A YEAR BOOK PUBLISHED BY THE CLASS OF 1921 AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

VOLUME TWENTY-SEVEN

FOREWORD

It has been the privilege of the men and women of the Class of 1921 to see the fine spirit of Illinois live proudly through the trials of a great war; and it has been their greater privilege to see that spirit broaden and deepen with the vigorous expansion of the University as the Illini have returned in the great Homecoming year. The makers of the 1921 Illio have tried to catch the significance of that growing spirit and to express something of it on these pages; it is their sincere hope that the result of their efforts will not be altogether unworthy of the greatness of their inspiration.
DEDICATION

DAVID KINLEY, Ph.D., LL.D., Acting President of the University. Because, for twenty-seven years, he has given himself untiringly to the service of the University, successively as Assistant Professor of Economics, Dean of the College of Literature and Arts, Director of the courses in business administration, Dean of the Graduate School, Vice-President of the University, and Acting President;

Because, through a quarter century of remarkable growth and substantial attainment, his has been the greatest single influence in the molding of a Greater University;

Because, of his devoted loyalty to Illinois, for whose future no man has a broader vision or a higher ideal;

Because, of his sympathetic interest in undergraduate activities,—an interest to which he has given of his time and energy, and which is expressed by his steadfast faith in the men and women of Illinois, seven generations of whom have had faith in him, and to whom his door is always open; and

Because, these attributes, reflected in a gracious simplicity of manner and a kindly, human understanding, have compelled the love and respect of thousands of Illini, who are better men and women for having known his influence, we dedicate the Nineteen Twenty-one Illio.
Illinois! Through the green arches of fresh-leaved trees, the tower of University Hall, as we look upon it for the last time, means all at once more than brick and wood, more even than a landmark of the University—it has become a landmark in our lives, a symbol of all that Illinois has given, all that Illinois has meant. . . . And although Time's shadowy finger will trace the years as they pass into the Great Shadow without leaving a single impression upon the dial's face, we will not forget, Illinois . . . we would not forget!
Falling leaves, a golden sun through the morning mist . . . summer is waning and autumn has come; but as the Nature’s brilliant beauty comes to its melancholy end, the life at the University begins afresh, with the vigor of new enthusiasm, new aspirations, which will fructify the budding spring with those rich gifts which Illinois bestows upon those of her children who have served her faithfully.
Wherever men travel, or work, or live, they owe to the practical scientist, the engineer, the means for straightening the crooked ways, the tools, the physical comforts of civilization; and it is from Illinois that many a young man, going out to take his part in building our complex world, has learned the first lesson of service—Build Strong!
Among its more modern children University Hall stands proudly, the patriarch of Illinois; and true Illini, having learned first to laugh at its ungraceful symmetry, come finally to love its vine-clad walls, and to appreciate its honest solidity as the finest symbol of the spirit of Illinois.
This proud avenue, the central channel of Illinois life, extends beneath the arching elms and maples which have become a noble memorial to Professor Burril, who planted them here some fifty years ago.
The Gothic richness of this view of Uni Hall surprises and silences the modern scoffers at its rambling old decay. With a gargoyle or two to lend a note of terror to its facades, it might well stand for some mediaeval fortress of religion or learning.
Ivy covered, shaded by arching trees, the Law Building has a stately dignity that embodies the ideals of honesty, of respect for the rights of others, and of striving for better things that make the profession of Lincoln honored on our campus.
Within these vine-clad walls our modern alchemists, by formulae more potent than any philosopher's stone, transmute base earths for the profit of mankind, and turn dross to gold by the Promethean fire of science.
Those who have centered their University interests in this building, and in the ideals for which it stands, realize and cherish, the significance of the tribute so simply and yet so amply paid: "The wealth of Illinois is in her soil, and her strength lies in its intelligent development."
The Library tower watches over Illinois; and it watches well, for in its majestic elegance, in its complete symmetry, and in its simple integrity it typifies the University's ideal of education.
The doorway of University Hall is the doorway to Illinois; and the fine proportion, the elegant perfection of its simple architecture make doubly significant the words carved upon its lintel.
This ivy-mantled tower has sheltered ten generations of Illinois men; and even while its great clock has summoned them to their tasks, silently measuring their progress through the years, it has taught them the melancholy lesson that although there is time for each thing, there is not time enough for all.
In high warehouses that overlook the sea and the world's shipping, in busy railway terminals, in quiet bank offices, and in many a humbler trading place, men who have made America's commercial greatness a wonder to the world will think back, sometimes, to Illinois, and see again, in kindly memory, the buildings which shelter the College of Commerce.
The soft radiance of festivity has streamed between these graceful columns, there is a score of memories in the music that drifts from the high windows—the gay, fine spirit, the broad vision, the dignity of Illinois women is superbly expressed in the gracious nobility of the Woman's Building.
Lincoln Hall is the University's monument to Illinois' greatest citizen, and in its simple statefulness there are embodied the ideals for which it stands; integrity, loyalty, and gentle kindliness.
Wisps of tender melodies, memories of brave actors behind dim footlights, the stirring cheer that tells of another Illini championship won—soft, moonlit spring nights, when the dying notes of LOYALTY drift like a benediction into the stillness—ay, Romance itself envelops the Auditorium, and steals thence into our hearts.

CYRIL GEORGE HOPKINS
Born July 22, 1866—Died October 6, 1919.

Cyril George Hopkins was born near Chatfield, Minnesota on July 22, 1866. He was appointed Chemist in the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Illinois in 1894; Professor of Agronomy and head of the Department of Agronomy in 1900, and served in that capacity and as Vice-Director of the Experiment Station, until his death at Gibraltar on October 6, 1919. Doctor Hopkins had spent the year 1918-19 as head of the Agricultural division of the American Red Cross Commission to Greece.

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

Into the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences have come this year more than two thousand four hundred forty students who seek the thorough humanistic and scientific training which helps to make liberally educated men and women rather than mere technologists. For the A.B. degree the student must have a major in one of the twenty-five recognized subjects, which, according to his choice, may lead in the direction of medicine, law, education, journalism, home economics or social service, or he may take a more specialized curriculum in chemistry and chemical engineering, leading to the B.S. degree.

By the University policy of unification of departments, all of the work in English, rhetoric, mathematics, chemistry, biology, modern languages, psychology, history, etc., for students in all the colleges of the University located at Urbana, is done in the great College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, which has a faculty of two hundred sixty.

College of Agriculture

The College of Agriculture, as at present organized, functions along four distinct lines: First, investigation into the farming problems that have special application to Illinois conditions; second, the Extension Service through the Farmers' Institutes, the County Farm Bureaus and the County Farm Home Bureaus; third, a soil survey which locates, describes, and maps all the different soil types of the state; fourth, instruction to Agricultural and Home Economics students.

The Department of Home Economics is organized in the College of Agriculture, and besides giving instruction to some 500 students, it maintains an Extension Service quite similar to that maintained by the Agricultural Department.
College of Engineering

The work of the College of Engineering is designed to train young men to become technical experts in a great variety of the divisions of engineering science; and the Engineering Experiment Station is organized for the conduct of research work in engineering and for the publication of bulletins presenting the results of investigations which have been completed. With its faculty of over 100 teachers of technical subjects and with a student enrollment in excess of 1700, the College of Engineering is one of the largest, and it is recognized as one of the most important, of the engineering schools in the world. The Engineering Experiment Station is the first of its kind to be organized, and it has successfully completed a large number of important investigations which have brought great prestige to the University. Up to the present time, the Engineering Experiment Station has published 114 Bulletins and 8 Circulars.

The College of Engineering has graduated nearly 3400 students, and it has afforded instruction to more than twice this number. It is rendering a service of peculiar importance to the State of Illinois in that its graduates are taking an active part in the development of the natural and manufacturing resources of the State. While nearly one-half are residents of Illinois, the graduates of this College are found in practically every state in the Union and in many foreign countries. Many of the important engineering structures of the country, such as bridges, viaducts and buildings, have been designed and constructed by our graduates.

College of Commerce

The College of Commerce, one of the youngest colleges on the campus, has an enrollment of more than fifteen hundred students, which is almost double the enrollment of the first quarter of 1918-1919. The students of this college have a choice of eleven curriculums, the most popular being general business, accountancy, industrial administration, foreign commerce and banking. Each curriculum combines technical and cultural subjects in such a way as to offer the students a general education along business lines. Women as well as men are awakening to the need of a collegiate training in business; the former group now comprises about ten per cent of the entire enrollment. The best evidence of the growing importance of commercial education in Illinois is the inability of the college to meet the demands for its graduates. Many business men who formerly scoffed at the idea of employing “college boys” now express a preference for them over the practically trained man. This preference is rapidly growing stronger. With its growth we may expect a corresponding growth in the enrollment of the College of Commerce.
College of Law

Law is in a state of constant strain and flux in the effort to safeguard the greatest number of human wants and interests with the least sacrifice of those conflicting with them. Ultra-individualism has characterized our common law; social interests have been slighted. In general the idea of a state university law school is to promote the scientific study and development of the law along practical lines, in accordance with a true social sense of justice; to improve the law by training better and more progressive lawyers; to keep in touch with new problems of the law and to take some part in their investigation and solution; to help arouse the bar of the State to a larger interest in possible reforms and improvements in the law, and especially to inspire those who are preparing for the bar. The law school is thus not only a teaching center, but a laboratory for disinterested research for the criticism of faulty concepts and the promulgation of good ones. It exercises an influence on the profession and on the growth of the law. The faculty may be regarded as a law firm retained in behalf of the people of the State to study and criticize the product of our courts and legislatures, and to digest and formulate the steady grist of legal materials along scientific lines for the public welfare. The Law School aims to impress the duty which every lawyer owes to the State and to his profession, to assist in all movements looking to the improvement in our procedure, our court systems and our standards of administering justice.

Dean of Men

The office of the Dean of Men is the agency through which the University and the students work together in character building. The activities of the office include the management of the Students' Hospital Association, the supervision of rooming houses, aid in finding employment for the students who are working their way through school, and information and advice on every conceivable subject.

Speaking of the office of Dean of Men, Dean Clark says: "The greatest service which the University of Illinois has done and will do for the State is in the development of the character of its students and in their training for responsible citizenship. It is my hope that as time goes on and numbers increase as they are bound to do, we shall continue to lay more and more stress upon the importance and necessity of self-reliance, honesty, self-control, and personal cleanliness of life in our students."

Twenty-five
Dean of Women

Several dreams of University women have been realized since Dean Mason's arrival at the University. The new Woman's Residence Hall, a real home for women, has been completed and put in running order. Living and health conditions have been improved and a special physician has been attached to the University's health department to care for the needs of the women.

Another improvement in the office of the dean of women has been in its closeness to the students. Personal contact between the dean and students, so lacking in the past, has been established with the result that the needs of the women are now more thoroughly understood.

Dean Mason has been active in promoting the growth of self-government units and in other improvements aimed to meet the growing needs of the women who are enrolling in the University in increasing numbers.

College of Medicine

The College of Medicine of the University of Illinois requires for entrance fifteen units of high school work from an accredited High School, eight units of which must be in prescribed subjects; and two years of collegiate work in a recognized College of Liberal Arts and Sciences or University, forty semester hours of which must be in prescribed subjects.

The B. S. degree is conferred upon students in the College of Medicine at the completion of the first two years of the curriculum, provided certain standards of scholarships have been met. For the degree of Doctor of Medicine the completion of the four-year curriculum and a year of internship in an approved hospital are required.

The number of students registered in the College for the year 1919-1920 is 265.

Great efforts have been made to establish a research atmosphere in this College so that the student will become infected with this idea and apply the same in the practice of medicine. This has been especially true of the work in the first two years. With the clinical facilities that will become available through the affiliation with the Department of Public Welfare, the clinical instruction in this College will be placed on a very much better basis. In addition to this, there will be ample opportunity for the development of the research spirit in the work of these two years. The new buildings that will be erected under this plan will consist of a clinical laboratory building, an eye and ear infirmary, an orthopedic institute and a psychopathic institute. This is but the first step toward the establishment of one of the largest medical institutes in the country.

The College is situated in the west side hospital district of Chicago. This part of the city is one of the greatest medical centers in the world.
College of Dentistry

There are enrolled in the College of Dentistry at the present time 196 students distributed as follows: Freshmen, 108; Sophomores, 41; Juniors, 28; Seniors, 15; Special, 4.

The small Senior enrollment is due to the fact that the department changed in 1916 from a three to a four year curriculum. The present Senior Class represented the transitional year. The relatively small enrollment in the Sophomore and Junior classes is due to the war program.

The facilities of the college at the present time permit only 100 Freshmen, although over 200 applications for the Freshman Class were received this fall.

The budget appropriations made by the Board of Trustees for the session 1919-20 amount to $65,040.00. While this sum does not include the salaries of teachers who are members of both faculties in medicine and dentistry, and does not include the expense of maintaining the laboratories in the departments of anatomy, chemistry, physiology, pathology, etc., it is, nevertheless, inadequate for the purposes at hand. The department, however, is probably not unique in this particular.

Our future hopes include a new building which will house the college in terms of adequate equipment, space, heat, light, etc.

The trend of dental education is most encouraging. The Dental Faculties Association, which is made up of ten of the best university dental schools in the country, have voted to require one year of college for admission to the dental curriculum beginning with the session 1921. It is hoped that as soon after as is consistent with the needs, two years of college may be required. Then the dental student and the medical student will be on an educational parity. When this condition has been reached, all of the fundamental sciences may be taken by the two groups in the same class-room. The dentist will then be in deed and in truth a medical specialist, and will be able to functionate with the physician in both the prevention and treatment of diseases.

School of Pharmacy

The School of Pharmacy was filled to overflowing this year, no doubt in part as the result of so many young men returning from the war and taking up their school work anew. Two hundred and ten students were enrolled—the utmost limit of the school’s capacity and a dozen or more who came later were turned away. This is an increase over last year of nearly one hundred students. One of the faculty members was retired through having reached the age limit and one of the younger men resigned. Three additions to the faculty have been made during the year and there are now eight full-time and one part-time faculty members. The annual budget of the School of Pharmacy amounts to $29,374. The courses offered comprise a two-year course leading to the degree of Graduate in pharmacy, which prepares young men and young women for pharmacy as practiced in the retail drug store; also a three-year course leading to the degree of Pharmaceutical Chemist which prepares for manufacturing pharmacy as carried on in pharmaceutical industries and comprises chiefly the manufacture and testing of drugs and chemicals.

One Hundred Twenty-five
BUILDINGS USED BY THE CHICAGO DEPTS.
A note of sadness, like a minor strain, ran through the joyous symphony of the forty-eighth commencement. This secondary tone reached its highest pitch when the class marched over to the home of President James, whom illness had confined to the house, after the commencement exercises, and sang, “By Thy Rivers.” It was noticeable also at the class day exercises on Tuesday, when the list of gold-star Illini of the class of 1919 was read by the historian, Harold Boomer Johnston.

Appreciation of the 653 “nineteeners” who carried on through the hard war years the traditions and standards of the University, was shown by returning alumni at commencement time.

Dr. Frank Arthur Vanderlip, an old Illinois man, who served as chairman of the War Savings Committee during the war, addressed the graduates Monday morning on the general theme of the increase of their opportunities and responsibilities over graduates of preceding years. He is regarded as America’s first authority on international finance, and he gave this cryptic piece of advice: “Don’t think you must take the job that pays the highest salary—get a position which offers you opportunities to learn.” Many of the old-time lecturers pricked up their ears on hearing this and looked in vain at the flowing sleeves of their black gowns, wondering where they could jot down this nugget of wisdom for future reference.

The senior ball of ’19 failed to be a ball, but everyone agreed it was a mighty good dance, in spite of the fact that it was held informally in the Masonic Temple. Senior breakfast, doubtless the best-remembered social get-together of all four years in college, because it is the last, was the scene of farewells among many who had formed fine friendships during those four years.

The Honor System was adopted at Illinois in the spring of 1919, by the consent of the University Senate and the Council of Administration, and by a three-fourths affirmative vote of all the students then enrolled. It has been in successful operation for a year, and it may be said to have become a youthful tradition, which it is to be hoped will grow stronger and become more deeply rooted in the hearts and minds of Illinois men and women. Its future success depends upon the cooperation of the entire student body, the sympathetic passibility of the faculty, and the devotion to duty of those elected to the Student Honor Commissions.

The moment a student leaves the University he comes into the sphere of the Alumni Association. He looks to it for help in finding other graduates, for help in organizing Illini clubs, for any information whatever about the vast Illinois family scattered all over the world. The Alumni Association arranges the reunions and other alumni affairs at Commencement, compiles and publishes the Alumni Quarterly and Fortnightly Notes (including the war directories), The Alumni Record, and indexes of thousands of Illini who did not graduate and a separate file of the 5,000 in the war. The officers of the Association are on the third floor of the Administration Building, where all visiting Illini will always find a hearty welcome.

THE SEMI-CENTENNIAL ALUMNI RECORD

FRANK W. SCOTT '01—Editor

"When men live in woods and forests," said Sydney Smith, "as is the case, of course, in remote American settlements, it is the duty of every man to gratify the inhabitants by telling them his name, place, age, office, virtues, crimes, children, fortune, and remarks."

The graduates of Illinois living in all kinds of settlements all over the world have gratified the inhabitants in accordance with Sydney's remark, by telling these facts and many others in the

SEMI-CENTENNIAL ALUMNI RECORD

The book contains 1230 pages and a dozen illustrations, detailed biographies of 9350 holders of the bachelor's degree, 771 with advanced degrees, 47 honorary alumni, 139 trustees, 1029 members of the faculty.

It also contains the annals of the University, including the doings of the alumni; a historical sketch of the first fifty years, written from the point of view of student and alumnus; a list of Illini in the war; a geographical index telling where who is, and interesting tables about alumni kinships.

This Record of its Alumni forms the principal chapter in the history of the first half century of the University.

The Victory Homecoming

The Victory Homecoming of 1919! Never in the ten years since the first return of the Illini tribesman has there been such a gathering on the old hunting ground; never have there been happier meetings, or more thrilling tales of valorous deeds; never have the war-whoops of the returning counselors rung out more exultantly or with more deadly effect; and never has greater glory come to the tribe than that brought by the stout-hearted young Braves of Zuppke in their massacre of the Stagg-men of Chicago, on November first. From battlefield and camp, from prairie and mountain, from town and country-side, after two years of exile, the tribesmen came to mingle again with their fellow-warriors, to recount the deeds of yore, to feel again the thrill of battle, to re-live for a few brief hours the golden days of youth. They came by the hundreds, many bringing their squaws, a few their papooses, with them.

Not even the disgruntled weather-man could blight their ardor, and when a week of sullen rain and a dogged drizzle for the opening pow-wow on Friday, October 31, failed to dampen the spirit of victory, the old man gave up in despair. On Saturday afternoon, just before the great massacre, old Sol broke through the clouds to smile his approval and wish the Indians success. Against all this, what chance had the Maroons?

From Friday morning until Saturday night the home-comers were carried along on a hurrah program which lacked neither spice nor variety, but which reached the ultimate in attainment and earthly joy to most of 18,000 shouting onlookers, with the vengeful come-back of Bob Zuppke's bucks in the annihilation of the ancient enemy of the Illini tribe, to the sweet tune of 10 to 0.

Well had the young warriors prepared for the homecoming. The victory spirit was in the air, and Orange and Blue battle flags proclaimed the tidings from every shop and dwelling in the University area, while colorful "Victory Pillars" stood at attention along the leafy avenues leading to the campus. The tenseness of expectancy gripped young and old, from the most callow ex-22er, just returned from the War, even to Governor Frank O. Lowden, who heard the call of the Illini and came to lend his encouragement. It is not for us to tell of the stirring realization, of the shouting masses in the streets, of the parade of Harding's greatest college band as it led in "Loyalty," of the aerial bombs which burst overhead, sending the pennants of the rival tribes floating off in space until they disappeared over distant Uni Hall.

But when the last whistle had blown, the victorious Illini, true to the best traditions of the tribe, broke over the field, and the frenzied celebrators were swallowed up into a seething and writhing victory-singing snake dance, until the space overflowed. Then, led by the band, the happy throng pushed through the gates, down Burrill avenue, passed staid Uni Hall, finally ending up before the steps of the Auditorium, where Governor Lowden, President Kinley, and Rep. W. B. McKinley added their notes of triumph. Their enthusiasm still unspent, the cheering-mass thronged back to Illinois Field, where an optimistic committee had provided fireworks, and where the flames of the council fire were already sending their message of victory to the sky. And the shouts and songs of the victors continued.

Softly night cast its spell over old Illinois Field; the victory flames burned themselves out, the exultant war-whoops of the tribesmen were less frequent, and as the last of the flares lighted the field of battle in grotesque silhouette, the gentle harmony of "Hall to the Orange" floated back from the groups of contented Illini who betook themselves homeward for the love-feasts.

Without Dignity
THE SENIOR HOBO PARADE.

The seniors opened the "official" program with the now almost traditional Hobo Band Parade. Led by the "League of Nations Jazzaway band," some 600 'bos, answering to almost every conceivable description, but most of them pretty shaggy-looking, shuffled or were carried through the University district. George Ade, Purdue '97, but even more famous as the perpetrator of such as "The College Widow," "Fables in Shang" and "Leave it to Jane" was invited over to head the committee of judges. He described the shambling array of assorted disreputable specimens as a "phantasmagoria of tatterdemalions," but he didn't explain what that meant. Anyway there was a Stage Victory Special, a lot of bums, foreign and domestic, real and camouflaged, some Indians, and a flock of policemen, baller-dancers, washer-women, and other things described better by pictures than by words.

GOV. LOWDEN AND ACTING PRESS, KINSEY

THE SOPH-FROSH SCRAP.

The 'bos led the way to the South Campus where blood-thirsty sophomores and freshmen waited impatiently for a chance to get at each other in a series of scraps, designed to perpetuate a wire tradition without the dangers of the old cane rushes, pushball contests and sack rushes. It was the first time since 1916, and the battles, which consisted of tugs of war, pull over the line scraps, boxing and wrestling, supervised by upperclassmen, answered the requirements of safety, yet they satisfied the animal instincts of the paint-smeared warriors, and the spectators shouted their approval. A lot of perfectly nice young boys were all bloodied up but no one was badly hurt. And when the final reckoning came, the frosh led by the narrow margin of 76 to 68 points.

THE VICTORY MASS MEETING.

The pep session on the eve of the game broke all past records. Almost 7,000 hopeful Illini jammed their way into the Gym Annex, and before the meeting was well under way, Chicago was doomed. The appearance of "Shooie" Chapman '15, captain of the 1914 champions, all-American guard, and war hero, as he hobbled forward to give a few words of encouragement was the signal for a bombardment of cheers which caused the Annex to tremble for its safety. Congressman W. B. McKinley followed, and George Ade won the vociferous approval of the thousands when he said he represented Purdue in expressing "a fervent wish that Illinois shall defeat Chicago."

By that time the crowd was more than ripe, and when Bob Zuppke snapped out his song of hate, enthusiasm burst its bonds, and the crowd punctuated his remarks with thundered "amens." By the time "Zup" had finished, Governor Lowden had arrived on the scene and the crowd turned loose a big "seven for Lowden," then gave its attention to the Governor's words. Tur Wilson, president of the Illinois Union, preceded, and "G" Huff lent his moral support on the speakers platform, though he begged off on a speech.
THE CO-ED COMEBACK CARNIVAL

A Home-coming innovation, designed to bring the old boys and the young together in an evening of fun, was the Co-ed Comeback Carnival created through the women of the University. A fete, a mardi gras, a carnival all in one, the function was a riot of laughs and color which played to an overflow throng of merry makers in the Woman's Building and Morrow Hall, after the mass meeting. A "forty-niner" dance, a girls' stunt show, some male "Mack Sennett bathing beauties" and a cabaret cafe were accented, and fortune-tellers, African dodgers, nigger babies, vaudeville acts, and red lemonade were in evidence. The carnival livened up all three floors of the decorous co-ed edifice, and the happy, pushing, fun-seeking crowd was still going strong when "Pop" Wile, the campus cop, futilely strove to shoo it away when midnight came. Homecomers and undergraduates gave instant approval with the hope that the carnival will be repeated on an even larger scale next time. Thus Friday came to an end.

THE ALUMNI RE-UNION

After several hours of registration and informal gatherings in the Illinois Union rooms on Saturday morning, the alumni were called to the Auditorium, where Governor Lowden and President Kinley were the speakers at an extraordinary reunion—a meeting which sounded the keynote of a new policy for the University. George Huff, president of the Alumni Association, presided.

Governor Lowden's address was a summons directed at college men for leadership in Americanism and service. He deplored the all too frequent lack of active interest on the part of university-trained men in affairs of state and in civic and community government. To this he pointed as an obligation which the state may properly expect to be fulfilled by those who enjoy the advantages of its higher training.

"WE'RE LOYAL TO YOU ILLINOIS"

In a stirring appeal, President Kinley asked the alumni for active support of the University upon specific lines.

"The University has arrived at the stage in its career when it has urgent need of the co-operation and help of all former students. Active, positive, fighting help is needed of you. We have at present 7,400 students at Urbana, 700 more at Chicago, and we assume that this great increase is evidence that our work has been well done in past years, and we are content. While the increase in the number of our students is gratifying, yet this very increase has created a desperate situation. The number of dollars appropriated by the state has not materially increased in the past eight years, and each dollar has lost about half of its purchasing power. The number of students has doubled. We cannot continue as a first-rate institution without a big increase in revenue. We do not ask you to contribute money. But there are other things that we do ask you to do. You must preach the gospel of the state University in every highway and byway of this state. You must inform the citizens of our needs and enlist their support. When the time comes you must go to the law-makers of the state and acquaint them with our serious situation. You must go to the legislators not as supplicants, but as those determined on having the support necessary for a work worth doing."—Acting President Kinley in his Homecoming address to the alumni.

To The Illini Who Did Not Come Back.

"... Slowly into the minds of our people sank the idea that after all this great conflict across the seas was a war in which we had a vital interest. ... Slowly we became convinced that if we were to save the democratic principle and to maintain the form of government which we ourselves established on that principle, we must do our share to prevent the success of the forces of autocracy. ... Objectors were swept aside by a wave of popular feeling, and the great mass of the people of the world, disregarding argument, forgetting disputes, passing by logic, rushed into the conflict. ... To the echo of the tramp of the millions of Europe was added the echo of the tramps of the millions of America. The young men of our nation, with full realization of the personal cost involved, swept aside all barriers to their participation in the fight, gladly left behind them all that was dear, and turned their faces toward the rising sun to bear a hand in saving for the world a belief in the eternal truth of the rights of peoples to govern themselves, to mold their lives in accord with the spiritual and moral principles in which they believe, and within limits, to assure to each group and each individual, freedom of purpose and freedom in the choice of means to attain those purposes. ..."

"Of the thousands who went from our industries and schools and colleges and from every walk of life into the service of their country for this great cause, notable was the band that went from the University of Illinois. The band was notable not only in numbers but for the diversity and quality of the service which its members gave, and notable, too, because of the great loss which came to us when one hundred and eighty-four of our Illini family laid down their lives in the service of their country. ..."

"And so I come to the list of our dead. The list, as I said, numbers one hundred and eighty-four, and I am going to take time to read those names which will be immortal in our history:

LEAVES FROM THE HOMECOMING REGISTER.
Bringing with it an atmosphere of vivid, refreshing color, the May Fete ushered in the first post-war Interscholastic on the warm spring evening of May 15. A crowd which filled the bleachers and overflowed onto the green slopes of Illinois Field, welcomed it back to its traditional yearly prominence, and the ponderous cogs of the University ceased to grind while scarlet and mauve-gowned women led men's fancies to a sunny Japanese garden. Milada Krametbauer, as the Sun, was finally wooed from hiding amid the rejoicing of the people and took her place at the head of the company for the dance of the Sun Rays, the most impressive ceremony of the evening.

Friday began an ideal two days for the high school athletes. Conceived in 1893 by E. K. Hall, then director of athletics at the University, the importance of Interscholastic week has grown with each succeeding year until it has attained the foremost position in its field. Several hundred boys participated and all events were hotly contested, although no new records were made. In the final rush Oak Park bucked the field of Class A for 48 points, while University High carried off 19 points of the Class B meet. An Oak Park boy, Coffin, was awarded the Ma-wan-da shield as the best all around athlete. The meet was highly successful and authorities believed that once more a goodly crew of prospective freshmen had been initiated into the advantages which the University offered.

A special feature of the week was the review of the University Brigade by Major General Leonard Wood on Friday afternoon. The drill field was flanked on all sides by the flags of the Allies, and a salute of thirteen guns welcomed General Wood to the University. Planes from Chanute Field circled overhead during the review, and the big band toned in the atmosphere for the military setting. “I have been very much pleased with the review,” remarked General Wood as he rode back from the Armory, “and I am sincerely glad to say that the boys made a very good showing.”

Wisconsin was scheduled to bring her track and baseball teams on Friday afternoon, but for some reason the track team failed to arrive. It was decided to hold the diamond contest anyway and the Illini trounced the visitors soundly, 9 to 4. On Saturday afternoon the Indians made a clean sweep on track and diamond, winning the meet by 91 to 43, and the game by the score of 11 to 4.

Friday and Saturday nights Mask and Bauble produced Harry Leon Wilson’s “His Majesty Bunker Bean.” Competent critics declared that it was the most finished piece of acting ever put on by Illinois students and to judge from the crowded houses to which they played at the Illinois Theatre, the bulk of the people thought the same. Fred Meyer and Frances Wine had the leads and Edgar Henning displayed a touch of genius in his character portrayal of an old man.

At last came Saturday evening. Of course everyone knew that it would eventually come, but it had been so long since anyone had seen the frosh carrying water for the circus elephants, that the time for the big event seemed doubly long in arriving. Long before dusk the crowd started swarming out to Illinois Field, and by the time the Sorority relay race was won for Alpha Chi Omega, the football stands and the temporary bleachers were filled to capacity. Just as the sun dropped from sight behind University Hall the parade started. Clowns, tanks, gymnasts, cowboys, acrobats, dancers, statues, automobiles, swimmers, soldiers and a multitude of people and things so arranged and attired as to be absolutely indescribable, lumbered and ran around the cinder path on Illinois Field, while the crowd, watching them, forgot to assume that ultra-sophisticated air which higher education seems to demand, and only remembered—somewhere in the forgotten past—a little boy, with knee pants, a printed calico blouse and a frayed straw hat peeling potatoes and driving huge stakes to pay his way into the big show.

Then of a sudden the lights went on, the clowns frolicked, the tanks fought, the cowboys whooped, the dancers danced, the statues posed, the swimmers swam, the automobiles snorted and the soldiers drilled. One could see just a bit of the entire show. There was a thousand years of action jammed into an hour of exhibition, and it was too much for any normal person. Perhaps it was not as pretentious as some have been in the past, but it was a circus from start to finish—and that was what the people wanted.

Many of the organization acts were cleverly worked out and executed. That presented by Sigma Chi was awarded first honors, largely due to the exceptional dancing of R. K. Young. It was styled, “Sahara Sarah, Scream of the Desert in Her Original Shimmie,” and the act bore out the title in every detail, from glass beads and shredded wheat clothing to unexpected quivers and facial contortions of the beautiful Sarah and her slaves. Acacia’s “Why America Wins,” replete with doughboys, sailors and Red Cross nurses, was second. One organization took advantage of the “I Wanta Roam Club,” to put on “The Burning of Rome,” which portrayed the burning of the club’s chapter house. “Six Simple Stone

One Hundred Seventy-one
Stiffs" gave a statuesque interpretation of some campus celebrities, while John Barleycorn and Prohibition entered in for their share of recognition.

C. H. Schooley and D. O. Howard were winners of the double clown act, one being the chauffeur and the other the patron of a dilapidated baby carriage. The soulmates, E. A. Sandler and O. J. Crews, drew second prize with a slapstick burlesque on a lovesick couple.

In the singles, H. K. Vreeland was judged best. He represented an untamed Zulu chieftain and, with bottle in hand and bells on his toes, he coaxed laugh after laugh from the big audience. I. W. Barnett, a clever extemporaneous performer, received second prize.

As usual, the performance lasted longer than was expected, and only a part of the original audience saw the finale. Swimming Coach Ed Manley gave his farewell exhibition of the Leap of Death, and the usual number of ladies fainted.

It was a fit ending for the first post-war Circus, sending the onlookers home with the firm belief that they had witnessed a show which was the peer of anything Barnum and Bailey ever produced in their palmiest days.

GENERAL WOOD REVIEWS BRIGADE
WOMAN'S ACTIVITIES
On Women and the University

(By Allené Gregory)

"Never let your studies interfere with your University course." Irony? Yes. One associates that timeworn jest with a particularly frivolous and unworthy type of student. "Never let your student activities interfere with your university course" seems platitudinously sound advice. Yet either adage alone misses the ideal of a liberal education.

The young woman graduate goes out into a world that is for the first time in centuries beginning to take play seriously. Earnest people who had almost forgotten the meaning of recreation are learning that for the health of the social organism they must seek and restore that play spirit which our forefathers neglected. Right play is active, creative, and therefore developmental. There is amusement enough to be had for money but few people know how to play.

For four years this University has sought to teach its alumnae to work intelligently and efficiently. But there have been other lessons not less important for her citizenship. In the Woman's League she has practiced self government. In her class organization, in social clubs and fraternities, she has learned to live happily and harmoniously as a member of a large group. In the Athletic Association she has found good sportmanship and the joy of healthy bodily activity. In literary societies, dramatics and musical organizations she has shared the high form of play that is artistic creation.

At graduation the young alumna goes to her own place, a trained woman, a leader by right of superior opportunity. Whither will she lead? Let us hope, towards the realization of that Beloved Community which has been the guiding vision of good men since the world began, where joyful work and creative play have each their just part in a balanced social life.

At the close of the war the members of the Woman’s War Relief Committee found themselves with a very efficient organization whose function had entirely disappeared. To prevent this committee from disintegrating, the suggestion came to reorganize it and give it the broader purpose of general welfare work for the University. In accordance with this suggestion the Woman’s War Relief Committee has become the Woman’s Welfare Committee, a group nominally under Woman’s League and working with it, but independent in organization.

Women's Athletics at the University of Illinois are controlled by an admirable combination of faculty and students. Sport managers are elected by the Woman's Athletic Association, forming with the faculty of the Physical Education department an advisory board which confers and makes decisions on all matters of importance to be brought up in W.A.A. meetings.

Miss Louise Freer, as Director of the Department of Physical Education has done much to bring the faculty and the students together, and is responsible for much of the success of Women's Athletics at this University.

More women come out for hockey and more actually participate in the games than in any other sport at the University. The interclass games are run off in the fall, each team playing two apiece with the other three. The early closing of the University for Christmas vacation this year prevented the playing of the final of the series. This would have been the championship game between the juniors and the sophomores, the juniors having a record of three ties and two wins, while the sophomores have three wins, one tie, and one loss. It will be played in the early spring.

CAPTAIN GEORGE F. N. DAILEY
Commandant
Reserve Officers’ Training Corps

The Reserve Officers’ Training Corps established at the University of Illinois, under Act of Congress of June 3, 1916, has grown to include the three arms of the service as well as two staff corps. The Cadet Corps is organized as a reinforced brigade comprising: One Brigade of Infantry consisting of two regiments of twelve companies each, one Battalion of Field Artillery of three batteries, one company of Signal Corps, one company of Engineers, one troop of Cavalry.

The total number of students enrolled is 2,200. Men who served in the war were given university credit in military and excused from the requirements. Eighteen hundred men, who would normally have been in the brigade, took advantage of this credit to withdraw from training. The cadet officers, many of them veterans of the war, have rendered valuable and generous service.

The Commandant, Captain George F. N. Dailey, Infantry, is assisted in administration and instruction by a detail of five officers from the regular army. Captain T. J. Camp, Infantry, is executive officer and in general charge of the administrative work.

The Field Artillery officer is Captain C. A. Bennett. In February, Captain W. D. Alexander, who established the Artillery Unit, was sent to the 7th Field Artillery. Captain R. W. Grow of the Cavalry, instructs the troop.

The Supply Officer, Captain Russell D. Barnes, Infantry, (Illinois ’16) assisted by the brigade, regimental and battalion supply officers, issues all uniforms, equipment, and books required. Each student is completely uniformed and equipped with regular army supplies. The limited number of overcoats are used by the companies winning competitions.

The Infantry instruction includes Infantry drill, tactics, and ceremonies.

The Field Artillery Unit was established in April 1919. Its equipment is modern, and consists of one 3” battery, three 75 mm. guns, one 155 mm. howitzer, one 155 mm. rifle, and one 4.7” gun, all with their caissons and limbers. Fire control equipment for the battalion is available for use. Motor equipment has been supplied and includes two 5-ton tractors, four trucks, two motorcycles, and two passenger cars and motor repair truck which is a miniature machine shop. A brief course is given in ordnance, guns, and their manufacture. Practical instruction embraces drill on the various guns,
pistol practice, sub-caliber firing and maneuvering
the battery.

Signal Corps instruction includes practical work with wireless telephone and telegraph apparatus and other instruments developed in the late war.
Sufficient theory is given the student to insure a knowledge of details of construction and operation of apparatus used.

The Cavalry Unit authorized in February 1920, enrolled sixty students for its first semester’s work. Forty-six horses and sets of horse equipment have been received and the instruction in this branch of service will be practical.

The enlisted men detailed as assistants to the Commandment were all chosen from the highest grades in the army. Because of their military knowledge and experience they were commissioned at the outbreak of the war and rendered valuable services ranging from that of a Lieutenant-Colonel, General Staff, Assistant Chief of Staff, General Headquarters, A.E.F. to that of instructors at officers’ training camps. With the demobilization of the emergency army they reverted to their original grades and were stationed here to train officers. The Artillery and Cavalry detachments total sixty soldiers of the regular army.

Cadet officers are charged with the entire interior management of their respective commands. The customs and regulations of the regular army are adhered to as closely as possible and every effort is made to give the student a military education similar to that he would gain under like circumstances in the regular service.

The student’s first year is spent in an Infantry organization where he becomes familiar with small arms, and the duties common to all soldiers. After satisfactorily completing his first two semesters
he may choose, according to his qualifications, Infantry, Cavalry, Artillery, Engineers, or Signal Corps. The officers are chosen by merit, from juniors and seniors.

The Hazelton Prize Medal is given to the private of the University Brigade who is successful in the competitive drill held each spring. The winner of the medal is entitled to wear it for one year, after which it passes on to the succeeding winner.

The medal was presented for the first time in 1890 by Captain W. C. Hazelton. The requirements for each competitor were attendance in the current year for at least sixteen weeks, less than five unexcused absences in drill, and appearance at the competition in full uniform.

THE PRODUCTION

Peter Cranby and his brother-in-law, John Shelly, witness a murder scene while enjoying an all night party at a popular restaurant, during the absence of Mrs. Cranby. After arriving home Cranby found that he had by mistake taken the overcoat of the dead man. Concealed in the inner pocket of the overcoat was supposed to have been a dark brown leather wallet containing ten thousand dollars. In the meantime Mrs. Cranby returned home. The morning newspaper, containing the story of the escapade, was brought in by the maid. Cranby and Shelly took great care to conceal the paper from Mrs. Cranby.
The servant girl furnished a great deal of fun. She had a difficult time hiding the telltale coat for her master. She contributed to the intricacies of the plot by sustaining a sentimental relationship to a plumber with a grey derby, whom Cranby mistook for the third man hunter.
Two detectives were sent to the Cranby home to investigate the causes of the murder and to discover the whereabouts of the overcoat. After dodging the detectives Cranby and Shelly examined the coat and found that the inner pocket contained an empty wallet. The two queens, Polly and Madge, visit the Cranby home in hopes of finding the money, in order to receive a reward that is offered for the recovery of the money. The detectives blundered at every cue. The two queens tried to “double cross” each other in order to win in the search.
Cranby and his enterprising brother-in-law finally turned the tables on the two detectives and delivered them to their superior, Richards, chief of detectives, safely handcuffed, and at the same time the innocents were cleared. Polly Webb, the successful queen, found the money in the wallet and received the reward. Polly and Shelly became close friends. Martha, the servant girl, married the plumber with the gray derby and Mrs. Cranby forgave Peter.

“Mrs. C. A. Gille, coach for the performance of ‘Bunker Bean’, given by Mask and Bauble, should be highly praised for the careful attention that she paid to detail and ability to get characterizations of the highest order,” stated Edward Powers, a professional dramatic critic.

F. W. Meyers, as His Majesty Bunker Bean; Edward Henning, as Pops; D. M. Erb, as the Waster; B. H. Smith, as “Bal-thazar”; Frances Wine, as the “Flapper”, and Harriet Burnap, as “Grandma”, were especially praised.
Alpha Chi Omega sorority won the silver cup given to the best stunt offered at the Co-Ed Carnival, Homecoming Week, November 29 to December 1. “Follies of Homecoming” was the title of the stunt that was given. The feature of their stunt was a Dutch Dance, a Colonial Dance, and two choruses.

Chi Omega won second prize for the best stunt. Dancing featured the stunt. Delta Gamma sorority doll show stunt was very cleverly and artistically given. A French maid dressed some live dolls and placed them on sale. A customer chose a dancing doll who toe-danced. Kappa Alpha Theta’s stunt, entitled, “The Home-coming Girl”, was original, and was cleverly produced.
The Co-ed Carnival stunts were only one of the features of that entertainment, which was given for all the homecomers. Other attractions were cabarets, music and dancing, food-stands with home-made candy, popcorn balls, and salted peanuts. Gypsy fortune tellers read the dates and silhouette artists were kept busy sketching people. The Co-ed Carnival, as it is planned, will be given every year on one night of the Annual Home-coming at the University, under the auspices of the Woman's League and the Illinois Union.
Mask and Bauble

Mask and Bauble, the mother chapter of the National and Associated University players, were established in 1908 at this University.

The object of Mask and Bauble is to promote better dramatics in the universities and colleges, and to introduce the really artistic drama of the college realm. The dream of Mask and Bauble is to establish a Little Theatre at the University.

Handicapped by the war, as all activities were, Mask and Bauble struggled in keeping her ideal of better dramatics. On account of the low coffers of the organization it was necessary to present a play of lighter drama. Part of Mask and Bauble's ideal was shattered to give the students the kind of dramatics that they demanded. The students have proven that they support a light comedy to a much higher degree than that of an artistic dramatic production.

The society turned more toward its ideal of better drama in the presentation of "The Tyranny of Tears", by C. Haddon Chambers, which was given April 23 and 24, 1919. With the proper support of the student body Mask and Bauble will take its place with similar activities in the leading universites of the country.

The Pierrots have for their sole purpose the furtherance of theatrics for men in the University. These theatrics have usually taken the form of light comic operas, written and played entirely by men.

The activity of the organization which, like the activity of many other campus organizations, was hindered during the war period, has been revived this year, and if the plans are carried out the student opera will again be a permanent and annual event. Agitation has already begun and plans are being made to produce the opera this spring.

Because of the uncertain conditions an opera was temporarily abandoned and in its place Pierrots originated the scheme of vaudeville shows. These shows were so heartily received by the students that Pierrots determined to make them a permanent activity on the campus.

Pierrots have always been associated with the Illinois Union, originally being known as the Dramatic Club of the Illinois Union. Both the Union and the Pierrots realized a closer union between the two organizations would be beneficial, so during the present year such an affiliation was consummated.

There is much need and desire among the students for maintenance of lighter dramatics and it is the purpose of the Pierrots to fill just such a need and desire.

The Post Exam Jubilee

Mother Eve, looking rather young in spite of her years, was the feature of the prize-winning act presented by Kappa Sigma at the 1920 Post Exam Jubilee. "The Greatest Vamp" was the title of the skit. "A Vision of Judgment", a travesty on the Greats and Ingrates of the campus, won the second prize for Acacia.

Each year the Post Exam Jubilee, given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of supporting a missionary movement, entertains and relaxes the students' minds after the final exams at the end of the first semester.
Harry Luther's burlesque impersonation of female celebrities of the musical comedy stage, won him the first prize for the individual stunt. Arthur A. Dailey, in his classic black-face role of "Bright Lights in Black Town", carried away second prize.

Luther imitated Nora Bayes, Fay Bainter, the late Anna Held, and other famous stars of the stage.

Dailey sang the old classics of the former student shows. "I Wasn't Scared" and "Those Lazy Blues", with his pantomime poker games, were his features.
“Wise Solomon’s Follies” by Delta Phi presented a travesty on faculty members and others with a well arranged program of songs and jokes. Ilus presented a playlet entitled “His Egyptian Love.” It was marked by burlesque dancing.

Kirkpatrick and Kent, in Ten Minutes of Syncopation, made the decision of the individual stunt difficult. The musical stunt of singing, clogging and dancing by Thompson and Snively was exceptionally good.
Varsity Debating

The personnel of the fall debating team is as follows:
Affirmative:  J. H. Powell, Captain; A. T. Anderson, George Taylor
Negative:  E. A. Sandler, Captain; D. A. Wolff, A. A. Arnold

Resolved:  That Congress should enact into the law the Cummins plan for the administration of the railways.
Results:  Illinois 1, Minnesota 2.
Varsity Debating

The personnel of the spring debating team is as follows:

Affirmative: A. A. Arnold, Captain; W. M. Michael, G. L. Meyer

Negative: E. A. Sandler, Captain; George G. Gilbert, J. H. Powell

Resolved: That the employees, as such, of all industrial corporations should be allowed to elect one-third of the members of the boards of directors. All directors to have equal voting power.

Victor Galen Knight, '19, who has the record of never having been defeated in a debate, was appointed coach for the debating teams of the University.
The Senior Ball

Realizing that they will dance for the last time as students in the Gymnasium, the members of the Senior Ball Committee are preparing to make this last social function of the Class of 1920 a fitting climax to a college career that has been crowded with scholastic worries, with campus and social activities, and in some cases, with the horrors and joys of war.

On the night of June Fourteenth the seniors will cast aside all thoughts of the degrees that will be presented on the Sixteenth, they will forget all thoughts of the uncertainty of a future in the busy world away from the campus, they will forget the many good times of the past four years, they will, in fact, concentrate all thought on making their last social function their best social function.

Music, food and decorations that will present the Gymnasium Annex in a new light, that will add an atmosphere unequaled in the history of, at least, the Class of 1920—all of these things are promised by the committee. When the last dance is called at three o'clock on the morning of June Fifteenth, then will the Class of 1920 dance its way from college life into the world beyond.

The Junior Prom

When the first strains of music began to float over the light-bedazzled floor of the Gymnasium Annex on the night of February sixth, then began the 1920 Junior Prom in such splendor of decorations, such bewitchingness of lights, such uniqueness of arrangement that its success was assured the first moment that the three hundred couples took their places in the opening Grand March.

As the couples swung into the dancing, the lights—varied in color, in size and in brilliancy—began a never-ending twinkle. Papier-mache devils, guarding the entrances, blinked at the exquisiteness. Tongues of fire hung from a ceiling that was decorated to suggest a realistic Hades, and did. These same tongues swirled and flashed as the shifting lights struck them.

The dance as such was a success. The decorations as such were unique and attractive, rivaled only by the many lavish gowns that helped make the picture a perfect blend of beauty. The entire atmosphere suggested a dance of yester-years, a dance of before the war.

The Sophomore Cotillion

From the Artic Zone to Palm Beach!

This was the seeming effect produced when the Sophomore Cotillion guests stepped from the wind and snow blown streets on the evening of January ninth into the Gymnasium Annex and found awaiting them a realistic reproduction of a huge garden in the balmy days of Spring. Outside, one of the most severe storms of winter was raging and the thermometer had long passed the dreaded zero mark; inside, however, a pink and white color scheme, in which was intermingled the enticing colors and shapes of cherry blossoms, defied King Winter to disturb the dancers.

Though the cold winds swept over the Annex in a mighty roar, the first strains of the Grand March found the joy-loving Sophomores quite ready to discard all thought of the elements and revel in the pleasures of sunny syncopation.

When the evening had been danced away and two o'clock began its approach, the happy Cotillioners, though far from anxious, were ready to leave the Palm Beach atmosphere, scurry through the chill of a Champaign blizzard, and hunt out the home firesides where they might recall the pleasures of a happy and successful evening.

The Military Ball

Soldier, sailor, marine and civilian mingled together on the night of February twentieth in the Gymnasium Annex in a spirit and picture of harmony that made the Military Ball characteristic in tone and appearance, a thing apart from other social functions of the year.

Though the Military Ball, through its mixture of varied uniforms and evening clothes, was necessarily stamped with marked individuality, these alone did not complete the effect. It remained for the decorations to make the individuality entirely harmonious.

The lattice work on the booths was gracefully draped with a black and white admixture; from the center of the ceiling, converging toward the sides of the hall, red, purple, and yellow streamers hung in a sylphish, mystical fashion. That the atmosphere might be complete, a God of Mars, with piercing eyes and grotesque figure, stood in the center of the floor and surveyed the gliding couples. The 1920 Military Ball was strictly military in flavor with just the needed civilian touch to produce a harmonious whole.

The Freshman Frolic

Back in November, 1919, on the Fifteenth to be quite exact, the Freshmen came into their own. Their first days of adjustment to the University Campus had passed without bringing to them any of the real joys of belonging to the Class of 1923, but on this night, they assembled in the Gymnasium Annex and indulged in the proverbial, and annual, Freshmen Frolic.

When they entered the Gymnasium, they knew nothing of the thrills of this yearly mixer—they only knew that they had been asked to wend their way through the fall evening without a partner. Groups of women wandered in and looked around; groups of men did the same. And then, varied colored tags were distributed; an announcement was made that all bearing tags of certain colors might dance; the band of the evening began a frolicking jazz number and the Class of ’23 mixed in the first joyful evening of the many awaiting them as they ascend the scholastic ladder.

Curfew blew for them at 11:45 o’clock, but the few short hours were crowded with short, pleasure-bringing minutes. When the men and women, this time not necessarily alone, started for their respective homes, a new Illinois class had been introduced to Illinois’ social life.

One of the first thoughts which occurred to officers of the Student Brigade last fall was that of bringing the men together at other times than on the drill field. To accomplish this, and to do it in a manner that would give them a chance to mingle in a comradie spirit, a committee was appointed to revive the once popular “befo’ de wahl” Cadet Hops. Each battalion chose a representative to form with six commissioned officers the revival committee.

On November fourteenth, this early fall thought bore fruit and a Cadet Hop was held in the Gymnasium Annex. It was among the first dances of the year which had out-of-the-ordinary decorations. Simple, but unique, flag arrangements gave a distinctly military atmosphere to the Annex; and that the picture might be even more complete, uniforms, though not in abundance, were evidenced frequently.

Then, came the early closing of the University at Christmas, dates conflicts arose, and the basketball season opened, and the proposed bi-weekly hops were delayed. So successful was the first and only one that the committee hopes to arrange at least one more before the closing of the regular semester will bring about a complete change in the brigade personnel.

With the Illinois Union taking its logical commanding position in the campus life of the students, it necessarily followed that the same representative body would find a place for functioning in the social life of the University. It did this through the excellent management of the week-end Union dances. When campus policies have been in doubt, it has been natural for the student to turn toward the Union for guidance; and so, when the students wondered what they might do to pass sanely through the many week-ends of a University career, it was perfectly natural that they should patronize the dances in College and Bradley Halls.

The committees appointed by the Union to look after these activities worked hard throughout the semesters to assure success to the dances. It may have been plain hard work; it may have been exceptional management; it may have been—well, no matter what element entered, the dances were successful.

Bradley Hall, in the past not always on the same level of popularity as College, was redecorated this year and soon regained its lost prestige. Judgment was used in the sale of tickets, and though the dances were always well attended, impossible-to-dance-crowds never found a place to exist.

The University of Illinois Military Bands

The military and concert bands of the University give the student a rare opportunity to get a musical education. He is given a try-out when he first enters, and assigned to the concert, first, or second regiment band according to his merit. Those in the regiment band pass into the first, and on into the concert as they become more proficient.

The three bands are under the direction of A. Austin Harding, the programs worked up under his direction being a tribute to his musical talent and his ability as a director. His attention is given chiefly to the concert band, an organization of eighty-five select musicians, doing only concert work. The band is one of the best in the country, playing only the best music, and having a larger and more complete instrumentation than any other band in America. Members of the band are furnished instru-
m ents and given instructions on them. Besides numerous University concerts the band takes a tour of the state, plays a series of spring concerts, and also appears for the various athletic events.

The first and second regiment bands furnish music on the drill field and rehearse concert music. Their members are afforded every opportunity for advancement and promotion according to merit into the concert organization. The opportunity to become acquainted with the best music, learn direecting, and master an instrument is a rare chance that no student, intent on getting a musical education along with his college work, can afford to neglect.

GEORGE HUFF
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

If in your visits to South America, Africa, Australia, or any other remote corner of the world, you should chance to mention Illinois, the first name to flash into the mind of your companion will be "G." Huff. "G.," more than any other man, is responsible for Illinois' famous fighting spirit. One of the greatest athletes of his own undergraduate days, he has fostered collegiate sports as no other man in the world could have done it. As baseball coach, his teams have been the admiration of fans of all states. Never, under his leadership, has the nine fallen below second place and thirteen championships in his twenty-four years of coaching have stamped him the greatest college baseball coach of all time. As director of athletics and founder of the School of Athletic Coaching, "G." has further placed himself among the leaders of clean and efficient sportsmanship. One could write for pages upon his accomplishments, but suffice it to say that Illinois' ideals of fairplay, her ability to win without boasting and lose without whining are directly traceable to his quiet, but ever-present guidance.

ROBERT C. ZUPPKE
FOOTBALL COACH

Until the season of 1913, Illinois' place in the football sun was a rather shadowy one, little better than the also ran class. Since that eventful year, four championships and runners-up galore have been her contribution to the gridiron history of the west. The explanation is easy—Robert C. Zuppke, or "Zup" as he is known on the field. Coming to Illinois after producing innumerable title-winning high school elevens for Oak Park and Muskeetean, Michigan, Zup at once found a place for himself among the leading mentors of the country. His fight and energy which, despite his lack of weight, won him a place on Wisconsin's second team during his collegiate days, has become an integral part of every Illinois man's makeup. As a result, an Illinois eleven is never beaten until the whistle blows. This season's wonderful achievement of winning six out of seven conference games, the hardest schedule ever attempted by a conference team, is largely due to his inspiration and energetic leadership.
TRACK COACH

Only three dual meets lost by Illinois since 1904, champions and stars in abundance—that is Harry L. Gill’s record as track coach. Himself a former all-round champion of America, both amateur and professional, Harry Gill has steadily produced teams that are among the best in the country. Track, unlike other sports, is largely a matter of individual achievements, and many a conference record has been brought to Illinois through his training. Developing stars out of seemingly impossible material is his favorite pastime. His biggest gift to the track teams of the country is the Annual Relay Carnival, which is equal to the Penn relays in importance, teams from all parts of the country entering the contests. Gill is a big fellow, quiet almost to the point of shyness, but when he speaks the track men listen.

Ralph R. Jones
BASKETBALL COACH

Basketball, like football, was a necessary evil at Illinois until 1913 when Ralph Jones was lured away from Purdue to take charge of the Orange and Blue fives. Since then Illini stock has rated highly in the basketball markets. The next season found him leader of the runners up, and the following year of an unbeaten five, which helped to complete Illinois’ great record of four championships in one year. Second place was his berth the next year while his squad tied for first in 1917. Prior to entering the ranks of Big Ten leaders, Jones was for five years mentor at Wabash College where his teams lost but five games in that time, winning from Columbia University, Yale, Minnesota and other championship teams of the time. When not telling it to the basketeers, Jones coaches the freshman football and baseball squads.
GEORGE CLARK
BASEBALL COACH

George ("Potsy") Clark, '16, is the man upon whose shoulders "G." Huff has laid the task of leading the Illini nine. A product of Illinois where he became one of the greatest athletes in the country, "Potsy" has the assurance of the support of all Illini. While in school he was one of "G's" hard hitting outfielders, playing on the championship 1915 and 1916 teams. But his chief fame lies on the gridiron where he was one of the greatest quarterbacks the game has produced. He was all-conference quarterback in 1914 and 1915. After graduating he became assistant coach at the University of Kansas, later entering the army and serving in France where he found time between battles to play the leading role for the 89th Division in the divisional championship football contest as well as playing on the title winning baseball team.

ARTHUR J. SCHUETTNER
DIRECTOR OF THE GYMNASIUM

Arthur J. Schuettner is the freshman's friend. He's the man who has charge of the gymnasium and lets the frosh enjoy a few hours of setting up exercises each week. Illinois has had other physical directors, but "Schutt's" chief distinction is that he has made Illinois an athletic school, by developing mass athletics, thus giving hundreds of men an opportunity to enjoy the thrills of team competition, along with the needed recreation and healthful exercise. He also coaches the gymnastics team and at odd times assists the coaches of the freshman varsity squads to battle the Varsity. Schuettner is a graduate of the Indiana Normal College of Physical Education and was winner of the all-round championships at the St. Louis meet in 1914.
ILLINOIS SPIRIT! In victory or defeat, with the team far in the lead, or hopelessly beaten, it never fags! Throughout the football and basketball seasons, Illini rooters knew that they had a distinct place in their teams' successes. Led by Cheerleaders A. L. Barton and A. A. Dailey, and their corps of assistants, the Illini gang never failed to pull for the team. Whether it was on Sunday morning and the yelling was to celebrate the return of a victorious team or at a mass meeting where the gang was just getting up steam for the struggle, or on the field, itself, those gyrating, yelling gentlemen kept the crowd in the game all the time.

Two Hundred Eighty-one
"The gamest team that ever wore the Orange and Blue" is the honored title won by Bob Zuppke's 1919 champions. When the curtain had fallen on the most dramatic gridiron season witnessed in decades, not a solitary eleven was left to dispute her. Seven conference squads were met and six of them beaten, the hardest schedule ever undertaken by a Big Ten team. And to make the triumph all the more noteworthy, only one opponent, Michigan, was beaten without a battle. Every other contest was a fight from kickoff until whistle.

Like many an other Illini aggregation, the squad rounded into form slowly. Registration found practically the entire 1918 team back in school with an equally talented group of returned service men also on hand to fight for places. Dutch Sternaman, captain of the 1918 eleven who entered the army, was back in moleskin; so were Harry Shlaudeman and Otis Petty, Clarance Applegran and Clarence Ems. Every man to make the squad was a veteran in the game.

October 11 was the official opening day for Illinois and found the Zuppites playing against Purdue. The contest, played at Lafayette, was staged in a sea of mud; substitutes galore were used and the final score was 14 to 7 in favor of the Illini. "Figgy" Leitch, one of the stellar linemen was injured in this contest and was unable to appear regularly afterwards.

Iowa was the next opponent, appearing on Illinois Field with one of the best teams in the conference, the following week. With Slater, colored tackle leading in the work, the Hawkeyes presented a defense that made the going stiff for the Indians, while a forward pass put the visitors into the lead in the first quarter. The rejuvenation of the ancient onside kick gave Illinois her touch down in the second period and Ralph Fletcher's place kick put her into the lead by a 9 to 7 count. Wisconsin came next, and the less said about that visit, the better, for the count was 14 to 10 in the visitors' favor when the dust had finally settled on the gridiron. One of the encouraging features of the contest was the work of Jack Crangle, giant full-back who made his first start in this combat.

As usually happens when a team loses, dopesters began to drop her from all consideration. Consequently these said dopesters were considerably shocked when Stagg's titular bound Maroons were treated to a 10 to 0 trouncing as a part of the great Homecoming celebration. Jack Crangle was a big factor in this melee, as also was Ralph Fletcher who repeated his feat of the previous two contests and planted a field goal across the bar. Wisconsin's defeat at the hands of Minnesota was another upset of the day and one that made the Illini-Gopher tilt another important battle. And the dopesters were not far wrong in predicting a great fight, for only an old-time Indian comeback was able to snatch victory from defeat and keep the Indians in the race. Led by Arnold Oss, Gopher half back, the home squad literally ran rings around the Illini linemen during the early periods, leading at the end of the third quarter 6 to 0. A pair of long passes put the ball between the Gopher posts, however, and Ralph Fletcher's toe raised the count to 10 points.
Home once more on November 15, Captain Bill Kopp’s squad found the much touted but badly beaten Michigan eleven ready to take another trouncing. They took it all right, to a 29 to 7 count, only the flukiest kind of a fluke letting them get across the Indian line at all. Subs were thrown into the game in the second half and most of the regulars rested for the approaching Ohio contest. Ralph Fletcher was injured however, and was unable to appear in the title-winning scrap.

Football history was made and a championship was won at Columbus on November 22 when “Chick” Harley and the unbeaten Ohio team was stopped in the final seconds of play by a 9 to 7 count. With the stands packed with Buckeye homecomers, the Indians, minus at least four of their regulars and with many others badly injured but fighting, battled to one of the most glorious victories ever won by a football team. “Dutch” Sternaman started things in the first quarter by a sixty yard run for a touchdown, but Ralph Fletcher’s toe was absent and “Dick” Reichle missed the goal from touch-down.

The second half saw the Buckeyes opening up and finally pushing “Chick” Harley across the line. A goal from touchdown made Ohio’s title claims appear safe, but the crowd did not know the Illini team. Uncorking every type and breed of forward pass, fighting for every inch and playing the stellar Harley as he had never been guarded before, the Indians battled up the field only to lose the ball. Then they did it again; their last trial starting on their own twenty yard line with only two minutes to go. At last they were near enough and “Bob” Fletcher retained the honor of the family by putting the oval between the uprights and giving Illinois a 9 to 7 victory.

Of the stars, Illinois had aplenty, although the well balanced work of the entire squad was ever more noteworthy. “Burt” Ingwersen, John Depler and Clarence Applegaran were among the star linemen of the conference, while “Chuck” Carney’s work at end won him a place among the greatest wingmen. It was his stellar work that helped to put the ball in kicking distance against Ohio. Of the backfield men “Laurie” Walquist, Ralph Fletcher and “Dutch” Sternaman all did their share as did Jack Crangle, who succeeded in replacing Captain Bill Kopp. Captain Bill was among the present whenever needed, however, and always gave a good account of himself. John Depler, the heavy center, has been chosen to lead the 1920 eleven. Although graduation will cut deeply into the ranks of the team, it will by no means deplete it to such an extent as to make the rebuilding of the old machine necessary. Kopp, Ingwersen, Sternaman, Applegaran, Leitch, and Petty are among those who will be missing next year. But with Zuppke on the job, Illinois’ chances for another title will never be hopeless.

Two Hundred Eighty-three
WILLIAM K. KOPP.

Although a pair of poor ankles kept "Bill" from occupying his place at full-back regularly, he was always ready to smash the line when needed. Purdue, Iowa and Michigan all saw him perform creditably. He also stepped into the breach left by Jack Crangle's injury at the Ohio contest and did his bit to bring home the title. Bill has played football, basketball and baseball.

BURTON A. INGWERSEN.

This fighting Swede held down one of the tackle jobs for two seasons after breaking into the Illini line at center. Although one of the smallest linemen in the conference he was awarded places on both the 1918 and 1919 All-Conference teams. He was captain of the eleven in 1918 and acted in that capacity last fall when "Bill" Kopp was absent from the lineup. "Burt" is another basketball and baseball player, having served as captain of the 1918 five.

Ohio, 7; Illinois, 9. Here we see Willaman, the Buckeye's star back, attempting a gain. "Burt" Ingwersen and "Chuck" Carney are waiting for him.
JOHN C. DEPLER.

Upon these broad shoulders will rest the captaincy of the 1920 eleven. "Fat", as he is known by the rooters, has proved a steady and decidedy dependable center or guard. He has been the unanimous choice of conference dopsters for the all-Conference job at guard and also won a place on Walter Camp's second all-American eleven. John is the heaviest man on the team and a tough customer for an opposing back to bump. He is a steady, careful passer, and a good man to open up holes for the backfield to slip through.

EDWARD C. STERNAMAN.

Ohio has just one wish these days: that the freshman who injured "Dutch" Sternaman's ankle in early practice, had stepped on his neck. It was this slippery "gent’s" sixty yard glide for a touchdown that played a big part in the winning of the classic Columbus combat. Dutch is one of the comebacks, serving last year as a lieutenant at Camp Funston, Kan., where he was athletic officer. He will be missed next year.

"Laurie" Walquist carrying the ball against Ohio was a man worth watching. Here we see him starting out for a good gain.
CLARENCE APPLEGRAN.

Not even a pair of broken wrists could keep this talented guard from making life miserable for all who happened his way. Chicago, Minnesota and Michigan were a few of those to regret that his wrists were the only vulnerable spots. "Apps" was always in it and more than one well-planned gain went for naught because it happened to be aimed at him. He is another returned service man and a member of the 1915 championship basketball five. He graduates at the end of the fall term, which is lucky for several opposing teams.

ROBERT FLETCHER.

Maybe it was mental telepathy that "Zup" used in making "Bob" call the right plays at the right time, but most critics agree that "Bob" just naturally used his head and that's all there was to it. "Bob" isn't for size and he doesn't carry the ball as often as the other backfield men, but he's a great little quarterm and many a coach would be glad to have him out there. His foot is another important asset as Ohio will remember.

Despite "Chuck" Carney's punting, Wisconsin was able to push the Indians back across the line twice. Here we see the Indians booting the ball out of danger after attempts to gain through the line had failed.
RALPH FLETCHER.

The second member of the famous Morris, Illinois, family, this man's chief bid for fame came through his talented right foot. When once set in the direction of the bar by that member, the oval naturally couldn't go anywhere else as Iowa, Chicago, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan remember. His injury in the Michigan game was one of the biggest blows that the Illini received during the strenuous season. Watch him next year.

CHARLES R. CARNEY.

This fellow has two years to serve, which is good news to only one team in the Big Ten. His work in pulling down forward passes in the Ohio melee was of the classic variety, according to all witnesses. Whether there were three or ten Buckeyes around him, mattered little, he got the "old apple" some way and thus played a leading role in the winning of the flag.

Ralph Fletcher boots the pigskin across the bar as the photographer snaps the shutter. This boot was responsible for the three points that beat Iowa, 9 to 7.
LAWRENCE W. WALQUIST.

This diminutive half-back is another star who will have two more seasons in which to shine for "Zup". Although one of the smallest backs in the conference he was especially valuable in picking interference for his team mates to gain through. He could also rip out the yardage when needed himself, and at forward passing held the first prize. His accuracy in hurling the pigskin was a large factor in "Chuck" Carney's success in grabbing it and the title from Ohio.

ALBERT MOHR.

Another sophomore, "Al" Mohr will also have two years more to wear the moleskins and rip up the opposing lines. Mohr was all-conference guard in 1918, was shifted to end last fall and then back to his old job, where he served gallantly. He is a big fellow and when needed could replace "Chuck" Carney in the punting part of the game.

This view of the Field on Illinois' Victory Homecoming day shows the Indians steadily marching for the Maroon's goal posts. We don't know who carried the ball for this photo, but he gained nevertheless.
RICHARD W. REICHLIE.

"Dick" Reichle is another of those footballers who will have two more years to cavort about "Zep's" gridiron. This talented end is a product of the 1920 Freshman Varsity and the famous Great Lakes naval station eleven. He played a consistent defensive game and when needed could boot the pigskin across the bar in the regulation fashion. With "Chuck" Carney to look after the opposite wing, conference backs are likely to find end running a tough job for the next two years.

MILTON OLANDER.

"Milt" is another of those Illini linemen that made the going so rough for rival backs. He had a particular fondness for guard, where he was always fighting with the best of them. Because of the loss of the bone in his nose, Milt has been forced to face rival linemen with a mask concealing his classic features. The sight of the "masked marvel" talking "things up" was not a pleasant sight for visiting players.

"Dutch" Sternaman is the one with the taking ways, who has grabbed this forward pass. "Dutch" was one of the big factors in this championship battle.
R. A. LIFVENDAHL.

“Lief” is another of those husky linemen that made life miserable for so many contending teams. His favorite stunt was to get in the way of some flying back and drop him for a loss just when a gain would be disastrous for Illinois. Although a junior, he has decided to transfer to the College of Medicine next year, so he will be among those absent when the season opens.

GEORGE KOCH.

George waited three years for his chance. But he was ready when it came. After striving for three years, without success, to win a place and letter, his chance came with Burt Ingwersen’s injury in the Ohio game. It was largely through his fighting dutchtman’s work in this, his first and last appearance, that Burt’s injury did not prove an irretrivable loss.

Illinois played her poorest ball of the season in the Wisconsin game. Fumbles were not infrequent. This picture shows an Illini end falling on the ball after a fumble, which occurred dangerously near the Illini goal.
OTIS PETTY.

Petty is another of the comebacks who helped bring the title to Illinois. His favorite post was right tackle which gave Zup a nifty man to help Burt Ingwersen plug up those holes. While in the service he was a member of the Municipal Pier eleven. He will be missed in the line next year.

HARRY SHLAUDEMAN.

Here's another comebacker. After a year's service on the Municipal Pier squad, Shlaudie returned to Illinois last fall and proved a capable center. Although the presence of Fat Depler on the squad kept him from playing regularly at the pivot job, he was usually called upon before the game was over, so that Fat could be shifted to guard. He played great ball against Ohio. Graduation will find him leaving, which means another good man gone.

JACK CRANGELE.

Another of the stellar crew of sophomores, this giant won his way in the latter games of the season to a place on Collier's second all-star eleven and on the Chicago Post's first team. His work against Chicago, Minnesota and Michigan were the highlights of those contests. An injured shoulder kept him out of most of the Ohio battle. Rival coaches will have considerable to worry about during the next two years, if Jack keeps his usual good health.

C. ERNEST LOVEJOY.

Ernie's job was that of sub quarter, not a particularly pleasing one for the average man. However, Ernie did not complain, but always gave all he had, so that when Bob Fletcher was unable to perform, Zup always knew that his team would have a worthy pilot on hand. Ernie had a good head for the job, was consistent and always fighting. Only the presence of Bob Fletcher kept him out of a regular berth.

STUYVESANT SMITH.

Smith is another sophomore end. Although not of the calibre of Carney or Reehle, this lad always gave a good account of himself. Zup thinks him a little green yet, but declares that another year will put him in a class with the best of them. His work in the Purdue, Iowa and Chicago games was especially gratifying to Zup.

Two Hundred Ninety-three
For the second consecutive season, Michigan's hard hitting nine won the Big Ten flag and "G." Huff's Indians followed in second place. Starting the spring training with only twenty-five candidates seeking places and without any individual stars to boost his chances, the Illini mentor closed his conference tilt with seven victories and four defeats to his credit. Although the team was composed largely of players who had participated in the 1918 fight, it was still weak in many spots, especially with the stick, and only the leadership of "G." kept them up among the leaders.

Active practice began during Easter vacation when the candidates, fifteen strong, journeyed to Oxford, Miss., where three games were played with the University of Mississippi nine. This was Illinois' first appearance out of doors and the first time that a squad had been definitely picked for competition. As a consequence the first game resulted in a 7 to 4 defeat, errors and lack of team work being largely responsible for the defeat. Wrobke and Arrasmith did the pitching for Illinois. The second and third contests were victories, Mickey Ryan bringing in an 8 to 6 win and Arrasmith giving the Illini the series by holding the southerners to three hits and a 1 to 0 beating.

Baseball at Urbana began April 12, with St. Viators, a little college from Bourbonnais, Ill., as the opponent. Wrobke and Ryan had little difficulty in turning in a 10 to 0 victory. Millikin was next and also proved easy, Mickey Ryan holding them hitless while the Indians chalked up 6 runs.

The conference season opened April 26, which day was a distinctly disappointing one for Illinois. Iowa, who had never before stopped the Illini, were the guests and they took a 4 to 3 victory home with them. Mickey Ryan hurled great ball, but poor support and weak hitting proved too great a handicap. Things looked up the following week, however, Notre Dame dropping two games by a 5 to 3 and 9 to 5 score. Wrobke and Arrasmith were the Illini hurlers. The rest of the team showed an increased ability to hit and the general work of the squad was much improved over previous appearances.

Chicago was the next victim, Mickey Ryan hurling them to a 3 to 2 beating on May 7. He was ably assisted by a brace of triples by Bert Edward. Journeying to Iowa City the following week, Captain Paul Doss' gang avenged their beating at home by turning in a 4 to 2 victory. The game was one of the best played of the year, neither side scoring until the seventh round when Barklage stole home giving Illinois the lead. Iowa then forged ahead, but a brilliant three run rally in the ninth wiped out the earlier beating with a vengeance.
Purdue found May 13 her unlucky day, taking a 3 to 1 defeat on Illinois Field in one of the poorest played games of the year. The Boilermakers presented two of the poorest pitchers that the Indians had faced in years. Neither of them could keep the ball any where near the plate. Wrobke pitched for Illinois and although not at his best, did well in the pinches.

Interscholastic week, May 16 to 17, was spent in giving Wisconsin’s baseballers a pair of trouncings, 9 to 4 and 11 to 4. Both contests were well played, the Illini showing steady improvement. The latter contest was featured by a pair of home runs, one of them with the bases full, by Burt Ingwersen. Ryan and Wrobke did the pitching.

Wisconsin and Chicago were next invaded on May 23 and 24. Dewey Wrobke had little difficulty in holding the Badger crew safe, his teammates playing brilliantly behind him and batting out an 8 to 3 success. Chicago was a different story. The following day found the team in one of its worst slumps, errors galore and poor base running at critical stages of the contest giving the Maroons a 7 to 2 victory. Although Crisler, the Midway hurler, issued ten passes, the Indians could do nothing towards fattening the run column.

The last stand for the title was made and lost May 31 when Michigan’s star hurler, Parks, held the Indians to one hit and carried back across the lake a 7 to 0 victory. Arrasmith pitched this contest and hurled good ball. Only two more games remained, so the title was lost. Purdue the next opponent handed the Indians a farcical 16 to 2 game at Lafayette, the visiting Illini having little trouble in filling up the score book with hits and runs. Michigan closed her season at Ann Arbor by trouncing the Illini 4 to 0. Glenn repeated the feat of his teammate Parks, and held the Orange and Blue squad to one hit. Mickey Ryan hurled brilliantly, allowing only five hits.

The greatest weakness of the nine was at bat, no real sluggers being present. However, several consistent players were developed who should improve their batting eyes this year. Mickey Ryan, the leading slabman of the team was chosen to pilot the 1920 nine. With the exception of Paul Doss, captain and centerfielder, the entire squad will be back on tap to help Potsy Clark next year.

Two Hundred Ninety-five
PAUL DOSS.

Paul Doss, hard hitting centerfielder, was captain of the nine and a returned service Illini. Paul began his baseball career on the infield, but "G" showed him a few of the tricks of the garden with the result that he became one of the best outfielders in the conference. He was not a slugger, but was the most dangerous hitter when a hit meant runs. Paul is the only player who will not be back this year.

HAROLD R. RYAN.

"Mickey" Ryan is captain-elect and a pitcher of considerable ability. Most of the heavy mound work of last year was placed on the shoulders of this capable hurler, with the result that Iowa, Wisconsin and other Big Ten batters have a wholesome respect for Illinois. "Mickey," like Babe Ruth, believes that a pitcher should occasionally win entrance to the hit column, so he hammered in the winning run against Chicago and at the close of the season turned in a neat batting average. Great things are expected of him this year.

It's hard for the uninitiated to translate this picture, but that is because "Burt" Ingwersen is at bat and about to make that home run that broke Wisconsin's heart. Note that the bases are full.
PAUL KAISER.

Paul Kaiser, as he was christened, "Dutch" as he is known to baseball fans, is the glibby Indian backstop. This man had a whip that was a terror to all baserunners and a head that was a big help to wavering pitchers. He was also a nifty batsman, pressing Shorty Kissinger closely for leadership in the batting averages of the nine. Last year was Paul's first trial at conference baseball.

BURTON A. INGWERSEN.

Two home runs in one game, one of them with the bases full, is an achievement that is not likely to be forgotten. This feat was the crowning accomplishment of "Burt" Ingwersen, the scrappy first sacker and clean up hitter. Burt is a first baseman of the old school. When a Badger runner's spikes split open his hands, he merely donned a catchers mitt and went back for more. Lest you forget, Burt has served as captain on both the football and basketball teams.

"Shorty" Kissinger is small, but even at that he has to duck occasionally. "Shorty" was the hardest man in the conference to pitch to. Note the runner on third. With "Shorty" up, no wonder the pitcher grows wild.
OLIVER F. BARKLAGE.

"Bark" seemed to have a fondness for second base, which position reciprocated with interest, for this lad had few peers in the conference. His stellar fielding was largely responsible for the victory against Iowa at Iowa City. His work against Notre Dame, Wisconsin and, in fact, in all of the games, was far above the average. He was also fast on bases, stealing home in the Iowa game.

WILLIAM K. KOPP.

Although listed as a shortstop, "Bill" Kopp appeared in the lineup at first base and behind the bat during the course of the season. An infielder by inclination and training, the dearth of catchers two years ago, caused "G" to select "Bill" for the post. The appearance of "Dutch" Kaiser last spring permitted him to return to his old post, but it also gave the Dutchman an excellent understudy. His work behind the bat in the second Michigan game at Ann Arbor was especially noteworthy.

Here we see "Dutch" Kaiser nabbing a would-be run maker at home. Despite a few sparkling plays of this sort, Michigan took the game by a 7 to 0 score.
DONALD KISSINGER.

"Shorty" Kissinger certainly did not live up to his nick-name in hitting. This diminutive third sacker was the only player to register a hit in every game, his drives robbing both Parks and Glenn, the Michigan hurlers, of no-hit games. He also played a consistent game at the far corner. This was his second season on the nine, the previous year being spent as utility infielder and outfielder. He will be a useful cog in the 1920 machine.

DEWEY WROBKE.

Dewey is a pitcher with two years experience under "G" to his credit. He has been a consistent mound artist throughout his career and with good luck should make things mighty unpleasant for rival hitters next year. A perusal of the records will show that this slabman has not been defeated in his college career, Wisconsin and Purdue falling twice before him last year while Notre Dame swallowed defeat once. He will be a handy man to have around next year.

We print this photo just to let you know that "Mickey" Ryan could hit as well as pitch. This shows our smiling Irishman about to win his own game from Chicago by a 3 to 2 count.

Two Hundred Ninety-nine
THOMAS JOHNSON.

"Tom" Johnson, the husky right fielder, served his first year on the Illini nine in creditable fashion. He was a consistent fielder, a hard hitter and a scrappy all-round player. With two more years ahead of him, Illinois should hear from this man.

HAROLD DIEHL.

"Hal" Diehl was the smallest and also the fastest man on the team, having an especial fondness for running bases. He was a frequent caller at third via the stolen base route and made the route safely quite frequently. Diehl also served his first year on the Varsity, appearing at third base, short stop and left field.

J. B. EDWARDS.

Left field was "Bert's" hangout, and hits were his hobby. Notre Dame and Chicago pitchers were especially maltreated by this veteran. A little more seasoning by "Potsy" Clark should make him a dangerous man for even the Michigan marvel, Parks, to face. He has served two years in the garden.

W. S. ARRASMITH.

This rangy southerner is the third member of the pitching staff. A sore arm kept him from hurling frequently, but his few appearances were gratifying to Illini fans. It was his first year on the Varsity. A little of Grover Alexander's coaching and the removal of the soreness which troubled him last year, should give the Indians a star hurler.

Three Hundred Three
As usually happens when Harry Gill's track men turn in their suits at the end of the season, the unanimous vote was that it had been a success. The 1919 season was no exception. Despite the war that drew many of the most dependable men from school and left a scarcity of freshmen material to replace it, the Orange and Blue was once more carried through a series of unbroken dual victories, while only Michigan and Chicago were able to lead her in the two conference meets.

With the opening of the second quarter early in January, actual work was started. This was the latest start that an Illini track team had ever made. Workouts had to be held in the Gymnasium because the Armory was still unfit for use for athletic purposes after serving its term as an S. A. T. C. barracks. Men were scarce, only a few veterans being on hand. Bob Emery, George Buchheit, Weiss, Schuh, Gardiner, Caskey and Lewis were the principal veterans to appear. One ray of sunshine on the Illinois horizon was the return of Captain Charlie Carroll, star dashman. Among the new men, E. D. Brown, W. W. Brown, Lifvendahl, and Prescott were the most promising.

Notre Dame was the first squad to meet the Indian runners, Gill's men carrying a 46 to 40 victory back from South Bend on March 15. The meet was an exciting one, only the relay race giving the victory to Illinois. All of the events were closely contested, Gilfillan of Notre Dame being the high point man. George Buchheit with a first in the pole vault and Bob Emery in the 220 yard dash were Gill's best bets. One of the brightest spots in the meet was the work of Dave Brown who galloped in with second in the half mile in his first race.

One week later, with only this contest to season them, the tracksters locked horns in the ninth annual conference meet, which was held at Northwestern's track. When the final record was chalked up and the last point listed, Michigan was found to lead with 36½ points; Chicago trailed with 34½ and Illinois came next with 17.

The next track event of note was the Drake Relays, which, as usual, found Illinois well represented, teams entering the one-half mile and two-mile University relays. Both teams showed great form, the half-mile four bringing home second place and the two milers counting third. Michigan was the lucky one to lead the squad composed of Mills, Emery, Prescott and Carroll; while Notre Dame and Chicago both passed Schuh, Caskey, W. W. Brown and Emery.

Out door competition was next in order, Notre Dame receiving its second beating from the Illini, May 3. Gilfillan was unable to appear in this contest for the Catholic squad, thus leaving a big hole in Coach Rockne's list of point winners. As a result, the contest was little more than a parade, the final score being 77 to 49. Tug Wilson in the weights and George Buchheit in the hurdles, pole vault and javelin throw began a battle for high point honors, which lasted throughout the season.
Bob Emery trottled in with the 220 and 440 in neat style. Weiss was "there" in the hammer throw and the whole team helped to smother the Indiana squad.

Interscholastic, May 16, found Wisconsin taking Illinois' dust to a 91 to 43 count. Once more George Buchheit and Tug Wilson fought it out for point honors, although Bob Emery horned in with his share. Charlie Carroll found his stride in this meet, trotting away with the dashes in his old time fashion. Illinois' fourth dual victory of the year came the next Saturday at the expense of Chicago. This contest was by far the best of the year, only seven points separating the contestants in a 71 to 64 tilt. Illinois had little difficulty in winning the weights and her share of the dashes, but could do nothing in the distances. The loss of Charlie Carroll, who had left for the inter-allied meet in France, left Gill without the services of another sure point winner.

This loss of Charlie Carroll was also felt in the conference out-door meet which closed the year's work. Bob Emery, newly elected captain, won a second in the 220 yard dash.

Now that the dust has settled on the 1919 track and the work of the team can be viewed thoughtfully and carefully, the season can not but be called a successful one. Every one of the men showed marked improvement during the year, which, coupled with the fact that most of them will be on hand for the 1920 contests, raises Illinois stock far above par. Illinois' track chances are likely to take a big jump when the Armory is once more opened to their use, the Relay Carnival is revived, and the old-time Illini spirit comes into its own again.

CONFERENCE OUTDOOR MEET—STAGG FIELD.
Michigan, first; Chicago, second; Illinois, third.
CHARLES CARROLL

"Charley" was captain of the team, its leading dashman and its representative at the allied races in Paris. Returning from service late in the fall, this speedster was a big factor in helping Gill's long line of dual victories to remain unbroken. He left for the contests in France before the conference outdoor meet took place, so was unable to add further points to the Illini total.

ROBERT S. EMERY

"Bob" Emery is captain-elect. The quarter mile is his favorite journey and he has stepped it in time that has made many spectators gasp, breaking the Armory record at 51 seconds in the Notre Dame meet this spring. Last year he made Wisconsin and Notre Dame runners take his dust, also winning second place in the 220 yard dash in the conference outdoor meet.

In which Charlie Carroll is shown waiting for some one to give him a little competition in the 100 yard dash. Notice that the Wisconsin men are conspicuous by their distance from the tape.
KENNETH L. WILSON

"Tug" was George Buchheit's only rival for high point honors. With the discus, hammer and javelin, he had a habit of adding points to the Illini total in a way that was disheartening to his rivals. "Tug" competed only during the outdoor season, playing basketball in the winter.

GEORGE BUCHHEIT

George Buchheit was Harry Gill's most versatile athlete and his most prolific point winner. George usually competed in the pole vault, the high jump, the 220 yard high hurdles, the javelin throw and any other event that Gill might find a few points needed in. With "Tug" Wilson, he was the high point man in the Wisconsin, Notre Dame and Chicago meets. He is coaching track and football at the University of Kentucky now.

George Buchheit and Jack Zimmerman step out in front of the Badger competitor in the low hurdles. Two more Illini tracksters are seen bringing up the rear.
ROBERT A. GARDINER

“Bob” Gardiner is one of the travelers, being one of the corps of one and two milers. This was “Bob’s” second year at the long grind. Although not one of the stars of the team, “Bob” always ran with all that was in him. He had to meet several of the best distance men in the country, and always gave them all he had.

J. N. WEISS

Weiss is one of those heavy boys who slings the shot, javelin, hammer or anything else that lies around loose when points are wanted. He is one of the come-backers and will be on hand next year to help roundout a championship team. Notre Dame, Wisconsin and Chicago all watched this man out point their favorites at the heaving game.

Bob Emery is the hero of this little snap shot, leading the field in his well known manner. We judge the event is the grinding quarter mile run.
CHARLES SCHUH

“Charlie” Schuh’s favorite stunt is to horn into the point column in the middle distances. He began work in 1918 as a miler and two miler but was transferred to the half and quarter mile brigade last year. He had a habit of slipping into second or third place in these events when the points were most welcome, which makes him another welcome personage about the Armory this year.

E. D. BROWN

“Dave” Brown is a sophomore who broke into fame in the half mile. Early meets indicated that this lad would prove a dangerous competitor for the best of them, but a severe case of measles kept him out of the later races. There are two more years ahead of him, however, and from the way he is going in early training, they promise to be good ones.

Wobble Brown and Charlie Schuh bring home the bacon after carrying it half a mile around Illinois Field with Notre Dame runners after them.
BASIL BENNETT

Basil Bennett's forte is heaving any of the heavy implements that are to be found around the weights' pit. Whether it be a hammer, shot, javelin or discus, is of little matter to him. He sends them all with the best of them. This spring should find him a consistent point winner.

G. R. CASKEY

The mile is Caskey's event, though he can keep going for two miles when needed. This man, though not brilliant, has been a hard, steady worker and one of those pluggers who never stops until his distance is covered, regardless of the handicap. He has served two years under Gill.

JOHN PRESCOTT

John Prescott is another sophomore to break into the line last year, spending most of his time in the broad jump. A few races showed that he might be useful in the dashes, however, so this year has found him stepping the 75 yard dash in record time and filling in his corner of Gill's mile relay team.

W. W. BROWN

"Wobblie" is another athlete to earn a place for himself in his first year of competition. His favorite jaunt was the half mile, a trot that he accomplished with considerable ease. He is one of the most consistent runners in Harry Gill's galaxy of middle distance men.

Again George Buchheit and Jack Zimmerman step the hurdles for a picture. We don't know the man running with them but judge that he must hail from Wisconsin.
The Third Annual Indoor Relay Carnival

Once again, as in the famous Pre-war days, Illinois' giant Armory was the scene of the now famous Relay Carnival. This indoor event, which has taken the place of the Penn Relay in importance in the west, pushed all previous contests into oblivion, both in the number of contestants participating and in the feats accomplished. Two hundred and twenty two men from twenty-two universities, colleges and high schools appeared before the crowd which taxed the Armory to the utmost, and made the third annual Relay Carnival one to be talked about wherever sports are known.

Among the entries to appear were some of the greatest speedsters and all-round athletes that the game has ever known. Johnson of Michigan, Scholz of Missouri, LeGendre of Georgetown were only a few of the leaders to bring their colors to Illinois. Every conference team had a full list of entries, however, while Wabash and Eureka Colleges, Missouri, Georgetown, Nebraska and other strong institutions mailed in their entry lists.

Although the meet is primarily a relay affair, the track and field events were also a big feature, records going for naught when the spiked shoe artists opened up with their best efforts. Honors in these special events were carried home by Michigan's tracksters, largely through the efforts of the speedy Johnson, one of the greatest all-round athletes to make his appearance in years. Amateur, conference and Armory records were nothing to this star who stepped the 75 yard high and low hurdles far ahead of his rivals and tied for first place in the high jump, cutting two-fifths of a second off the low hurdle mark. Aided by a second in the shot put and tie for first in the pole vault, this work of Johnson boosted his team’s total score to 27 points. Illinois was second with 19 tallies, while Chicago and Missouri came next with 13 and 10 counters respectively.

Track prospects for this year appeared exceptionally rosy for Illinois after her evening’s work was done. Besides showing consistently in the special events, first honors in the relays were left resting securely in the Indian tepee. Four university relay races were staged one of them going to the Orange and Blue four who also brought in two second places. All of the races were closely and bitterly fought out. The opening number of the program, the two mile went to Chicago by a matter of inches after Bob Emery had cut down a seemingly impossible handicap. Schuh, E. D. Brown, Spink and Emery were the four Indians to compete in this race.

Honors came to Illinois in the next race, the mile, when Donohoe, W. W. Brown, Prescott and Spink pushed Chicago behind. Third place was her best in the four mile grind, with Ames and Ohio ahead. Chicago was hopelessly outclassed. For the closing relay of the evening, a new event, the medley, was stepped in beautiful fashion. Briefly, this contest consists of two quarter mile runs, one half mile run, and one mile run. It was one of the prettiest races of the evening, Georgetown University, of Washington, taking the first honors away from Illinois by a scant margin. Throughout the early part of the race, the Illini men were in the lead, but one of the prettiest mile races seen in years by Connolly of Georgetown gave his team a safe lead. Emery, Schaprizzi, W. W. Brown and Yates were the Illini entrants, the first three leading throughout.

The third feature of the evening, the all-round championship found a dozen stars competing. Hamilton of Missouri was the winner only after an evening of grueling competition. Osborne, an Illinois sophomore, was second and Bradley of Kansas was third. Osborne indicated that he will press Johnson and other stars closely in conference competition by leaping six feet in the high jump. He also won the half mile run in close to record time.

Mile Relay Team

If the deans are to be understood aright, speed is an undesirable asset in college life, but here are four Illini whose motto is “speed” and whose sole aim is to see how fast they can move. And Illini rooters look upon them as decidedly necessary citizens, whose chief occupation is breaking records. Before Harry Gill presented them to the track world, 3 minutes and 32 seconds was the conference record in the mile relay; but after they had stepped around the turf for the 5280 feet the watch showed but 3 minutes and 29 seconds, fully 3 seconds less than the best previous performance. But did this accomplishment leave the men at all puffed up? It did not, for records are like constitutions, things to be violated, as this gang’s work in the Relay Carnival in the dual meets with Notre Dame and Iowa has already shown.

Individually, this aggregation needs little introduction. Johnny Prescott, who starts out on the first part of the journey, is also a dashman of note. Phil Donohoe steps the quarter in speedy time, but likes the relay race better than beating Bob Emery. Phil Spink, star half miler, and the third leg of the quartette is a comebacker who gained considerable fame by placing second in the interallied meet in Paris. And last, but not least, is Captain Bob Emery, anchor man and star quarter miler. It takes a big handicap to keep this man from crossing the tape ahead of the best of them.

Three Hundred Fifteen
The Basketball Season

"FLU" the newest member of the Jinx family is largely responsible for the fact that the basketball flag did not follow the gridiron title to Illinois. Only the sickness of John Felmley in mid season was able to stop the wrecking machine that Ralph Jones had built up and to allow Chicago and Purdue to step out in front in the percentage column. Altogether, eight games were won and four lost, which is a better result than any attained during the last three years. It is disappointing only because Illinois at the beginning of the season seemed to have a championship team and was expected to win the flag.

Practice was started during the football season, but did not get under way actively until December when the duties of guiding the Freshman varsity eleven were lifted from Ralph Jones' shoulders. The end of the football season also found Burt Ingwersen, Chuck Carney, Laurie Walquist, Win Vail, Reitsch, and others joined with Tug Wilson, Paul Taylor and John Felmley in the battle for places. The fight was a keen one in which only one member of last year's five survived the final judgment. He was Paul Taylor at forward. John Felmley, a member of the 1915 and 1916 teams and captain of the famous Great Lakes five, was awarded the other forward, while Chuck Carney forced Captain Tug Wilson out of the job of center and Laurie Walquist was given the running guard's assignment over Burt Ingwersen. Captain of the 1919 five, Win Vail, back guard on the 1918 squad, was the man chosen to stand the gaff in that trying position.

Right from the start, the brilliancy of the Indian attack was apparent. Despite the coal strike and consequent closing of school, the team drilled throughout the entire Christmas vacation, the last week being spent in daily workouts against the Northwestern College five of Naperville. An injury to Laurie Walquist in these contests forced the diminutive speed boy to the sidelines and gave Burt Ingwersen a chance in the exhibition contest of January 5.

Purdue was the first conference opponent, bringing a veteran team with the famous Tison still going strong. The contest was a battle from start to finish, the Indians trailing most of the time, but finally slipping through with a 33 to 31 victory. Chuck Carney, with nine field goals, went on record as one of the greatest players that ever had to win the record. Tison also chalked up nine baskets.

Ohio was next, taking a 40 to 22 beating on January 12. Coming to Urbana with the best team that they had produced in years, the Buckeyes could do nothing with the Indian offense, John Felmley and Chuck Carney starring as usual with seven and five field goals, respectively. Laurie Walquist's floor work and the defensive work of Vail also were bright spots. Minnesota, who had also won her first two contests, came next and received what was destined to be the first of many defeats, the final count being 31 to 19. The same Carney-Felmley combination did the Gopher wrecking. Next to fall before the Indian scalpers, were the Badgers whose punishment was set to a 43 to 20 score. Paul Taylor, who had not been hitting the basket in his usual form, hit his stride in the contest and played the leading role in the victory. Michigan followed on Monday, January 26 and went home with a 41 to 14 defeat.

Then came final examinations, a week's rest and the flu, which numbered among its victims John Felmley. John had been acting as captain during the absence of Tug Wilson from the lineup and it is doubtful if a more valuable man could have been lost. Tug Wilson was also injured, leaving only Julie Mee and Burt Ingwersen for the vacant post. The result, when the Indian crew locked horns with Purdue at Lafayette, was the first defeat, the score being 36 to 20. Despite the size of the score, the game was hard fought and only the sensational shots of White at running guard were able to stop the Indians winning streak.

Undaunted by this setback, the Jones men came back the following Monday night and trounced Ohio at Columbus. The score was 35 to 27. Returning home, the squad found John Felmley out in uniform, but too week to do his best. Chicago, tied with the Indians, took a heart breaking game by a 23 to 21 count, all because this star was not at his best, and the last chance for the title went glimmering the next week when Wisconsin came back in the extra period and hung up a 33 to 29 score for the same reason. This was by far the roughest game of the year, Chuck Carney counting eleven times from the foul line.

There is little use in dwelling longer on the disastrous close of a brilliant season. Minnesota was beaten 28 to 20 in the final game of the northern trip. Chicago made it four defeats and cinched the flag by taking a 27 to 20 game on the Midway floor, and the season closed with a 26 to 20 victory over Michigan.

Although the championship did not return to Illinois where it had been expected, the 1919-20 season was a distinct improvement over those of the past two years.

Three Hundred Sixteen
K. L. WILSON

Like Captain Bill Kopp of the football team, Tug Wilson was forced to relinquish his position as a regular, Chuck Carney winning his place at center, while Paul Taylor and John Felmley proved too fast to be displaced at forwards. Then, an injury to his knee just as the "flu" struck John Felmley, prevented him from even the role of substitute. Nevertheless, Tug was a typical Illini captain, encouraging the men at all times and fighting for them as if he, himself had been in the lineup. Although he did not play regularly Tug will be missed next year.

JOHN FELMLEY

Here we have Illinois' jinx player of the year, for had he been able to dodge around the flu in mid season, the title would have rested in the annex once more. At his best, this wiry fellow was one of the fastest floor men in the conference and a dead shot at the loop. He has had three years of service under the teaching of Ralph Jones and was also captain of the Great Lakes five. He will leave a big hole in the Indian formation.

CHARLES CARNEY

Charles Carney, center, was leading point winner of the conference. Playing his first year in Big Ten company, this rangy athlete stamped himself one of the best players that Illinois has produced. He formed the main factor in the Illini offense and by his ability at free throwing made many an offending rival wish that the referee had not been looking. The next two years should see him among the best in the country.
PAUL TAYLOR

Paul Taylor was another veteran player, serving one year as center and another as forward before closing his career with the 1920 five. Paul was one of the scrappiest players in the game, playing a big part in the defensive work of the squad as well as doing his bit in putting points into the score book. He was late in finding his eye for baskets, this year, but the Wisconsin game found him shooting them from all directions. He is another man who will be missed next year.

LAURIE WALQUIST

Another sophomore to break into conference circles with a bang was Laurie Walquist, the diminutive running guard whose floor work was of the best. He was always in the thick of things and had a pleasing knack of coming out of the skirmish with the ball. Once started with it, and it took a speedy rival to break up his puzzling dribbling. Jones will not have to worry about his guards with this man to help Captain-elect Vail next year.

C. W. (WIN) VAIL

Captain-elect Vail is the husky personage upon whose shoulders have rested the bulk of the Indian defense. Standing back in the enemy's territory throughout most of the game, it was his duty to break up the rival offense and start the ball once more into Illini regions. That he did it successfully is shown by the scores and by the fact that most of the baskets made by rival teams were of the long range variety. Win is a comebacker starting his career on the 1917-18 five, then enlisting and returning to school last fall.
BURT INGWersen

Here is another veteran player who was forced to play the role of sub this year. Captain of last year's five and one of the scrappiest players in the game, this made little difference to Burt who gave the regulars all that he had and showed himself a worthy substitute when needed. He made frequent appearances during the latter part of the season and always gave a good account of himself.

JULIE MEE

Mee is another newcomer, playing his first year in fast company. Scholastic difficulties kept him out of things for the first semester, but the new term found him "in right" with the faculty once more. This was fortunate for Illinois, coming as it did just after illness had removed John Felmley from the lineup. Julie stepped into the breach and showed to advantage, playing exceptionally well against Ohio. Next year should find him worthy of a regular post.

H. O. REITSCH

Reitsch has the distinction of being the tallest man on the squad. Although he is inexperienced in the ways of conference athletics, Jones has a world of confidence in him and believes that next season will find him a dangerous man for any opponent to face. He has two more years in which to win a regular birth and the indications are that he'll succeed.
H. B. TABOR

Tabor is another member of the second team who served valiantly in furnishing practice for the regulars.
A running guard, he had little chance of getting into action with such competition as Laurie Walquist and Burt Ingwersen had to offer. He was a scrapper, however, and made the regular forwards hustle as though in actual conference competition.

W. W. WATTS

Watts is a product of intra-mural basketball, being a member of the championship fraternity five of last year. Although he did not get into any of the contests, he was a consistent worker on the second team and gave indications of promise. He is a running forward useful both on defense and in ringing up the field goals. A little more practice in this last department will make him worthy of a chance in action.

W. S. COLLINS

Collins made very few appearances in the regular lineup because he was substitute for Win Vail, a man whom Jones seldom removed from the lineup. However his few performances indicated that with a little more experience, he should become a player to delight the heart of any coach. He has one more year to serve and next season should find him a mighty useful man to have around.

Minor Athletics

In no department of college activities has the end of the war seen the progress and enthusiasm that was shown in minor and intra-mural athletics this spring. Five minor sports found Illinois represented by strong, well coached teams, far above the average in general ability. Cross country, swimming and water basketball, wrestling, boxing, jiu jitsu and gymnastics were the contests entered. Plans for golf and tennis teams are under way, completing the list of athletic activities.

Cross country, a fall sport, was not quite as successful as some of the other teams, but Coach Gill accomplished all that could have been expected with a green, inexperienced squad. One dual meet was lost to Purdue and a victory was taken from Michigan while seventh place was the best that the six men, Allman, Smith, Ewing, Yates, Osborn and Routh could bring back from the conference meet at Columbus, Ohio.

Next, Illinois took to the water, and under Coach Ed Manley’s efficient leadership brought home the conference water basketball title and third place in the conference aquatic meet. Four dual meets were also staged, two being won from Wisconsin and Purdue, while Chicago and Northwestern each succeeded in nosing them out. Considering the fact that only two veterans, Captain Johnny Waldo and Faircloth, were back in school, thus forcing Manley to rebuild his team, the results cannot be considered as anything but successful. Dennett in the dashes and relays, Dvorak and Beebe in diving were a few of the stars developed during the season. With most of these men eligible for competition next year, the chances of coping from either Northwestern or Chicago, the only teams to nose out the crew of Manley, are strong. Both of these aggregations were strong, composed of veteran swimmers.

Another object of interest to sport fans was the introduction of wrestling as a collegiate sport. Paul Prehn, winner of the interallied middleweight championship and a claimant of the national title was secured to coach the squad. Being a wrestler of the “new school”, clean cut, well trained and in all ways a sportsman, his popularity at Illinois was immediate, and interest in the pastime rose to a high pitch. Despite the newness of the sport, several promising grapplers were uncovered to enter the six weight divisions. Whitson, captain and light heavy weight, proved to be a wrestler of considerable ability, while Ems in the heavy section, Esslinger, middle weight; Jensen, welter weight; Kallas, light weight; and Jacks, feather weight were developed into high class matmen.

Two meets, one with Iowa at Urbana on March 6 and the other with Chicago, both resulted in wins for the Illini, the first contest being by a 21 to 16 count. All contests were of the three bout variety, the winner being required to secure two out of the three falls. In most cases, the battles were forced into extra time and had to be settled on points.

Teams have also been busy in gymnastics, boxing and jiu jitsu. Only one contest a dual meet with Chicago, was held by the gymnasts under the leadership of Coach Arthur Schuettner. The final counting found the Maroon acrobats the winners. No meets have been held as yet in boxing but Coach Knoth has prepared a team which will give a good account of itself. A unique means of creating interest in the manly art was instituted when two round bouts were shown between the halves at the basketball games.

With tennis and golf to complete the list of games, Illinois will take her place among the most active contestants in minor, as well as major athletics.

Intra-Mural Athletics

Nearer to realization than ever before has come the dream of the athletic officials of "Athletics for everybody". Although the aim to put every Illini man on a team can not be achieved until there is room enough for the hundreds of teams to compete, the year 1919-20 found more teams and players than ever before. While their more talented classmates were showing their prowess against rival colleges, this scheme of intra-mural athletics started last year, found hundreds of students enjoying the privileges of healthy indoor and outdoor recreation.

Every sport was represented by one or more leagues, the baseball season of 1919 finding every fraternity represented by a nine, the Pan-Hellenic league having been taken over by the Athletic Department. After playing a series of games in each division, the winners met to decide which fire place should be decorated by the silver cup. Three teams bid heavily for the honor, Kappa Sigma finally gaining the top over Pi Kappa Alpha and Psi Upsilon. All of the games were well played, and for the most part, hard fought. They were all well attended, organizations gathering en masse to boost their teams to victory.

September found the football enthusiasts cavorting about every available gridiron, a series of speedy class games being the main features. Each class put a husky squad of grid veterans on the field and many and exciting were the battles staged before the winner could be found. After a few preliminary tussles, the juniors and freshmen were found to be in the lead. But it was not until after two scoreless ties had been played and a thrilling third battle won by the third year eleven that the champion was announced. Because of the close battles and the numerous ties, interest in the contests waxed keen, class enthusiasts gathering in large numbers at every combat. The winners had a heavy, fighting team, led by Tom Johnson, baseball and basketball player who proved to be a bulwark on defense.

Anxious for further laurels, class athletics next turned their attention to a new sport, soccer football. Led by Captain J. M. McKendrick, one of the secretaries of the University Y. M. C. A. and a veteran player in his native land of Canada, teams were entered from each year. Interest in the new pastime rivaled that of other games, the south campus being well filled with fans at every clash. The freshman team, with several stars from Chicago high school squads, proved to be a fairly easy winner, although all of the teams gave them a stiff battle. The seniors, bolstered by numerous foreign students who had enjoyed the sport on their native heaths, were second. An attempt was made to organize a college league, elevens being formed in each of the colleges, but lack of experienced players proved too big an obstacle, so the project was temporarily abandoned. However, the strides made by the new sport are indicative of further success. In fact, it will not be surprising to see Captain McKendick coaching an Illinois team in competition with other strong squads next year. Soccer, through the agency of intra-mural athletics has come to Illinois to stay.
Basketball was the next actor to appear in the sport spotlight, and it was quite a show—more of a pageant than a company playlet. Sixty teams with nearly five hundred students enrolled joined in the battle for medals and loving cups. Contestants were divided into two sections; fraternity and independent. Six divisions were then organized in the fraternity league and as many in the independent group. At the end of a schedule in which nearly two hundred games were played, the winners of each group met in the second round; Phi Kappa, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, Lambda Chi, Alpha, Delta Phi and Chi Psi were the fortunate fraternity fives to compete, Chi Psi, Kappa Sigma and Phi Kappa surviving. Chi Psi then drew a bye and the other two met in the semi-finals which found the Phi Kaps in front. They continued there by taking a hard fought battle from the Chi Psis.

Among the independents, the contests were equally hard fought, the final decision lying between the Apaches and Bearcats. The Indian crew finally scalped the cat five and then showed their class by easily taking the Phi Kaps into their tepees. The game showed clearly that the non-fraternity aggregation had one of the strongest teams seen outside of the conference in some time and it will not be surprising to find several of its members strong contenders for Varsity positions next year.

As a whole, the team work of the independent fives was superior to that of the Greek letter teams, the latter depending largely upon one star while the former were built around three or more players who had competed together at high school. However, interest in all of the games was the best that has ever been shown, the Gym annex being the scene of several exciting battles every night during the major part of February and March. Large crowds were always on hand and hard fought battles were the order of the day, two or three extra periods often being needed to pick the winner. The winners were awarded a gold loving cup while the runners up received a silver trophy for winning their division title. Individual members of the championship five were presented with gold medals.

With the close of the basket tourney, plans for interclass swimming, for track, baseball, tennis and other pastimes were made and indications that the spring season will find more men than ever taking part in recreation of the competitive sort are strong. If the present plans materialize, an opportunity will be given more men than before to participate in the track meet, each contestant being granted a special chance to train and fit himself for his respective events. Relay teams will also be organized, thus adding further zest to the competition, with the result that future Hal Pogues and other stars are likely to be uncovered at any time simply because every man will have an opportunity to show his worth. Intra-mural athletics is in its second year at Illinois and it is now a regular part of the athletic schedule. Only the lack of space will keep every student from an opportunity to take part.

Soccer Champions
CLASS OF 1923

Above, we see a photograph of the freshman soccer squad, champions of the first interclass soccer tournament to be staged at Illinois. The team was composed largely of Chicago men who had participated in the Chicago Soccer league competition before coming to the University. Coached by J. M. McKendrick, himself a soccer star of note in Canada and Scotland, this aggregation had little difficulty in bringing in the first prize.

The fact that the freshman class should win first honors in a new sport is significant, for it means that with further coaching, and another year at college, the team members will be able to represent Illinois against outside organizations—a fact that augurs well for the growth of the sport here. Interest was keen throughout the year and an attempt to form a team to compete with the strong factory elevens in St. Louis and Chicago failed only because of the lack of experienced players talented enough to meet the stronger opponents. Another year should see this difficulty removed and a team wearing the Orange and Blue should then be cavorting about with the best of them. Soccer appears to be the coming sport at Illinois.

Four Hundred Thirty-one
Fraternities at Illinois

For the first twenty years or more of the existence of the University of Illinois fraternities were either barred or played a very small part in student life. Since 1891 they have come more and more into prominence. They have done much toward the comfortable and proper housing of students, they have stimulated organized interest in student activities, they have dominated and directed the social life of the University, and have been leaders in all matters that pertain to the extra-curriculum life of the undergraduate. In intellectual affairs they have had many outstanding men; sometimes the average scholastic standing of fraternal men has equalled that of the general student, but more often it has been inferior to it. The fraternity man at Illinois has on the whole found more interest in the incidental things of college life than in learning things that are in books. Times are changing, however, and there is every reason to believe that a real interest in scholastic matters is being developed and that fraternities at Illinois will in the future show as much interest in scholarship as they have in extra-curriculum activities.

Five Hundred Sixty-six
N. B.—To erstwhile dean, N. A. Weston, revered by all; to Dean Ruby E. Z. Mason, overlooked by all; to Assistant Dean H. V. Canter, threatened by all; to Charles Le Deuc, pitied by all; to Master Carl Rahn, distrusted by all; to M. J. Stormzand, confounded by all; to Axel Brett, disregarded by all; and to all men and women who are, through narrow mindedness and other idiosyncrasies, offended by the frank and honest character of the material in the following pages, this Roast Section is dedicated.
Hear Ye!  Hear Ye!

Ladies and Gamma Phis:

There is no use wasting your time and ours. Inside the big tent you can see rare sights like Stewed Owen buying a drink, R. A. Drysdale will rattle a few bones for you, and Mme. Izzybelle Losee will tell you where you can find things that have been lost for years, such as the Alpha Omicron Pi House and the Sigma Pi House.

In the other tent (move over, Fat Knight, so that our reader may see it) for twenty-five cents you may see Irene Seaton, Dorothy Fitzpatrick, Eunice Gawthrop and others shake a—-ouija board, telling you where Bob Shonkwiler pawned your watch, etc. etc.

The little Henson boy will step forth and get his two-bits back. This show is for men only.

While the Betas are pledging another man, the noted Scotch song leader, Harry Arms, will lead the congregation in a few Italian songs.

Harry, as he appears in the opera, "I Call My Sweetie Hinges because She's Something to Adore."

Friends may view the remains of Tau Kappa Epsilon as they pass out.

Being a full and comprehensive description of all hallucinations and distorted visions, as experienced and translated by the author.

Copyrighted 74 B. C. by the U. S. Bureau for the Prevention of Idle Dreams.

Editors Note—Fearing that the victim may become disgusted before he finds the dream which he wishes translated, the various impositions have been listed alphabetically.

IF YOU DREAM OF ACACIA—you will probably regret it the rest of your life. We can make no positive assertion as to this, because little is known of the mental attitude which one must undergo in order to think of them even while unconscious. It has recently come to the author’s ears that certain members of this tribe are in attendance at this University, but there is no proof to maintain this assertion.

IF YOU DREAM OF ALPHA CHI RHO—it is because you have been reading something you should not have—for instance the Illinois Magazine. This insipid publication has been known to bring bad dreams to many men, and the author classes it alongside of The Rules and Regulations for the Guidance of Undergraduate Students as the two most worthless novels in existence.

IF YOU DREAM OF ALPHA DELTA PHI—prepare for a bad day. Be surprised at nothing which may happen to you, but regard it stoically as a necessary evil. The dream will probably be accompanied by convulsions, but do not attempt to stop them. They are the natural symptoms of a normal mind reacting to the degrading influence of your nocturnal cogitation upon these creatures. Immediately upon awakening take a warm bath and retire to your room. It is often necessary to take an aspirin tablet, but do not depend too much upon this means of relief.
TALES OF AN OSTERMOOR

IF YOU DREAM OF ALPHA GAMMA RHO—go out into the garden and eat worms. This the Ags do every day in order to get enough to live on. It is said that the commissary feeds them dry corn and bran mash, and that many of the regulars stay out in the barns and eat with the horses. Out of duty to Mel Crandall, who is a senior in the house, all the brothers pretend to read the Illinois Agriculturist. This is one of the tenderest touches, one which shows the spirit of self-sacrifice and unselfishness, that we have noticed in years.

IF YOU DREAM OF ALPHA SIGMA PHI—begin packing your suitcase for a long journey. It really doesn’t matter much where you go because your conscience will never forget. The thought of this bunch has caused more people to go wrong than there are hobnails on a pea. Records show that a man was once pledged to this frat, but he decided that he could not live with such low brows and later became a bootlegger.

IF YOU DREAM OF ALPHA TAU OMEGA—get up and dress for a funeral. There may not be one, but there’s positive assurance that Vesey Snyder will answer to the roll call up yonder ere long, it being only a matter of time until his body from the neck down will also cease to function. Cop Healy gets the five copies of the Siren out each month on the A. T. O. hand press. An explanation is perhaps due to our readers that the Siren is a humorous publication, which, with Brother N. A. Weston, gives the frat a corner on the campus jokes. Our acquaintance with this tribe includes T. A. and Doc Harrington, and we have no desire to know any more.

IF YOU DREAM OF BETA THETA PI—you have had a large dream about a large number of persons who wear 7½ hats and 13 collars and who infest a structure similar to the Tower of Babel. The only difference between the Tower of Babel and the Beta house is this: in the case of the ancient structure the Tower itself was weak; those who inhabit the Beta premises are morally weak. The Betas in bidding for the next national convention, submitted the following proposition: We can house all the delegates from A to G in the Armory; those from G to M in the Auditorium; those from M to R at the stock pavilion. For those remaining we can charter the Inman and the Beardsley, and if there is any overflow we can put another 700 cots in the house. Governor Lowden is a Beta. Outside of that he is fair and square. It is predicted that if Lowden can poll the entire Beta vote, with Niebergall and Hawley Wilson voting three times as usual, he is sure of a plurality of at least 600,006, assuming of course that there are no factions in the fraternity.
TALES OF AN OSTERMOOR

IF YOU DREAM OF CHI PHI—don't get despondent. Your chances for all the happiness in this world have had a rude blow, but there are cases on record where men have recovered from this, much the same as a man comes out from under an anesthetic. One of the first Chi Phis, Marcus Kuppenheimer, was the inventor of the slip-over vest, the only garment of its kind which does not interfere with the size of a Chi Phi safety pin.

IF YOU DREAM OF CHI PSI—get up and take a cold shower and a rub down. This may not accomplish any results, but there is a slight chance that it may take your mind off of the Chi Psis, and anything that will do that is well worth while. This club is composed of one man, two boys and seven Chi Psis. Rumor says that they have pledged three freshmen this year, but this seems doubtful. Even if you believe they marooned these unfortunates early in the year, its a positive cinch that they would not have stayed out in the wilderness after Bob Preble returned to school. Preble is second only to Red Alison in popularity—that is, popular with Preble.

IF YOU DREAM OF DELTA KAPPA EPSILON—it means that you will soon receive a bid to the slovenly order of the Red Necktie. This group is the last remnants of the Fitzgerald tribe, and if you will believe us, they are remnants. Strictly speaking there isn’t a man in the house, but by the aid of the constantly alert publicity department, they manage to keep their names before the public eye. Various administrations and student committees have attempted to clean up this bunch but at the present writing little has been accomplished.

IF YOU DREAM OF DELTA PHI—snore loudly three times and arise immediately. You will probably experience a lonesome feeling, as though you were far away from any friends, and you will suddenly feel the need of a good smoke, but you will hardly get the old pipe lit until someone taps you on the back and whispers the mystic words, “forbidden”. This is the backbone of their fraternity and we believe they have removed the aforesaid backbone from their members to put it there.
TALES OF AN OSTERMOOR

IF YOU DREAM OF DELTA TAU DELTA—abandon all hopes of ever amounting to anything. The Delts have. As our old friend, Julius Caesar said “when in Rome do as the Greeks do”, meaning that if your mind is down to their level, it will take several tons of TNT to get it back up. Now that John Barleycorn has hit the dust for the final count, the Delts are not prominent in anything unless you believe in the old saying that “the last shall be first.”

IF YOU DREAM OF DELTA UPSILON—sit bolt upright in bed and pinch yourself. If you have forgotten the dream by that time congratulate yourself and give another 25 cents to the Belgian relief fund. Someone once said that D. U. stood for Damned Unnecessary and although we have carried forth countless experiments we have failed to find a better explanation of the order.

IF YOU DREAM OF KAPPA SIGMA—run to your room and put on your asbestos pajamas. This was what St. Peter meant when he gave a certain dissertation about a hell on earth. One of the founders, a man passing under the cognomen of Nicodemus, was not at that time suspected of being in partnership with the Devil. It is a well known fact now, however, that these two are one and the same, and anyone who has ever had anything to do with these unfortunates knows what a life they lead.

IF YOU DREAM OF LAMBDA CHI ALPHA—you will awake a strong believer in prison reform. These degenerates have on their roster some of the most vicious criminals of the world, such as Jesse James and Collector of Funds Morey. It is interesting to note that Mr. Baird, in his famous collection, has allowed a peculiar error to slip by. He announces that this club designates their chapters as “Zetas”. It is so evident that he meant Zebras, that we need hardly go into the matter further. They have become so used to stripes that they cannot go past a barber pole without blushing.
TALES OF AN OSTERMOOR

IF YOU DREAM OF PHI DELTA THETA—keep it to yourself. There is nothing to be gained by spreading the news and it will only get you a bad reputation. Concerning the club, Mr. Baird states that it was established December 26, which gives us an unquestionable clew into the founding of the association. The date, December 26, immediately suggests to us Christmas, and it will be remembered by some of our more fortunate readers that five years ago (which year had the handicap of fostering this crew) there was plenty of whiskey and hard cider to be had. Thus after a merry party some misfits who were more polluted and—we venture to say that some were even paralyzed—than the rest got together and joined hands in a frolicking game of "drop the handkerchief". A mutual feeling of pity for their debauched, unfortunate selves grew out of this melee and the result was Phi Delt.

IF YOU DREAM OF PHI GAMMA DELTA—for Heaven's sake keep it under cover. Hold your head in shame for at least a fortnight, with the trust that you will be forgiven. Back in the old days Phi Gam existed sub rosa; men did not openly profess membership, and all activity of the fraternity was on the quiet. That ban against secret frats was lifted almost thirty years ago, and yet today we find the Phi Gams living the same old life of solitude and secrecy.

IF YOU DREAM OF PHI KAPPA PSI—run to the doctor and ask him for all of the antidotes and preventatives which he has. The Phi Psis are sick, and this strange condition has prevailed ever since the thing was founded five years ago. One glance at the old reliable and we find that it was perpetrated at Jefferson College during an epidemic of scarlet fever. We have always heard that this malady leaves one permanently disabled in some part of the system, and this horrible example certainly bears out that statement.

Five Hundred Seventy-three
TALES OF AN OSTERMOR

IF YOU DREAM OF PHI KAPPA SIGMA—you will wake up with a thirst and a splinter in your mouth. Whatever virtues these quaint creatures may have, abstinence is not one of them. Strange to say, this gang is the heart and soul of T. A. Clark's detective bureau, for when other sources fail, these correspondence school sleuths can always pick up a dozen or so of the brothers for being too careless with the bottle.

IF YOU DREAM OF PHI SIGMA KAPPA—get up immediately and lock up all of your valuables. This is merely a precautionary measure in case you walk in your sleep and attempt to steal your own watch. Ollie Metzler and his gang are the originators of the assertion that "there is honor among thieves" and some of the freshmen really believe it.

IF YOU DREAM OF PI KAPPA ALPHA—you will spend one of the toughest nights possible. In reality the environment around the P. K. A. house is actually so tough that the chapter canary sings bass. When a Pi Kap want to break up a cold, he makes a mixture of whisky and ground glass (preferred to rock candy). To better illustrate just how hard this variety of bar fly is, it may be of interest to know that one of the founders was once arrested for shoplifting in a piano store.

IF YOU DREAM OF PSI UPSILON—the morning after your mouth will taste like a motorman's glove. The poorest products of the best families cannot all be absorbed by this crowd but our observation shows that the Psi Us are performing a great service in ridding communities of most of them. Horatio Alger, the in-famous author, is a Psi U. His release by graduation from a direct bond with his frat brethren gave him the inspiration for a frank biographical treatise entitled, "Risen From the Rank." While the brothers admitted that the word "rank"
TALES OF AN OSTERMOOR

was correctly applied to them, they pleaded with Bro. Alger to release the book under the title of "Risen From the Ranks," which, out of pure sympathy, was done. After his initiation he wrote "Wait and Hope", but after he sank to the lowly level of his associates, he published "Sink or Swim." His book "Young Acrobat" was written after he watched the local chapter give a demonstration of their usual table manners.

IF YOU DREAM OF SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON—pardon us we had no intention of cursing in these pages when we started, but somehow the name slipped in. While we are on the subject of slipping, we might as well continue to talk of the Sig Alphs, for they have been slipping ever since they started. Our old friend Baird tells us that there is a fraternity by that name somewhere in the south, but we think he must have made some mistake in this instance for we can think of no good reason for calling this bunch a fraternity.

IF YOU DREAM OF SIGMA CHI—lie quietly and try to think what you have done during the day to deserve it. This is in the nature of an alibi, so you will probably succeed, for the Sigs always have an alibi for everything. They are very active in the house, even to the extent of playfulness, but they seem to forget all this when they get outside. They are well known on the south campus and in the Arcade, but they rarely get on well in any other place, probably because they are such a nondescript bunch. One of the questions which they argue among themselves at all times is whether they are a national or a local frat.

IF YOU DREAM OF SIGMA NU—and live to look it up in here we will pay you a reward of $10,000 (a Jewish million). We take this chance because statistics show that only one man out of the 2356 who have been unfortunate enough to have had this dream has survived it, and he was the president of the Garbage Men's Union. Why such an unimportant organization should raise such a horrible and destructive stench is still a mystery to the psychological world.

IF YOU DREAM OF TAU KAPPA EPSILON—You will wake up in a fit of laughter. Of course, the Tekes won't know what you are so convulsed over,
but that doesn't really matter.
In reality, the Tekes are the same to the fraternity world as Keystone comedies are to the movie realm. That old reliable authority, "Baird's Manual" correctly places the Tekes in the same division with the negro and Hindu societies. A Teke pin is like that old story about being seen in a bath tub. Most of the fem clerks at Lewis' and the waitresses at the Silver Moon recommend the Tekes highly.
IF YOU DREAM OF SIGMA PI—there will probably be no effects, either good or bad. This bunch is so weak it is not even capable of making a bad impression, and thousands of people are not aware that such a clan exists. The Sigma Pi lads have tried in various ways to establish themselves in the community, the latest being that of house building. They built out by the armory so that all the freshmen and sophomores would have to pass it coming home from drill.

IF YOU DREAM OF THETA CHI—turn over and go to sleep again. There is no cause for worry, yet there is no reason for elation. In any number of human beings you generally expect to find at least one man, but you will be sorely disappointed in this crew. They never had but one man in their whole history; poor old Chuck Fairman. It is said that they maintain a chapter house, but inasmuch as we haven't read the Illini this morning, we aren't positive of its location.

IF YOU DREAM OF THETA DELTA CHI—do not be surprised if you feel inclined to hiccup. Funny is about the kindest thing you can say about them. As a whole they are about as sorry a gang as it has ever been our misfortune to know. Abe Martin wrote the ritual for their initiation (or shall we say ignition) in his characteristic breezy style, and for this reason it is said that the individual members are just as funny to each other as they are to other persons. Yes the word Theta Delt inspires a chuckle.

IF YOU DREAM OF ZETA PSI—search frantically for a piece of cotton to stop up your ears. This crew serves well as a horrible example of a bad case of loud-mouth. Many of them will not recognize each other as brothers, but each one will disgust you with long discourses on himself. What they have ever had to become conceited over has always been a puzzle with us, and we have always felt that the less they said about themselves the better.

THE RUSH IS ON, OH CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS!

This is absolutely the first evidence we have had that there is a chapter of Phi Kappa Psi at Illinois.

A search of the city directory shows that a fraternity of such name is operating a chapter house at 911 S. Fourth St. As the following letter indicates, several choice rooms are still available for the present school year.

Dear Mr.:

A Phi Beta friend of yours has informed me that you expect to attend College at the University of Illinois this fall.

If possible, I wish you would try and arrange your date so as to spend part of your time visiting on this campus. We have a very fine house and our boys are all picked by their social standing so that they are all regular young men. We have some of the biggest men on the campus, for instance, Capt. DeJong, Captain of Football and Basketball and so on. Western than last year, I am sure you will enjoy every moment of your time you spend with us.

Please try and arrange to spend at least one evening with us, if you can do this at your earliest convenience, just write, and at what time I can meet you. I will meet you no matter when it may be.

Very truly yours,

The Campus Belles Are Pealing

By AL K. HALL

As shades of night were sagging down
We passed six one East Green,
The window curtains seemed to
Cut out the moonlight beam.
And o'er many a painted woman
There stole a lovely dream.
Then from a third floor case-

Leaned out a dam-o-sel,
The passers stopped and listed as
She rang a silver bell.
I heard a keen-eyed Theta Delt say “the Pi Phi Belles are pealing.”

To Al Barton.

(He is so well known that a photograph is unnecessary.)

As glides the glazier slowly toward the sea,
So moves his mind at top velocity.
For skin he has a cuticle of slate,
Suggestions arrow ne'er can penetrate.
His brazen ego does the world defy;
He worships but the English pronoun "I".
When at the football bleachers he appears
To beat the tempo for our lusty cheers,
He pouts and shouts and spouts all aimlessly,
And almost says, "Let's give nine rahs for me."
His conscience supple is, as spine of worm—
Forsooth in many ways this lad can squirm,
For with one hand he pats, his back with praise,
Whilst with the other, hands himself bouquets.

Five Hundred Eighty-one
In the Good Old Days

The Delta Tau Deltas averaged over 365 keg parties each year. An investigation by the Dean of Men in 1913 revealed the fact that 12 of the 59 Delt freshmen had never heard of University Hall. The lone graduate of the frat for the period 1902-1914 left the institution with the idea that Boots Ludwig was treasurer of the University. On Saturdays, the frosh would gather the bottles emptied the week before, and would often clear as high as $350 on empties sold to the junk man at a penny apiece.

This is the type of chicken or Easter egg the Delts used to import from Gawd knows where for the Junior Prom, etc. We call them Easter eggs because they were hard-boiled and painted. A Delt house dance used to register: 2 sorority girls, usually sisters; 8 telephone girls; 12 from Lewis'; 16 from the Little Gem shirt factory and 6 from the Urbana Soft-Water Laundry.
HOW TIME DOES FLY

Prohibition has had a most peculiar influence on things that have been inert for years.

On yon page we have pictured to you the routine of the organization in the days when Fire Water was 99-44-100 percent of the ritual.

On this page you see the fond hopes of Harry K. Thaw, Earl Dear and William Hale Thompson, founders, shamefully shattered.

Delta Tau Delta, not only tops the fraternity averages for the past semester, but totally eclipses the general University averages, according to information given out at the offices of the Dean of Men, yesterday.

The Delts, who have maintained a flawless scholastic record since prohibition set in in 1919, have 18 members of Phi Beta Kappa in the chapter. Individual members have the highest averages in every school, with the exception of the School of Music, in which the Phi Gamms take the berries.

The averages follows:

Delta Tau Delta 4.98
Sigma Noockey 2.83
Kappa Alpha Psi 2.31
Sigma Phi Epsilon 1.99

"Blovers Mange Remedy has greatly assisted me in imitating an airdale," said Tommie, as he extracted a misplaced bowl of chile from his nest-like beard. "Not only that," he added, "but I can make use of my whiskers in the campaign to exterminate the dread cootie. As you are perhaps aware, the cootie, like other rare insects, is attracted by the hedge-like appearance of a man's beard and will eagerly repair thereto in countless thousands. If they should seem a little timid at first, anoint the region slightly with chloroform or take a mouthful of bee-bee shots and spit at them."

"After the cooties are trapped in the meshes of the whiskers, it is a simple matter to lull them into a coma with the smoke from a Christmas cigar, after which they may be easily removed with an axe, pick or shovel."

But Ohio State had wooed Dame Fate,
And things looked black as coal,
When Captain Kopp shrieked, "Over the top!
We've got to make a goal."

The game is at its crisis and the bleacher crowd is tense;
The Buckeyes hit Illini like a hammer,
A Western Union virgin comes a-vaulting o'er the fence,
"A telegram for Kopp, signed Delta Gamma."
The captain reads the message, and shouts—his smile expands;
He slaps the back of Mister Bobby Fletcher;
"The Delta Gams are back of us!" (They dance and clap their hands.)
"You gotta kick a Goal." Bob said, "You betcher."

Oh a football game may bring one fame,

Loop Store Is Loser
In Holiday Crime Wave

One of the boldest robberies committed during the Christmas season took place at the Marshall Field department store today when a well-dressed woman deceived the managers and clerks of the store and paid for several hundred dollars worth of merchandise for which she had paid out a small deposit.

The police are on their trail.

About 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon this young lady asked for a position during the day preceding Christmas.

"We shall be glad to give you a place for a few days", said the gentleman. Here is your number and also a discount card which entitles you to a discount on all merchandise you may want from the store for your own use.

The young lady arrayed more like an actress than a shop girl, demobilized brows, Y. K., G. pin, suspicous face and all the compliments of the co-ed, came to work on time this morning. During the forenoon a Secretary, left the store, and made the rounds of the various women's departments, fur-coats, silk mantas, one-storey house, tanga chemises, and a variety of other articles of which the reporter doesn't know the correct spelling. Her purchases totaled $50. She had the discount deducted, paid the balance, asked for delivery, stuck her nose in the air and started for home. But she stopped at the Men's Store and used her discount card again for the purchase of $80 worth of half-hinted, various passionate hues. An interesting clue came from one of the floorwalkers, Halsey Smith, who was a student at the University of Illinois. Smith stated that while all Kayanes are alike in most ways they aren't all the same shape, and that she probably knew who her customers were in advance, hence the wide variety in sizes.

All-Conference
Team Is Picked
Daily Illini Selection
Is Absolutely Unbiased

By John A. Ingwersen, D. K. E.

"Yes, this business of selecting an All-Conference team no snap," mused John A. Ingwersen, last night, as he sat before the fire at the delta kappo epsilon rooms.

"Of course, our Bobbie, as I have nicknamed him, is the feature of the season. Ralph is close on his heels, but like in actuality I have given our Bobbie the most Illini publicity, it would seem queer to our many readers not to crown him the season's greatest success," he continued, as the number of brothers steadily multiplied about the great d. k. e. sports expert.

"Are you sure that Brother Walt Camp knew that Bobby and Ralph was deeks?" questioned Joe Mohr. "I don't believe he did or Delta Pi chap, of delta kappa epsilon would have been represented in his All-American selection."

"I seen by one of Bro. Hearst's journalistic endeavors that Bro. Henry Cabot Lodge has the right idea on this peace mix-up!" interrupted Hank Retsch, as he wiped the dust off Bro. Admiral Piers portrait.

"Sweedas Soreum is about the snappiest end that has come to Illinois in many a moon. He and Bro. Smith ain't had a fair chance. Personally I think that Al Mohr is the best guard in the conference, but on point all our critics don't seem to agree. Maybe I'm prejudiced, he's a d. k. e. but ten to one the other writers are the ones that's prejudiced," said the great athletic journalist, as he used his sleeve to rejuvenate the lastre of his d. k. e. pin.

"Strange to say there are a few other men on Illinois' team who will be heard from some day. Young Carney from Evanston should make the second team anyway next year. Crangle shows fairly well in spots. This man Depler is too fat to play, but I admire his pluck. Walsquat is erratic, and I don't like his type. There are a few other promising players on the team, the names of whom I don't recall."

Big Year For
Illinois Union

Allison Tells Reporter of Organization's Accomplishments

"Is this Red Allison?" asked the mild reporter as he stood at the bar of the Union building.

"Mr. Allison, yes, of the Union. What can I do for you, young fellow?" (Spits on the floor.)

"I want to get some information from you, Mr. Allison. You are the vice-president of the Union, aren't you?"

"Yes, in a way, I am. You see I was really elected vice-president but you see Tag isn't around much so I'm really president you see. Amounts to same thing, (Spits on counter.)

"Ah, so you are really president then?" queried the reporter with his mind visualizing the future created by his soop.

"Amounts to same thing, you see," answered Mr. Allison boastfully, as he spat at the post near the door.

"Well then you can probably tell me something about the Union plans for the year, can't you Mr. Allison?"

"Sure, sure, be glad to. Come in, come in," (Spit in front of the reporter.) "One thing being done today, you see. Having that door painted, Putting my name on it above Tug's. You see I really run the whole works, you see. See this room here? This is going to be the private office. Going to be in here. Have 'em ask Vie Cullen out front, he's my office boy you know, if they can see me. Send 'em into Tug's office first and then let 'em wait a while then come in mine. Yes, great idea. Fine thing for the Union."

"But can't you give some idea of the activity of the Union?"

"Well you see anybody of importance can find me here and talk to me, you see, and we'll talk about things and I'll give 'em advice."

"Mr. Allison, you don't happen to come from California do you?" asked the supplicant reporter.

"Why sure I do. How did you guess it? Say, out there--"

She's got her gogles on an' everything!

She's been thinking of the funny looking girls in the Chi O chapter—that accounts for the laughter. But she needn't think she's the only one who gets lots of fun studying the peculiar specimens that infests the Wright street nunnery.

Our old friend Wallie Bregman is leading the inmates of the State Deaf and Dumb Asylum in a big Oskie-wow-wow.

Little Elmer, on our left, suggests that he is merely plumb crazy over the object in the background.

In our case, we looked at the picture ten minutes before we saw Wallie.

WHO'S NOT ON THE FACULTY

ELMO SCOTT WATSON, A.M., M., & P.M.

Like most Betas, Elmo tired of work at an early age. He then sought a place on the faculty as assistant to Doc Harrington, who at the time was suffering from nervous breakdown from overwork in the journalism department.

His success was instantaneous.

Today Elmo cuts Prof. Harrington's hair, empties the waste baskets, kids all the good looking janes taking the curse in journalism, and keeps the students in a general uproar over original jokes, which he has read in back numbers of the World's Work, the Atlantic Monthly, and the Yale Review.

Elmo is married, carries matches, and shoots an occasional dish of plain ice cream.

The above photo of Elmo the Mighty is from the collection owned by the Pinkerton Detective Agency. Apparently he is approaching his teens, as his innocent look is waning with unusual rapidity. The fact that he wears a white collar is clear evidence that he was not a member of Beta Theta Pi when the Colfax, Ill., photographer went through the terrible ordeal.

The graduate of today enters a world electrical.

Gathered from the distant waterfalls or generated by the steam turbine, electric power is transmitted to the busiest city or the smallest country place.

Through the co-ordination of inventive genius with engineering and manufacturing resources, the General Electric Company has fostered and developed to a high state of perfection these and numerous other applications.

And so electricity, scarcely older than the graduate of today, appears in a practical, well-developed service on every hand.

Recognize its power, study its applications to your life's work, and utilize it to the utmost for the benefit of all mankind.
WE intend that this shall be a unique clothing institution; different from others. Different in liberal policies; in a spirit of service; in assured qualities and values. We guarantee your satisfaction with our goods by test of wear; we refund money cheerfully.

MILK is the richest food sold; it is also one of the cheapest foods; it is found in every diet of the human race; it can be the most healthful or the most dangerous of foods, according to the way it is taken care of on the farm, the dairy, or the distributing depot. There is only one solution of this great food question—

In summer time, when days are sunny,
You wear your furs, and ne'er perspire;
In winter time (Oh gee, it's funny),
You dress like St. Cecelia's choir.

And when December winds grow colder,
And blizzards rage with snow and sleet,
You put more powder on your shoulder,
And huge galoshes on your feet.

Do you suppose that as a slavy,
With felt-wrapped feet you'll vamp the frosh?
If this ain't it I cannot savvy
Why you should wear the big galosh.

The water supplied by the Champaign & Urbana Water Company to the Twin Cities is taken from 30 tube wells 160 feet deep, and is pumped into a receiving basin being aerated for the purpose of oxidizing the iron content. It is then pumped to the mechanical filters for the purpose of removing the iron. Liquid Chlorine is introduced into the water before entering the filters in the quantity of four pounds per million gallons of water. The water flows from the filter into the storage reservoirs from which it is pumped into the eighty miles of distributing mains.

For activities like these wear a BRAXTON

For dress you want a belt that has style; for business, one that is comfortable; for play, one that allows of unhampered movement.

In the common run of belts you get at most only one of these services—when you wear a Braxton, the Belt for Men, you get all three.

Have your haberdasher show you a Braxton, and in a flash—quick—you'll see why.

You'll find Braxtons made up in seven superb leathers, with snaps for interchangeable buckles; you'll find a combination of color, cut and finish that will delight your eye and smarten up your appearance.

And you'll note that at the points where it encircles the hips, the Braxton is specially shaped—it's what makes the Braxton so easy to wear at the desk, on the courts, or while "stepping out." This feature likewise gives your trousers a hang that's exactly right.

Your favorite men's shop will have Braxtons. You can get yours today.

He was a freshman, passing bright,
When first he came into my sight;
Had curved lips and auburn curl,
Forsooth, he looked just like a girl.

His lissome limbs, and classic mien,
Would turn a Venus' eyes to green,
His dainty shrugs, impassioned sighs,
Brought him for keeps the beauty prize.

My friends and I, an awkward wight,
Gazed on his face with dumb delight;
The truth had never crossed my thought,
But now I know his brains are naught.

Jenkins Valves are made in types and sizes to meet all requirements of power plant, plumbing and heating service. The dominant idea behind the construction of every valve is strength and proportion for maximum service. The severest conditions to which each valve may be subjected, not the average, determines the design and construction, with the result that Jenkins Valves are always strong and heavy enough, and ready to meet the strains and “hard usage” by a wide margin.

Only valves bearing the Jenkins “Diamond Mark” cast in the body may be truthfully called and lawfully sold as Jenkins.
Jenkins 96, Jenarco, Oiltite and Magnolia Sheet Packing, Jenkins
Renewal Composition Discs, Pump Valves, Cut Gaskets, Gasket Tubing,

BIBLE POPULAR WITH STUDENTS AT ILLINOIS
INTERPRETATIONS OF BOOK ARE IN DEMAND.
IS FAVORITE OVER FICTION

Books on how to study the Bible and interpretations of the Bible are in great demand. "The book that is eagerly read by the students, more eagerly read by the faculty, and recommended by the students. Other popular books of this sort are, "What to Do When the Bible Is Boring," "The Bible and "Life Among Christians" will continue, almost indefinitely, until there is a great demand for the book to stop circulating," said Miss Joyce of the library. "Students are making use of them, borrowing them by the hundreds, immediately and persistently. Biblical and religious works seem next, perhaps in popularity, essays by Lincoln, "North, South, and the War," and Paine's "The Age of Reason."" What Men Live By," and "How the most popular ethical is to live.

Clothes Facts--

DURING THE YEAR OF 1917 RECORDS SHOW 85% OF THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS WORE READY-MADE CLOTHES.

We believe this was because ready-made clothes could be bought at a range of prices from $15.00 per suit upward. RECORDS SHOW READY-MADE CLOTHES HAVE ADVANCED MORE THAN 125% TAILOR-MADE CLOTHES HAVE ADVANCED ONLY 85%.

It has been generally agreed even in the past that Tailor-made clothes cost less in the end. Now that this unusual change has come about we believe all will agree Tailors are offering by far the best values.

IF THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS INVESTIGATE THESE FACTS THEY WILL WEAR ONLY TAILOR-MADE CLOTHES.

The World's Best Farm Elevator Outfits

National Giant Elevators are preferred by college trained men who know real merit when they see it. Best for strength, light draught, capacity and convenience. Handle all grains and ear corn perfectly—run by engine or horse.

NATIONAL GIANT STEEL PORTABLE ELEVATOR
Finest Outside Elevator built. Has the desirable patented features that make an Elevator most profitable. The famous section, common sense feeder, overhead jack, etc.

LITTLE GIANT WOOD ELEVATOR
Brother Elevator in wood to the National Giant Steel Elevator, giving excellent service now on thousands of farms. Both Elevators made any length.

NATIONAL GIANT INSIDE BUCKET ELEVATOR
Most sensible inside elevator ever made. Can be installed in new or old crib; with or without pit; has the famous National Giant Head Section etc., every feature patented.

Why Not Two Instead of One

If you make your drive strong enough, why not drive two spindles instead of one?

If you make your turret stiff enough, why not put on two sets of tools instead of one?

If the operator has to stop the machine to put in one piece, why not have him put in two instead?

If you have any desire to practically double your output per machine, per man and per dollar investment, why not get a Double Spindle Flat Turret Lathe for your chucking work?
