EXCELLENCE IN ANY DEPARTMENT CAN BE ATTAINED ONLY BY Labor
Learning is wealth to the poor, an honor to the rich, an aid to the young, and a support and comfort to the aged.
To win world-wide fame in many a land. For honest labor and and hands. Dear Alma Mater Illinois

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS--CHAMPAIGN-URBANA
To the memory of George A. Huff of the Class of 1892, whose inspiring code of sportsmanship and honor has become a living Illini tradition; in whose activities fair play, virility, and honesty were manifested; who was a member of our faculty for forty-three years, and Director of Athletics for thirty-five years; and whose fondest ambitions were realized in the erection of the New Memorial Stadium, the University Ice Rink, and the Men's New Gymnasium which now bears his name, we respectfully dedicate this forty-fourth volume of the Illio.

All green and fair the Summer lies,
Just budded from the bud of Spring,
With tender blue of mistful skies,
And winds that softly sing.

Autumn

I love to wander through the woodlands heavy
In the soft light of an autumnal day.
When Summer gathers up her robes of glory,
And like a dream of beauty glides away.

Winter
We looked upon a world unknown,
On nothing we could call our own.
Around the glistening wonder bent
The blue walls of the firmament.
No cloud above, no earth below—
A universe of sky and snow!

Thus came the lovely Spring
With a rush of blossoms and music,
Flooded the earth with flowers,
And the air with melodies vernal.

Foreword

The pages of the 1937 Illio represent an effort to portray both pictorially and editorially the student life of the University. We have hoped to preserve for the future the memories of our undergraduate experience, memories which, though vivid now, may grow dim with the passing years. Dubious of such perilous motifs as Indians and Pirates, we have followed our predecessors in depicting the University as the pictorial background for the molding of this volume. The motto of the University, "Learning and Labor," has been used with the hope that it will serve to make the students more conscious of the purpose for which this institution was founded. The three drawings on these pages represent the fulfillment of this motto in the fields of agriculture, arts, and sciences. The thought is Illinois, the verdict is yours.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The present interest in college education in this country is greater than at any previous time. More men and women are attending our colleges and universities than ever before in our history. More men and women now hold college degrees and will receive such degrees this June than at any time in the past.

In view of these facts, it has been argued that a college degree does not and cannot of itself mean as much as in an earlier day. If this be true, and I think it is, then the individual who holds such a degree must compensate for this situation by developing and exhibiting such superior qualities of character, personality, and intellectuality as will demonstrate anew the value of our college graduates to modern society.

Your life here at the University, whatever may have been your success as a student, should have stimulated and developed your intellectual curiosity, your ability to appreciate the arts and letters, the sciences—both physical and social, and the significance of truth and beauty in all your relationships with the world about you. If this has been your experience, even in small measure, then you will have achieved a richer and fuller measure of living, and a college education will have served to make our country a better place in which to live.

A.C. Willard
President, University of Illinois

Illio of 1937
TO THE STUDENTS OF ILLINOIS

The people of Illinois and the nation are committed to a policy of public education, and years in generous living have justified the adoption of this policy. The Board of Trustees is happy in the opportunity to extend its greetings and best wishes to those now enrolled as students of the University.

It is recognized by the Board of Trustees that it is necessary to adopt such policies of popular education as will best serve the needs of a changing world. We either advance or recede as to a forward movement, and the last word is never said in the search for truth. Illinois is and expects to remain a University of the first rank. Its energies will be devoted to that end; however, the Board of Trustees will need, and I am sure it will have, the full cooperation of the citizens of the State, the students, alumni, and faculty, guided by the common purpose to serve to the fullest extent the needs of the State and the nation.

THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Melvin L. Enger, Dean of the College of Engineering, will complete his thirtieth year on the University faculty this spring. He was born in Decorah, Iowa, in 1881. He began his undergraduate work at the University of Minnesota and later transferred to the University of Illinois, receiving three degrees from the University; the Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering in 1906, the professional degree of Civil Engineer in 1911, and the Master of Science degree in 1919. When Professor A. N. Talbot retired as the head of the department of Theoretical and Applied Mechanics in 1926, Dean Enger succeeded him in this position. Later when Acting Dean Willard was appointed president of the University in 1934, Professor Enger was advanced to deanship of the College of Engineering. He is a member of many engineering societies and honorary fraternities, including the American Society of Civil Engineers, American Water Works Association, American Society for Testing Materials, Western Society of Engineers, Chicago Engineers Club, Tau Beta Pi, Phi Kappa Phi, Chi Epsilon, Sigma Xi, Sigma Tau, and Mu San.

The College of Engineering was organized in 1870 to provide for "courses in Mechanical Science and Art, Civil Engineering, Mining Engineering, Metallurgy, and Architecture and Fine Arts." Four-year curricula were published in 1871-1872 for Architecture, Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Mining Engineering. Instruction in the University (then Illinois Industrial University) began in March, 1868.

The Department of Physics was established as an independent department of the College in 1890. In 1892, curricula were added in Electrical Engineering, Municipal and Sanitary Engineering, and Architectural Engineering. Then followed the curricula in Railway Engineering in 1906, Ceramics and Ceramic Engineering in 1915, General Engineering and Engineering Physics in 1920, Architectural Engineering and Metallurgical Engineering in 1933. The Department of Architecture was transferred to become a part of the newly organized College of Fine and Applied Arts in 1931.

The Engineering Experimental Station was created in 1903 as a part of the College of Engineering. Its purpose is to stimulate engineering education and to investigate problems of importance to professional engineers and industry.

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

Dean Matthew T. McClure

The largest college in the University attained its present status in 1913, when the College of Literature and Arts and the College of Sciences were combined to form the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences with the late Kendric C. Babcock as Dean. Since then the College has endeavored to integrate instruction in both the humanities and the sciences.

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences has two particular functions. First, it enrolls students in specialized and pre-professional curricula; for instance, pre-medical, pre-law, pre-journalism, chemistry, and chemical engineering. Second, it provides the resources for a "liberal" education. "Liberal" means a program leading to a well-rounded personal development; that is, a program in which the studies emphasize factors that contribute to a general knowledge and interpretation of the forces, tendencies, conflicts, and problems of life, rather than lead to specific individual career.

The College is at present considering means of offering greater opportunities and fewer obstacles to the better student, and more help and guidance to the student who has not yet found himself. To allow the better students to advance as rapidly as they wish, the "tutorial system" has been put into use.

Matthew Thompson McClure, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, was born at Spottsford, Virginia, April 27, 1883. A bachelor's degree was awarded him at Washington and Lee University in 1904, where he did his undergraduate work, a master's degree at the University of Virginia in 1907, and a doctor's degree at Columbia in 1912.

Before coming to Illinois, Mr. McClure was an instructor in Philosophy at Columbia and from 1913 to 1921 a professor of Philosophy at Tulane. He began his career at Illinois in 1921 as Associate Professor in Philosophy. In 1922 he became Professor of Philosophy and in 1926 he was appointed head of that department. The deanship was awarded him in 1944 after serving a year as Acting Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Dean McClure is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the American Philosophical Association, and other honorary organizations.
THE COLLEGE OF COMMERCE AND
BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

This college, in common with the other colleges and schools on the campus, has as its chief aim the development of young men and women for normal, happy lives. A secondary aim is their training for successful careers in business. Our objective is a sound understanding of basic social and economic principles attended by some grasp of the details involved in operating these principles in everyday life, and of the consequences such operations entail on society in general.

Someone on the faculty has said that the College of Commerce attempts to educate its students to become tool makers and not tool sharpeners. The meaning is, of course, that we are but little concerned in our students acquiring immediate facility in handling routine; what we seek is ultimate power. Some notion may be had of the nature of our educational ideals from an oft-repeated statement heard among the faculty: "This College is little more than a College of Arts and Sciences where the students are given a general education with a bias toward business." The test of our work is not to be had during the first few months out of college, but rather after years as a useful member of society.

Charles M. Thompson

Charles Manfred Thompson '09, Dean of the College of Commerce, was born in Fairfield, Illinois, November 10, 1877. After receiving his A.B. and A.M. degrees here, he went to Harvard University for more extensive study. He returned to the University in 1911 and since then has served on the faculty. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1913. Six years later he was promoted to the rank of professor and, at the same time, was appointed Dean of the College of Commerce. When the Bureau of Business Research was established in 1921, Dean Thompson was made Director. He holds two honorary degrees, an LL.D., from Muskingum College and a D.Litt. from McKendree College. In March, 1934, the Urbana Association of Commerce conferred on Dean Thompson its Distinguished Citizenship Award for Meritorious Public Service.
The College of Agriculture

The College of Agriculture had its beginning in a course in agriculture and horticulture which was one of two offered when the University of Illinois began instruction on March 2, 1868, as the Illinois Industrial University. There were but three instructors and only fifty men students in the entire institution. Today the College of Agriculture has a staff of approximately 235, and an enrollment of more than 1,200 students in agriculture and home economics.

From its thousands of graduates come leaders in farming and homemaking, in the teaching and extension service of agriculture and home economics, and in technical positions and public service closely allied to these two fields. Out of its Experiment Station issue new facts upon which a more stable agriculture, a happier rural life, and greater consumer satisfactions are built. Through its Extension Service farmers, homemakers, and consumers everywhere get the teachings and findings of the University. There is perhaps no better reflection of the College’s wide range of service than the fact that some 18,000 people annually attend its conferences, meetings, and short courses.

Dean Herbert Windsor Mumford

Herbert Windsor Mumford, Dean of the College of Agriculture, and Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station and the Agricultural Extension Service since 1922, was born in Moscow, Michigan, February 26, 1871. He attended Albion College and then Michigan State College, where he received the Bachelor of Science degree and the honorary degree of Doctor of Agriculture. He served on the faculty of Michigan State College from 1895 to 1901 when he came to the University of Illinois as professor of Animal Husbandry and chief of Animal Husbandry in the Agricultural Experiment Station. Dean Mumford is a member of numerous agricultural and scientific organizations. He received noteworthy recognition while he was a member of the American Study Commission for German Agriculture in 1928 and a member of the Mexican Agricultural Commission in 1930. In addition to being the author of two books on agriculture, he has contributed material to the Cyclopædia Americana and the Cyclopædia of American Agriculture.

The Illio of 1937
THE COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Thomas Eliot Benner, Dean of the College of Education, was born in Danvers, Massachusetts, February 11, 1894. He received his first degree from Harvard in 1914 and, in 1924, the degree of Doctor of Education. After serving as statistician and editor for the Alabama State Department of Education, he became the acting dean of the College of Education at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. He was also Chancellor of the University of Puerto Rico (1924-29) and visiting professor at Columbia University (1929-31). Since 1931 he has been the Dean of the College of Education at the University of Illinois. He has served on a committee of the state legislature which investigated vocational education in Illinois, and as chairman of the advisory committee to the Educational Commission of the 1935 legislature. Among his activities are Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, and offices in several national professional organizations.

One of the major functions of the College of Education is to contribute to the building up of better relationships between the University of Illinois and the public schools of the State in the interests of the million and one-half pupils in the public schools of the State. The more effectively the University performs in its relationship to the public schools, the more certainly it can count upon the kind of good will which will result in bringing to the University the most promising of their graduates.

The College of Education, which is in a sense a liaison office between the public schools and the University, had its origin in 1893 in the influence of Charles de Garmo, Professor of Psychology. This resulted in the creation of a chair of Pedagogics and the selection of Dr. Frank Martin McMurray as its first occupant. In 1900 a Department of Education was set up which became, in 1907, the School of Education and later, in 1918, received its present title, the College of Education. At the same time, the Bureau of Educational Research was established.

The College contributes to the preparation of teachers, supervisors, principals, superintendents, and teachers of education in colleges and universities.
Legal education has undergone some rapid changes since the last century. Even in the beginning of the present century, preparation for the bar was still largely through the apprenticeship method. Today the modern law school, with its staff of instructors, has almost completely taken over the field, and the period of required study has been substantially lengthened. This period may be divided into two stages, the pre-legal, which involves from two to four years of college work, and the professional, which covers three years of intensive work in an approved law school. Also bar examinations, which at one time were but pro forma institutions, have become hazardous occupations. All these, beyond their significance as educational agencies, are effective screening devices through which only the finer materials are permitted to pass.

The College of Law of the University of Illinois is one of the recognized and approved law schools of the country. It requires for entrance a minimum of three years of college work at the University (for those entering from other colleges and universities, the requirement is a degree) of a stated quality.

Albert James Harno, Dean of the College of Law, is now serving his seventh year as Provost of the University. He was born January 30, 1889 in Hotbird, South Dakota. After his graduation from Dakota Wesleyan University in 1911, Dean Harno went to Yale where the Bachelor of Laws degree, Magna Cum Laude, was conferred upon him in 1914. He practiced law in Los Angeles until 1917, when he went to Topeka, Kansas to become the Dean of Washburn College of Law. Two years later he went to the University of Kansas, where he served as Professor of Law. He came to the University of Illinois in 1921 to fill the position of Professor of Law. He was appointed Dean of his college in 1922.
Training in the Fine Arts was provided in the original plans for the University of Illinois and courses of instruction in Art and Architecture were offered early in the history of the institution. Courses in Music also were introduced early and the School of Music was organized in 1897. Training in Landscape Architecture has been offered for the past quarter century. Thus there has grown up at the University strong departments offering instruction in each of the major Fine Arts.

For a number of years it was felt that these Fine Arts interests should be brought into closer relationship but this was not possible until 1931 when the College of Fine and Applied Arts was constituted by a grouping of the departments of Art, Architecture, Landscape Architecture, and the School of Music. To these was added the Bureau of Community Planning in 1934.

The College enrolls some six hundred professional students annually and offers ten curricula in the various branches of the arts. These curricula are so framed that the student obtains as wide a training in liberal studies as is compatible with the laying of firm foundations in the particular art which he proposes to practice.

Rexford Newcomb, Dean of the College of Fine and Applied Arts, is the first head of this college which was organized in 1931. He was born at Independence, Kansas, and received his preliminary college training at the University of Kansas. Next the Dean came to Illinois where he obtained the degrees of Bachelor and Master of Architecture. From there, he transferred to the University of Southern California where he received the degree of Master of Arts. His academic studies were supplemented by wide travel in both Europe and the Orient. For five years Dean Newcomb served as Director of the Department of Fine and Applied Arts at Long Beach Polytechnic (California), and for four years as Director of Adult Education and Principal of the Long Beach Evening High School. Before returning to Illinois in 1918, he served on the faculties of the University of Southern California and the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, holding professorships at both. Dean Newcomb has written many magazine articles and some eleven books concerning the fine arts.
Facilities for advanced study and research in various lines were provided by the University as early as 1872, but organized instruction under the name "Graduate School" was not undertaken until 1892. In 1906 a separate faculty was organized for graduate instruction.

The principal aim of graduate study is the development of the power and the promotion of the spirit of investigation. The student who pursues an extended course is expected to obtain a wide knowledge of his subject and of related fields of investigation, and also to acquire and begin to use the power of extending the range of what is known.

Scholarships and fellowships, established by the University Board of Trustees, are open to graduate students of exceptional ability and promise. Funds are available from several special sources for the support of additional fellowships, the purpose of which is to promote higher education and to contribute to the extension and diffusion of knowledge. Several important individual research programs are encouraged and helped forward by the aid of resources which have been made available through the Graduate School and the Research Board. Some of these are of very great value in the social process.
The University Library, through the General Library and its branches provides books needed by students for class work, thesis, and general reading. Not having on hand all of the books required, especially for theses and investigation, the University Library borrows more than 500 books a year from libraries in other parts of the country, and also buys from European libraries photographic copies of a few manuscripts and rare books that are too expensive to purchase. At the present time, the University Library bookstacks contain more than one million volumes, and are growing at the rate of more than 35,000 books a year.

The Library School is a professional school for the training of librarians, and admits only college graduates since a librarian’s first need is a thorough general education. The instruction in the first year in the Library School covers methods and practice in library work; students who complete this year of work are prepared for positions in library service. In the second year, now transferred to the Graduate School, historical and comparative methods of treatment are emphasized.
THE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

Students preparing to enter the School of Journalism are enrolled in other divisions of the University during their first two years. Upon completion of the work of these two years with a satisfactory record they are admitted to the School of Journalism and permitted to register in one of the professional curricula.

The School of Journalism offers three curricula leading toward clearly defined types of work in journalism and related fields. These curricula permit concentration on general editorial studies, on specialized practice, and on advertising and publishing.

During the past year two hundred students were admitted to the School. The significance of this enrollment is appreciated when one reflects that a law school or medical school of the same size is considered a large professional unit. Such a body of students means much to public welfare because the influence of the group will extend for a generation to millions of readers.

The University has always been interested in journalism. Students were editing a paper before the first commencement exercises were held.

The study of journalism was first organized on a credit basis at the University in 1902. In 1927 the School of Journalism was made an independent division.

Lawrence W. Murphy, Director of the School of Journalism, was born in Madison, Wisconsin, October 18, 1895. He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin School of Journalism in 1921 and from the University of North Dakota in 1923. In 1933 the degree of Doctor of Letters was conferred on him by Marquette University. Professor Murphy became a member of the Illinois faculty in 1924 and a year later was placed at the head of the courses in journalism. In 1927 he was appointed Acting Director of the School and in 1929 Director. He has maintained connections with the press since 1906.
The School of Physical Education, established in the fall of 1932, includes three departments: Health Service, Physical Education for Men, and Physical Education for Women.

The Department of Health Service in general is concerned with supervising the health of the students. More specifically, the department gives health examinations to all students, confers with students about health problems, cooperates with the State Board of Health in controlling contagious diseases, regulates sanitary conditions on and about the campus, and conducts courses in sanitation and hygiene.

The Department of Physical Education for Women includes conducting programs in the following fields: the service courses, a professional training curriculum, intramural sports, and faculty recreation.

The Department of Physical Education for Men includes two programs, namely, conducting the service courses (required of all students) and conducting a professional training curriculum for students majoring in this field.

Seward C. Staley, Director of the School of Physical Education, was born in Speakers, New York, on August 1, 1893. Majoring in physical education he was awarded a bachelor's degree at Springfield College in 1917. Majoring in hygiene he was awarded a master's degree at Clark University in 1920. Majoring in education he was awarded a doctor's degree at the University of Illinois in 1929. Professor Staley served as an athletic director in the Army during 1917 and 1918. In 1920 and 1921 he served as Director of Athletics for the Greek Army in Asia Minor. He joined the staff of the Department of Physical Education at the University of Illinois in 1922. Professor Staley was made Acting Director of the School of Physical Education in 1936 and Director in 1937. He is the author of nine books and many articles in the field of physical education.
THE COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY

Frederick Bogue Noyes, Dean of the College of Dentistry, was born in Chicago on August 22, 1872. After graduating from Beloit Academy in 1889 he attended Johns Hopkins University, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1893, and Northwestern University where he obtained the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery in 1895. At that time he began practicing dentistry in Chicago. Continuing his studies he received the diploma of the Angle School of Orthodontia in 1908, and since then has limited his practice to Orthodontia. Northwestern first claimed his services from 1896 to 1913 as professor of Histology. Leaving there he came to the University of Illinois College of Dentistry as Professor of Dental Histology and Orthodontia. He has continued as Professor of Orthodontia since 1921 and succeeded to the Deanship of the College in 1926.

To meet the need for dentists with both professional and technical training, the entrance requirements of the College of Dentistry were increased to sixty hours in 1929; more medical courses and increased hours in the fundamental sciences, diagnosis and clinical experience were added. The curriculum is planned to train not only skillful and intelligent operators but practitioners who are prepared to cooperate in the problems of practice which require the attention of both medicine and dentistry in their solution. The College also gives the student contact with active research which will stimulate and encourage him to meet the challenge presented by the dental problems confronting preventive medicine.

Another objective of the College of Dentistry is the encouragement and preparation of dentists who are interested in and adapted to teaching in the colleges of dentistry of the country. These three possible fields of development offer a variety of opportunities to the dental student.

The second unit of the Medical and Dental College Laboratories Building which will house the technical and clinical departments of the College of Dentistry is nearing completion. It will be an integral part of one of the great health centers of the country.

Frederick Bogue Noyes

Illio of 1937
The College of Medicine opened in 1881 as a proprietary medical school known as "The College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago." It first became affiliated with the University of Illinois in 1897, and in 1913 all of its property was transferred to the University.

In two years the University placed all the laboratory branches of the school on a university basis, but funds were not available to do the same for the clinical branches until 1920. At that time the General Assembly appropriated $1,000,000 to the Department of Public Welfare and $300,000 to the University of Illinois for the specific purpose of constructing research and educational hospitals in Chicago. A plan of joint cooperation was immediately drawn up whereby the Administration of Hospitals and schools was to be handled by the Department of Public Welfare, while the professional teaching and research work was to be turned over to the University medical staff.

Since the time of its organization the entrance requirements have steadily been raised. In spite of the high requirements a long waiting list has been created, consisting of young men and women especially qualified by rigid pre-medical training and high scholastic averages.

David John Davis, Dean of the College of Medicine, spent many years in study and research before coming to Illinois. He was born in Racine, Wisconsin, on August 10, 1875, and studied first at the Racine Academy. From the University of Wisconsin he received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1898 and his M.D. degree from Rush Medical College in 1904. In Europe he continued his studies at Vienna and Freiberg, and then returned to the United States to carry out his research work in Chicago at the McCormick Institute for Infectious Diseases. Before coming to Illinois he served as pathologist at St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago. In 1913 he came to the College of Medicine as professor of Pathology and Bacteriology. He has written several treatises on Bacteriology and is the author of several other medical papers. He began serving as acting Dean in April, 1925, and succeeded to the Deanship in September, 1925.
On behalf of the College of Pharmacy of the University of Illinois, it is my privilege to extend to the students, the faculty, and the alumni of the University the greetings and good wishes of the students, faculty, and alumni of the College of Pharmacy.

The College of Pharmacy was founded in 1859 by a group of Chicago pharmacists who formed an association for the purpose of giving instruction to their apprentices and clerks, and of advancing the practice of pharmacy. It was the first college of this kind west of the Alleghenies. A faculty was secured and instruction begun in the fall of 1859. In 1861 the first class of two students was graduated.

While teaching was the primary object of the College other functions were developed. Among these was a code of ethics, adopted to promote better pharmaceutical practice and to bring about closer relations between pharmacists and physicians.

The College became a part of the University in May, 1896, and in 1915 the University purchased for the College the property it now occupies on Wood Street between Flournoy and Polk Streets. The Legislature in 1925 appropriated $350,000 for erecting and equipping an additional building for the College on this site. This building was occupied in 1927.

William Baker Day, Dean of the College of Pharmacy, is one of the oldest members of the University faculty, having entered his forty-fifth year of service to the College and his forty-first year in the University. He was born in Peru, Illinois, February 15, 1871, and was graduated from the College of Pharmacy in 1892.

In the fall of that year he became an instructor in the College. In 1908 he was made Professor of Botany and then Professor of Botany and Materia Medica in 1913. He served from 1914 to 1919 as Acting Dean and then became Dean.

Dean Day has been active in pharmaceutical organizations and at various times president and general secretary of the American Pharmaceutical Association and a member of its council for two decades. The Philadelphia College of Pharmacy honored him with the degree of Pharm. D. in 1917.
THE DIVISION OF UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

The University of Illinois extends its facilities for education at the college level to all parts of the State by means of the Division of University Extension. The teaching of many of its college courses by mail was begun in 1933. This year, for the first time, the Division has a limited program of extra-mural instruction in which are both graduate and undergraduate classes, off the campus, in Chicago, and downstate, meeting in the hours of the late afternoon, or evening, or on Saturdays. Two such classes were organized the first semester, and seven the second. The Division operates several agencies serving the schools of the State; the Visual Aids Service with a library of educational motion pictures and collections of glass slides which are loaned for exhibition to classes in the high schools; the Speech Aids Service, which is also the executive headquarters of the Illinois High School Speech League; and a Speaker’s Bureau to which come many requests for faculty members to speak before clubs, societies, schools, and other groups in various parts of the State. The work of all the branches of the Division is growing rapidly.

Robert Bell Browne, Director of the Division of University Extension, was born in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, July 15, 1894. After attending the Southern Illinois State Teachers College he entered the University of Illinois. Because his education was interrupted by his serving in the United States Army, he did not complete his graduation until the summer of 1922. After serving nine years as a high school principal and city school superintendent, he returned to the University of Illinois in 1929 to become an instructor in Education. His advanced degrees of Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy were conferred by this University. At the time of the inauguration of the Division of University Extension he was appointed its first director. He has been in charge of the Division since that time.

THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF WOMEN

Various phases of student life are reflected in the offices of the deans of men and women. Not only the intellect of a student but the whole individual is being educated during his college years through this physical, mental, emotional and spiritual self. These need administering to, and the offices of the deans can often give a picture of a personality, for it is here that students come with their needs, asking for counsel and help in the realm of schedules, scholarship, low finances, work, student loans, home trouble or responsibilities, vocational advice, personal adjustments and housing.

The office of the Dean of Women is open from eight to five daily. Miss Irene Pierson, Assistant Dean of Women, and the Dean of Women devote their full time to counseling hundreds of students daily, not only in personal problems, but also in their needs as presidents of our student houses and organizations.

Students when away from home must be housed comfortably in order to do creditable academic work. Each fall and through the year the first consideration of the office of the Dean of Women is to see that all undergraduate women are housed happily and comfortably. Our Campus home and housemothers are expected to keep standards set by this office. Miss Catherine Nelson has been in charge of the housing department of this office, and is now succeeded by Miss Mildred Fisher.

The purpose of the office is to stabilize individual and group life of women students, and to encourage intellectual standards of living through incentive of deep study and interest in things intellectual.

Miss Maria Leonard was born in Indianapolis, Indiana, and received her high school education there. After graduation from Butler College, she continued her graduate work in Colorado College from which institution she received her Master of Arts degree in 1910. In the same year she accepted the position as Dean of Women and Professor of Mathematics at Idaho State Normal in Albion, Idaho. She left Idaho to become Dean of Women and Professor of Mathematics at Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where she served from 1913 to 1923. Since 1923 she has served as Dean of Women at the University of Illinois. In 1924, Miss Leonard founded the national scholastic honorary for freshmen women, Alpha Lambda Delta,
THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF MEN

The Statutes of the University provide that the Office of the Dean of Men shall be "advisory and not regulatory" in character. With this objective in mind, it has been the purpose of the Dean of Men and his assistants to carry out the functions of the office in a manner designed to be of greatest value to the students of the University. In addition to numerous specific functions which are carried on in the office, the office serves as a general clearing house of information for the men of the University. Its functions are non-academic in character, it advises accurately where the student should go for academic advice.

The offices are open daily from eight in the morning until five in the afternoon, and the staff members are available day or night for any student who needs the assistance of the office. The staff members are Mr. Charles R. Frederick, Assistant Dean of Men in charge of Student Activities, who spends his mornings in the office at 152 Administration Building and his afternoons at 107 Student Center, Mr. Dwight F. Bracken, Assistant Dean of Men in charge of Employment, with offices at 236 Student Center, Mr. Golden A. McConnell, Assistant to the Dean of Men for Freshmen and Foreign Students, who replaced Mr. David M. Larrabee, who resigned February 14, 1937, and myself, Dean of Men, with offices at 152 Administration Building.

The office attempts to assist students to coordinate their extra-curricular affairs with their studies, to solve their personal problems, to advise and assist them in every possible manner.

BRONZE TABLET

Those students who show sustained excellence in scholarship by ranking in the upper three per cent of their class during their junior and senior years are awarded University Honors. They are given special recognition on Honors Day, and have their names permanently recorded on bronze tablets in the hall of the library.

Wendell S. Wilson
Director of Athletics
The death of our great leader and builder of Illinois athletics, George Huff, soon after the beginning of the school-year, saddened all Illini.

Those of us who follow him will always strive to carry on the work for which he laid such a fine foundation and will be guided by his ideals and standards.

Throughout the years Illinois teams in all branches of athletics have upheld the prestige of the University by their playing, and established an enviable tradition of sportsmanship and fair play. Keeping in mind the things for which G. Huff stood, the department will continue to foster this program of intercollegiate athletics which will always be such an important phase of University life.

Director Huff, as all know, was always deeply interested in the welfare of all the students of the University and encouraged the providing of facilities for their recreation when this was possible. The ice rink is one reminder of this interest. Whenever conditions in the future make it possible we will carry on this policy.

We bespeak from the departing seniors a continued interest in Illinois athletics.

Arthur Edwin Fisher, captain of the 1935-36 gym team, was selected as the Illini who best combined athletic ability with scholastic excellence, and as a result was presented with the Conference Medal.

Art, who hails from Cantrall, Illinois, won his letter for tumbling when a Junior, and was elected captain of the varsity gym team for the following year. He achieved the outstanding distinction of being made Big Ten Tumbling Champion for two years.

Fisher, a member of Alpha Zeta and Phi Eta Sigma, capitalized on his ability of leadership in carrying out the duties required of a captain. His ready advice and help proved to be of great value to his teammates, and he unhesitantly showed the younger members all of the tricks that experience had taught him. Although now a graduate student in the College of Agriculture, he still offers his services and helps in putting on the gym meets.

Cliff Kuhn, voted by his teammates as the Most Valuable Player of the 1936 football team, won three letters in football. He was considered by coaches of opposing teams as one of the best guards in the game, and won recognition on almost all of the All-Star teams in the country; being given first ranking on the All Mid-West and the Big Ten Conference teams, as well as receiving honorable mention for the All-American. He constantly played against men who outweighed him but made up for this handicap by his fighting spirit, his nerve, and his endurance.

Kuhn began his football career at Mooseheart where he played almost every position on the team. At Illinois, holding a regular position as guard for three years, he made his greatest sensation with the 1936 team, playing in every game and being out of the lineup less than sixty minutes during the entire season. A fine blocker, a hard tackler, and a fast man to run down punts, he was considered one of the mainstays of the Illini line.

In 1901, the University of Illinois appointed "Red" Matthew cheerleader and thereby became the first university in the country to make an attempt at organized cheer leading. Where Illinois was the pioneer, all other Universities have followed suit. The now well-established position of cheerleader is the outgrowth of a suggestion made by an engineering professor on this campus. It was his opinion that the spontaneous outbursts of enthusiasm on the part of the sports fans should be directed so as to do the utmost in backing the Illini teams.

At Illinois, one senior, two juniors, and several sophomores are chosen by the Athletic Council as cheerleaders. When Illinois plays its home games, the cheerleaders perform the amenities which make the rivalry between the teams a friendly one. In addition to their regular duties, these men organize rallies and snake dances and preside over the Homecoming bonfire.

When the team is not getting the breaks, or when the officials do not see a play just as Illinois fans see it, the cheerleaders attempt to reconcile the fans with the decisions of the officials. In this way they help spectators live up to the Illini code of sportsmanship.

The senior cheerleader goes to all out of town football games with the team and acts as peace messenger for the Illini, thus building a proper spirit of friendship with opposing schools.
OFF SIDES!
The Illinois football team of 1936 will be remembered as one that was game enough to come back after a discouraging start. I refer to the defeat by Southern California which would have taken the heart out of many teams for the rest of the season.

I doubt if any one at that time would have predicted Illinois would land in the middle of the Big Ten heap, yet the Illini finished at the top of the second division, ranking above Michigan, Iowa, Chicago and Wisconsin. They beat Michigan and Chicago and tied an Iowa team that was favored to win. As for the Iowa game, Illinois concededly had the better of the argument. Our Big Ten losses were to Northwestern, the champion, and to Ohio State, two powerful teams.

I would say that the team was much more successful than could have been expected. The players were young and light but were undismayed by meeting heavier and more mature opponents. They were fine boys to coach. I am proud of them.

Before 31,000 chilled and damp spectators in Memorial Stadium, a mighty band of Trojans gained a determined revenge for last year’s 19 to 0 defeat by whipping the Illini, 24 to 6.

Trouble began at once for the Illini, when Hibbs blocked a kick by Wardley in the end zone and a few minutes later tackled Spurgeon who was to receive a lateral pass there. The Trojans dazed the Illini by scoring these two safeties early in the game, making the odd score of 4 to 0, which lasted for a brief few minutes until Davis, the little Trojan quarterback, flipped a high lazy pass which Stanley caught over his head and carried across the goal. Southern California’s second touchdown was the result of an intercepted Illinois pass. In the fourth period Jones crashed through left guard from the 10 yard line for the Trojan’s last touchdown.

Now the Orange and Blue passing attack began to click. In two passes the Indians arrived at the Trojan’s 1 yard line from where Wehrli scored a touchdown. This victory celebrated the first visit of the band of Troy to the Middle West.
The Iowa Stadium was packed with 39,000 Homecomers who had come to see all the pre-game ballyhoo turned into a book of fairy-tales when an inspired Illini team held the Hawkeyes to a 0-0 tie in a game that was really an Illinois moral victory.

A strong wind which swept through the length of the stadium from the north gave the kicking advantage at all times to the team defending the north goal. This advantage, enjoyed by Illinois in the first quarter, almost brought them a touchdown in the first few minutes of play. When the Hawks’ wall repeatedly held, however, Spurgeon attempted a field goal with no success.

Again in the middle of the second period Illinois penetrated deep into Iowa territory. After two futile pass attempts, the Illini again called on Spurgeon to try a field goal, but he kicked directly into the wind and the ball fell short of the cross-bars. Iowa’s return threat met a stubborn defense on the Illinois 5 yard line while a third Illinois assault on the Iowa goal came to similar grief six inches from realization.
A Homecoming crowd of 27,000 persons watched Northwestern display an unbeatable power in gaining 237 yards against Illinois. Although they fought valiantly, the Orange and Blue were unable to succeed in any offensive play on the ground or in the air.

During the first quarter, the Illini kept the ball constantly in Northwestern territory. A long run by Wardley placed the ball on the Purple 23 yard line, but the attempted field goal fell short. Later, Wilson recovered a Northwestern fumble on the 24 yard line, but the Illini pass attack failed to gain a nearer position to the goal.

In the third quarter the Wildcats received the ball on their own 27 yard line and drove the entire distance to the Illini goal, where Geyer crossed the line untouched from the Illinois 7 yard mark for the second N.U. score. The Illini scored in the last period when Wardley threw Hinton, who was trying a wide end run, behind the Northwestern goal line, making the score 13-2.
For the fourth consecutive year the margin of a place-kick decided the Illinois-Michigan football game. In the great Michigan Stadium little Dave Strong's field goal from placement on the 14 yard line provided the edge by which the Illini trimmed the Wolverines, 9 to 6.

Outrushed and outpassed by Michigan, 13 first downs to 2, Illinois nevertheless managed to score early in the second quarter. Without any warning of his intentions, Strong, with Mazeika holding, kicked the ball high between the upright posts, putting Illinois in the lead, 3 to 0.

The following exchange of punts gave the Wolverines the ball on their own 14 yard line. After gaining 6 yards in two plays, Sweet stood back to punt. Nelson drove in savagely and deflected the ball high back of the Michigan goal line where Kuhn was on it in a moment for another Illini score.

On the Wolverines' fifth goalward march, Sweet crossed the goal on the fourth down, scoring the six points that brightened momentarily a dismal rainy homecoming at Ann Arbor.
Thrilling a Dads Day crowd of 18,000, the Illini held the powerful Ohio State team to a 13-0 score. With the interception of Ohio passes by Wardley and Castelo, and the recovery of two fumbles by Castelo, the Illini not only held Ohio scoreless during the first half, but gained 31 yards in three plays just before the half ended. When the Bucks saw that they had no chance with their aerial attack, they turned to running plays, put over two touchdowns with sudden thrusts in the third quarter, and held off the tired Illini in the last period to win, 13-0.

The Illini attack was so vicious, that the Buckeyes fumbled several times and opened opportunities for an Orange and Blue tally. Then the Illini showed how feeble they were on offense, for their passes either fell short of their marks or the receivers failed to get into position.

In the second half the Buckeyes, with a strong wind behind them, punted, passed, and ran their way to a touchdown when Rabb broke away for a 29 yard run. They scored again on the Statue of Liberty play and converted their extra point.
At Stagg field, 20,000 Homecomers watched the Illini play their final game of the 1936 season. The Orange and Blue passing and running attack worked in a manner unseen before throughout their eight game schedule of the season. They assumed an early lead when Kuhn recovered a Maroon fumble deep in Chicago territory and Wardley scored on a quarterback sneak.

Chicago’s touchdown was scored just as the fourth period got under way. A long march begun in the third quarter brought the ball to the 5 yard line from where the Maroons scored when Nelson’s kick was blocked. Then Castelo and Wardley built up a passing attack which netted the Illini a quick touchdown.

The Maroons’ new offensive was promptly stopped when Spurgeon intercepted a pass on the Illinois 40 yard mark and Nelson kicked out of bounds into the middle of Chicago territory. The Maroons were thrown back to their own 1 yard line in three successive plays, and the stage was set for another Illini touchdown. This victory gave the Illini a .500 standing to lead the second division of the Big Ten Conference.
Basketball
The Illinois basketball team, which this year tied for the Big Ten championship, has been justly praised. The courage which enabled the team to come back after two defeats that would have taken the heart out of less determined players is proof enough that the squad was harmonious, conscientious, and easy to coach.

For a time it was thought that an injury to Harry Combes would prevent his playing, but his grit and determination overcame this disadvantage, and for the second year he scored more than 100 points in the Big Ten games to finish in third place in conference scoring. Both he and Captain Bob Riegel were selected for almost every all-conference team, and Wib Henry, Jim Vopicka, and Louis Boudreau were given honorable mention on most of these teams.

Our non-conference schedule included games with Bradley, undefeated champions of the Little Nineteen, DePaul, Notre Dame, Carroll, and DePauw. The conference race was close and a decision was reached only by the victory over Northwestern in the final game of the year. In general, it was a great basketball season and Illinois’ fast breaking championship team drew capacity crowds both at home and away.

We will miss the seniors, for their graduation means losing six of the nine players who were awarded letters. I am grateful to these players for their loyal support, to assistant Coach Roettger, and to all the others who were so helpful.

-Douglas R. Mills

FRESHMAN VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD

[Image of a basketball team]
The 1936-37 Basketball team won for itself the enviable name of Big Ten Co-Champions by winning 14 out of 18 games. It lost only two of twelve conference games and gained, with Minnesota, the title of Big Ten Co-Champions. In the non-conference schedule, Illinois defeated Carroll College, DePauw, Bradley, and split a two-game series with Notre Dame. The only other team to defeat the Illini was DePaul.

Illinois had a poor start in the Big Ten Basketball race when Northwestern defeated them, 47 to 38. After a few more days of practice, the Orange and Blue were able to gain a 31 to 28 victory from Wisconsin. Later, on January 11, every member on the team played an outstanding game to beat Indiana, 40 to 31. The third conference victory was gained at the expense of Iowa by the high score of 42 to 28. Two days after playing Iowa, the Illini defeated Purdue in a thrilling contest, 38 to 37. On January 23 the oft-defeated Chicago quintet took the lead in the first half, but the five Millsmen soon pulled ahead to a 28 to 22 victory. The Illini dropped their over-confident attitude the second time they met Chicago and won by the score of 34 to 26. In their return game, Purdue, paced by Young, the Big Ten leading scorer, outplayed Illinois to defeat them 61 to 34. Indiana, the Orange and Blue's next opponent, was defeated by the score of 42 to 25. By defeating Wisconsin at the same time that Purdue was losing to Michigan, Illinois gained undisputed control of first place. The next to the last obstacle in the race for the Big Ten title was removed when the team trimmed Iowa, 40 to 29. In their last game of the season, the Illini easily downed Northwestern to tie with Minnesota for the Big Ten Championship. Coach Mills cannot be praised too highly for producing a championship team in his first year as basketball coach in a Big Ten school.

CROSS COUNTRY
The hopes for a strong 1936 track team faded at mid-semester when a large number of good men were lost by ineligibility and other causes. The great freshman team of the year before vanished with the loss of the Ridout twins and other certain stars.

The remaining men, however, worked hard and made a fair showing. Lowell Spurgeon was the outstanding performer of the first indoor meet in which we bowed to Indiana, 56 to 48, but we lost him for the remainder of the season because of adhesions in an old appendix scar.

Our field and hurdle strength was not enough to offset the slams of Indiana in the mile and two mile runs. The following week we beat Ohio State 58 to 46. Bobbie Grieve set a new Armory record of 6.2 seconds for the 60-yard dash. The victories of Art McGraw and Johnnie O'Connell in the mile and two mile were pleasing. A shuttle hurdle team composed of Cullinan, Gill, Huntley, and Robinson set a new world's record of 40.4 seconds for 320 yards.

At South Bend we met the best track team in Notre Dame's history. They won the closing event, the mile relay to give them a 54 to 50 victory. Kenny Speers' winning of the 440-yard run in 51.4 seconds and Harry Gaines' gallant fight against Francis of Notre Dame who turned the 880 in 1 minute 57.3 seconds, were outstanding performances from the Illinois viewpoint.

Illinois placed fourth in the Indoor Conference meet with 15 1/4 points. Bobbie Grieve's brilliant victory over Stoller of Michigan in the 60-yard dash was our noteworthy perfor-ance. The following week Grieve set a new world's record for the 60-meter dash on an indoor dirt floor at the central A.A.U. He was timed in 6.6 seconds. The next night he equaled the Armour record of 7.1 seconds at the Armour relays. Osman "Doc" Huntley likewise set a new Armour record when he ran the 70-yard high hurdles in 8.7 seconds, finishing just ahead of his teammate Jack Robinson.

In the Drake relays, the Illinois 480-yard shuttle hurdle relay team of Huntley, Brunton, Wright, and Robinson set a new world's record of 1 minute 1.1 seconds. Illinois lost to Indiana 85 to 46 outdoors, and to Michigan 79 1/2 to 46 1/2.
Bob Wright set a new Michigan meet record when he ran the 220-yard low hurdles in 23.4 seconds. Illinois defeated Purdue 92 to 39 to close its outdoor dual meet season, and placed fifth in the Big Ten Conference at Columbus, with 19 1/2 points.

At their first outdoor dual meet, the Illini were easily defeated by a strong Indiana team which scored 85 points to the Orange and Blue’s 46. Only four Illinois men managed to hold their own. Riegel with a 6 foot 2\% inch leap captured first place in the high jump, and Wright followed with a victory in the high hurdles. Wehling outdistanced the field to win the broad jump, while Grieve, although handicapped by a pulled ligament, easily won the 100-yard dash.

The reason for the Orange and Blue defeat is the story of a series of injuries. Tiedemann pulled a muscle in his leg and was forced out of the 440-yard dash after leading for almost the entire distance; a pulled muscle pushed O’Connell out of the two-mile grind; Heenlein pulled a muscle in his leg while pole-vaulting; and Spurgeon twisted an ankle while high jumping and had to be content with a tie for third.

The Illinois trackmen were again crushed when the Michigan squad rolled over them 79 to 46\%2. The Wolverines captured eight events, scoring slams in five of them. Wright, one of the mainstays of Coach Don Seaton’s squad, brilliantly upheld the Orange and Blue reputation when he sped over the 220-yard low hurdles in :23.4, establishing a new meet record. Grieve brought home the honors for the 220-yard dash, but was defeated in the century run by Michigan's sprinter, Stoller. They were more successful in the jumping events, however. Brunton's leap of 23 feet 8 inches gave Illinois the broad jump, and a jump of 5 feet 10 inches was enough to win the high jump. The Illini trio, composed of Lowell Spurgeon, Riegel, and Spurlock, took a slam in the latter event when all of the Michigan men failed to make 5 feet 10 inches.

The team achieved its first dual triumph of the outdoor season by severely trouncing Purdue. The Seaton men, enraged by their previous performances at Indiana and Michigan, pounced on the Boilermakers and rang up 92 points to the visitors' 39. The Illini, featuring Grieve, Wright, and Frary, not only took 11 out of 15 first, but also scored slams in five of the events. Frary starred in the field events, winning the discus throw, the shot put, and tying for first in the pole vault. Wright captured the 120-yard low hurdles, nosing out two of his teammates who placed second and third. He also gained a victory in the 220-yard low hurdles. Grieve added another first place to his string of victories when he breezed over the century in 9.8. The Illinois combination of Riegel, Spurgeon, and Spurlock, repeated their performance against Michigan, seizing all the points in the high jump, by clearing the bar at 6 feet 2 inches.

A battered Illinois track team put up a brilliant struggle against Ohio State in the opening meet of the indoor season, coming out on the low end of a 59-36 score. The veteran Bobby Grieve ran the 60-yard dash in the amazing time of 6.1 seconds to equal the world’s record shared by Jesse Owens and Ralph Metcalf. The Illini hurdlers also broke into the limelight when Captain Cullinan took first place in the 70-yard high hurdles and Robinson won the low hurdles. Both men clipped one-tenth of a second off the meet records. Gaines ran a beautiful race for the Illini in the mile. Two men on Seaton’s sick list did much better than expected. Frary, just recovering from the flu, won the shot put, and Wedding, in spite of a bad ankle, took third in the 60-yard dash.

The Illini suffered a second defeat at Indiana when the Hoosiers piled up 57 points to 38 for Illinois. Indiana’s great strength in the distance runs and several unexpected seconds and thirds in other events spelled defeat for Illinois. The big surprise of the evening came in the 60-yard dash when Collier, Indiana sprint man, beat Grieve, who was unable to overcome the handicap of a bad start. Illinois made its best showing in the hurdles with Robinson and Cullinan each winning one race. Bruder won the shot put for the Illini and Diefenthaler cleared 6 feet 1 inch to win the high jump.

A surprisingly strong Notre Dame track team crushed the Illini by a score of 69 to 35 in the third indoor meet. Robinson, Illini hurdler, was easily the outstanding star of the evening, winning both hurdle races and setting two new meet records and one new Armory record. Grieve secured the first victory for Illinois when he led Clifford of Notre Dame across the line to take the 60-yard dash. Diefenthaler's high jump of an even six feet added another victory, which combined with Robinson's firsts, finished the high scoring for the Illini. The Irish had little trouble in the distance events, scoring a victory in both races. The quarter mile race was spectacular and exciting. For over half of the race Gaines, Speer, and Ashley were out in front by 8 yards, holding this position until the sprint, when Parsons, of Notre Dame, passed all three. Gaines and Speer took second and third.
Baseball
With the return of most of the veterans in addition to several good sophomores, baseball prospects appeared bright at the beginning of the 1936 season. The record of the team, ten victories and two defeats, which has usually been good enough to win the championship, fell just short when Michigan finished with nine victories and only one defeat. Rain, which cost Illinois a chance to share in the championship the year before, again spoiled an opportunity to finish on top, as Michigan was rained out of two games which they would have had to win in order to rank first.

The success of the team can be attributed to the uniformly fine pitching of Swanson and Berg, and to the defensive ability and splendid spirit of the team as a whole. In eleven games Swanson and Berg allowed the opposition only 18 runs, an average of 1.63 per game. The remaining game, a nine run contest, increased this average to 2.25 runs per game. Capt. Duffner at first base, Eddie Weber at second, Stormy Swikle at shortstop, and Franklin at third, with Melino in reserve and Daekus, catcher, formed a good infield and contributed greatly to the success of the pitchers and the team.

The high light of the season was a winning streak of seven games. The Illini won the first two games from Ohio State at Columbus and then took five more before losing to Wisconsin in a 1-0 game that was stopped by rain at the end of the eighth inning. The other defeat came at the hands of Michigan in the second game of a double header played on Interscholastic Day.

The seniors of this team can point with pride to the record they made during their three years of competition: twenty-six games won and six lost, making an average of .812.

FRESHMEN VARSITY BASEBALL TEAM 1936
As spring practice opened, the prospects looked very promising for the Illinois baseball team. Only a few men were lost by the 1935 graduation, and several sophomores had improved enough to really strengthen the squad. The Big Ten season opened with a brilliant 2 to 1 victory over Ohio State. Hale Swanson, Illini pitching ace, was complete master of the situation, holding the Buckeyes to three hits. The game was a tight pitching duel until the 4th inning when the Ohio hurler walked Haefler and then Niklewicz, Illini catcher, singled to drive Franklin over the plate to score. The Buckeyes scored the Illini in the seventh when they combined two hits and scored their lone tally.

The Illini nine took advantage of a four run rally in the seventh inning to defeat Ohio State, 5 to 3, for their second victory over the Buckeyes. Howard Berg assumed the pitching duties and limited Ohio to six scattered hits, while Illinois collected ten solid blows. Ohio took an early 2 to 1 lead and held this until the eventful seventh. The four run barrage featured the hitting of Dancisak and Captain Duffner. A delayed seventh inning rally by the Bucks was quickly halted by Berg.

Extending their Big Ten string to three straight victories, the Illini, behind the stellar pitching of lanky Hale Swanson, tamed Purdue, 3 to 1. The Illinois hurler put on a beautiful performance, allowing only two scattered hits, while Purdue allowed six. The Roettingmen started out meekly, but became troublesome when some Boilermaker errors, hits by Franklin and Swanson, and a well-executed double steal sent three men across the plate.
VARSITY BASEBALL

A ten-hit attack completely engulfed the Chicago Maroons as the Illini turned in their fourth Big Ten win. Getting a good lead with four runs and two walks in the first inning, the Illinois nine continued its offensive maneuvers behind the superb pitching of Howie Berg, and won, 8 to 2. Dancisak proved very dangerous to Chicago by connecting for three hits, one of them a homer in the fifth. Duffner and Franklin each contributed two solid hits to aid the powerful attack.

At Evanston, with the score tied in the ninth inning, Illinois came through to win their fifth straight Big Ten game, 4 to 3. In the first inning, after the Illini had filled the bases, Franklin connected with a fast ball for a double to score two runs. The effective pitching of Swanson kept the Northwestern bats silent until the fifth inning when they scored one run. In the sixth inning Berg relieved Swanson after Northwestern had pushed over two runs to tie the score, 3-3. Berg was able to hold the Wildcats hitless for the rest of the game. Swinkle came through in the ninth inning with his lone hit of the game to send Franklin across home plate with the winning run.

Aided by numerous Northwestern errors and by the air-tight pitching of Howie Berg, the Illini again succeeded in trimming the Wildcats in their second encounter by a score of 4-0. Northwestern's only threat came in the second inning when Mack, after walking, stole second, and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Not until the fourth inning could the Illini score. Duffner's single scored Dancisak after a two-base error by Chour on Dancisak's grounder put him on second. In the fifth inning when a fumbled bunt put Daukus on first, Berg walked, Haefler bunted, and the bases were... filled. After the rapid fielding of Reinhart’s liner, Daukus came in on Duffner’s long fly with the only score in that inning. In the eighth inning two more runs came in for Illinois to complete the scoring for the game; Franklin hit to deep center, and the Wildcat pitcher muffed Weber’s grounder, allowing Reinhart and Dancisak to score.

The Illini won their seventh game of the season by defeating the Wisconsin Badgers, 6-3. Captain Heyer was the big offensive power for the Badgers, hitting a double and two singles. After a scoreless first inning, the Illini scored four tallies on four hits and two walks. The Badger’s grief began when Franklin and Weber singled. After Henry walked, Daukus and Swanson smashed out hard singles enabling the runners to come in. The Badgers did most of their work in the fourth inning when a double, a single, and an error brought them two runs. After the Illini scored in the fifth and sixth innings and the Badgers in the seventh, Swanson held Wisconsin scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Avenging their pride and halting the Illini in their winning streak, the Wisconsin Badgers gave the Orange and Blue their first conference defeat, 1 to 0. The game was one of those that are tough to lose, as rain halted the proceedings in the eighth inning. Howie Berg also felt the misfortune, since he had pitched beautiful ball allowing only five hits to equal the hits collected from Wisconsin. In the seventh inning Capicek, of Wisconsin, drew a walk and proceeded to second on a sacrifice. He then scampered home with the winning run on Church’s single.
VARSITY BASEBALL

The peak of the 1936 baseball season was reached when the Illini clashed in a double header with the unbeaten Wolverines. Illinois won the first encounter 3-2, and lost the second 9-3. Swanson got off to a shaky start when two hits, two errors, a stolen base, and a wild pitch gave Michigan two runs. Illinois retaliated in its half of the inning when Dancisak reached first on an error, stole second, and came home on Duffner’s single. In the fifth inning, Melino singled and came home when the Michigan shortstop overthrow first after fielding Reinhart’s grounder. Dancisak then provided the game-winning punch with a triple to right field which scored Reinhart from second. In the opening inning of the second game, Johnny Gee allowed three runs. After tying the game in the fifth inning 3-3, the Wolverines went to work and cracked out five more runs in the eighth and one in the ninth to win. Fishman, Michigan’s star, held Illinois scoreless with his curve ball, while Henry and Melino, with two hits apiece, were the stars for the Illini.

As a fitting climax to a successful season, Walter Roettger’s boys staged a great show with Chicago, coming out on the top of an 11 to 2 score. The Illini opened up a batting spree that netted them twenty-four hits as compared with ten for the Maroons. Hale Swanson, pitching his usual remarkable game, allowed only five hits and then was taken out at the end of the eighth inning so that Howie Berg could have a chance in the last game. Eddie Weber wound up his baseball at Illinois by cracking out two home runs, and Melino hit a triple which drove in three runs.
Other Varsity Sports
After winning six out of eight dual meets, the Illinois wrestling team capped a successful season by winning the Big Ten conference championship. The team, coached by Hek Kenney, did not appear exceptionally strong at first, but plenty of hard work resulted in a team of championship caliber.

In the preliminary matches before the Big Ten season began, the Illini defeated Iowa State, Missouri, and Cornell College, and lost only to the powerful Kansas grapplers. At the end of the first semester and just before the Big Ten dual meets began, Illinois suffered a great loss as Ralph “Ruffy” Silverstein, one of Illinois’ greatest wrestlers of all time, was forced to quit competition because he had completed his eligibility.

Despite this handicap, the Kenneymen went on and whipped Ohio State, Chicago, and Minnesota by decisive margins, then lost to Indiana, 23 1/2 to 6 1/2.

To top the season off, the Illini captured three out of eight individual titles in the Big Ten Conference Meet to give them first place. Illinois scored 24 points while Michigan took second with 19. Al Sapora, a plucky red-haired junior and a consistent winner throughout the year, annexed a victory in the 126-pound division. Captain Jack McIlvoy definitely proved his prowess by cinching the 143-pound berth, and John Ginay, another junior, took first in the 165-pound division. Other point winners were Dan Blum and Archie Deutschman, who placed second in the 118- and 135-pound divisions respectively, and Chuck Mutter, who annexed a third in the 175-pound class. Both McIlvoy and Ginay won their way to the finals in the National Intercollegiate Wrestling Tournament at Indianapolis the following week.
Although it only broke even on dual meets, winning three and losing three, the Illinois gymnastic team had a successful season and wound up competition in fine style by taking third place in the Big Ten Conference meet. The results of this meet were especially gratifying as the Illini competed without Len Burgeson and Ed Hughes, lettermen who were lost because of injuries.

Coach Hartley Price had charge of the team the first semester and then left on a leave of absence to work on his doctor’s degree at Cornell. Al Jennings, an Illini gymnastic star of two years ago, replaced Price and turned in a commendable job of coaching.

In the Big Ten Conference meet, which was the highlight of the season, Illinois failed to take any first places but displayed considerable strength in winning seconds and thirds. Ray Stuerner, an outstanding man on the team, placed second on the horizontal bar. Ray also performs on the side horse and the flying rings. Dick Potter garnered another second for Illinois in the side horse event. Potter consistently performed well in competition and was one of the most valuable men on the team. In tumbling, Illinois displayed strength with Doug Marshall placing second and Bob Edwards tying for third place. Marvin Monk added a few points by taking fourth in the flying rings.

In dual meets, Illinois won twice from Chicago, lost twice to Iowa, and divided two with Minnesota. In a preliminary meet, the Illini won from Nebraska.
After easily winning its initial meet of the season, Coach Ed Manley’s swimming team faltered, finishing up with two victories, three defeats, and one tie, and tying for fifth place with Minnesota in the Big Ten meet which was characterized by record-breaking competition.

Norm Lewis, sprint star, was the mainstay in the free style races and garnered many points for the Illini. Captain “Butch” Overman also excelled in the free style races. Eli Ellis, paired with Walt Rotkis, upheld the Illini honor on the spring board. Both men were experienced and each placed high in all meets.

The strong Illini relay teams played a major part in the scoring, and in the Minnesota meet their victories brought the Manleymen a 42 to 42 tie. Captain Overman held down the anchor position in the 300-yard medley relay and was assisted by Bob Cutter and Stan Alcorn. The 400-yard relay team was composed of Milt Hopwood, John Brouk, Overman, and Lewis.

Several sophomores made commendable showings. George Lowe, a distance free styler, showed promise in the 440- and 220-yard free style races. Stan Alcorn, breaststroker, and Bob Cutter, backstroker, also showed considerable promise. They were of great value to the team in special events and as members of the relay teams.

In dual meets, Illinois whipped Purdue, 56 to 28; lost a close one to Iowa, 45 to 39; then tied at 42-all with Minnesota. Later the Illini lost to Ohio State, 55 to 29; defeated Chicago, 44 to 40; and were beaten by Northwestern, 57 to 27.
The water polo team, coached by Ed Manley, though it failed to repeat its performance of last year when it won the Big Ten championship, came through with a very successful season. Until the last game, Illinois had a chance to win the title, but a defeat by Chicago dispelled all hopes.

Captain Norm Lewis led the team to three victories and two defeats. The Illini opened competition with a brilliant victory over Purdue. After leading 5 to 0 at the half, the Manleymen increased their margin to 10 to 3 at the end of the game. Bob Cutter was the leading scorer for Illinois with four goals. Captain Lewis and Johnny Brouk accounted for two of the Illini total, and Butch Overman and George Lowe also tallied one apiece.

In the next two encounters the Illini broke even. Illinois defeated Iowa 4 to 3 and then lost to Northwestern by the same score. The loss to the Wildcats was keenly felt by the defending champions since both teams entered the game with unblemished records.

The Illini, featuring an attack by Stan Alcorn and Cutter trounced Ohio State, 9 to 0. Chicago dashed all Illini hopes, however, when they won 7 to 3. The Illinois team, weary from a swimming meet, was confronted with a fresh Maroon seven, most of whom did not compete in the swimming meet. Alcorn scored twice, and Cutter once, but it couldn't match Chicago's powerful offensive.
Coach Herb Craig faced the 1937 fencing season with only three lettermen returning, but with intensive drill he produced a team which placed second to Chicago in the Big Ten meet and won five and lost one in the dual meet season.

Captain Morris Green was the outstanding man in the saber division, and Jim Jackson was the top epee man, while the foils group was capably handled by Floyd Traynham, Bill Katz, and Hy Handelman. Assisting these were Hal Weingartner in saber and Bob Sternfeld at epee.

After brushing aside Cincinnati, 14 to 3, the Illini opened the Big Ten season with a 12 to 5 win over Purdue. Traynham was the star, winning all three of his foils matches. A week later Traynham repeated his performance as the Illini defeated Michigan, 10 to 7.

The only defeat of the season resulted at Madison, Wisconsin, where Wisconsin eked out a close victory, 10 to 7. Then Northwestern, expecting an easy victory, was repelled by the decisive score of 12 to 5, as Illinois won all three divisions. In the final meet, Ohio State was beaten, 9 to 8.

Ohio dominated the Big Ten meet which followed, although Green, Jackson, and Katz did well enough to gain second place for Illinois. Of this group, however, Jackson was the only one to gain an individual honor, getting second in the epee.
Rapidly gaining public favor at Illinois, polo was again the recipient of much attention during the fall season. Under the direction of an array of coaches, including Lt.-Colonel H. A. Flint, Major C. B. Cole, and Captain L. M. Grener, the team broke even on games during the outdoor fall season with two victories and two defeats.

The opening game with Missouri proved to be a thriller. After a hard fought battle all the way through, the Illini put across the winning goal in an extra period, winning 7 to 6. Captain Mike Gordon, Fred Wright, Gene Bauer, and Lee Rodgers were mounted for Illinois, with Bob Johnson acting as substitute.

On the morning of Homecoming, the poloists defeated Ohio State before a large and enthusiastic crowd of alumni and students. The game was characterized by plenty of good hard riding and was probably the best ever played on the local field. The final score was Illinois 8, Ohio State 5.

With high hopes of a season without a defeat, the Illini set out for their first game away from home. They met, however, a rejuvenated Missouri quartet which was revengeful for its previous showing against Illinois. As a result Missouri connected for 7 goals while Illinois countered with only 2.

The next day the Illini engaged Iowa State in a rough and hard fought game. The splendid Illini come-back in the last two periods was not enough to overcome the Iowa lead and Illinois lost, 9 to 6.
VARSITY GOLF

Golf, a game for many years over-shadowed by the many other sports on the Illinois campus, is rapidly gaining the recognition of the Illini sport fans. Coach John Utley's 1936 golf team, consisting of Captain Elton Hill, Wilbur Kokes, Johnny Hobart, Dene Zahn, Sonny Hedges, Bill Kahl, and Al Triebel, won two matches, lost three, and placed third in the Big Ten Meet.

The Illini lost to Notre Dame in their first match of the season, 17 to 10. The next week-end Indiana, Coach Utley's alma mater, came to Illinois for the first time since Utley became coach, but the Illini did not consider this and trounced them, 19 1/2 to 7 1/2. Northwestern handed Illinois its first conference defeat, 14 1/2 to 12 1/2. The Illini doubles groups took the lead, 5 1/2 to 3 1/2, but in the singles, the Wildcat golfers forged ahead to victory.

Just in reverse of the Northwestern meet, the Illini lost their doubles matches and won the singles to beat Purdue, 11 1/2 to 6 1/2. Al Triebel proved the sensation of the day when he carded an eagle on the 410-yard sixth hole. This had been done only once before in the history of the Urbana course.

By losing, 12 to 6, to Michigan, the Illini failed to pierce the unmarred record of the Wolverines. In the long awaited singles match between Charles Kocsis of Michigan and Kokes, two of the outstanding golfers in the Big Ten, Kocsis won, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2.

The Big Ten Meet closed Illinois' 1936 season. Paced by Kokes, Illinois ranked second with 299 points to Michigan's 281 at the end of morning competition, but the Illini slipped to third place in the afternoon. Kokes placed fourth, behind three Michigan golfers, for Illini individual honors.
With only two men, Joe Moll and Captain Dick Lewers, holding the regular positions throughout the 1936 season, Coach Caspar Nannes' varsity tennis team struggled through a strenuous schedule and, despite the wet courts during most of the training season, wound up with a record of four victories and three defeats. The other places on the squad were taken by either Bill Rich, Bruce Hicks, Jim Maloney, or Jack Wright in most of the matches.

The team began well by winning a non-conference match from Notre Dame, 6 to 0, in which they swept every set, and then nipped Ohio State, 4 to 2, for its first Big Ten victory.

The Illini then slipped considerably and were defeated by both Michigan and Chicago, 5 to 2, and 5 to 1, respectively. Moll won his singles, and Lewers and Rich captured a doubles victory in the Michigan meet, while Lewers and Rich in doubles were the only winners at Chicago. Illinois made a comeback against Wisconsin and Iowa, winning both by the score of 5 to 1.

Northwestern beat Illinois, 6 to 0, in the final meet of the season, losing only one set when Moll defeated Russ Ball, number one player, in the opening set of their match.

In the Big Ten Meet, the Illini tied for fifth place with Ohio State and Iowa with 2 points, while Northwestern nosed out Chicago for the title by one point, 14-13.
Under the direction of E. J. Manley, Director of Intramural Athletics, the number of organizations and students participating in the University of Illinois Intramural System showed an increase during the season of 1936-1937. Early in April the three leading houses in number of points were Phi Delta Theta, Zeta Beta Tau, and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

The competition in the group sports was again divided into two leagues, one for independents and one for fraternities. Due to continual efforts to increase independent participation, a much larger number competed this year than formerly. A wide variety of sports, including basketball, ping-pong, handball, soccer, bowling, volleyball, ice hockey, swimming, wrestling, horseshoes, baseball, track, golf, and tennis enabled more than two thousand men students to participate in some sport especially interesting to them.

Bowling and ice hockey attracted an unusually large number of teams; several weeks of practice periods greatly improved the caliber of ice hockey competition.

In addition to carrying on the regular intramural program, the Intramural managers again took charge of managing the Illinois swimming team.

GYMKHANA

The Third Annual Gymkhana, held on April 24, 1936, was one of the most colorful presentations that the University has seen. Dedicated to the Eleventh Olympiad, the show drew the largest crowd ever to witness a Gymkhana performance in three years. Miss Frances Douthitt, the Goddess of victory, ruled over the entire production. It was also at this time that John Watt, a senior in the School of Physical Education, was given the Delta Theta Epsilon award. This cup is given each year to the student in Physical Education who seems most likely to succeed in his field. The performance of a number of well-known guest artists also added considerable interest to the production. At the close of the performance, William Watson, manager of the Gym Team, presented Coach Hartley Price with a watch for his untiring effort in helping to make the Third Annual Gymkhana a complete success.
On the afternoon of May 17, 1936, hundreds of high school athletes and spectators from all over the State gathered in Memorial Stadium to see York High of Elmhurst garner 6½ more points than New Trier to win the forty-second annual Interscholastic track meet. York High won the half-mile relay to beat out New Trier who had been following closely. In order to do this, they were forced to set a new Interscholastic record of 1:29.8.

The scene of activities changed in the evening to the Armory, where the twenty-ninth Interscholastic Circus was presented. The three ring circus featured twenty-three major displays, the most outstanding of which was the "Flying Illini," a group of courageous students who presented the only collegiate aerial casting act in existence. Paul Prather, captain of the gymnastics team, established a new record of eighty-two turns in his spectacular muscle grind.

The Student Senate, much reduced in size from that of previous years, is now a more effective and powerful body than before. The main function of the Senate is the supervision of all general student affairs. It also works in collaboration with the University Senate Committee on Student Affairs regarding regulations and violations.

The Senate was organized in 1931 as an outgrowth of the dissatisfaction of the student body with the system of student government in the University. In 1935 changes were made and a new constitution was adopted; the membership which previously consisted of fifty-four members was reduced to twenty-four, twelve of these to be activity heads, and twelve popularly elected. For particular work in cooperation with the Committee on Student Affairs the Senate selects a council of six members.

From information which was gathered by last year’s Senate, a report was drawn up this year concerning the hospital situation and a recommendation was given by the group. It was suggested that the hospital facilities be extended, the cost for membership be raised, more service be given, and that membership in the Hospital Association be compulsory for all students of the University.

A Senate sub-committee has been working in collaboration with the Independent Council in an effort to improve conditions among the independents. This combined group has made a survey of independent rooming conditions and presented its report to the University and to the General Assembly. The ultimate goal of this investigation is to have the University build dormitories that will provide the independent student with cleaner and more comfortable living quarters at a low cost.

The Illinois Union was organized for the purpose of promoting Illinois spirit and loyalty. Membership in this Union, which occupies a leading position in campus activities, is open to all undergraduate men.

Directly under the officers of the organization is the junior cabinet which consists of eight men who act as the heads of the committees and the directors of the events which take place under the sponsorship of the Union during the year. The committees themselves are made up of the men on the freshman-sophomore council.
The Illinois Union Board of Directors has control over the Union in all of its functions. This Board of Directors is composed of the three executive officers of the Union, one student representative elected from each of the major colleges in the University, three faculty members, and a representative of the Alumni Association. This Board of Directors determines the general policies of the Union and elects the officers and members of the Junior Cabinet.

The Union together with the Tribe of Illini sponsored the revival of torch-light parades which preceded several of the big football games. With the cooperation of the Woman’s League, the Union sponsored programs on the Homecoming, Dads Day, and Mothers Day week-ends.

A guide service directed by Josef F. Wright, Director of Public Information for the University, has been established with the members of the freshman-sophomore council who are trained by Mr. Wright. They conduct visitors around the campus to point out the buildings and various other places of interest and to explain their significance and back-ground.

An organization whose objective is the enrichment of the lives of students through furtherance of Christian ideals, the Young Men's Christian Association carries out a widespread program each year. Any male student or faculty member may join the Y.M.C.A. and participate in its activities.

Every year the Y.M.C.A. holds two periods of Freshman Camp near Decatur, where the freshmen have a chance to meet their future classmates and the leading activity men of the campus. Other main activities are: Freshman-Faculty dinner, fraternity and independent Fireside Forums, Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. Mixers, and Monthly Sunday Evening Meetings.

In addition to the above activities the Y.M.C.A. offers a Vocational Guidance program with Twin City business men and members of the faculty as advisers with whom interested students may confer on vocational topics.
The Agriculture Council is the official governing body of the Agricultural students. The president of the Council is also the president of the Agricultural Club which is made up of representatives of each of the various student clubs in the College of Agriculture, namely Field and Furrow Club, Hoof and Horn Club, Dairy Technology Club, Horticulture Club, Dairy Production Club, Agricultural Engineering Club, Agricultural Economics Club, Poultry Club, and the Agricultural Education Club. There are two distinct councils every year, one for each semester.

The function of the council is to supervise all of the student activities in the College of Agriculture. Meeting at least twice each semester, it assists the various clubs in preparing their programs and in regulating their finances. It also takes charge of and directs the entertainments given by the Ag students such as the Freshman-Faculty Mixer, the Ag Dance, dances given by the clubs, and the stock shows.

The Council was organized to further the development of agriculture and related subjects, and to bring about a closer understanding between technical and professional agriculture. Its work is synchronized with that of the student-faculty advisory committee of the Agricultural College.
Though the Fighting Illini suffered a defeat at the hands of Northwestern, the conference champions, the Homecoming celebration was none the less glorious in the rest of its festivities. First place in the decorations of fraternity houses was taken by Kappa Sigma’s clever portrayal of a ranch with cow-boys roping a large wildcat. A gala merry-go-round with Indian-mounted ponies encircling the huge pillars of its house brought first place in the sorority competition to Kappa Alpha Theta.

The pep meeting, sponsored by the Illinois Union, was a great success with its bonfire, speeches, and cheering. In addition to the program sponsored by the Union and the Woman’s League, many of the fraternities and sororities gave their own banquets for alumni and guests. The Tribe of Illini in cooperation with the Student-Alumni Association sponsored the Homecoming dance at the Men’s New Gymnasium. The Homecoming Stunt Show was presented by the Union both Friday and Saturday nights.

The Illinois Union and the Woman's League this year set a precedent for the future with a new type of program for Dads Day proceedings. To build up a waning interest in the celebration, the committee sponsored several contests. A prize was awarded to the Dad who had travelled the longest distance to attend the festivities and also to the Dad who has sent the most children through this institution and now has a son or a daughter enrolled in the University. The fathers of football players were given seats directly behind the players' bench and wore large placards with their sons' numbers.

After the various dinners given for the Dads they went to a meeting in the Auditorium where President Willard gave them his welcoming address; a concert by the Men's Glee Club was also given and some of the best acts of the Home-coming Stunt Show were presented. The Theatre Guild successfully presented "Behold This Dreamer" and a dance was given by Sachem in honor of the members of Bucket and Dipper, Junior activity honorary of Ohio State University.
The Student-Alumni Association carries on one of the most extensive campaigns of any student organization on the campus. It is largely responsible for a great deal of the interest of the alumni and of prospective students in the University for it links together the alumni, the students, and the prospective Illini.

Its major activities are in its social program which sponsors the dances at Homecoming, Dads Day, and Interscholastic week-ends, and between semesters. These dances not only bring pleasure to the student but also enable the association to finance its other undertakings.

Founded in 1932, its progress has been rapid. Its most important undertaking at present is the attempt to increase the interest of various Illinois communities in the University. It has fostered the organization of Illinois county and community clubs of undergraduate students, and is also attempting to aid the Alumni Association in organizing alumni groups through the help of the undergraduate students.
The University of Illinois Alumni Association is a non-profit corporation operating under the laws of the State. This organization, which has been continuously active since 1873, adopted its present constitution in 1913.

Alumni of the University have created and maintained this Association as an organized and directed auxiliary to the University itself. The object of the Association is to encourage and stimulate the continued interest of all former students in the University and in each other, and further, to serve the University in every manner possible.

With its main offices in the Student Center adjoining the Urbana campus, the Association is well located to coordinate its work with student and University activities and to provide a convenient meeting place for visiting alumni. A recently established branch office in Chicago serves the thousands of Illinois alumni there as well as the University Colleges of Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy.

Fundamental in its operation is the matter of alumni records for which an office staff is constantly employed to keep record of more than 130,000 former students. Of great importance in the maintenance of these records is the Alumni Association magazine, the Illinois Alumni News, which circulates monthly to all members.
One of the most powerful University student administration units is the Student Senate Dance Supervision Committee which, functioning in a joint committee with the University Senate Sub-Committee on Social Events, supervises all University social affairs. The committee consists of four members and a chairman appointed by the Student Senate from its own members.

This chairman also serves as the chairman of the joint committee which is now known as the University Dance Committee. Instead of being merely a student organization, the joint committee now consists of two members of the Student Affairs Committee, Professor W. B. Templeman and Professor L. E. Card; C. R. Fredericks, Clerk of the Committee; and an ex-officio member chosen from the Student Senate in addition to the regular Student Senate Committee of five members. The committee is now better organized than it was in past years due to the new membership and to the new rules which were formulated last year. These rules govern its actions and divide all social functions into the separate headings of general University functions and events sponsored by individual organizations.

The function of the joint committee is the supervision and approval of all bids for orchestras, decorations, and programs. It also sanctions patron lists for all major functions and has direct authority over any dance committee appointed by class or council officials or any other organization which is presenting a major social event. The printing, issuing, and auditing of tickets, and the distribution of complimentary tickets and invitations are also under its supervision.
Creation of the Interfraternity Dance Committee was a depression-born measure instituted to furnish fraternity men with high class dances at cost price. This new program attempted to replace costly fraternity and poorly conducted radio dances, at the same time placing the cost upon those enjoying dances. From their inauguration the annual series of five dances has been popular with the student body. Due to the increased financial ability of fraternities to hold better dances, however, the demand for this type of entertainment has somewhat decreased, and the committee will probably hold only two major functions next year instead of five as in previous years.

The committee is made up of seven members, four being faculty men and three seniors chosen by the faculty members and the graduating seniors on the committee. The duties of the committee are to plan the dance schedule generally, select orchestras and programs, provide for decorations, and supervise the dance itself. The committee aims to regulate its funds so that no surplus is available at the end of the year.

The first of this season’s dances was held in the Ice Skating Rink, in honor of the new fraternity pledges. Anson Weeks and his orchestra furnished the music. Ted Weems and his lilting rhythms presided over the next dance, which was formal and held at the George Huff Gymnasium. Two more formal dances were given later in the season. At the first of these Count Basi presented his swing music, and at the latter George Olson presided with "music of tomorrow." The last dance of the season was a carnival dance, and was given in the spring.

Illies of 1937
AFTER THE BALL
Society
As each school year draws to a close, the campus socialites look forward to that gayest of University dances, the Senior Ball. On the warm and moonlit night of June 1, the Class of 1936 danced to the smooth music of Will Osborne in the beautifully decorated George Huff Gymnasium.

A huge arch of flowers stood in the center of the floor, and a magnificent array of colored streamers, played on by spotlights, were suspended from balconies and ceiling. The background of the gorgeous white band-shell consisted of towering columns silhouetted against a blue night sky. Surrounding this was a flagstone walk, winding in and out among the fountains and boxwood trees, and played upon by changing colored lights. At the opposite end of the floor, an arrangement of pillars and palm trees were centered around a crystal gazing globe, thus completing the effect of a formal garden. Black silhouettes of a graduating couple, attired in caps and gowns, adorned the covers of the white leather programs.

Will Osborne and his great band did more than their share in making the ball a success. His smooth style of playing, with an occasional novelty such as the famous "Goofus," tended to make those present put the memories of a closed school year far behind and think only of the present. His two vocalists, Dick and Dorothy Rogers, sang the lyrics in their own inimitable style and received a hearty acclaim for every number.

At midnight, the band swung into the Grand March led by Eddie Altorfer and Kay Schmoeger. Winding around the floor and in and out of the great arch in the center, the march ended in a glorious climax, the formation of a University of Illinois emblem around the arch. "Will" then played Illinois Loyalty, and the dancers joined in wholeheartedly and sang. The music of the band made the hours from nine until two pass all too rapidly, and brought a glorious summer formal to a close.
A gay crowd of dancers left a cold snowy atmosphere outside, to enter an icily decorated interior at the George Huff Gym on the night of December 22. The mildness of the preceding weeks had rather suddenly turned into typical December weather, and had instilled the happy spirit of Christmas into the campus activities. Glistening icicles and scattered icebergs were the theme of the decorations, and the inimitable Kay Kyser sent forth music from a band-shell resembling a huge iceberg.

A silver imprint of a formally attired couple adorned the black programs to carry out further the extensive scheme of the decorations.

The famous band of Kay Kyser, known for his unsurpassable style of playing and his novel manner of introducing numbers, served to maintain an atmosphere of gaiety. His featured singers, Virginia Sims, Sully Mason, and Art Wilson, were at their best, and when the famous Ishkabibble rendered one of his novelties, the very formal gathering broke into hilarious laughter. A large number of the revellers preferred to stand and watch the entertainers and their clever novelties rather than to participate in the dancing.

At midnight, the swaying rhythms of Kay Kyser changed into the Grand March which was led by Kirby Post, Durward Judy, and their partners, Margaret Sheridan and Jane Rollo. As the march terminated in front of the bandstand, Marjorie Green, Gamma Phi Beta, was named Queen of the Prom. Escorting by Judy, and accompanied by her maids of honor—Lillian Moss, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Peggy Oldham, Alpha Gamma Delta—the new Queen was led back through the crowd of dancers to a throne of ice, where she was formally crowned Queen of the Junior Prom and was presented with a beautiful bracelet from her subjects, the class of '38.

Then once more the music of Kay Kyser burst forth and carried on until early morning. And thus, another big night for campus society, the Junior Prom of the class of '38 became only a memory.
A Ticket to Happiness" provided the gala theme for the first formal appearance of the Class of 1939, on Friday, January 15th. Glittering diamond-shaped ornaments, black and white streamers, and chandeliers decorated with top hats, gloves, and canes, enhanced the formal atmosphere of the whole affair. Herbie Kay and his orchestra played from a bandstand representing a theatre front upon which the words "Premiere Showing, Sophomore Cotillion" were brightly illuminated. The theme was further carried out by the black celluloid programs with silver imprints of top hats, gloves, and canes.

In the midst of this gaiety and frivolity the Grand March began, led by Lud Skog, president of the Class of '39, and Sam Hall, chairman of the Cotillion. The high-light of the evening’s entertainment was President Skog’s presentation of Raynette Simpson, judged the most beautiful co-ed in the Sophomore Class.

The dancing then continued until two when Herbie Kay and his featured singers bid the Sophomore Class adieu.

On the evening of January 16, at the Gym Annex, the Class of '40 successfully opened its campus social activities with the Freshman Frolic. The band-shell was transformed into a theater entrance with headlight billings and panel advertising. Herbie Kay's band furnished the music necessary for this "Campus Premiere," and the dancers enthusiastically took the part of the well-satisfied audience. The climax of the evening's entertainment was the introduction by President Ebon Jones, of Beverlie Briggs, the most beautiful freshman girl, and of Edmund Nelson, the most handsome freshman boy.

The "Kayettes," three lovely blues singers, enlivened the spirit of the premiere with their new and different arrangements of "Mickey Mouse's Birthday Party" and "Dinah."

With such an atmosphere of informality the traditionally gala frolic came to a close, marking the end of the first semester social season.
The Class of 1937 held its annual Senior Informal on the night of Saturday, December 5. The couples danced in the George Huff Gymnasium, to music provided by "Count" Basie in his rhythmic and "torrid" style. The "Count" conducted his negro band from the keyboard of his piano, alternating fast improvised stompss with slow rhythms, and featuring, during the evening, songs by Jimmy Rushing and special "swing" novelties by the rest of the band.

Beneath a low-hanging ceiling of red and green streamers, the band presented a striking contrast to the dazzling white bandshell, which was decorated to resemble a snow scene and covered with occasional black notes. Black and gold programs, replicas of the caps worn by the graduating class, were quite in keeping with the traditional "senior" atmosphere of the dance. The informality of the occasion and the entertaining music of the orchestra assured the usual popularity of this dance.
On the evening of Saturday, March 20, two hundred and fifty couples, members of the Pan-Hellenic and Interfraternity Councils and their escorts, gathered in the ballroom of the Urbana-Lincoln Hotel for the annual Pan-Hellenic Ball.

The merry Greek socialites, dancing to the music of Dick Cisne and his orchestra, presented a very gay spectacle as the co-eds in beautiful spring gowns and the men in black and white formals glided gracefully around the floor.

A new feature of this year’s ball was the presentation of two professional floor show attractions consisting of a blues singer and a novelty, each of which received a big applause and provided excellent entertainment during the intermissions.

Consistent with former Pan-Hellenic Balls, the charm of the music and the beauty of the decorations put the dancers in merry mood as the evening progressed and completed the exclusive air of the function. Throughout the evening a typical college spirit prevailed and echoed the mood of campus Greekdom, to open the spring dancing season and continue the celebrated tradition of Pan-Hellenic Balls.

On May 7, in a beautiful and spring-like atmosphere with surroundings typical of Indian life and customs, the Independents presented their annual Spring Formal, the Mi-Hila Ball, in the University Skating Rink. Sponsored by the Independent Council and the Woman’s Group System, the dance followed in color the gaiety of a spring festival; thus living up to the true significance of the Indian word, "Mi-Hila."

A new system of decorations was tried at the Ball this year; instead of the customary floodlights, the decorations committee used spotlights which furnished streams of various colored light to blend with blue flood-lights, directed toward the ceiling for indirect lighting.

Programs for the Ball were in keeping with the decorations and completed the charming atmosphere of a spring festival. They were decorated in subdued colors and carried a design which was formal in make-up.

The Ball, which climaxed the social season of the Independents, proved to be a delightful affair because of its spring-like color and freshness.

The old tradition of Friday the thirteenth, reeking with bad luck and mysterious happenings, was cast to the winds on the evening of November 13th when the "happy music" of Joe Saunders burst forth at the Sixth Annual Independent Informal. The "Ole Left Hander" drew a capacity crowd to the George Huff Gymnasium, and turned the dance into a pep session preceding the Ohio State football game.

This dance, sponsored jointly by the Woman's Group System and the Independent Council, has rapidly increased in popularity during the past few years; this year's affair topped them all. Formalities were forgotten, and even the plain, but attractive, circular programs carried out the informal character of the dance.

The swaying rhythms of the "Ole Left Hander" supplemented by his singers, Jack Swift and Barbara Parks, kept the dancers in a happy mood throughout the evening. Although held in the early part of the school year, the Independent Informal will probably be remembered as one of the most spirited social affairs of the season.
Back to the farm seemed to be the theme of the Agricultural and Home Ec students dance of April 10. Bales of hay, straw, and occasional bags of oats, scattered haphazardly around the floor, gave the Ice Skating Rink the atmosphere of a Saturday night barn dance.

Dancing to the music of Dick Hartom, the merry couples, comfortably attired in overalls and gingham dresses, completely forgot all formalities and playfully threw straw and oats about the rink. Intermittently throughout the evening, novelty dances were presented and these proved to be the favorites of the revellers.

Midway in the evening, the Queen of Agriculture was selected and crowned, and the best costumed couple received a corncob pipe and a rolling pin. During the intermission, an unusual floor show furnished entertainment to the dancers as they lounged about on bales of hay. Later, the carefree and happy crowd, that had made the Ag Dance of 1937 a great success, left the informalities of the evening behind as never-to-be-forgotten memories.
The famous open air concerts by the University of Illinois band, in addition to weekly mixers and observatory "open houses," served as a worthwhile means of diversion from studies for the summer school students. Stage productions also played an integral part in the entertainment program, "A Midsummer Night’s Dream" and "Murder in the Old Red Barn" being perhaps the most notable of the variety of plays presented.

The annual Summer Prom, on the evening of July 24th, proved the climax to a most enjoyable and successful summer program. In the beautifully decorated Skating Rink, the couples danced to the music of Emil Flindt’s orchestra. The cool, shimmering blue and silver decorations provided a wintry aspect as a marked contrast to the warmth of the July night. So ended the eight weeks of study and well-rounded entertainment made possible by the splendid cooperation of the faculty committee.

Woman's League, a very influential and active organization on campus, has gained its eminent place by offering membership to all women students registered in the University, by furthering a spirit of unity among its 3,000 members, by fostering excellent opportunities for self-government through upholding the Illini democratic ideals, and by sponsoring cooperative houses.

Each year the freshman women are advised about campus problems by their "Big Sisters," who carry out the Campus Sister movement sponsored by the Woman's League in conjunction with the Y.W.C.A. In this way, even before a woman begins her University career, she becomes acquainted with the Woman's League.

By dividing its large membership into three parts, Woman's Group System, Gold Feathers, and Orange and Blue Feathers, Woman's League unites girls with mutual interests into small, compact groups. Scholarship, friendship, and loyalty are promoted by these three groups, and opportunities are presented for bringing out individual ability and developing executive prowess. Besides sponsoring drives, programs, and social teas every Wednesday, Woman's League joins with the Illinois Union in the management of Homecoming, Dads Day, and Mothers Day celebrations.

The main governing body of the Woman's League is the First Council. As its membership is made up of representatives from each organized and independent house on campus, First Council gives every Illinois woman a chance to become acquainted with the announcements, affairs, and policies pertaining to the League and to other activities.

The three cooperative houses sponsored by the League are the Alpha House, Beta House, and Campbell Cottage. These houses for unorganized girls are maintained by the proceeds from the annual musical comedy produced by the League and staged in the Lincoln Hall Theatre.

Woman's League is an example of the unity which may be brought about among University women by the combined membership of both independent and organized women into one prominent campus group.
When freshman women advance to the sophomore ranks they become eligible for membership into Gold Feathers. The primary purpose of this organization is to carry on the work of Orange and Blue Feathers and its principles of friendship, co-operation, and scholarship.

Although their specific motive is to present well-known speakers to the group, the weekly meetings are considered one of the finest mediums for promoting friendly contacts among the individual members.

By serving at the Wednesday teas these sophomore women are given an opportunity to participate in a co-operative activity and to become better acquainted with members of Woman’s League.

Participation in the standing committees and numerous drives prepares sophomore women for the responsible positions which they may assume in the following year. When they have met the requirements of drives, activity points, and scholarship, they automatically become members of Gold Feathers.
Orange and Blue Feathers brings together the freshman women of the University to acquaint them with the Illini traditions and to stress the importance of participation in campus activities. The requirements for initiation are attendance at two-thirds of the weekly meetings, a university average of "C," and a passing grade in an examination covering all phases of the campus activities and traditions.

To show the value and pleasure derived from taking part in the various activities, upperclassmen, early each fall, present "The Trial of Peg Fairfax," at which every prospective member of Orange and Blue Feathers is required to be present.

During the year the members work together on two financial drives, the proceeds of which are donated to Woman's League. The weekly meetings enable the freshmen to hear many prominent speakers, to enjoy programs devoted wholly to entertainment, and to attend the two parties held in conjunction with the members of Gold Feathers.

The purpose of the Y.W.C.A. is “To realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God, to have a part in making this possible for all people, and to understand Jesus and follow Him.” It is through a varied program of activity and social life that this organization is able to carry out this purpose.

The policy-forming body of the Y.W.C.A. at the University of Illinois is the cabinet, which directs activity in four main areas: executive functions, social events, service projects, and program divisions. Its capable organization is due to this cabinet composed of chairmen of all commissions and presiding officers, and an Advisory Board, composed of seventeen women who are members of the faculty, wives of faculty members, or prominent members of the community.

This organization not only fulfills its social purpose and serves as a meeting place for various campus groups, but also is effective in helping University women define their social responsibilities and work together in making their ideals effective in their lives and in all their relationships.

Some of the seasonal activities, not listed under cabinet departments, are: the Freshman play, the Style Show, the Ping-Pong Tournament, the Foreign-Student banquet, and the Big Sister movement.

By being a member of such an organization, each girl comes to feel that she is part of a world-wide fellowship. The Y.W.C.A. strives to keep close contact with the interests of the campus woman and to serve her in a practical way. Through its activities, it reaches almost every girl at some time during the year. This international organization has a definite code of friendship and hopes to bring about a better understanding between women of different nations.

The Woman's Athletic Association, an organization of nation-wide scope, is federated with the various recognized universities and colleges through the Athletic Federation of College Women, which is the central office for unifying the ideals of athletics among college women.

The Woman's Athletic Association of the University of Illinois has for its purpose the furthering of interest in athletics and the promotion of ideals of wholesome living. To achieve this purpose on a large scale, its membership is open to all women students who have participated in one W. A. A. sport season.

A loan fund, the main project of W. A. A., aids girls who are majoring in Physical Education and who are financially unable to continue their studies.

In addition to this work, W. A. A. supervises the activities of three organizations, the Telegraphic Swimming Team and Terrapin, honorary swimming organizations, and Orchesis, a national dancing organization.

Orchesis sponsors interpretative dancing, or the expression of moods and feelings in rhythm. Each year the members present two public recitals: the one in December, and the major recital following the May Festival on the Saturday afternoon of Mothers Day week-end.
A member of W. A. A., chosen by the Women's Student Council for the May Queen leads the W. A. A. May Fete, one of the most colorful ceremonies of the year. An impressive processional, including the members of Mortar Board and Torch, follows the Queen down the broadwalk to the steps of the Auditorium where her coronation takes place.

This year W. A. A. sponsored a balloon drive and had its members stationed near the stadium to sell orange and blue balloons before the Homecoming game. This sale met with such enthusiasm and approval that it will probably become an established custom at the University.

To welcome the incoming freshmen and to explain to them the program of the organization, W. A. A. gives a Sans Souci party in the fall introducing its leaders and encouraging membership.

Because of the wide variety of sports offered to its members, W. A. A. presents an opportunity for them to attain its ideal of good sportsmanship, keen competition, and physical well-being.
The highest award given by W.A.A. is the Major I which is earned by the completion of twelve sport seasons. These letters are awarded each year by the president of the Association at the Annual Spring Banquet given in May.

Each year, in addition to the four major sport seasons, W.A.A. sponsors a double program of interhouse and interclass sports. Although a girl cannot play on both teams in the same sport, she can obtain her Major I by participating on either team.

After completing the required number of practices, all organized houses are eligible to participate in the tournaments each season, and the winning house is awarded a trophy for that season. Team sports for interclass and interorganization play include swimming, basketball, volleyball, and baseball, each tournament occupying one sport season. At the end of the year, the house earning the greatest number of points becomes the temporary possessor of the W.A.A. plaque. Interhouse sports are closely contested, and the girls seize every possible opportunity to gain more points for their houses. Early this fall Kappa Alpha Theta won the swimming championship and got an early start toward earning the coveted W.A.A. plaque which Pi Beta Phi now holds. However, the Pi Phis captured the volleyball trophy during the second sport season to overtake the Thetas.

In addition to team competition, W.A.A. offers individual sports, such as tennis, golf, handball, and archery, which give any girl with special ability in any of these sports an opportunity to earn a Major I.
The W.A.A. sport calendar is divided into four seasons. The fall sports are hockey, soccer, swimming, tennis, and golf. The winter months, comprising two sport seasons, are taken up with volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, and tenniquoit. In the spring, the last season offers tennis, baseball, golf, and archery.

Every year many girls participate in each sport. In the interclass games as well as in the individual matches the keen competition furthers the physical well-being and good sportsmanship of the participants.

During previous years numerals were given only to the members of championship teams. This plan permitted only skilled players to receive their numerals; now any member who has earned credit in six sport seasons receives her class numerals made of orange chenille. Under this new system, introduced last year, all girls have an opportunity to earn numerals through faithful and continuous effort. The president of W.A.A. presents these awards to the girls at a tea following the close of each sport season.
Terrapin Club was founded in 1923 for the purpose of furthering interest and proficiency in swimming, diving, and life-saving, and to promote a spirit of good sportsmanship and friendship among its members.

The membership of Terrapin is limited to those skilled swimmers who have passed a rigorous test in all phases of aquatic proficiency. The standard is so high that there have never been more than ten girls initiated during a single year. The best swimmers form Major Terrapin, while Minor Terrapin, an outgrowth of the old Tadpole Club, has been formed to prepare the others for the requirements of the major club.

These two clubs combine on Mothers Day weekend to present Terrapin's annual water carnival in the pool of the George Huff Gymnasium. The spectacular water formations, the swimming and diving accompanied by music, and the skill of the participants make this event one of the most colorful spectacles to be seen on the campus.

The National Intercollegiate Telegraphic Swimming Meet was first organized at the University of Illinois in 1930 for competition among the Big Ten Schools. It is the only sport in which our University women may enter into intercollegiate competition. The organization met with such enthusiasm that it has now been enlarged to include colleges and universities all over the United States.

The members of the team are chosen on the basis of proficiency after several weeks of practice. The team is limited to fifteen members. This year Miss Mabel Renshaw, of the P.E. department, coached the team.

Entries are limited to colleges with certified sixty or seventy-foot pools. The meets are held at the separate schools, and the results of each meet are telegraphed to the Regional Sponsors, who in turn telegraph the first ten places in each event to the National Sponsor. This year the National Sponsor was Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois.
The General Chairman of Woman's League Show and the chairmen of the committees are chosen by the Woman's League Advisory Board and Executive Council. They consider each girl's petition on the basis of her experience, ability, and previous work in campus activities. The girls who have the highest qualifications for the various positions are appointed chairmen of the committees, and the members are chosen from among the other petitioners.

Any member of Woman's League is eligible to petition for membership on a committee and, with the exception of the freshmen, is also eligible for chairmanships.
ANYTHING GOES

The recent Broadway hit "Anything Goes," produced by Woman's League, was presented on the evenings of February 26 and 27. The action for this production takes place almost entirely on board ship. Hope Harcourt, who is on her way to London with her titled fiance, Sir Evelyn Oakleigh, is pursued constantly by the handsome play-boy, Billy Crocker. In his attempts to win Hope, Billy enlists the help of Reno Sweeney, a notorious torch singer and ex-evangelist, and of Public Enemy No. 13, masquerading as the Reverend Dr. Moon. As the intricate plot unfolds, Sir Evelyn falls in love with Reno, Billy wins Hope, and Dr. Moon is pardoned for his crimes.

Tiny Sarah Schwartz as Reno Sweeney completely won the audience with her contagious smile and her explosive vitality, while William Bobzein, as the Reverend Dr. Moon, amused everyone with his clever antics. The ingénues, Carol Layman, as Billy Crocker, and Loramie Wiese as Hope Harcourt, portrayed their romantic roles quite capably. The supporting members of the cast, Jane Dick, a gangster's Moll, and Jack Lord, Sir Evelyn Oakleigh, added to the excellent performance and served to complete this sparkling comedy.
The gala theme of "Holidays" was presented at the thirty-first annual Doll Show at the Y.W.C.A. under the direction of Jane Chapeck.

Among the sororities, Gamma Phi Beta won first place with the landing of Columbus in the new country. Ranking second was Delta Zeta's "Fourth of July," while Pi Beta Phi's bridal group and Delta Gamma's colorful Easter received honorable mention.

In the Group System, Sager house won first place with a portrayal of Lincoln's boyhood, and "Christmas Carolers" placed second for Medea.

Rachel Parker's doll won first place in the individual entries.
W. A. A.
ACTIVITIES

Each year W.A.A. sponsors a great variety of sports. In the fall the Riding Club, advised by Miss Jane Lawyer of the Physical Education Department, offers classes for every rider from the beginner to the expert. Later in the year the ice-skating classes at the University skating rink are very well attended. Practicing for the Telegraphic Swimming meet, which is usually held in April, begins early in the second semester. University women may participate in golf and archery either in the spring or in the fall. Thus, every woman has an opportunity to engage in the sport which she particularly enjoys.
DEADLINE
The Illini Board of Control is composed of four faculty and four student members. The student members of the board are elected by the student body, and the faculty members are appointed by the president. It was originally organized to appoint editors and business managers of The Daily Illini and to determine matters of general policy for this publication. Since that time it has taken over the responsibility of appointing the heads of all the student publications sponsored by the University. Each spring the members of the board interview the candidates for office and later vote on them to determine which applicants will be selected for the positions. In addition to this function of selecting applicants for these positions, members of the board act in an advisory capacity concerning the problems confronting the student editors and business managers.

This system has now been used for twenty-six years, and its operation has been so successful that many universities have adopted it in order to solve their own publication problems and to better select their candidates on the basis of merit.
The Illini Publishing Company was chartered May 11, 1911, by the State of Illinois as a non-profit corporation to publish and supervise all student publications on this campus. Its system of conducting student publications has been so successful that the company has been used as a model by many other universities.

Supervised by a student and faculty board of directors, the company controls all student journalistic endeavors. It publishes The Daily Illini, a daily newspaper with full Associated Press leased wire service, and the only morning paper in a community of 40,000 inhabitants; The Illio, one of the outstanding college annuals; The Siren, The Technograph, The Illinois Agriculturist, monthly magazines, and The Dads Illini, a weekly paper edited especially for the Dads of the students. All of these publications, with the exception of the Illio, are printed in the company’s own printing establishment in the basement of the Illinois Union Building, where full-time men print The Daily Illini, after the student news editors and business managers have made up the paper. The rapid growth of the company is evidenced by the present size of the physical plant; in twenty-five years of service the company has developed from a small print shop to an establishment of considerable value and well equipped to print its publications.

A combination of all the publications into one organization has put them on a sturdy foundation and made a strong and influential unit of each publication. Under the charge of a professional business manager who advises student editors and business managers, the company has maintained a firm foundation, observed the policies set up by the Illini Board of Control, established sound credit standing, and has raised the standards of student publications in general. The efficient service which this organization has performed is of inestimable value to students of the University.

Each year under the capable direction of Wesley Swanson, director, and Richard Moody, technical supervisor, several hundred students take part in Theatre Guild productions, either before the footlights or behind the stage. Most of the presentations are offered to students by a low cost season subscription which is possible only because of the great interest shown in the Theatre Guild activities.

The executive authority of the Guild is vested in a board of directors composed of a representative from each dramatic organization and two faculty members. Honorary dramatic organizations which form the membership of the Guild are Mask and Bauble, Arepo, and Pierrots, while the Woman’s League and Faculty Players Club participate as associate and patron members.

The great versatility of the Theatre Guild is shown by its widely varied repertoire. During the 1936-37 season Mask and Bauble presented a Shakespearean comedy, a dramatic classic, and a mystery thriller; Arepo produced two operas; while Pierrot staged its annual revue, “Rhyme Marches On.”

Star Course, forerunner of the present University Concert and Entertainment Board, of which it is now a part, was organized in the spring of 1917 to act as an advisory board to all dramatic functions and to plan the annual dramatics calendar.

In a reorganization during 1931, the University Concert and Entertainment Board took over the functions of the Star Course and was delegated to supervise all concerts and public entertainments given in University buildings by professional artists and organizations.

Members of the Board consist of the comptroller of the University, acting as ex-officio chairman of the organization, the Director of the School of Music, two members of the faculty to be selected biennially by the Council of Administration, and four student members to be elected annually by the Philomathean and Adelphic Societies.

Duties of the new organization include the selection of senior managers and the junior and sophomore assistants for the Star Course staff.

The work of this group in bringing to the University at reasonable prices several of the most talented and famous artists and groups of artists is beneficial and of much cultural value to the students.

The enthusiastic reception of the excellent Star Course entertainment proved a fitting tribute to the efforts of the Star Course Staff this year.

John Charles Thomas opened the parade of celebrities October 15 by singing songs showing his versatility, humor, and genuine interest. On December 7, Josef Hofmann, presented eleven piano selections followed by six encores which in itself signifies the appreciation of his ability. To entertain Shakespearian followers, the Old Globe Theatre Players presented on January 20 some plays as they were given in Elizabethan days. Vladimir Golshmann with his St. Louis
STAR COURSE

Symphony Orchestra put on numbers which attained the peak in musical performance February 16. Nathan Milstein cast a spell over his audience March 8 when he gave a violin recital in the auditorium. Trudi Schoop and her ballet danced in a fascinating two-hour program April 8.

In addition to this program, Star Course presented two added features. The Tatterman Marionette Company’s “Peer Gynt,” staged an undeniable success. Demonstrating musical technique and expression, the Roth quartet made a successful appearance February 26.
On March 20 and 21, 1936, the Illini Theatre Guild presented "Noah." The fantasy, a recent international success, dramatizes the story of Noah's famous ordeal at the time of the great deluge.

Byford Garrigus gave a persuasive characterization of Noah in his struggle to save the pure in heart, while Mary Jean Ballance competently played the part of Mama, Noah's fickle wife. A Man, one of the most significant figures in the play because of his representation of the evil of the world, was excellently portrayed by Edward Glass.
Continuing the tradition of presenting the ever popular Gilbert and Sullivan operas, Arepo, on April 3 and 4, 1936, produced "Iolanthe." The way in which the flashy wit and droll humor of the comic opera was presented is a fine tribute to the cleverness and proficiency of the singers.

Grover Shipton sang brilliantry and enthusiastically as Strephon, while the roles of The Earl of Tolloller and The Earl of Mount Ararat, taken by James Douglass and Hagin Harper were also well done.
The Illini Theatre Guild’s last production of the 1935-36 season was “The Ivory Door,” presented on May 1, 2, 8, and 9, 1936. The play, written by A. A. Milne, explains the legend of the castle of medieval days and centers around a huge ivory door through which many men have passed, never to return. The mood, which is romantic and light, adapted itself very well to the talents of the actors.

King Perivale, who dares to walk through the ivory door, was capably portrayed by David Pettigrew, while his bride-to-be, Princess Lilâ, was alternately played by Helen Porter and Lois Davis.
William Shakespeare’s immortal "A Midsummer Night’s Dream" was presented to the campus on the evening of November 6 and 7.

The four lovers of Athens, Lysander and Hermia, Demetrius and Helena, were excellently portrayed by Charles Seldomridge and Leoda Doe, Richard Parshall and Ellen Schnebly. Carroll Layman excellently portrayed Theseus, the Duke of Athens, while Rachel Collins presented a truly glamorous interpretation of Hippolyta.

The play was prefaced with a beautiful tableau of the opening scene in the palace of Theseus resulting in a dream-like effect much like a painting by Maxfield Parish.
The first production of Arepo's fifth season was Smetna's "The Bartered Bride," presented on December 11 and 12. Directed by Kathryn Janie Sutherlin, the romantic presentation became another milestone in highly entertaining student operas.

Janet Litsey sang superbly as Marie, the beautiful peasant girl. From a timid, passionate expression at first, her voice became frivolous and sparkling, reflecting the changes which occurred in her mood. One of the treats of the evening turned out to be James Douglass' interpretation of Vasek; his characterization of the simple, innocent youth was very ingeniously done.
On January 8 and 9, the Illinois Union presented its 1937 version of the annual Union Minstrel Show. This year's production, with its beautiful choruses, black-faced end men, and specialty acts, lived up to the reputation for good entertainment which has always been held in the past.

With a natural gift for such a part, Al Mulliken played the interlocutor and fed leads for the comebacks of end men Tim Seay, Steven Montgomery, Hall Layman, and Al Grossarth. Specialty numbers by Fillmore Sherman, Sarah Schwartz, and Janet Mosher helped to make the show a definite success.
Beginning the second semester with a burst of melody and wit, Pierrots presented to campus audiences on February 12 and 13, "Rhyme Marches On," its annual all-male production.

Grover Shipton, in "Oi! Ve! Nero!" the true story of the burning of Rome, and "Two Idles of the King," a continuation of one of last year's most popular acts, was enthusiastically received. In "Robinson Crusoe," Klusman Parks burst forth with a fusillade of words to give a satire of the distorted versions which movies today give us of famous books.
The Illini Theatre Guild has surprising ability to produce wide extremes in entertainment; this year, the production of two typically enjoyable plays, "Behold This Dreamer" and "Dracula," gave evidence of the great versatility of the organization.

In "Behold This Dreamer," Klusman Parks turned in an excellent performance as the very sane artist, Charley Turner.

The production of Bram Stoker's world-famous "Dracula" presented Robert Rockwell in an outstanding portrayal of the vampire, Count Dracula, and Richard Parshall as the great scientist Abraham Van Helsing.

The University Bands comprise three organizations: the Concert Band, the First Regimental Band, and the Second Regimental Band. Places in these organizations are determined by examinations, and service in them takes the place of required military drill and tactics. Concert Band members are eligible for scholarships each year, provided the military requirements have been previously fulfilled.

The Concert Band is composed of selected musicians whose main purpose is to study and perform the best in music. The First and Second Regimental Bands furnish the necessary music for military ceremonies, athletic events, etc., in addition to studying and performing a certain amount of concert music.

From the three organizations named above, each fall a unit of 180 select bandmen is chosen to play at football games. This "Football Band," in addition to playing at all home games, usually makes one or two out-of-town trips. The unit contains many good voices and is the original a capella singing band. With its many thrilling formations, it has become a necessary part of the football spectacle.

In addition to numerous concerts on the campus, the Concert Band broadcasts every Monday afternoon over the University radio station, WILL. Its sphere of influence extends far beyond the campus. It cooperates with the Music Educators National Conference, the National High School Band Association, and the Illinois School Band Association in presenting clinics for bandmasters, and serves bands in the United States in many other ways.

In accordance with the policy of bringing members of the University of Illinois Bands in contact with a large amount of the best in music, hundreds of compositions in the larger forms are studied and performed. The bands' public performances are "by-products" of this educational program and as the University Bands are non-profit organizations, their concerts are thrown open to the public. These demonstrations of the work of this department of the University not only indicate the present literature and possibilities of the modern concert of "symphonic" band, but suggest desirable additions to band literature.

UNIVERSITY BRIGADE

MILITARY at the University was established under the Morrill Land Grant Act. By this act, State Universities received land from the Federal Government on the condition that military be made a required course. In 1867 the State of Illinois accepted this act and a plan for military training was adopted by the Board of Trustees. It was expanded to its present size by the Military Act of 1916 and the Brigade has steadily increased until it is now one of the largest in the country.

Beginning in 1867 with a single company commanded by a Cadet Captain, the Military department of the University of Illinois has grown to a brigade consisting of six individual units and 4,208 men. The Brigade commanded by a regular Army Colonel and a Student Colonel consists of the Cavalry, Infantry, Field Artillery, Coast Artillery, Engineers, and Signal Corps units. Each unit has its own corps of Student Officers headed by a Lieutenant Colonel. The Student Officers in turn are supervised by a staff of regular Army Officers. The last two years have seen considerable modernization of equipment which has served to make it one of the most complete R.O.T.C. units in the country.

The student's work in the Military department begins with two required years in a basic course, at the completion of which the student is qualified for the rank of sergeant in the Organized
UNIVERSITY BRIGADE

Reserves. This training is followed by two years of optional advanced work. The men in the advanced course are assigned the command of the basic students. A student attains a rank of Second Lieutenant in his first year of advanced training, and may, in his second year, receive a ranking anywhere between First Lieutenant and Colonel. Besides the instruction while attending school, the advanced course includes a six weeks' training period at a summer camp. The purpose of this camp period is to give the student more complete instruction and practical experience than can be given at the University because of the lack of space and equipment. The Cavalry, Infantry, and Engineers go to Camp Custer, Michigan; the Coast Artillery and Signal Corps to Fort Sheridan, Illinois, and the Field Artillery to Camp McCoy, Wisconsin.

Upon the completion of the University training the advanced student is awarded the rank of Second Lieutenant in the Organized Reserves, and he may advance in rank according to his interest and diligence. This progress is made by study in the more advanced courses and further and practical training in camp. This instruction is extremely valuable in that it not only provides trained officers for the country in case of an emergency, but drills the students in military discipline which is so influential in the character building of the men themselves.
The Cadet Staff of the University of Illinois Reserve Officers Training Corps is made up of the Student Colonel of the Brigade, who represents his own unit, a Major from each of the other five units, and the seven Lieutenant Colonels. The duties of these men in this capacity are the execution of military orders given out by the department.

The Student Colonel together with the Majors of the Cadet Staff make up the Brigade Staff. The Cadet Colonel is the commandant of the Brigade and the senior officer of the Brigade Staff. The Adjutant is responsible for issuing all orders and for all clerical work.

These officers are in complete command of the retreat ceremonies which are held in the Armory every week, and the efficiency of the entire brigade is dependent upon the harmonious functioning of the staff.
The students at this University and the other loyal citizens of Illinois, take a justifiable pride in the excellence and conduct of our R.O.T.C. Brigade and give it their continued support, as has been the case since the inception of military training here in 1868.

Our 1936-37 first semester R.O.T.C. enrollment of 4208 physically fit young men and potential leaders in their generation, is the largest in the history of the University.

A course in motorized field artillery, with new guns and motor vehicles, was added to the curriculum this year, in order to keep abreast of the latest developments in this arm of the service.

The conduct, interest in their work, and the soldierly appearance of our R.O.T.C. students are subjects of frequent and favorable comment by members of the faculty and other citizens of the community and State.

The public demonstration given in our Brigade Review on Military Day, each year, shows the benefit of military training to the individual student, and justifies the pride and honor felt by the army officers and enlisted men in being associated with this fine organization of selected young men who, because of their physical and mental fitness, have been permitted to enroll in the University R.O.T.C.

Fred R. Brown
Colonel, Infantry, U.S.A.
Commandant
The Military Council is the student governing body of the R.O.T.C. department of the University. It is composed of the Student Colonel, the Lt. Colonels of each of the units, the Brigade Staff, and a representative of each of the military organizations. A member of the faculty of the R.O.T.C. is chosen each year as an advisor, the present advisor being Capt. A. G. Mathews. This organization's chief function is to serve as a link between the students of the R.O.T.C. and the regular army officers.

In addition to this cooperative function the council is the governing and coordinating body of the units and organizations. It is the means by which the principles and procedures of the department are conveyed to the student members of the R.O.T.C. Of its members, those representing the organizations are elected, while the others are automatically members as long as they maintain their rank and standing in the University.
MILITARY COUNCIL

Others of its functions include supervision of the Military Ball, the Officers Ball, the annual Military Show, the University Horse Shows, and the dances given by the various other organizations in the department. Recommendations of medals and other awards given to outstanding students of the brigade are also made by this body.

Last year, the “Millini,” the official publication of the R.O.T.C. which is issued on Military Day, was resumed largely through the efforts of the council. This publication contained a complete review of all military activities.

All of the profits from the student functions of the Military Department, such as the dances and shows, are turned over by the council to the Military Special Unit Fund for administration by the University Commandant. This fund is used to purchase new equipment and to make such improvements not allowed for in the regular grants of the Federal and State governments.
FIELD ARTILLERY

The largest unit in the brigade, the Field Artillery, has two complete regiments, each with its own Lieutenant Colonel and staff of officers. The first year in the basic course is spent in drilling and in learning the fundamental working principles of the large 75 mm. field guns. The second year students were mounted until this year, when the addition to the military equipment of eight trucks made possible the motorization of the unit.

Experience in the handling of the large guns is obtained by the Advanced Field Artillery students during the summer session at Camp McCoy. Here they are engaged, in addition to service practice, in the firing of these guns and receive a complete knowledge of the technique by spending a period of time in the various official capacities from private to battery commander.

Harold W. Busch
Lt. Colonel

Millard E. Castle
Lt. Colonel
With the advent of aircraft into modern warfare, the Coast Artillery has assumed, in addition to its previous duties, the handling of the large coast and field guns, the anti-aircraft weapons. In the summer camp at Fort Sheridan the Advanced Coast Artillery Corps receives practical experience in the actual firing of anti-aircraft guns, machine guns, and 155 mm. guns. They also receive training in marksmanship practice with the rifle and pistol.

This camp period in addition to the basic course instruction in military fundamentals, scouting, patrolling, map reading, and drill, and the advanced training including the command of the basic troops, constitutes the training of the four year Coast Artillery student and prepares him for the rank of Second Lieutenant in the Reserve Corps.
CAVALRY

The Cavalry, one of the most popular units in the University Brigade, is, in the basic course, devoted mainly to instruction in riding and marksmanship. The first year student learns the technique of riding and of mounted drill. In the second year, training in the care of the horses is also received. The work in the advanced course consists of more intensive instruction in these same subjects and gives the student officers an opportunity to exercise the commands.

The summer instruction for the advance students, which is given at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Michigan, includes riding, drilling, further instruction in the care and keeping of horses, combat problems, marksmanship, and the use of the cavalry weapons. Considerable time is given to marksmanship with the service rifle, the R.O.T.C. firing the same course laid down for the regular army.
ENGINEER CORPS

The Engineer Corps specializes in more technical work than the majority of the other units. Much time is devoted to construction work and construction problems. For these men, therefore, the six weeks summer camp period at Camp Custer is very valuable. Lack of space, time, and adequate equipment decreases considerably the amount of work they are able to accomplish during the school sessions.

The use of firearms, riding, building of temporary fortifications and bridges, over both land and water, and the handling and use of explosives are all a part of the regular camp curriculum.

In addition to these, the usual parades and drills are held each day. Swimming, boxing, baseball, and tennis occupy the leisure hours during the camp period.
INFANTRY

In the basic Infantry course the main instruction is devoted to fundamental drilling, and to the use of the rifle. The student is also taught combat principles, marksmanship, map reading, elementary machine gun drill, leadership, scouting and patrolling. The advanced course receives more extensive training in these same fields with the emphasis placed on leadership and command.

An important portion of the advanced training is received in the summer session at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Michigan. Here with students from the Universities of Wisconsin, Michigan, Michigan State, and Knox and Ripon Colleges they are given more practical experience. The instructions consist of the firing of all weapons used by the Infantry, the exercise of command during drills and firing, a practice march with an overnight bivouac, and a night attack problem.
The outstanding function of the Signal Corps is the establishment of communication lines. Therefore, most of the practice in the basic course is an assembling and using military telephones and wireless. The advanced course work involves more technical experience in communication work than does the basic course.

The third year students, with those from the Universities of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Ohio State, attend a camp session at Fort Sheridan. Field problems, designed to require the use of all field equipment under practical conditions, are employed for instruction along with the use of the pistol and the duties of the company officer.

During the last week of camp training the students of each school have the opportunity of working out a practical problem. The students from the other schools act as the privates and non-commissioned officers.
George Huff Gymnasium was the scene of the annual Military Ball on April 3, 1936. The Ball was under the auspices of the Military Council with Cadet Colonel William Phillips Talbot acting as chairman. A capacity crowd of twelve hundred couples attended; the number of tickets being limited only to military cadets and to a few other students by petition.

The Gymnasium was decorated in a fitting military fashion. Guidons of the different units were placed about the room to designate the places where the cadets of various units were to assemble between dances, and the corners of the room were ornamented with one-pound guns and stacked rifles. The walls were decorated with company and battery flags, and over the orchestra was placed a plaque containing a drawing of a large American eagle. To form a contrast to the stern military decorations, and to lend a touch of the coming spring, the ceiling was hung with long white streamers. Streamers were also hung from the edge of the balcony, and insignias of the different units were placed at various intervals. The band stand was draped in red, white, and blue bunting, and large American flags were placed on either side.
THE programs of gold metal, bound by leather thongs were decorated with a black silhouette presenting a profile of the Greek God Mars in the foreground and a military officer in the background.

The cadets were dressed in their full military uniforms, while other guests were attired in formal evening clothes. The colorful spring forms of the girls were in gay contrast to the khaki-colored uniforms of the cadet officers.

George Olsen with his "music of tomorrow" was the orchestra for the occasion, and his wife, Ethel Shutta, the featured entertainer. At various intervals during the dance, novel numbers were presented by members of the band.

A fitting climax to the ball was reached at eleven o'clock when hundreds of couples formed ranks for the grand march. They were led by Cadet Colonel William Phillips Talbot and Miss Betty James, and passed in review before Colonel Fred R. Brown and Mrs. Brown who were the honored guests for the evening. Only the cadets in full military uniform and their partners were allowed to participate in this promenade.

High-ranking non-commissioned officers of the basic course admitted the couples to the dance. They formed a guard at each of the doors leading to the dance floor and acted as directors for the grand march.

The committee for the Military Ball of 1937 consists of Cadet Colonel Paul W. Neidhardt, the seven Lieutenant Colonels, and two Majors from the Brigade Staff, the committee being much smaller than in former years because of the new ruling by the Student Senate.

The programs of gold metal, bound by leather thongs were decorated with a black silhouette presenting a profile of the Greek God Mars in the foreground and a military officer in the background.

The Officers' Ball, the only exclusive military dance of the year, was held in the Park Ball-room on December 18, 1936. Its attendance was restricted to advanced course R.O.T.C. students, faculty officers, reserve officers, and other military officials, all of these being required to attend in full military uniform. Complimentary tickets were given only to army men, the single exception being President A. C. Willard. The dance was supervised by the Military Council with William Lierman, Major in the Brigade Staff, acting as chairman.

The ballroom was decorated so as to give an impressive military atmosphere. The walls were hung with company flags and guidons, and bunting was draped over the band-stand. One-pound guns and other equipment from the Armory were placed in the corners, and rifle stacks were placed about the room.

The music for the ball was furnished by Ivan Morgan, and his orchestra, who originally came from Pasadena, California, where they played under the name of George Trier. Throughout the evening the dancers were entertained by several novelty numbers and the playing of University songs by the band.

The year 1936-1937 witnessed the setting up of the new organization known as the Men's Independent District Association. It is the purpose of this organization to provide for all independent men the means of participation in extra-curricular activities as well as to develop fellowship among them and further their interests on the campus.

In order that such extensive aims might be carried out it was necessary to divide the campus into twenty-seven districts. Each has a president, social chairman, and athletic chairman who are elected by the men residing in the district. These officers in turn serve on three boards: namely, the Executive Board, the Social Board, and the Athletic Board.

Most of the activity this past year has been directed toward the task of bringing to light the need for men's dormitories on this campus. A report upon existing housing conditions was well received at Springfield by the legislature, resulting in the visit of a senatorial committee to investigate the situation.

In the field of social affairs, the M.I.D.A. has worked in conjunction with the W.G.S. to promote two large dances and other social functions for the independent students. Plans were also made for a full program of intramural sports to be put into effect next year.
WOMAN’S GROUP SYSTEM

This is the twenty-third year of the Woman’s Group System, the organization of all University women who have not chosen to live in residence halls or to join a sorority. Woman’s Group System is also a part of Woman’s League, which attempts to integrate the activities and interests of all the University women. The president of the Woman’s Group System is also vice-president of Woman’s League. A body composed of the officers, committee chairmen, district chairmen of the Woman’s Group System and the presidents of all the groups constitutes the Second Council of Woman’s League. Every Monday Second Council convenes both by itself and as a part of First Council where it receives the benefits of announcements of interest to all University women.

Every unorganized woman is assigned to a group in the fall and is invited to become an interested, permanent member of that group, but she maintains the characteristic of independence by being able to terminate or transfer group membership at any time. Some of the thirty-two groups are group houses; others are made up of the University women living within a certain geographical district of the Twin Cities. Each group has its own traditional functions and songs, its own parties, dances, banquets, teas, and a social and business meeting each Monday night. Groups are eligible to participate in the various University competitive activities such as the Y.W.C.A. doll show at Christmas, Homecoming decorations, and stunt shows.

Besides these individual group activities, Woman’s Group System offers a varied program of social events: the combined parties for all group members once a month, a tea for alumnae at Homecoming, a hike, and other athletic events and tournaments.

The annual Woman's Group System sing in which the groups compete for a cup, is sponsored by the Campus Mothers Club. Under the guidance of this club, which is composed of housemothers in homes where Woman's Group System girls reside, the sing has become an event of increasing importance and interest to the campus. A mixer dance is given jointly each month with the Independent Council to provide opportunities for independent men and women to become acquainted. The annual Banquet honoring all senior women is held in May. It is at this occasion that all cups are awarded and the names read of all those receiving honors for the year.

Woman's Group System fosters high scholarship among independent women by presenting a cup to the group having the highest scholastic average each semester, and an individual cup to the highest ranking Woman's Group System member in each class. Many from this group, because of their diligence and sincere effort in activities are elected each year to the honorary organizations of Mortar Board and Torch.

This year a series of faculty forums in the group homes was begun. The Independent Informal presented together with the Independent Council became a major campus social function. Other social events were the Christmas style show and musicale, the new-student tea immediately following registration, and the inter-district bridge tournament.

An educational program for the furtherance of interest in student activities was also begun in the Second Council with a series of speeches by activity leaders. Several exchange dinners between group houses and "open houses" to which members of other groups were invited, enabled independent women to become better acquainted.

THE GROWTH OF THESE TWO INSTITUTIONS IS INDICATIVE OF THE SERVICES THEY HAVE RENDERED

IT'S EASY TO TELEPHONE HOME......

YOUNG men and women away at school will find it easy to keep in touch with home affairs if they will telephone parents and friends regularly. A telephone call takes but a few minutes away from school activities. You tell the news and you hear the news. Parents will enjoy and appreciate a regular telephone call each week—it eases their minds as to your health and well-being and gives them a sense of participation in the exciting events of campus life. Bell System lines reach everywhere—the cost is small, wherever you call.

Take advantage of the bargain Person-to-Person and Station-to-Station night rates which are now in effect every evening after 7 P.M. and all day Sunday.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

WHERE breath-taking beauty, the nation's finest dance music, and refined company combine to assure an evening of perfect enjoyment. Nowhere in the nation—or world—are these two famous places of amusement equalled, much less surpassed, in their dazzling splendor. They MUST be seen to be fully appreciated!

John Deere Gave to the World the Steel Plow

The year was 1837. The place, Grand Detour, Illinois. John Deere, the village blacksmith, had been challenged... His friend, Lewis Crandall, had threatened to "go back East if you can't build me a plow that'll scour."

Crandall's problem was the problem of the bustling West. He had heard the talk of sturdily pioneers up and down the wagon trails. "It's the richest soil that lies outdoors," they said. "But no plow'll ever turn it, once the sod is broken."

No need to tinker with the cast-iron and wood plows brought from the East, concluded Deere. Only a plow with a highly-polished surface could scour its way through this sticky soil.

...A highly-polished surface, mused the blacksmith.

Fortunately, indeed, that the sun shone brightly the morning John Deere went to the community's sawmill to repair a broken shaft. Its brilliant rays bounced from the polished surface of a broken saw blade into the alert eyes of John Deere. Wait... that's it... steel... steel for plows... no soil could stick to that smooth surface.

Day and night he worked, perfecting his great idea... building the plow of his dreams. Into the field he took it... back to his shop for changes... out again and back again, until he knew it was right.

A memorable day it was when, surrounded by skeptics and well-wishers, John Deere turned a clean furrow with his new steel plow. He had conquered the prairie soil... he had given new hope to the pioneers of the West... he had made possible the permanent settling of a great agricultural empire.

Now, Lewis Crandall could stay and farm his rich acres.

Little did John Deere realize that his name was to be burned deep into the history of agricultural progress. Humble, yet proud of his workmanship... practical, yet with vision enough to sense the needs of the times, he built plows that set the standard of plow quality the world over.

"I'll never put my name on an implement that hasn't in it the best that is in me," John Deere once said. That was his ruling pride, the ideal which has guided the organization that bears his name today.

Eleven great factories, building equipment for every farming operation... branch houses in every principal farming area... thousands of dealers selling and servicing John Deere goods—these are the living, thriving monuments to the man who gave to the world the steel plow, one hundred years ago.

Your photograph by Paul Stone-Raymor, Ltd., has a subtle quality of distinction which sets it apart from the ordinary...

These portraits are striking for their cleverness, distinctive for their attractiveness and outstanding for their naturalness.

In years to come you will want to reorder prints of Paul Stone pictures from the negatives kept in our permanent files.

The most valuable of all business assets, confidence and good will, exist for us among a wide scope of school publications.

Complete confidence in one's own ability is one thing, and to have that confidence repeatedly justified is another. This year, we have again been chosen engravers of the Illio.
