On September 1, 1953, I was asked by the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois to accept the office of President of the University. On that date, in order that there might be an understanding of my concept of this responsibility, I issued a brief statement of the scope of the responsibilities of this office which included the need to secure the best staff possible, to nurture the interest and confidence of alumni, to respect completely the responsibility to the people of the State and to make the University a place where men of good will and intellect could work together in harmony. But the first requirement, as stated in full, was: To recognize that the primary obligation of the institution is to its students, and that without neglecting other highly important services of research and public service, competent and adequate instruction must be its first concern.

Stated directly and simply, this is the complete recognition of the fact that the basic purpose of the University of Illinois is to teach and serve its students.

Our University pioneered in the concept that institutions of higher education are interested in the whole student, not just the student in the classroom. This means that we have a vital interest in every aspect of the student’s University life—educational, emotional, recreational, social and finally, spiritual. I believe no university has done more than this University to work with its students in all of these important phases of student life.

The University of Illinois has not done this on a basis of mere direction; it has gone much further, and has involved the students themselves in all phases of control and direction of their student life. We believe in the policy of faculty and administration and students all working together, rather than faculty and administration versus students.

The Illio presents a splendid record of the contemporary activities of students at the University. Behind this record is the tremendous amount of work which students, faculty and administration have accomplished together, in the furthering of the primary obligation of the University, and in harmonious teamwork.

I congratulate all the students on the fine part they have played in making these achievements possible and extend to seniors and others who may soon be leaving our midst, the best wishes of Mrs. Morey and myself for your life-long and unlimited success and happiness.

A great university is a collection of colleges, schools, divisions, institutes, bureaus, services, and experiment stations. All these parts must work together as a unit, and certain services must provide for all. To tie this organization together, and at the same time to look ahead and plan for the future, is the task of the University's administration.

A great university's operation is as complex as a great industry. Functioning in the interest of the citizens and financed largely by tax funds from them, the University must seek efficiency, yet must never lose sight of its purpose in education, research and service. It must be flexible to meet immediate problems, yet keep focused on long-range values.

The University's work is carried on not only in classroom, laboratory, and library, but also through extension, demonstrations, publications, motion pictures, and radio. The facts that the University gathers from all over the world through its research, and the new knowledge developed, go not only into teaching, but are made available to people everywhere. The University touches almost every field of human interest and activity from the classics and the arts to government, health, agriculture, business, and engineering.

Carrying out these policies and directly administering the University is the task of the President. He has assisting him the Vice President, the Deans and Directors of the various units, the Comptroller, the Provost, and the Board of Trustees, who selects the President and directs the general policies of administration.

The University of Illinois Foundation, established in 1935, is a non-profit corporation organized under the laws of Illinois. Its chief function is to encourage gifts, from both individuals and corporations, for the purpose of assisting the general educational and research program of the University.

Another function of the foundation is the development of patents assigned to it by the University. The Illini Achievement Fund is a permanent annual-gift program in the interests of the University. It is administered by the University of Illinois Foundation. This fund has set records among the Big Ten schools for the number of gifts to such a fund.

The Foundation has a membership of one hundred persons, most of whom are alumni of the University. The present Board of Directors consists of nine members. In addition to the officers pictured, they are: Joseph Ator, Chicago; Joseph Campbell, Nashville, Illinois; George Donoghue, Chicago; Eugene Funk, Bloomington; Park Livingston, Franklin Park; Lloyd Morcey, Urbana; and Leslie Worthington, Chicago.
The University of Illinois Alumni Association

The official bond between the University and Illini alumni is the Alumni Association. This bond is strengthened by the sending of the Illinois Alumni News, which the Association publishes nine times a year. This group assists the officers of the always increasing alumni clubs, helps maintain the Illini center in Chicago's LaSalle Hotel, and performs hundreds of personal services for alumni.

The Association keeps in contact with the alumni and records address changes of almost 90,000 Illini. Some 2,000 address changes are made every month.

Public relations movies are only a part of their activities. The movie concerning the famous playing, marching and singing Illinois football band is only one of their productions to show alumni campus scenes and activities.

In its work to help Illini clubs all over the country, its executives have met with scores of Illini groups, made talks about the campus and its affairs, and have shown football movies and other films.
The deans of the University of Illinois have a great responsibility in providing for the welfare of each student. Dean of students Fred H. Turner is the unifying and coordinating official. His staff consists of Associate Dean Harold S. Dawson, director of placement, and Assistant Deans Arthur Hamilton and George H. Bargh, in charge of foreign students.

Miss Miriam A. Shelden, Dean of Women, has as her assistants Miss Agnes G. Tandberg, associate dean of freshman women; Miss Mary E. Harrison, assistant dean of independent women; Miss Eunice Dowse, assistant dean of residence hall counseling; and Miss K. Patricia Cross, assistant dean of sorority women.

Aiding Dean of Men Edward E. Stafford are Howard G. Neuberg, newly appointed assistant dean of fraternity men; Richard E. Hulet and Calvin S. Sifferd, assistant deans of independent men; Gerald W. Peck, assistant dean of student employment; and V. James Hampton, assistant dean of student organizations. Serving with the director of the Division of Special Services for War Veterans is David L. Wolfe.

Each of these deans is constantly doing his best to see that the relations between the students, the faculty, and the citizens are as friendly as possible and that the students of the University of Illinois are aided in solving any problems they may have.

The “University in the Lake” was established in 1946 by the University of Illinois at Navy Pier in Chicago. Professional curricula in architecture, architectural engineering, physical education, and a program leading to a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing are offered. Also available are complete pre-professional courses of study in liberal arts and sciences, commerce and business administration, and engineering. Both the basic and advanced courses in ROTC are included for men students.

Students enrolled at the Chicago Undergraduate Division have the same status as students matriculating on the Urbana campus. Priority in completing their work for degrees on the Urbana campus is given the Chicago branch students.

In 1867 when the University of Illinois was chartered, the College of Agriculture was founded.

The College of Agriculture has three major goals: to improve the quality of the products grown in Illinois and the efficiency of their production, to advance the welfare of those engaged in agriculture, and to create a better understanding of the place agriculture holds in our economy.

Technical courses in the fields of agriculture and home economics are offered as a means of achieving the three former goals.

The Experiment Station reinforces the teachings of the College by its testing of new practices. Members of the staff maintain a close contact with the people of the state through its Extension Service.

Four divisions of primary importance are found in the College of Commerce and Business Administration: the Department of Business Organization and Operation, the Department of Economics, the Bureau of Economic and Business Research, and the Business Management Service.

Providing students with a program designed to train them for careers in business, economics, and administration constitutes the main function of the College. This program is also designed to prepare the individual to better play his role as a citizen.

An organized research program is administered by the Bureau of Economic and Business Research. Its findings are published in special monographs as well as two journals—(1) Illinois Business Review, a monthly summary of business conditions for Illinois, and (2) Current Economic Comment, issued quarterly.
In the College of Education students receive training for careers in teaching, special educational services, and school administration. Special undergraduate programs are offered in industrial, agricultural, home economics, and elementary curricula.

Students receive actual teaching experience under supervisors in schools cooperating with the College of Education.

Investigations in the field of education for the College are conducted by the Bureau of Research and Service. These investigations are in the form of directing school surveys.

The University High School, which serves as a laboratory for the College, affords opportunities for experimentation under controlled conditions.
Nine different curricula compose the College of Engineering. They are aeronautical, ceramic, chemical, civil, electrical, general, mechanical, and mining and metallurgical engineering, physics; and theoretical and applied mechanics.

Collectively the College, one of the largest in the University, has been and is now continuing the study of many teaching and educational methods.

The College of Engineering has always stressed extracurricular activities as an important part of education. Several honorary fraternities are organized to recognize and promote scholarship. The Illinois Technograph, an engineering magazine published and managed by engineering students, offers a variety of opportunities for engineers.

The student Engineering Council serves to co-ordinate the numerous functions of the member professional societies and sponsors many College-wide activities.

College of Engineering
The College of Fine and Applied Arts consists of seven Departments—Architecture, Art, Landscape Architecture, the School of Music, the Bureau of Community Planning, and the University Bands. Sixteen campus structures house the College of Fine and Applied Arts.

Twelve curricula leading to degrees in various fields of the Fine Arts are offered. Besides the College's formal program of instruction it offers many admission-free lectures, concerts, recitals, and a series of art exhibits displayed in the Architecture Building. In cooperation with other campus departments, the College annually sponsors a festival of Contemporary Arts.

Rexford Newcomb, Dean of the College of Fine and Applied Arts, has been on the faculty of the University of Illinois for a third of a century.
Graduate instruction at the University of Illinois began in 1902. In 1908 a Graduate School with a separate faculty and administration was organized.

David Kinley, who later became President of the University of Illinois, was the first Graduate Dean. The words of Mr. Kinley express the essential aim of the Graduate College, "The development of the power of independent work and the promotion of the spirit of research."

Since its founding the College has grown steadily, but most rapidly after World War II. Scholarships and fellowships established by the University Board of Trustees are contributing to this growth.

Many students in the Graduate College hold positions as instructors in undergraduate divisions of their specialized courses.
Fifty years ago the School of Journalism was first introduced to the University of Illinois under the sponsorship of Thomas Arkle Clark, a member of the English Department. In 1950, the name of the School was changed to School of Journalism and Communications to describe more accurately its present functions.

Instruction in the School of Journalism and Communications consists of a journalism division, including news editorial work and publication management, an advertising division, and a radio division. The School also attempts to provide services for the Communications industry in the state.

The journalism and communications program is based on the conviction that the student can profit best from a course of study that permits him to integrate professional subjects with general subjects.
The primary purpose of the College of Law is to train men and women for the practice of law. In a broader context, the College aims to provide a part of the educational foundation for men and women who will become leaders in community service and directors of public thought.

Since its founding in 1897, the College of Law has pioneered for the improvement of legal education and for higher standards of admission to the United States Bar.

Two national accrediting agencies for law school, the Association of American Law Schools and the Section of Law Education of the American Bar Association, have been organized since the establishment of the College. From the first, the College has been on the approved lists of these agencies.
The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the largest and most complex division of the University. This complexity is due to the fact that the College serves a great many purposes.

The General Curriculum of the College leads to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science depending upon the field of concentration and emphasis of study.

In cooperation with the College of Medicine, the College offers a professional course in occupational therapy leading to a degree in the College of Medicine.

The College also functions as a service unit for other colleges offering fixed curricula in pre-professional training for nursing, medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, law, and journalism. This training includes such work in English, foreign languages, science, and social science as constitutes established all-University or special College requirements.
Library School

The oldest library school west of the Alleghenies is the University of Illinois Library School. Established in 1893, this school was located at the Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago until the summer of 1897 when it was moved to the Urbana Campus.

The purpose of the Library School is to prepare administrators and assistants for service in public libraries; in libraries of schools, colleges, and universities; and for specialized libraries.

Fully accredited by the American Library Association, the Library School is rated as one of the leading schools in the field.

The undergraduate Library Science courses are offered as a minor in the College of Liberal Arts and Science, and the College of Education. The fifth year's work for the M.S. and L.S. Degree is the minimum academic preparation for professional librarianship.
The School of Physical Education serves two major functions. First, it provides professional training in five lines of service: physical education for both men and women, health education for both men and women, recreation for both men and women, and dance for women.

Second, the School conducts a service program in physical education for all University students who, by University regulation, are required to secure four semesters credit in this subject.

The School is outstanding for its program of fundamental research in the fields of motor and organic fitness and diagnostic fitness tests for both faculty and students.

Since 1937, Seward Staley, a graduate of Springfield College, has served as director of the School of Physical Education.
The Division of Special Services for War Veterans was formed to give the greatest possible help to veterans who wish to enroll in the University of Illinois.

Veterans are offered an opportunity to reorient themselves academically through refresher work, reduced programs, and selection of courses. The Division directs the educational programs of veterans whose special needs are not met by existing curricula, and can certify such students for the Bachelor of Science degree.

In addition, the Division studies the needs of returning veterans and informs the veterans of all the many services of the University.
The Division of University Extension is the agency responsible for "extending" the educational resources of the University to persons not enrolled for study in residence.

Like the Graduate College, the Division's faculty is drawn from the faculties of the other colleges and schools; and it is composed of those members of the teaching departments who give such instruction, together with a small administrative staff.

About one hundred seven college-level correspondence courses are offered toward earning a degree.

The Division also attends to the Film Library of the University. High schools all over the state, as well as other Universities, rent instructional films and old movies from the Extension.
In 1944 the College of Veterinary Medicine was established, and in 1948 a professional four-year course in veterinary medicine leading to a D.V.M. degree was activated.

The College trains veterinarians in the control and prevention of animal diseases in order to protect the livestock industry and to safeguard public health from animal diseases transmissible to man.

Other work of the College includes programs of veterinary research, extension, and graduate study. A disease diagnostic service and a veterinary clinic and hospital service provide animal patients and specimens for instructional purposes.

Dr. Robert Graham was appointed as the first dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine in 1945.

The Student Senate, the official representative body of the students, is composed of thirty-eight members. Twenty-four of these are elected by the student body and fourteen ex-officio members represent various activities and housing groups.

Four main committees regulated by the Senate are Educational Opportunity, International Affairs, Student Life, and By-Laws. Some of the responsibilities of the Senate are promoting the welfare of the student body and working with the Committee on Student Affairs to exercise authority over the policies of student organizations.

Any student on campus may attend a Senate meeting, voice opinions concerning the business at hand, or present and support a legislation.

The Co-ordination Committee was set up to prevent unnecessary conflict and competition between the programs and events sponsored by various student organizations. Their responsibility includes the consideration of student petitions and the scheduling of a time and location for student-sponsored programs. Among the other jobs of this committee are compiling an annual calendar of events, planning the budget for many University functions, and handling tickets.

Some of the organizations which the Co-ordination Committee regulates are the University Theatre, Illini Union, Campus Chest, Illini Board of Control, Concert and Entertainment Board, Freshman Council, men's and women's athletic groups, and various housing units. The committee is now in its sixth year of active service.

The Student Senate appoints nine faculty members to the Committee on Student Affairs. This part of our Senate serves as an advisory group to the Dean of Students and, with the help of the Senate, writes the "Code on Student Affairs," a set of regulations concerning the operation of all student organizations.

The purpose of the committee is to provide valuable services to the student body, such as: assisting them in setting up plans of self-government and in managing their activities; encouraging their sense of personal responsibility; preventing extra-curricular activities from imposing too heavily upon their scholastic progress; and helping to organize and maintain living conditions which are safe, healthful, and moral for them as college students.

Plowboy Prom

"Hayloft Holiday," the 1953 Plowboy Prom, was held on April 24. According to custom, the fellows presented their dates home-made, real vegetable corsages, and the girls brought old-fashioned sack lunches, which were eaten at intermission.

Apparel and decorations set the mood for the theme of the dance. Fellows wore blue jeans, and girls, cottons. One feature of the scenes in Huff Gym was the large hayloft window from which the couples had their pictures taken.

This dance is sponsored annually by the Home Economics and Agriculture Clubs. Jan Garber’s orchestra played this year.
Little International Horse Show

The twenty-eighth Little International Horse Show was sponsored by the Hoof and Horn Club on Dads' Day this year. Over 150 horses from four states were entered, representing both western and society classes. The entertainment was highlighted by a square dance on horseback.

June Tracey was crowned queen of the show by the co-chairmen Dave Knollhoff and Judy Stewart. The queen and her court presented the trophies to the winners of each class.

To the victor go the spoils.

Roses for the Queen
Dick Jurgens and his orchestra played for the 1953 Senior Ball which was held in the Illini Union Ballroom. The annual dance was held on May 15 this year. The theme, “Illini Years,” was intended to bring back memories of college days for the students present, especially seniors.

James Ross, who was the senior class president, worked with a large dance committee. Chairman was William Mason; treasurer, Charles Wheeler; in charge of arrangements, James Linsley; decorations, William Novak; publicity, Nancie McGill; tickets and bids, James Large.
Panhellenic Ball

“Mardi Gras” was the theme of the Panhellenic Ball this year, held on November 21, at Huff Gymnasium. Giant clown hats with ruffles at the top and bottom were placed along the edge of the balcony. There was a hat for each sorority affiliated with Panhellenic. Two silver and black thespian masks were placed above the well-known orchestra of Ray Anthony. The Mexican Hat Dance, Bunny Hop, and Hokey-Pokey were among the many dances the couples enjoyed during the evening.

One main event of the dance was the presentation of the twenty-six “ideal” sorority girls.
The Women's Group System strives to aid independent women, especially freshmen, with their campus problems. It tries to promote higher scholastic standing, greater activity interest, and a general spirit of cooperation.

Some of the annual events WGS sponsors are Watcheka Sing, a Mothers' Day luncheon, and teas honoring houses and individual girls for outstanding scholarship or activities. It also joins the Men's Independent Association in sponsoring larger campus activities and in publishing their own newspaper, the Indee.

The groups within WGS are house presidents, freshman board, and executive council. Their interaction creates an effective coordination of the women in residence halls and independent organized houses on campus.

Panhellenic Council furthers high standards and scholarship for sorority girls. Besides governing and policy-making, it functions by creating close friendship among the Greek houses and also between them and the independent women. Two annual activities of the organization are the Panhellenic Ball and the All-Pledge Banquet.

The governing bodies of Panhellenic are the presidents' council and the executive council, which includes council officers, faculty advisor, and departmental and junior departmental chairmen. These departments are social, scholarship, rushing, pledge, activity, public relations, and Shi-Ai.

A division, Junior Panhellenic, is composed of the pledge presidents, who must familiarize the pledges with the organization and operation of Panhellenic.

Men's Independent Association
Men's Independent Association represents the men of the organized independent houses on campus and gives them a certain influence in the governmental affairs of the students. It is an active member of the National Independent Student Association.

This group, which is entirely student-organized, has a faculty board to advise it in its affairs. Executive Council and Monday Council are the two legislative bodies. Representation in the association is composed of a student from each organized house of four or more residents.

Men's Independent Association aids students in participation in all activities on campus. It awards trophies for participation in intramural sports and leadership in many recreational programs, in addition to those given for scholastic honors.

One duty of the Interfraternity Council is governing and supervising social fraternities on the campus. Such current problems as scholarship, activities, house finances, house management, and pledge training are taken up by the Council, which is composed of two chapter representatives from each of the fifty-eight fraternities.

The Illinois council holds an important position as a leader in fraternity self-government. The University of Illinois was one of the first universities to establish the post of Assistant Dean of Men for Fraternities.

A board composed of three staff fraternity men, three local fraternity alumni, and the Executive Council advise this group. The members of this board form the Board of Fraternity Affairs.

In its first year on campus, the Junior Interfraternity Council had one primary objective: the improvement of pledge classes in the building of character as well as in the strengthening of scholarship.

A president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms, each with a term of one semester, comprise the core of the governing body. Their job is to keep the meetings running smoothly, maintain order, iron out financial problems, and see that committee heads are appointed.

There are two main events completely planned by Junior Interfraternity Council. One is a dessert, to which an invitation is extended to all fraternity pledges. The other is the Junior Interfraternity Ball, held in the spring, which is only for the pledges.

Campus Chest

Campus Chest, a comparatively new organization on campus, was established at the University of Illinois to eliminate the inconvenience of individual student and faculty donations to numerous charities.

Each fall a general fund drive is conducted, which includes contributions to all of the major charities, locally, nationally, and internationally. The Allocations and Advisory Board, composed of representatives from major student organizations, representatives from the Chest, and three faculty advisors, controls the proceeds from this drive, as well as from Spring Carnival.
The Illini Union
The Illini Union was established as a center of campus life for the use of students, staff, alumni, and friends of the University.

Equipped by the Board of Trustees through the co-operation of the University of Illinois Foundation, the Union was made possible by a grant of funds from the Federal Government, a separate loan, and contributions from alumni and friends of the University.

The Y.M.C.A. offers a program of various activities that will balance a student's education with a deeper and more spiritual meaning. A non-denominational organization, the Y.M.C.A. gives its members many opportunities to work on the more than twenty committees connected with the "Y" projects. Each year a freshman orientation program is planned and carried out. The "I" book, which supplies University information to students, is published by this organization.

The Kaezer Room, located in the basement of the Y.M.C.A., is a popular place to meet for refreshments. Study rooms, general lounges, and a craft shop are also important parts of the "Y." Hometown newspapers and current-issue magazines are provided in the lounges for the students' use.
Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women’s Christian Association offers university women an opportunity to do work in fields ranging from social service in the community to international affairs.

Services reach beyond the immediate community to Chanute Field, where craft and recreation groups are sponsored. Also, international students carry on many programs designed to encourage understanding.

Yearly projects undertaken by the “Y” are mum sales at Homecoming, a bake sale, and a doll show before the Christmas vacation, which has won state-wide recognition for its uniqueness and service.

Four senior editors guided the planning of the 1954 Illio. The editor and three associate editors collaborated to make the Illio a publication of interest to all students. They also supervised the moving of the entire Illio staff to their new headquarters in the basement of Illini Hall.

The nine junior editors were responsible for the supervision of the six sections composing the Illio, which are Activities, Chicago Campus, Organizations and Illi-noise, Residences, Seniors, and Sports. They delegated the filing, typing, copy-writing, and picture-cropping to the freshmen and sophomore staff members. These freshmen and sophomores learn more about their work by attending a workshop held each spring in the Illio office.

Advertising, sales, and circulation of the 1954 Illio are the responsibilities of the Illio Business Staff. Registration sales, “Turkey Sales” before Thanksgiving, and special sales drives were among their responsibilities. The Illio Beauty Contest, held every fall, is under the supervision of the senior managers, who also direct the junior managers in their work.

The nine junior business staff members are divided into two groups, advertising and sales. Freshman and sophomore staff members, who work under the direction of the juniors, do the actual selling of the Illio and much of the typing and filing connected with the general office work.
Daily Illini Editorial Staff

All copy appearing in The Daily Illini is written by members of the editorial staff. Latest news and feature articles appear in every issue. Proof-reading of the entire paper and assigning of pictures is done by this staff.

The editorial staff is sub-divided into campus, sports, city, and society desks. Reporters write headlines for all articles, select stories to appear in the next edition, and decide the location of each story. The editor, who is in charge of all the staff, writes editorials. A staff member “working on the rim” is assisting at the copy desk.

Publication of The Daily Illini in its new tabloid size was a new innovation this semester.
Three different groups make up the Advertising Staff. These are classified, display, and dispatch sections. Members of the display group sell space, solicit for advertisements, and plan all the lay-outs. Members of the classified section handle all classified advertising. Managing the office routine and taking proofs to be checked by the advertiser are the duties of members of dispatch. The advertising director is head of the entire staff.
Daily Illini
Circulation Staff

The circulation staff of the Daily Illini keeps a record of the sales and subscriptions of the student newspaper. Under the supervision of the circulation director, the staff determines how many papers are to be printed each day. Early each semester, the promotion staff directs a sales campaign conducted by student solicitors on campus. The office staff handles all the clerical work connected with the mail and delivery service.

Illini Rural Observer

This is the third year that agriculture and home economics students have published the Illini Rural Observer. It is a semi-monthly newspaper which replaced an earlier publication, the Illinois Agriculturist.

The Observer prints news of Agriculture Club activities and articles of current interest in the rural world. This publication is written for many people. In addition to the students and staff members on our campus, it is sent to interested farmers and alumni, and to all teachers of vocational agriculture and farm and home advisors in the state.

The paper offers the students interested in agricultural journalism and business administration an excellent opportunity for practical experience.

Any engineering student interested in obtaining practical journalistic experience can find such work by becoming a member of the staff of the Technograph. These writers, as well as the readers, benefit from the wealth of knowledge concerning current technical and industrial problems in our world of science.

Engineering students at Illinois receive their copies of the Technograph every month during the school year. Some of the articles of interest are submitted by our own University staff members and by engineering specialists.

Various activities of interest to the engineering department and the capable management of the Technograph's business result from the relations between the staff and the Engineering Council.
Photographic Staff

In their office in the basement of Illini Hall, the photographic staff develops and prints the pictures which they have taken for the major publications on campus. The staff handles picture assignments for The Daily Illini, The Illio, Illini Rural Observer, and the Technograph.

The Illini Publishing Company, which maintains the photographic staff, provides all the equipment for the staff's use.

The photo chief, Frank Slepicka, and the assistant photo chief, James Fischer, direct the activities and the picture coverage. Under their direction, the staff works independently of any campus publication.

The Illini Publishing Company, a non-profit corporation, was chartered by the State of Illinois for the purpose of printing, publishing, and distributing all official student publications at the University of Illinois.

Four student members, who serve for a two-year term, are chosen by the board from nominations made by the Student Senate. The four faculty members of the board are appointed by the President of the University to serve for a four-year term.

The board controls the finances and appoints the senior editors and managers of student publications on campus. The Illio, The Daily Illini, Illini Rural Observer, and Illinois Technograph are the publications managed by the board.

The University Theatre, formerly called Illini Theatre Guild, each year presents several major productions selected from both contemporary and classical sources. They also work on smaller productions in the division called Workshop Theatre. This year the members have a new workshop in the Sixth Street Building, which provides a wonderful place for all the activity that takes place in such an organization.

Working in the Theatre is a great chance for dramatically minded students to get into extra-curricular activity. Not only those with acting ability have a chance, but those interested in costumes, business, publicity, and make-up have important jobs.

The student staff consists of a general manager, assisted by a personnel manager, and eight senior "work crew" members.

The Illini Forensic Association is an organization open to students interested in developing their speaking ability through participation in debate, discussion, and public-speaking events. The Association acts as the official representative of the University in intercollegiate speech events and sponsors many campus speech activities such as parliamentary debates with the YMCA and a weekly forum on WILL. It also provides speakers for demonstration debates and the high school debaters’ work shop.

Eight varsity and sixteen junior varsity members are chosen by try-outs and by the approval of the Varsity Debate Committee each year.

University Choir is the most advanced choral group. Its members are selected from competitive try-outs held at the beginning of each semester.

In February, members of the Choir took part in a tour throughout Illinois. They presented concerts on campus, one of which was directed by the Swiss conductor, Ansermet.

The Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Bernard Goodman, is open to anyone who shows he is qualified for membership during try-outs. This includes all students in the University, townspeople, and faculty.

This orchestra presents several concerts each year and includes in its programs contemporary as well as classical works.

Composing the orchestra's many activities are out-of-town concerts, a performance during the Contemporary Arts Festival, and concerts for organizations and high schools. Another function of the orchestra is to welcome guest conductors.

Symphony Orchestra

One of the finest University bands in the country is the Illinois Concert Band, directed by Mark Hindsley. Only musicians of the highest caliber are admitted as members.

The fame of this organization is attained through various activities during the year. The band participates in the University Band Clinic in January and in the spring twilight concerts. It plays at the commencement exercises, broadcasts over WILL, presents its annual Anniversary Concert, and makes several appearances at high schools throughout the state.

Concert Band

First
Regimental Band

An important part of the University's division of musical organizations is the First Regimental Band. In the fall it serves as the nucleus of the famous University of Illinois Marching Band; following the football season it becomes an extra concert organization.

The main objective of the band is to prepare its musicians for positions in the Concert Band. To give the players experience in concert work, it participates in the Spring Twilight Concerts here on campus, performs at the annual Band Clinic, and broadcasts over WILL. The band also co-operates with the military organizations by providing music at important ceremonies.

The Second Regimental Band, directed by Everett Kisinger, is an important nucleus of the musical department at our University. It includes mostly freshmen and sophomores. From it are chosen quite a number of male members to play in the Football Band. When vacancies occur in the Concert and First Regimental Bands, tryouts are held so that these younger musicians have an opportunity for advancement.

Second Regimental Band plays for pep rallies and events such as Mothers' Day and High School Circus. It cooperates with the other bands in the provision of music at military ceremonies, at the annual Band Clinic, and for the Twilight Series.

Football
Marching Band

Again Illinois’ 175-piece marching band, the oldest and largest in the nation, thrilled many football enthusiasts at all home games and at Ohio State. Chief Illiniwek's dance was an important highlight of each performance.

The band presented formations entirely different from those of other years. From "Cornhuskers" for Nebraska to the United States map formation at the Michigan game, the marching season was most successful. Because of the many intricate formations and hours of practice necessary for perfecting Saturday performances, the band must be complimented for its excellence both in the pre-game and half-time ceremonies.
The establishment of an officers' reserve training corps unit at the University of Illinois was incorporated in the Morrill Land Grant Act of 1868. Commissions may be obtained in ROTC divisions of Naval Reserve, Army, and Air Force.

The Army ROTC was established first and consists of a twenty-seven company brigade with twenty-one officers and twenty-two enlisted men in charge.

Commission in the Naval Reserve rather than Navy is received in Navy ROTC.

The Air Force ROTC consists of twenty-four squadrons and a staff of seventeen officers and eleven enlisted men.

The Army

The Army "RO" holds the prestige of being the oldest of the three military ROTC branches on the University of Illinois campus. This military branch has grown until now it consists of a twenty-seven company brigade under the guidance of both regular army officers and enlisted men. This forty-three man staff works with Colonel Hatch to make the Army ROTC a unit which is looked upon with high regard as one of our outstanding military branches.

Cooperation and military efficiency are the words to live by for all concerned—from Colonel Hatch's staff through the basic corps. The cadet has nine fields from which to choose his specialized branch. Continued training while in school in any of these nine fields will eventually lead to a commission in the U.S. Army Reserves.

In the future, the majority of the new officers entering the Air Force will be AFROTC graduates. The United States Air Force places great importance on this source of officer procurement. General Vandenberg once said, "We are desperately in need of good minds, young and flexible minds, eager to meet the rising challenge of our times and determined to fit it into its proper place for the general good of the nation, and let us hope, of all mankind. Send us your men of character and resolution, and our nation need have no fear." Illinois, as always, furnishes its young men to meet the military needs of our nation. It has one of the largest AFROTC programs in the country. The youth of America today have a challenge in the opportunity to serve the nation as officers in the fighting fleet of the U.S. Navy.

Qualified graduates of the NROTC Unit at the University of Illinois will be commissioned in the Navy or Marine Corps, and will join the Fleet as well-trained Junior officers.

The Navy council, a coordinative committee which is composed of midshipmen and regular Navy officers, is designed to promote better officer-men relationships.

Phalanx is a National Honorary and Professional fraternity which was established at Illinois in 1925. Members are chosen by invitation only from the Army, Navy, and Air Force R.O.T.C. students in the advanced course.

As stated in its constitution, “The purpose of this fraternity shall be to promote the interest of military training, to foster the spirit of fellowship among military men, to aid in the preparedness of this country, to implant in its members the discipline so necessary, not only in a military enterprise, but in every walk of life.”

Phalanx has become the leading military fraternity on every campus on which it is located because it participates in and leads most of the military activities and projects on their campuses. It also honors advanced corps cadets who show interest in military science affairs.
The purpose of Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary fraternity, is to raise the standard of military education in American universities. Scabbard and Blade encourages good qualities in officers and promotes friendship among the cadet officers.

Organized at the University of Illinois in 1909, Company F was the fifth company to join the organization. Today the society has 110 companies organized into nine regiments with a total membership of over 55,000. Members are chosen yearly from the Advanced Corps of the Army, Air Force and Naval ROTC. They are selected on the basis of their all around ability.

National officers are elected, petitions for new companies are voted upon, and future policies are discussed at national conventions which are held annually.
Company C of the Third Regiment of Pershing Rifles is one of fifty-seven companies all over the nation. It is the only national military society that basic ROTC students may join. This organization was founded by John J. Pershing in 1893. From that time, Pershing Rifles has spread over the nation promoting the ideals of leadership and efficiency in military tactics.

In 1931, Pershing Rifles established a company at this University. This company has provided color guards for all ROTC battalion and regimental parades and for all home University football and basketball games.

Pershing Rifles' main function is drill. For the last two consecutive years, members of Pershing Rifles have won the best drilled sophomore award on Honors Day.

The size of this company has varied over the years. Its membership is now approximately one hundred and fifty cadets.

The Arnold Air Society began its activities on the University of Illinois campus in 1949. It was then known as the Arnold Society of Air Cadets. In March, 1950, the society merged with two other national organizations to become the Arnold Air Society, an honorary, fraternal organization for advanced AFROTC cadets.

This society furthers the mission of the United States Air Force. To accomplish this, the society promoted a better understanding of the Air Force, closer contact between AFROTC cadets and staff officers.

To aid in this mission, a varied program of speakers, movies, and discussions is presented. By the accomplishment of its mission, the Arnold Air Society aids the Air Force in procuring only the officers of highest caliber.

Honoraries

On nearly every college campus honoraries play an important role through their recognition of students who are outstanding in their respective fields. The various honoraries of the University recognize students who have attained high scholarship and made notable achievements in a particular field.

Bringing together students of like interests, some of these societies are chapters of national organizations, while others are local societies springing from the University itself. Among the purposes of the honoraries are to encourage scholarship, cooperation, friendship, and achievement and to promote leadership, service, research, greater understanding of the subject, and high professional ideals.

In addition to furthering the interest and development of specific vocations, the University honoraries also provide closer social and professional companionship for their members. These professional associations provide opportunities for application of practical experiences in the respective fields and personal friendships which prove valuable in post-college endeavor.

Established in October, 1948, Alpha Chron has encouraged further participation in campus activities and has participated in programs designed to stimulate leadership among the students. Members of Alpha Chron serve as ushers for Dad's Day Stunt Show and as hostesses at the Women's Group System scholarship tea. Every year, Alpha Chron sponsors Watcheka Sing, the independent women's sing, for the Mother's Day weekend festivities.

The symbol of Alpha Chron is a clock surrounded by a date book and wings. It signifies fleeting time, efficiency and friendship.

Alpha Delta Sigma is a national professional advertising fraternity which provides a meeting ground for students actively interested in advertising. Through close liaison with other professional chapters, the organization attempts to bridge the gap between advertising theory and practice.

Membership is drawn from those students who intend to enter the professional advertising field and have completed sixty semester hours with a 3.5 scholastic average.

The Charles H. Dennis chapter at Illinois, reactivated in 1947, is the second oldest chapter in the country. Frank B. Senger, general manager of the Illini Publishing Company and regional vice president of Alpha Delta Sigma, is the chapter advisor. Alan Aarons is president of the local chapter.

The Dolphin Swimming Fraternity for university men was established in 1912. This social organization is open to all men who have an interest and show superior ability in water skills. One of the main functions of this organization is to improve the all-around swimming program at the University of Illinois and throughout the State of Illinois.

An annual water show is presented in the Fall as a feature of Dads' Day and Homecoming week-ends. One of the highlights of this aquatic carnival is the selection of a Dolphin Queen who acts as sponsor for the organization during her year's reign.

The Dolphins officiate at swimming events, co-operate with Terrapin, send representatives to the National Aquatic Forum, and sponsor such events as swimming clinics and water-polo.

Established in 1920 at Northwestern, Shi-Ai has since worked for many service projects consisting of a Christmas party for the Old Peoples Home, a milk fund drive for needy Champaign-Urbana families, a Foster Child Plan, and donating money for the Miriam Sheldon Scholarship Fund. They also sponsor the Shi-Ai Sing during Mother’s Day weekend.

Every fall, each sorority chooses two sophomore girls outstanding in leadership, activities, and scholarship to represent them in Shi-Ai.

Organizations

Organizations and societies are becoming an increasingly important part of college life. They afford the student the two-fold opportunity of applying and increasing his classroom knowledge in practical situations and of developing a well rounded personality and social adeptness.

By belonging to an organization whose activities pertain to the student’s chosen field, the student receives the opportunity to relate and apply the theory learned in the classroom to the field of work in which he will be engaged in the future. He is able to meet and converse with prominent men in his chosen occupation, participate in field trips, and keep informed of the latest trends and developments in his field. Equally as important, however, is the opportunity afforded the student to engage in the numerous social activities held by these organizations, offering him the chance to further develop his character and personality.

The purpose of the following pages is to familiarize the student with the organizations and societies represented at Illinois and to recognize the work accomplished by those who are active members.

Normally, six meetings are held each year. The subjects of income tax, cost accounting, public accounting, controllership, and general accounting are discussed. A speaker, prominent in the branch of accounting to be reviewed, is invited to attend the meeting and comment on the present activities in this field. A field trip to a large industrial firm in a nearby city is planned and executed during the year.

The American Institute of Architects, professional organization for architecture students, has, from its inception in 1857, been deeply concerned with the education of prospective architects. It establishes direct contact between the students and practicing architects by sponsoring lectures by practicing architects and building personnel who report significant projects and developments in the field.

The chapter also provides a forum for student discussions, a medium for interclass contacts, and a means of expressing student opinion and needs.

The AIA aids the students chapters by means of a Student Chapter Handbook, an annual report of the activities of all chapters, and by providing each member with its Journal.

The combined student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Institute of Radio Engineers has had a total of 165 members for the past year. The electrical engineering division is composed of students from the fields of power, communications, and illumination.

The main purpose of the organization is to provide a general, overall picture of how electrical engineering is applied to industry, and to provide an opportunity to become more closely acquainted with fellow engineers and their problems.

Throughout the year, visiting engineers from various companies have presented lecture-demonstrations on various problems and phenomena encountered in industry.

They are indirectly affiliated with the National American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Institute of Radio Engineers.

Religious Organizations

The religious organizations represent some of the most important groups on the campus. Their primary purpose is to fulfill the spiritual needs of the students. Each foundation strives to instill religious values by conducting services, maintaining libraries of religious writings, and giving credit courses in religion.

These organizations also serve as cultural centers for the students. Choral groups, forums, dramatic groups, lectures, and discussion groups all contribute to the development of the well rounded personality.

Social activities also are furthered by the religious groups. Coffee hours, picnics, dances, and mixers are examples of the many social events sponsored by these organizations.

In the following pages of the Illo appear the religious foundations on campus which represent many religious denominations.

The Newman Foundation is the student center serving all Catholic students at the University of Illinois. St. John's Chapel is the nucleus of the Foundation's activities. Its threefold purpose is to provide for the spiritual, intellectual, and social needs of its members. It offers its members Sunday and daily Masses, rosary, and other liturgical services. Students participate in the Choir, Sanctuary Society, Altar Society, Usher and Nursery Groups.

The program of the Foundation is under the direction of the Reverend Edward J. Duncan, S.T.D., who is assisted by the Reverend Edward W. O'Rourke, S.T.L., and the Reverend Edgar C. Taylor.

The Foundation conducts courses accredited by the University in philosophy, theology, liturgy, and scripture, church history, and moral and social problems.
Illinois started the season with a 21 to 21 tie against Nebraska. The Fighting Illini started fast as they received the opening kickoff and marched 73 yards for the first touchdown. Nebraska then came back in the second quarter with two touchdowns and scored again in the early part of the fourth quarter. Then J. C. Caroline broke away for a 73 yard run, and Mickey Bates bulled over for the final tying touchdown.
In their first meeting since the 1952 Rose Bowl game, Illinois downed Stanford again by a 33 to 21 score. Stanford struck first on a sixteen yard pass from All-American Bob Garret to end Sam Morley. In the third quarter Illinois tied the score at 14-14 on an eleven-yard pass to Ryan. Stanford took the lead for the last time on a four yard plunge by fullback Jarvis Watson. In the fourth quarter Illinois went on a rampage and scored 19 points to win the game.
At the offset of the game, it was not a question who was going to win, but by what margin Ohio would beat us. Illinois not only won, but beat Ohio State 41 to 20 for its worst defeat of the year.

Kicking to the Ohio State six yard line, the Illini held them for downs. On the fourth play after the punt Bates carried the ball across the goal line. Illinois again kicked off. Shortly thereafter Rocky Ryan intercepted a pass on the Ohio State forty-six yard line; only two plays later Bates was again in paydirt after a 41 yard run. Late in the first quarter J. C. Caroline broke away for a 64 yard trot to make the score 21 to 0 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter the Illini didn’t fare so well. Ohio racked up three touchdowns to almost tie the score by the half time, but the Fighting Illini came back in the second half. Bauer intercepted a pass and ran it back 27 yards. At this point Mickey Bates took over and cracked over for another score. Illinois next put on a sustained drive of 70 yards. For the last score, Wallace intercepted Bolton’s pass, and Bates made his fourth score.
Bates and Caroline led the Illini to their fourth victory. In twenty-one carries Caroline averaged 9.8 yards. One carry was for 49 yards and a touchdown. The game was a hard fought battle with the Illinois defense holding Geil to one out of ten passes completed. Bates showed his versatility by catching a 26 yard pass for one touchdown, and galloping 16 yards for another. Wallace, too, kept up with the pace by breaking through the secondary for a 22 yard touchdown run. The only Minnesota score was by Cappelletti very early in the first quarter. Illinois was now a contender for the Big Ten Championship.
Syracuse

Syracuse proved to be one of the toughest non-conference opponents Illinois faced this season. It wasn't until the final gun went off that Illinois was assured of the victory. The big Syracuse line held our sophomore backs to small gains. Elry Falkenstein had to take to the air and did so with good results.

Early in the second quarter, Syracuse put on a sustained drive for 71 yards to score the first touchdown. Since the Syracuse line had held our running attack, Falkenstein took to the air and connected with Ryan for a 51 yard scoring play; the kick for the extra point was good and Illinois led 7 to 6.

On the first play of the second half Illinois fumbled with Syracuse recovering and scoring on the next play. Stan Wallace, to the great delight of the fans, ran 55 yards for a touchdown. The conversion was good and the one point lead looked good, although a little shaky. Then Stan Wallace, who played a great game of ball the entire afternoon, broke away again for a 45 yard ramble and the clinching touchdown.
Here come the troops.

Purdue

The first quarter found both teams tough on defense. Purdue was able to hold the Illini to little or no gains at all. It was a close game and the ball exchanged hands several times via fumbles. Purdue looked very much like the team which humbled Michigan State the week before 6-0.

Early in the second quarter Purdue was set back to their four yard line on a clipping penalty. Their punt carried out to the Boilermaker 35 yard line where Illinois took over. Bates took a hand off, ran around left end, reversed his field and raced the 35 yards for the score. Miller's conversion was good and the Illini led 7-0.

Illinois received in the second half and started to roll. Purdue got only five plays in the third quarter, but Illinois still failed to score. The fourth quarter was about the same except that Illinois capitalized on the breaks and scored two more touchdowns to put the game on ice. The first was set up by J. C. Caroline with three running plays which put the ball on the one. Elry Falkenstein carried it over from there. The last score came on a 39 yard pass from Lindbeck to Nosek which again put the ball on the one yard line. Lindbeck pushed it across and the game ended soon after, 21-0.

Ouch!

Cocktail time.

Elry sneaks across.
Michigan

Michigan scored early in the first quarter when they moved to Illinois territory and Lou Baldacci booted a 35 yard field goal.

Illinois then started their long drive from their own 25 yard line. Caroline taking the ball nine of eleven times advanced the ball to the Michigan 17 yard line. Two plays later Bates went around right end for the score. Illinois' other scores came on a 95 yard drive in the second quarter and a 44 yard drive late in the third period. Bates cracked the line from the four to score. Final tally showed the Illini on top, 19-3.
Illinois started with a 73 yard drive, climaxed by Ken Miller blasting his way over the goal for a touchdown. From then on it was Wisconsin's Alan Ameche, who set up touchdown after touchdown. The Wisconsin defense, keyed up for this game, held the Illini to short gains the entire game.

Wisconsin quarterback, Jim Miller, and halfbacks Carl Witt, and Lamphere scored the touchdowns. This defeat ruined Illinois' chances for an undefeated season.
The Big Ten Championship was at stake with this game. Illinois, fighting the Northwestern jinx, came through with a 39 to 14 victory. This win gave the Illini a tie for the Big Ten Championship, although they lost the Rose Bowl trip to a strong Michigan State team.

The Illini recovered a Northwestern fumble in the first minutes but lost the ball on penalties. Then, when three downs later Northwestern tried to punt, the Illini blocked their first punt of the year and Ryan fell on it in the end zone. In fact the Illinois defense was so tough the first half that Northwestern got only 15 yards in rushing.

Wallace then showed that his performance in the Syracuse game was no accident by racing 46 yards for a touchdown. Ken Miller got two touchdowns. Ryan scored again, and Caroline as usual put on the finishing touches by two 30 yards runs and then cracking over from the 10 yard line.
Ray Eliot, during his 11 seasons as head football coach at the University of Illinois, has risen to the top rank in his field. Eliot, the dean of Big Ten coaches, has won three Western Conference championships and has also produced two Rose Bowl victories.

Illinois teams coached by Eliot have given opponents trouble ever since genial Ray took over in 1942. His 1946 team won the Big Ten and then trounced UCLA, 45-14 in the Rose Bowl. Again in 1951 the Illini won the Conference and completed an undefeated season by beating Stanford 40-7 in the Rose Bowl.

Last season Eliot did a fine job when he coached Illinois, overlooked in pre-season forecasts, to a share of the Big Ten crown.

Eliot is assisted in his coaching duties by line coaches Burt Ingwersen and Lou Agase; end coach Bob King; backfield coaches Chuck Purvis and Ralph Fletcher; freshman coach Mel Brewer; and Leo Johnson, who serves as head scout and backfield coach.

Quarterback Sneak
Illinois wound up its 1953-54 season by almost beating Indiana, N.C.A.A. defending champions, on their home court. Had they won, the Big Ten would have had a three-way tie for first place. As it was, the three-point loss to Indiana put the Illini into a tie for third place with Minnesota.

Before 11,000 rabid Hoosier fans, the Illini tied the game up with only a minute remaining. Then All-American Bobby Leonard drew two fouls and iced the game for Indiana on four charities. It was a hard game for Illinois to lose after having come up from a twelve-point deficit in the first half.
Previously, the season had progressed as expected, with Indiana, the powerhouse of the Big Ten, closely pursued by Iowa's sophomores and a fighting Minnesota five.

Illinois meanwhile, with only one returning regular from last year's team, had trouble getting started, losing early season games to Minnesota at Champaign and to Michigan State at East Lansing. The Illini cagers seemed to blow hot and cold, never really hitting their stride at the beginning of the campaign.

However, after losing to Iowa in January, the team began to display more determination and drive. Led by high scoring captain Johnny Kerr, the squad began to click. Showing a much improved all-around attack, they managed to avenge the previous defeat by trouncing the Hawkeyes on Iowa's home floor, a traditional jinx for Illinois.

During the season Johnny Kerr, 6'9'' center, became the all time Illinois high scorer when he surpassed Irv Bemoras' record. Kerr also established a new single season high for scoring, wiping out Don Sunderlage’s old mark set in 1951.

The Illinois attack was rounded out by Bruce Brothers and Paul Judson, two sophomores who developed rapidly through the year, and Jimmy Wright, Max Hooper, Jim Dutcher, and Ed Makovsky, lettermen from last year's team.
Winning almost every meet they entered and completely swamping all their Big Ten opponents, the Illinois track team blazed their way to a terrific season both in indoor and outdoor competition.

The Michigan State Relays started off the season on the 14th of February. Willie Williams won the 75 yard low hurdles. Gene Maynard took the 1000 yard run. For a climax, the one mile relay team composed of Gene Maynard, Stacey Siders, Ralph Fessenden, and Joe Corley carried off another first place.

A few dual meet records were eclipsed in the meet with Indiana. One of these was John Bauer's winning 52 feet 2½ inches in the shot put event. Walt Jewsbury set another record in the mile run.

Track
Joel McNulty tied a record by doing the 70 yard hurdles in 8.8 seconds. Dick Wham won the high jump, and the one mile relay team came in first. Final score: Illinois 78, Indiana 38.

Illinois won its next meet with a total of 70½ points; however, we were pitted against three other opponents, Purdue, Iowa, and Northwestern. John Bauer put the shot for a winning mark of 53 feet 3½ inches, the second best mark in Illinois history. Stacey Siders, not to be outdone, ran the 880 in one minute and 53.5 seconds, also the second best in Illinois history. Willie Williams won the 60 yard dash. He also turned in the best time in the 70 yard high hurdles. Joel McNulty won the 70 yard high hurdles with the same time he turned in in the Indiana meet, 8.8 seconds.

The Indoor Conference Meet ended with Illinois at the top of the list, Michigan second, and Purdue third. Stacey Siders set an indoor record by running the 880 in 1:52.7. Willie Williams won the 60 yard dash and the 70 yard low hurdles. Joel McNulty bettered his time in the 70 yard highs with an :08.5 effort.

The two-mile relay team was the only entry from Illinois that made a showing in the Chicago Daily News Relays. Siders, Maynard, Jewsbury, and Trimble covered the distance in 7:39.2 for a new meet record.

On April 18, came the unusual and smashing victory of the season. Illinois crushed California 83 to 39. Illinois broke eight meet records and tied one, while California established four of its own. Illinois won 64 out of a possible 77 points and lost only the 440 yard event. The field events came out to California’s advantage, with Illinois getting only 19 out of a possible 45 points.

The famous Drake Relays really brought the news to the nation that Illinois had a splendid track team. Not only did three different relay teams win, but Willie Williams, Walt Jewsbury, and Joel McNulty copped the first prize in their specialties.

Michigan State was the next victim of the Illini might, losing 89 to 43. Then to the admiration of all, Illinois defeated the University of Michigan 79\% to 52\%.

Illinois then topped the Big Ten Outdoor Meet with 69\% points. Their closest competitor Michigan ran up 43\% points. Thus ended the conference season with Illinois the undisputed champion.

Up until this time, Illinois had remained undefeated. However, in the N.C.A.A. championship, Illinois finished a not inglorious second behind a powerful University of Southern California which just nosed Illinois out in several events.
Superior pitching and determination of a sometimes undermanned squad were big factors in the season's success. For although they did not rank in the first division in conference hitting or fielding, the Illini, time after time, came through to compile a 17-6 season record and a 10-3 conference record.

Clive Follmer from Forrest had a 6-1 record, and Carl Ahrens from Kankakee had a 5-1 record. Other regular starters were Gerry Smith from Gary, Indiana, with a 3-1 record and Jim Schuldt of Dundee, with a 2-1 record.
Carl Ahrens

Frazier tries to stop a run.

John Sabalasky from Westville was the leading hitter among the regulars with .297. Second place fell to Max Hooper of Mt. Vernon who hit .289. Carl Ahrens, who played third base when he was not pitching, came in third with .288.

Selected for the captaincy of the 1954 squad, Ron Ultes played a regular position in the outfield. All of the University of Illinois students were proud of Bob Moore. He was the first winner of the Walter Roettger Memorial Award as the most valuable player. And they were equally proud of the rest of the 1953 Fighting Illini baseball team for their impressive showing in the 1953 title race.
Soon after the conference games started, Illinois sneaked by the opener against Michigan State with a thrilling 2 to 1 victory which was pulled out of the fire in the closing innings. At this point, Michigan rolled into town and quickly won the first game of a double header 6 to 1. The second game was a real battle. Unfortunately, the final score read: Michigan 3 and Illinois 2.

Our hopes for the conference championship were greatly dimmed, for at this point Illinois had an overall record of five and five, and a conference record of one and two, with a schedule of tough conference teams ahead.
Then things started to click. The batters were coming through in the clutch, and the pitchers held the opposing teams to a few scattered hits. The results: Illinois won its next nine contests. The students started watching the paper for news of Michigan's defeats.

The Minnesota game was truly a great pitchers' battle. Clive Follmer and Paul Giel pitched flawless ball for each team, but unfortunately Minnesota sneaked across one run to win 1 to 0. Illinois won the second tussle with Minnesota and also beat Iowa in the last game of the season. Luckily Michigan also came through with a loss and the leadership of the Big Ten Conference was all tied up at 10 wins and 3 losses. So for the second time in a row, Illinois and Michigan were tied for the Big Ten title. Illinois was unfortunate in that Michigan was chosen to represent the Big Ten in the N.C.A.A. playoffs.
What is the significance of a gymnastics coach named Pond and five returning lettermen? In 1953, this combination meant a fourth consecutive Big Ten championship and second place in the N.C.A.A. finals at Syracuse. In brief, another fine season. Dick Browning, who later won his third national tumbling title with a brilliant 290 score, was ruled ineligible after two meets; had he stayed eligible, an N.C.A.A. championship would have been conceivable.

Captain Bob Sullivan headed the group that Coach Charlie Pond used almost exclusively.

Gymnastics
Sullivan was first in the N.C.A.A. free exercise. Frank Bare, captain-elect and most valuable gymnast, finished second on the side horse; Jeff Austin came in fourth on the trampoline. Along with Tom Gardner and Gil Brinkmeyer, these three won letters, earned several lesser N.C.A.A. titles, and collected a host of Big Ten medals.

Coming up next year from the freshmen will be Jon Culbertson, Jamille Ashmore, Richard Jirus, Ken Stone, and Dan Lirot.

Although they lost their Big Ten Championship, Coach Pat Patterson's wrestlers ran up a creditable dual meet record for 1953 of nine wins, four losses, and two ties. Captain Pete Compton won the most valuable wrestler award with a first in the Big Ten and a second place in the N.C.A.A. meet at Penn State. The Illini captured fourth in the Big Ten Championship matches behind Michigan, Michigan State, and Minnesota. Illinois also made a respectable showing in the N.C.A.A.

Lou Kachiroubas finished fourth in the Big Ten at 130 pounds. Dick Meeks, outstanding 123-pounder, won second in the Big Ten and took third on the national level at 115 pounds. Bob Lutz notched third in the Big Ten 147-pound division. Yukio Matsumato was selected by his teammates as the captain for the 1953-54 squad. The following wrestlers won letters: Yukio Matsumato, Bill Mellen, Wayne Meyer, Ken Nordquist, John Ontiveros, and Dean Willman.
Coach Ralph Fletcher’s pre-season prediction that his 1953 golf team would be improved, but not a challenger for the title, turned out to be accurate to the letter. The team, led by captain Don Cassady, won four of their nine matches, three more than last year, and finished eighth in the Big Ten tourney, one step better than in 1952. Golf all around the conference was improved, and Illinois bettered its stroke count fifty-six in 1953. Haynes Hawkins, captain elect for 1954, carded the eighth best score.
Hampered by inclement weather which prevented anything resembling satisfactory spring practice, and probably even more by a deficiency of experienced players, the 1953 Illinois tennis team finished its season with one victory and six defeats. Coach Howie Braun did a creditable job during a building year, considering that he had only two returning lettermen. These men had only a year's experience, yet the netmen managed to wind up in seventh place in the Big Ten.

Bill Dankert played good tennis all season in the number one slot. Dankert, who will be captain in 1954, often teamed with the other letterman, Bud Stafford, in doubles. Other letter winners were Stephen Hill, Walt Hulvey, Don MacDonald, and Dave Stewart.
Swimming

In spite of the presence of a national champion, the 1953 swimming team managed only one victory in its seven dual meets, but showed improvement by finishing eighth in the Big Ten championships. Had Jim Pendleton, team captain and All-American swimmer, been eligible during the second semester, coach Al Klingel’s Tankmen would undoubtedly have been more impressive. Most of the individual plaudits went to Bob Clemons, who was selected most valuable and also named captain for 1954. Bob singlehandedly won seventh place for Illinois in the N.C.A.A. meet by taking first in the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:00.7, and also won All-American honors.
Four consecutive undefeated seasons, four consecutive Big Ten championships, twenty-eight consecutive dual-meet victories; just three reasons why the Illinois fencing team gains new fans each year. Max Garrett's 1953 squad provided the latest Big Ten title and nine single victories. Starting with five lettermen, coach Garrett wound up the season with nine accomplished fencers, headed by captain John Cameron. 1954 captain Bill Shewchuck, Jim Bell, Richard Cohn, Jim Ross, Larry Silverman, Phil Urso, and Tony Zombolas all won letters.

The managers of the Illinois athletic teams are some of the hardest working and most essential men in the whole sports system. Behind the scenes they perform tasks necessary for successful presentation of athletic events at the University.

There are twelve senior managers who are assisted by two juniors and several underclassmen.
Cheerleaders

With cheers, yells, and acrobatic stunts the Illini cheering squad, Block I, and Chief Illiniwek led the students, faculty, and alumni in backing the football and basketball teams. The cheerleaders also took part in many athletic events and pep rallies.

Don Peterson was head cheerleader this year. Gaylord Spotts became the new Chief Illiniwek and Russell Bolton acted as director for Block I. The cheerleaders followed the team on many of the out-of-town games.
Athlete of the Year

Clive Follmer, one of Illinois outstanding basketball players in the 1953 season, was chosen the athlete of the year by the University of Illinois' student body. Clive was not only a basketball standout but also one of the main reasons for Illinois tying for the Baseball Big Ten Championship.

Conference Medal Winner

Clive Follmer was also honored by being named the Conference Medal Winner of 1953. This honor is given to the University of Illinois' outstanding scholar-athlete. Despite participating in varsity basketball and baseball throughout the school year, he maintained an impressive scholastic average.

Most Valuable Player

Don Ernst, varsity tackle on the Fighting Illini eleven, was chosen by his teammates at their annual banquet as the most valuable player. Don was one of the main reasons for Illinois' successful team this year. His superior blocking on offense and his stellar defensive play made him vital to the team.
Intramural Sports

The University of Illinois' Department of Intramural and Recreational Sports plays a vital role in the extra-curricular activities of the University student. The IM program furnishes the recreational activities a student needs to supplement his classroom work. By participating in intramural activities, a student receives the relaxation gained by taking part in the various forms of recreation as well as the physical exercise. The IM sports provide active competition for individuals and teams. The recreational sports consist of a wide variety of non-competitive activities and informal competitive sports.
This department, sponsored by the Athletic Association, has Intramural, Recreational, and Co-recreational programs. The IMREC Board, with Allen B. Klingel as faculty supervisor, directs the department. The Supervisor, Assistant Supervisor, Senior and Junior Managers, Chairman of the Officials Association, and representatives of the Intrafraternity Council, Men's Independent Association, and the participating Independent and Greek houses make up the Board. This Board sets all program policies and acts as a Protest Board.

The IM Officials Association furnishes all the IM Program officials. Members of the professional classes of the School of Physical Education make up this organization.

The IM department provides clean, wholesome competition for the students with a keen rivalry existing between the fraternities and the independent houses. Pre-season coaching and practice clinics are held before the competition begins in various sports.

The recreational department provides activities for those interested in athletics for their sake alone. Graduate students and the staff can enter in the special events and tournaments open for them in their own program.

The Co-Rec department provides sports where both men and women can team up in competition. Such co-rec sports are volleyball, bowling, and softball. Special activities clubs are formed by students showing a special interest.

The Women's Athletic Association is responsible for the outstanding program of athletics available to Illinois coeds. The W.A.A. offers recreation for all undergraduate and graduate women in volleyball, swimming, bowling, archery, table tennis, field hockey, badminton, fencing, softball, tennis, golf, apparatus, and basketball. Moreover, the W.A.A. sponsors Sports Days, High School Playdays, and other athletic functions during the year. Competition is provided in both independent and inter-house divisions.

Two trophies are awarded yearly: one to the house accumulating the most points in team competition, and the other to the house having the best percentage of participation. After each girl completes one sports season, she is eligible for initiation. Four seasons are required for a pin, six for numerals, and after twelve seasons a girl is eligible for her major "I" award.

In October, 1953, the Illinois Athletic Federation of College Women held its convention on the U. of I. campus. This year's officers were Jean Huber, president; Patsy Hutson, vice president; Virginia Mersbach, secretary; Marilyn Gustafson, treasurer; Sherle Olson, sports chairman; Sue Turner, house representative coordinator; and Joan Steger, publicity chairman.
Physical Education Majors' Club is a professional organization for women in the Physical Education, Health, Recreation, and Dance Curricula. During the year the club sponsors professional meetings with speakers from various fields of physical education. Convocations are held to promote better relationships between the students and the faculty of the department.

Intra-class competition is offered in volleyball, basketball, and softball. The club sponsors a program during the Mothers' Day weekend and also a reception at Homecoming. The members publish a newspaper, called "Shorts," four times a year.

Bronze Tablet—1953

Election to Bronze Tablet is the highest scholastic honor awarded to seniors at the University of Illinois.

A senior who has been in the upper three per cent of his class in his respective college during his junior and senior years is entitled to have his name inscribed on the Bronze Tablet. This means he must have received Junior and Senior Honors.

High Scholarship maintained throughout any one of the four years at the University is awarded by College Honors. Seniors may also qualify for University Honors if they have earned College Honors twice and have maintained a scholastic average for their first seven semesters equal to or higher than the four‐semester average of the lowest student recently chosen for University Honors from their college under the preceding qualifications.

Senior transfer students who have not been at the University for four semesters before graduation may achieve University Honors if their average for the past three semesters is equal to or higher than the four‐semester average of the lowest student currently elected to Bronze Tablet. The average of their transferred credits for the year before they transferred must also be equal to the average needed for University Honors.

A special University of Illinois Scholarship Key is given to the recipients of University Honors.

Carrying out its objective of providing the finest facilities in the nation for its students enrolled in the health sciences, the University of Illinois Chicago Professional Colleges opened two more buildings during the 1953-54 year.

These facilities are the new addition to the Research and Educational Hospitals and the Student Residence Hall. During the previous school year, the Medical Center Steam Plant and the Staff Apartment Building were placed into operation. Next year, the University anticipates the opening of a modern six-floor class-room and laboratory building. These five new buildings, together with the existing Dentistry-Medicine-Pharmacy Building, the original Research and Educational Hospitals, the Neuropsychiatric Institute, the Surgical Institute for Children, the Chicago Illini Union, and the Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary will provide the University with unexcelled facilities for teaching and research in the health sciences.

The opening of the hospital addition and the Student Residence Hall during the 1953-54 school year were particularly welcomed by the students. The 14-floor, $6,000,000 hospital addition provides facilities for clinical teaching, research investigations, and for the care of patients. In the past, the clinical teaching program has been handicapped by the limited number of hospital beds.

The Student Residence Hall is the first new facility in the rapidly-expanding Medical Center District which has been planned to house students in the allied health sciences. Located adjacent to the Dentistry-Medicine-Pharmacy Building, it can accommodate a maximum of 405 students. Private financing was employed by the University to construct and equip the building at a cost of $2,450,000.

since its founding in 1892 the University of Illinois College of Dentistry has contributed much to the welfare of humanity and to the improvement of dentistry. Its service is twofold: (1) it provides the public with adequately trained dental practitioners, teachers and investigators, (2) it provides thousands of people with dental care at a minimum fee.

For more than fifty years, the College has been located near the Cook County Hospital in the great medical center on the west side of Chicago. It is the ideal of the College to maintain the highest educational principles. Both its outstanding faculty and its facilities contribute to this end.

Most colleges of dentistry concentrate the medical sciences in the first two years of dental study. This is not true at Illinois, where the basic sciences are distributed throughout the entire four years of the curriculum. It is the only school where the student enjoys four years of clinical study and practice. As a result of this program, the graduate gains more confidence in his ability to interpret and manage dental problems, whether they be in the office or in the scientific laboratory.
College of Medicine

The University of Illinois College of Medicine is located in the medical center on the west side of Chicago. The teaching facilities available because of its location are unexcelled by any medical school elsewhere. Within a radius of four blocks of the College of Medicine are hospitals with over 5,000 beds available for clinical teaching.

The University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospitals and Neuropsychiatric Institute have over 700 beds giving Illinois one of the largest university owned teaching hospitals in the country.

The College of Medicine was founded in 1881 as the College of Physicians and Surgeons, an independent institution. It became affiliated with the University in 1897, and in 1913 it became an integral part of the University of Illinois. In 1941, the staff of the old Rush Medical School was added to the faculty of the College of Medicine.

Each year 166 students are accepted into the freshman class, each having at least three years of preparatory college work. The faculty and staff of the University of Illinois College of Medicine number 994. Of these, 802 are non-salaried faculty members, who donate a portion of their time to instruction at, in many cases, their alma mater.

At present Dr. Roger A. Harvey is the acting Dean of the College of Medicine. Under his administration, the college continues to fulfill its purpose of educating young men and women for the practice of the art and science of medicine.
The new home for the College of Pharmacy in the East DMP Building is rapidly nearing completion, and will undoubtedly be occupied with the beginning of the Fall Quarter in 1954. It will house the teaching and research work of all of the courses, except those offered by the basic science departments of the College of Medicine. These new facilities will afford the staff and the students one of the most modern Pharmacy buildings in the world.

The curriculum is being revised, and new opportunities for research in the fields of manufacturing pharmacy, chemistry, and biology will be available for graduate study. Many new staff members will be required, in order to meet the increased enrollment for an entering class of 175 students.

Nearly one-half of the construction planned for the Drug Plant and Horticultural Experiment Station has been completed, and it is hoped that the new laboratories building for the Station can be secured in the very near future.
Graduate College

Research, the patient, endless pursuit of new knowledge, stimulated by disciplined imagination, is the life line that engenders vitality into the teaching and service programs of a great university. Unless provision is made for the continual addition of new knowledge by the scholarly achievements of faculty and advanced students, teaching may become routine and uninspired and services to the citizens of the state would become mediocre. Productive research is the life of The Graduate College in the medical sciences of dentistry, medicine and pharmacy.

One of the functions of The Graduate College administration is to provide research funds for the faculty in order that they may contribute to the storehouses of knowledge. Another is to attract promising young investigators into medical science research by approving and awarding fellowships. Working in the laboratories with their major advisers, students carry on studies toward Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees and disseminate to the ends of the earth the investigative skills acquired in our laboratories. New centers for the advancement of medical knowledge are in turn established. Thus, the University, through its Graduate College on this Campus, contributes widely to the advancement of civilization and to the general well being of man.

University Housing

One of the goals of education is to create an atmosphere of happy effective living and to teach a way of life which is satisfying to the individual and society.

The recent creation of the new luxurious housing facilities on the Chicago Professional Campus now provides the means for the development of such a program which has long been needed.

In addition to providing a very significant service to the University, the Housing Division aims to provide residential environment which is favorable to the successful educational and social development of students, faculty and staff of the University.

American Pharmaceutical Association, Student Branch

Activities of the Student Branch are aimed at giving the students a view of their forthcoming profession not presented in the classroom. Prominent persons in pharmacy are often guest speakers at the monthly meetings. Joint meetings with the Chicago Branch of the A.Ph.A. give the students the opportunity to meet pharmacists holding a variety of positions soon to be open to them.

Biennially the University of Illinois Branch sponsors an open house in the College of Pharmacy.

Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Kentucky, and Illinois make up District Four in which there are many colleges of pharmacy. Every year at the District Four Convention representatives from each college of pharmacy gather and select a student representative to the Annual National A.Ph.A. Convention. A strong bond between the student branches has been formed within the past few years which may lead to the formation of a student section within the National A.Ph.A. conventions of the future.
Illi-Sota

Associate Professor Beatrice D. Wade, head of the Occupational Therapy Department, is being honored this year on the tenth anniversary of the establishment of the occupational therapy curriculum at the University of Illinois. She introduced the unique plan of study which has exemplified recent trends in educational philosophy, the integration of formal knowledge and theory with clinical experience. The student begins his studies in the College of Liberal Arts and completes his work for the B.S. degree in the College of Medicine.

Medical Student Council

The Medical Student Council administers the student government of the College of Medicine. This group is elected from the four medical classes and is composed of twelve council members and the four class presidents.

The Council is responsible for weighing problems of student interest and presenting their recommendations to faculty administration groups, and acts as the official voice of student opinion in faculty-student relationships.

Annually the Medical Student Council sponsors the Raymond B. Allen “Golden Apple” Instructorship Award to the outstanding instructor of each class. The 1953 awards were made to Faith LaVelle, freshman class; Theodore Sherrod, sophomore class; Norman B. Roberg, junior class; Frank B. Kelly and Heyworth N. Sanford, senior class.

The Henry G. Poncher Student Aid Fund was set up in 1952 by the Council, from which loans are made to students in emergency situations.

Pi Kappa Epsilon

Pi Kappa Epsilon is an honorary fraternity, recognized by the College of Medicine, to promote and further the advancement of medicine and medical education through social intercourse, intelligent thought, and discussion of medicine and medical problems.

Members are elected during their sophomore year, and are chosen on the basis of professional promise, personal integrity, high scholarship and congeniality. In addition to academic pursuits, Pi Kappa Epsilon engages in intramural sports and sponsors the annual campus Barn Dance.

Activities
The Union Building is a popular recreational center for the Professional Colleges Campus. Here policies are determined by the Committee on Student Affairs and the Chicago Illini Union.

Student activities such as the annual Campus Carnival, music listening hours, weekly displays, coke dances, and formals are planned by three student committees: Display, Music, and Social.

Both social and scientific groups schedule their meetings, smokers, luncheons, dinners and dances in the dining rooms and lounges. During the noon hours, the dining rooms, meeting rooms, lounges and game room are filled to capacity. The Union is also a favorite spot for a coke, a cup of coffee, or just to relax between classes.
Physical Education and Intramural Sports

The sports and physical education program in the Chicago Professional Colleges consists of: intramural competition in eight minor and all major sports, individual instruction and group activities, and varsity teams in basketball, tennis and golf. These activities are under the direction of Mr. John W. Brown, who is completing his tenth year on the Chicago campus.

Facilities at the Chicago Illini Union Building are used to the fullest extent during the year by the students participating in all sports and body building activities. These facilities are supplemented with nearby tennis courts, a field for athletics, and swimming and handball privileges at the Duncan Y.M.C.A.
The Physical Education Department schedules competition with colleges on the same athletic level.

The varsity basketball team, coached by Jim Marks, senior medical student, started slowly, but soon picked up speed and finished the season with a record of ten wins and six losses, being beaten decisively only by the Loyola "B" team.

Facing tough competition, the varsity tennis team ended the season with three wins, four losses, and one tie.

The golf team had a successful season, defeating Navy Pier and placing second, one stroke back in the Chicago City Tournament.

A great amount of time and effort has been placed on the Intramural Program by the Department of Physical Education. This program enables the fraternities and independent students of the three professional colleges to compete in organized athletics. Consequently, intramural competition in 1952-53 reached a new high, both in the number of teams participating and in enthusiasm and competitive spirit. This added interest has been brought about by the very close race for the intramural trophy, which is awarded the organization with the largest total of points during the year.

For the second consecutive year, Nu Sigma Nu nosed out Delta Sigma Delta and Alpha Kappa Kappa, who finished second and third respectively in the battle for the trophy.

The following intramural championships were awarded: Fall Golf, Nu Sigma Nu; Football, Delta Kappa Sigma; Swimming, Basketball, Volleyball, Nu Sigma Nu; Softball, Delta Sigma Delta; Handball Singles, Granata; Handball Doubles, Granata and Wertz; Table Tennis Singles, Jessen; Table Tennis Doubles, Slezak and Fricke; Badminton Singles, Jauch; Badminton Doubles, Fricke and Suppe; Free Throw, Turner; Tennis Singles, Jessen; Tennis Doubles, Jessen and Ingram; Match Play Golf, Schoppe.

Perfect pair from ELGIN

There's a made-for-each-other look about these Elgins you'll want to be part of ... to share with the very special one in your life. (Of course, you don't have to pair them— but what a wonderful idea it is!)

And these superb Lord and Lady Elgins more than look alike. They are alike in the years and years of amazing performance they will give you, too.

Each was made by the only watchmaker in the world who has made over 50 million fine watches...timed to the stars by Elgin's own observatory.

But most important, each has the same heart—Elgin's heart that never breaks. This is the exclusive DuraPower mainspring, that's guaranteed to never break. Neither can it rust nor lose its power.

Surely you know someone with whom you would like to share the pleasure of owning a Lord and Lady Elgin? Why not visit your Elgin jeweler soon? Elgin National Watch Company, Elgin, Illinois.

Give an ELGIN watch, the beautiful way to tell time
When a man hangs out his Shingle...

Thousands of them started that way... with a hole in the wall and a slab of cedar, hung over the canopied boardwalk.

They were men of every sort, in businesses of every sort. And most of them had some things in common, like vision, initiative, and faith in the future.

But each that lasted had still an extra quality in common with the other—an acute consciousness of the responsibilities he assumed when he went into business.

He knew that the day he "hung out his shingle" he did more than announce a new venture—he announced his willingness to plight his future with his community and with his neighbors... to live with them, to work with them, and to serve them.

Now the signs have changed some. But though neon has supplanted the cedar slab and the modern store front has replaced the canopied boardwalk, the philosophy of the successful remains the same.

It's the philosophy that admits to the responsibilities assumed when a man "hangs out his shingle"—the responsibilities to his neighbors, to his community, and to his country.

It's the philosophy to which the John Deere dealer subscribes.
