowning of Ruth Ferguson, fifth Prom Queen at Illinois. Spectators in the balcony marveled at the flowing music, the gay couples, and the novel decorations.

THE big event of the Prom was the crowning of the prom queen, the lovely “Curly” Ferguson. Upon the tall, modernistically built dais the queen was crowned amid the applauding and cheering of the surrounding crowds. Then more dancing, more music and specialties from the orchestra. And with the coming of the wee small hours the season’s most formal dance was history.
Military Ball

Present Arms!

THE shined leather creaked as the officers saluted the flag at the end of the grand march which climaxed the Military Ball of 1934. It was precisely 11 o'clock, the night of April 6, that Student Colonel Franklin G. Emrick commenced the march. The New Gym was the only building on the Campus large enough to hold the Ball. Even though the hall is of huge dimensions it was the perfect setting for the decorations used to transform the room into a military post. From the dirigible in the sky to the 75 mm. cannons that flanked the bandstand, the military atmosphere prevailed. Jan Garber and his great band swayed the crowd with their soothing music and humorous entertainers. The gleaming spurs and the shined brass, contrasted with the brilliant formal gowns, stood out against this background.

The Military Ball has become the outstanding dance of the year, because it is limited to military men and a few outstanding civilians on the Campus. The Ball is managed by the Military Council with the Cadet Colonel as the chairman. The men are members of this council for their outstanding place in Military activities.

Any money that is made above the planned budget is placed in the Military Fund and distributed among the various units to aid them in making military life more interesting, and to aid in increasing their functions.

The first of the “new deal” Senior Informals was held in the New Gym, December 8, with Paul Specht and his internationally famous orchestra administering to the musical needs of the occasion. This was the first time that the Senior Informal was given a week-end of its own, and was not held as a follow-up to the Junior Prom. The favorable results of this plan will probably mean its continued use in coming years.

In the wintery atmosphere of the Gym Annex, decorated to lend an antarctic touch to the occasion, on the night of January 19, the sophomore class held its annual Cotillion. The dance, which was one of the highlights of the social season, owed no small measure of its success to the tuneful melodies of Ace Brigade and his Virginians, and to the music for the Grand March which was arranged especially for the occasion by Ray Dvorak.

THE Greek aristocracy of the campus held its exclusive, annual dance, Pan-Hellenic Ball, at the Urbana-Lincoln Hotel, on March 16. This year the ball was not open to all organized students as last year, but instead the affair was attended by only two representatives from each fraternity and sorority in the Interfraternity and Pan-Hellenic Councils.

Imported and local feminine charm, splendid music, and attractive decorations, lent to the dance the atmosphere of a college formal in all of its attractiveness.

FOLLOWS the custom established last year, the Fine Arts Ball, on February 16, was held in the impressive atmosphere of the Hall of Casts in the Architecture Building. The hall was decorated with murals depicting scenes from toyland; the dancers' costumes were unique and followed the theme of the decorations, in depicting characters from Mother Gooseland. Joe Chromis and his band supplied the music for the dance of the toys.
THE Freshman class made its social debut on the Illinois campus, on the evening of January 20, at the annual Freshman Frolic. The fact that this dance was held the day after the Cotillion and used the same decorations is no indication that it was not a highly original and spontaneous affair. In fact, it was so successful that the class of '37 is not likely to forget very soon this enjoyable evening it spent dancing to the strains of Jack Russell's music.
Once again dignity, formality, and style were cast aside for the evening of the Ag Dance at College Hall. True to rural custom, the Ag and Home Ec students donned overalls, straw hats, bandanas, and gingham dresses. True barn-dance hilarity prevailed as the dancers dispensed with chairs and sat on the floor or on bales of hay. The gayety and informality of the dance made it a pleasant evening for every one who attended.

THE social events of the Summer Session were handled by three committees: the Summer Entertainment Committee, which sponsored weekly mixers; the Summer Informal Committee; and the Summer Prom Committee.

The peak of the social events for the session, the Summer Prom, was held July 7, on Robeson’s Roof. Between the superb music and the cool breezes of the roof, it was a great success. The climax of the evening was the crowning of Alma Frese as Summer Prom Queen.
The engineers gathered socially for the first time in three years to inaugurate Engineers’ Day on the Illini Campus. The first annual ball, in memory of St. Pat, the patron saint of student engineers, was held on March 17 in the ballroom of the Urbana-Lincoln Hotel under the sponsorship of the Engineering Council. Amid the charming decorations, the motif of which was the Shamrock, and to the strains of the varied arrangements of Stanley’s Sunnybrook Orchestra, the dancers thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The climax of the evening was the crowning of William F. Barnes, Jr., as the venerable St. Pat for 1934. The coronation was performed by Professor John S. Crandell.
Social

The depression was officially over as far as the social functions at the University were concerned. A very fine and successful social year was brought to a close by the Senior Ball. Nationally known orchestras, beautiful decorations, and a jolly atmosphere were to be found at every function. The crowning of the beautiful Prom Queen, the splendor of the Military Ball review, and the hilarity and costumes of the Ag Dance were highlights of the social calendar. Because of the unusual cooperation of the Student Council, the Dance Supervision committee and the Committee on Student Affairs, it was possible to make the past year's social functions a success in every respect.

The University Bands comprise three organizations: the Concert Band, the First Regimental Band, and the Second Regimental Band. Places in these organizations are determined by examination, and service in them takes the place of the required military drill and tactics. After satisfying their military credit, members of the Concert Band and selected members of the First Regimental Band receive a stipend amounting to the annual fees required from students residing in Illinois.

The Concert Band is composed of selected musicians whose main purpose is to study and perform the higher forms of music.

The First and Second Regimental Bands furnish the necessary music for military ceremonies, parades, etc., and serve to train members for the Concert Band.

In addition to numerous concerts on the campus, the Concert Band makes an annual tour of mid-western cities. In October the Band played a series of Concerts at the Century of Progress Exposition and had the honor of being the only band whose expenses were paid by the Exposition officials. The Concert Band was asked by station WGN of Chicago to play a series of concerts over that station during the past winter.

The University owns a most varied and complete instrumental equipment. The band library, which is one of the largest and finest in the world, includes an especially fine collection of foreign band music.

To this very large and complete collection of band literature there has been recently added the entire personal library of the Sousa Band, which was bequeathed to the University of Illinois by the famous bandmaster, John Philip Sousa. The consolidation of these two band libraries makes available to the University of Illinois Bands what is undoubtedly the greatest collection of music for the modern concert or symphonic band in this country.

The University Chorus

The University Chorus has numbered 165 members for the past year. For the Messiah performance in December, various members of the church choirs of the Twin Cities were invited to participate in the singing of this great oratorio, augmenting the Chorus to nearly 200 members. The University Orchestra played the accompaniment for the Messiah performance, and the soloists were Kathryn Janie Sutherlin, soprano; LeRoy Hamp, tenor; Bruce R. Foote, baritone, of the School of Music Faculty; and Ruth Marjorie Slater, '33, of Chicago, who sang the contralto solos. In January a performance of the Brahms Requiem was given, with Bruce R. Foote as soloist. In March the opera, Faust, by Gounod, was given in concert form, on the date of the seventy-fifth anniversary of its first performance. The local soloists were assisted by two artists from Chicago. Director Frederic B. Stiven is the Conductor of the University Chorus.

WE, of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, believe that it is our duty to our University, State, and Country to fit ourselves for citizenship and service. Both require initiative, courtesy, dependability, and obedience. . . . We believe that our training in the University Brigade will make for civil as well as military leadership.

A good citizen is proud of his country and his state and is willing to support and defend its institutions in return for the benefits and protection afforded him by his government.

The R. O. T. C. course teaches courtesy, respect for authority, and the value of individual effort in mass accomplishment. It creates an interest in national affairs, and points out the duties and obligations of citizens in time of peace.

It is with justifiable pride and satisfaction in duty well done, that the military instructors observe the development of the student from the uninformed recruit at the beginning of the basic course, to the fine, manly graduate of the advanced course.

We are deeply appreciative of the loyal support and cooperation of the students who faithfully and effectively pursue the military courses.

NEW YORK: 200 Fifth Avenue
CHICAGO: 1151 Roscoe Street

BERT L. WHITE, Director of Creative Printing and Direct Advertising
For more than half a century the Fred Klein Company has been serving advertisers, schools and colleges alike by producing BETTER PRINTING. We are proud to have been selected this year to print the ILLIO, thereby adding one more to the long and impressive list of year books produced in our plant.

It is true, that as printing companies go we might be called large—we have to be to handle some of our work—but the smallest piece of printing is just as important in our eyes as the largest catalogue and receives the same interest and attention.

We honestly feel that we owe our success to two things alone—quality of printing and service to our customers. No matter what your printing problem may be, let us help you.

All the Way from England

All the way from England, across the Atlantic by steamship, up the Mississippi and Illinois rivers by steamboat, overland by wagon 40 miles to the blacksmith shop of John Deere in the little frontier village—thus had come the steel.

It was a notable event to the pioneer villagers and farmers. They were all talking about the shipment.

Steel was scarce and high priced. For a hundred years there had been no improvement over the slow, costly Huntsman process of making steel. It was years before the coming of the Bessemer process, the Siemens-Martin process and the open-hearth process.

England, with an annual output of less than 50,000 tons, controlled the steel markets of the world.

In young America, no dependable source of good steel was available at any price. But John Deere, foreseeing the importance of his steel plows, had worked out his specifications and ordered plow steel from England. From a broken mill-saw blade he had built the world’s first successful steel plow, in 1837. For a few years he had made plows from saw blades and other products gathered from all accessible points. He wanted a source of supply in keeping with his vision of a wilderness conquered by the steel plow.

Thus was the second great step taken in the steel-plow industry—a step that ranked in importance with the building of the first steel plow by John Deere in 1837.

Steel for John Deere plows! It is easy to get today. Great steel mills of America produce it, with all of the latest methods of manufacture. One sees its bright reflection of the sun from moldboard and share, in all sections where plowmen go afield with steel plows—a shining light that tells of the spirit of progress of the blacksmith who founded the steel-plow industry and the John Deere organization which manufactures and distributes to all parts of the world quality equipment for every farming operation.

Success in a Nut Shell

Volumes have been written on Dental Economics, yet the formula of Success is very simple.—“Successful Dental Practitioners Are Founded on Satisfied Patients.”

How gratifying it is to have patients express their pleasure with the comfort, efficiency and life-like appearance of restorations which you have made for them. Gratifying and profitable, too. Satisfied patients return and bring others with them.

Proper esthetic and masticatory effects have their foundation in correct tooth selections. Even consummate skill cannot entirely compensate for teeth that are not of the proper mould, shade or texture.

Teeth selected at our tooth counter are taken from the Largest Retail Stock on the North American Continent. More than a quarter of a century ago we introduced Steele’s Interchangeable Facings and the now famous “Twentieth Century—Solita—Trubyte” line of teeth to the dentists of this community.

Since that time “Frame’s for Teeth” has become a “by-word!” among the Profession—a compliment and a responsibility we try our best to live up to.

You will find our Merchandise and Gold Departments conducted on the same high standard. We are happy to represent such outstanding manufacturers as L. D. Caulk, Ransom and Randolph, Cleveland Dental, S. S. White, Thos. J. Dee, J. M. Ney, Dental Products, and other leading companies.

We invite your future patronage on the basis of efficient service and friendly co-operation.

"Remember to Telephone Home"

When the young folks leave for out-of-town schools, remind them to telephone home regularly. For some reason, young students don't seem to find much time for letter-writing and worried parents are the result. But it takes only a few minutes to telephone, so keep your children close to you with frequent telephone chats throughout the school year. Students may call home and have the charges reversed if you wish. Wherever you call the cost is moderate.
