The 1956 ILLIO is a colorful record of the college days of many people. For years it will be brought out frequently to help recall pleasant associations and cherished friendships. For most alumni the yearbook is a record of the most significant years of their lives.

It also is a volume that gives dramatic glimpses of the work of a large state university. The University of Illinois reflects a great American aspiration—to make educational opportunity available to the many rather than to the privileged few; to make education and research meaningful in the work of every day, instead of mere attributes of social manners or expressions of isolated scholastic activity.

All of us in its service strive to show that the University occupies a central place in the welfare of the State and that its future growth and intellectual strength will be vital to the lives of all the people.

Within a few years the University will be asked to do far more than it is doing now—to offer its services to a much larger number of students and increasingly to extend its resources to the citizens of the State. To plan how this shall be done, to win the understanding and support of all the people of Illinois for higher education, to enlarge the University in orderly fashion, will be a tremendous job indeed, but it will be done.

The 1956 ILLIO is a notice to future editors, photographers, writers, and readers that exciting events are in the making!

A great University is a complex combination of colleges, schools, divisions, institutes, bureaus, and services. These must all be well directed if their work is to produce good results. The University of Illinois administrative officials are responsible for seeing that these results function as a unit. They must consider the past and anticipate the future along with the current problems.

At the time of the formal inauguration of the University in 1868, the Board of Trustees resolved "to make this University pre-eminently a practical school of agriculture and the mechanic arts, not excluding other scientific and classical studies." Now it has expanded in all directions. It touches almost every field of human interest and activity from the classics to present day government, business, and scientific principles.

So the University's pattern of operation has come to be very complex—and expensive. It is largely financed by tax funds from the citizens. Therefore the administration has the task of providing a good educational program as efficiently as possible. The president is aided by the other executive members, deans and directors of the educational and research units, and the Board of Trustees, which selects the president and directs the general policies of administration.

Through the various deans, the University provides a general counseling program devoted to integrating all matters of student life and welfare into the general University organization.

The unifying and coordinating officer is Dean of Students Fred H. Turner. His staff consists of George H. Bargh, Assistant Dean in charge of foreign students; Gerald W. Peek, Assistant Dean of Students for student employment, and also Assistant Director of the Coordinating Placement Office; Vern J. Hampton, Assistant Dean in charge of student organizations and activities; and Calvin S. Sifferd, Assistant Dean for residence hall counseling.

Miss Miriam A. Shelden, Dean of Women, is assisted by Miss Agnes G. Tandberg, Associate Dean working with freshmen women; Miss Mary E. Harrison, Assistant Dean for independent women; Miss K. Patricia Cross, Assistant Dean for sorority women; and Miss Eunice M. Dowse, Assistant Dean for residence hall counseling.

Two assistants under Edward E. Stafford, Dean of Men, are Howard G. Neuberg, Assistant Dean for fraternity men, and Richard E. Hulet, Assistant Dean for independent men.

Other major division heads within the organization of the office of the Dean of Students include Vernon L. Kretschmer, Director of Housing; Robert Calvert, Jr., Coordinating Placement Officer; and Joseph E. Ewers, Security Officer. The individual student is encouraged to seek the assistance of any one of these staff members for advice and help on any problems which confront him.
The University of Illinois Foundation, which has 158 members, is a non-profit corporation whose function is to encourage gifts for the purpose of assisting the general educational and research program of the University.

Through its Illini Achievement Fund, organized in 1948, and the income from its endowment funds, the Foundation has supported many projects of major importance to the University.

One of the Foundation's opportunities for service to the University and the state is to provide thousands of dollars in grants which encourage research and aid staff members who have special training and talent in certain fields.

Each year the Foundation provides scholarships for students who need financial help to further their education. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of high academic attainment and definite financial need.

Another major division of the Foundation's work is library enrichment. Many important collections have come to the University Library through this program.

Special projects, such as memorial funds and the current Altgeld Chimes Restoration Fund, are carried out by the Foundation to meet specific needs of the University. The projects augment facilities provided by state funds and expand the services of the University to its students and the citizens of Illinois.
More than 19,000 dues-paying members make the University of Illinois Alumni Association one of the largest such organizations in the United States.

Besides alumni business, the Association takes an active interest in student affairs. It works closely with Illini Union Student Activities in sponsoring such events as Homecoming, class reunions, and other occasions for returning alumni.

Four student representatives, chosen by petition and interview, are members of the Board of Directors. This practice fosters better student-alumni relations. Students are encouraged to join the Association even before they receive their degrees.

The Alumni Association conducts many valuable projects for both the University and its alumni. One of the biggest services is keeping files of addresses and information on most alumni.

Occasionally the Association sponsors the production of a movie concerning campus life to be shown all over the nation. It is ever seeking to create better public relations with high schools, newspapers, and the citizens of Illinois.

Publishing the Illinois Alumni News is another service of the Association. About 20,000 copies of each issue are distributed to alumni all over the world informing them of campus events and providing news about their classmates and friends.

The Illini Center in the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago is maintained by the Association in cooperation with the University. It serves as headquarters for alumni of the area.
COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

The College of Agriculture trains men and women for a variety of careers in agriculture and home economics.

The instruction offered by the College on the Urbana campus make up only one of three major divisions in the College. It also conducts the Agricultural Experiment Station for research in agriculture and home economics and the Extension Service which carries the results of this research to the people in the state.

The ten departments of instruction are Agricultural Economics, Agricultural Engineering, Agronomy, Animal Science, Dairy Sciences, Food Technology, Forestry, Home Economics, Horticulture, and Plant Pathology.

By finding and teaching better ways to produce, process and sell food and clothing materials, the College helps to insure a higher standard of living for the farmer and city people alike.

Dean Louis B. Howard

Mumford Hall
The College of Commerce and Business Administration is organized under the teaching departments of Accountancy, Business Education, Business Law, Economics, Management, and Marketing.

The major aim of the College is to offer a variety of courses in a broad curriculum which should equip students to meet the problems of every-day living as well as for careers in business, economics, and the administrative branches of government. This is accomplished through training in modern business practices and in the fundamentals of economics.

A well-rounded program includes basic and general training with opportunities for specializing in various fields.

The College conducts two bureaus—the Bureau of Business Management, and the Bureau of Economics and Business Research, which maintains an organized research program.
Students in the College of Education are potential leaders in the fields of teaching, special educational services, and school administration. In the teaching field, undergraduate curricula are offered for both high school and elementary education, industrial education, and the education of mentally handicapped and deaf or hard-of-hearing. The student gains practical experience from the practice teaching system established by the College.

Curricula draw on the broad resources of the University for general education. Graduate courses are offered for the development of appropriate fields of specialization.

Research is also a major facet in the work of the College of Education. The University High School provides facilities for the development and testing of new programs and teaching materials, while the Bureau of Research and the Office of Field Services conduct programs of aid for public school systems in both fundamental and applied problems.
The College of Engineering prepares students for high-level professional careers. In addition, it tries to provide social and humanistic studies helpful for executive success, for the enjoyment of living, and for the fulfillment of one's obligations to his fellow men, his community, and his nation.

Eleven departments offer instruction at both undergraduate and graduate levels, emphasizing a broad base of scientific knowledge with constant attention to practical applications.

A balance of scholastic excellence with the maximum possible participation in College or University activities is encouraged. Notable within the College are eleven honor societies, fourteen student professional groups, a coordinating body—the Engineering Council, and The Illinois Technograph, a student publication. The College annually sponsors the St. Pat's Ball, an all-University dance.
The College of Fine and Applied Arts offers a wide variety of opportunities by teaching aesthetic knowledge and appreciation of the fine arts as well as preparing students for professional careers.

To promote interest in these fields, the College presents concerts by the various orchestras and choral groups, recitals, public lectures, performances by the Opera Workshop, and a year-round art exhibition program which maintains displays in the various campus buildings. The School of Music sponsors radio broadcasts over Station WILL.

The College is also instrumental in the planning of the Festival of Contemporary Arts.

Architecture, Art, City Planning, Landscape Architecture, and Music are the teaching departments of the College. In addition, the Small Homes Council and the Bureau of Community Planning carry on research and extension work. The University Bands are a separate division of the College.
The Graduate College began in 1892 when the Board of Trustees authorized four fellowships for post-graduate work to "... stimulate in all departments the idea and habit of research..." From this small beginning, the graduate student body has a present enrollment of 3,000, the third largest college on the campus.

Graduate programs stressing independent work and individual research have been established in over sixty-five departments and divisions of the University. The four original fellowships authorized by the Board of Trustees have been increased to provide a substantial number of awards for students of unusual promise. Other students of exceptional ability gain valuable teaching and research experience through the many part-time assistantships which are available. In recent years the Graduate College has conferred about 750 master's degrees and over 300 doctorates during each calendar year.

Dean Frederick T. Wall
The objective of the School of Journalism and Communications is to provide professional education for men and women who plan careers in journalism, advertising or broadcasting.

This professional training is preceded by a preliminary program of general education, which the student usually obtains in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Facilities for the School include an outstanding journalism and communications library, special classrooms and laboratories, AM and FM radio stations and a VHF educational television station.

As a professional division of the University, the School has service responsibilities. It provides headquarters for various press and broadcasting associations.

The School of Journalism was established in 1927. The change in name came about in 1950 after the addition of the radio curriculum, which has since been expanded to include television.
Since its founding in 1897, the College of Law has been in the forefront in the movement for improvement of standards of legal education and admission to the Bar in the United States.

Training men and women for the practice of law is the primary purpose of the College. But its program is also valuable for those who become judges, legislators, and teachers of law, for administrators in government, and for executives in private business. It seeks to guide students in appreciating the function of law in the social order and in aiding the law to keep pace with changing conditions. So its responsibility embraces much more than the mere learning of legal rules and formulas; it provides part of the educational foundation for men and women who will become leaders in community service and directors of public thought.

Fall of 1955 marked the moving of the staff and facilities of the College to its new, modern building on south campus.
The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, compounded from several departments of the University in 1913, is the largest and most complex division. Originally the courses offered were looked upon as basic to general education.

The College also functions as a service unit for other colleges by offering curricula in pre-professional training for nursing, medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, law, and journalism. This training includes work in English, foreign languages, sciences, and social sciences, which constitute established all-University requirements.

In cooperation with the College of Medicine, a professional course in occupational therapy is offered which leads to a degree in medicine.

The General Curriculum of the College leads to a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree, depending upon the field of concentration.

Dean Joseph R. Smiley
The University of Illinois Library School, established on the Urbana campus in 1897, has maintained a continuous university affiliation longer than any similar school in the United States.

The purpose of the school is to prepare students for professional careers in the principal types of libraries and in those of specialized fields.

Basic courses are offered at the undergraduate level in the Colleges of Education and Liberal Arts and Sciences. The School plans graduate curricula which qualify the student for professional librarianship; the minimum requirement is one year of work, leading to a Master of Science degree.

The University Library, third largest among American universities, contains many distinguished collections. The nearly three million volumes available support the work of the Library School and all other departments of the University.
The School of Physical Education provides professional training for both men and women in the fields of physical education, health education, and recreation, and in dance for women, besides conducting the program under which all undergraduate students must earn four semester hours credit in physical education.

Physical and motor skill efficiency and creative expression through sports, gymnastics, and dance are the contribution of physical education to the general education. The School also contributes to the social schedule of its students by sponsoring several extra-curricular organizations.

Two special units operated by the School are a student rehabilitation center and therapeutic exercise clinic.

Established at the University in 1933, the School is outstanding in conducting a program of fundamental research in the fields of motor and organic fitness and diagnostic fitness tests for both youth and adults.
Prevention and control of animal diseases are the principal purposes for training in the College of Veterinary Medicine. Students learn theory and application of practice which are essential to the protection of the livestock industry and the safeguarding of the public health.

The College was established in 1944; then it consisted of only a two-year pre-veterinary program. In 1948 a four-year professional course was added, making a complete six-year program leading to the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree.

Programs of extension, graduate study, and veterinary research are also conducted by the College. Instruction is supplemented by the provision of animal patients and specimens from the various clinics and research and service centers.

The Veterinary Medicine Building was completed in 1952, and a new large-animal clinic was opened in 1955.
The University of Illinois established its Undergraduate Division in Chicago in 1946. Students in the Chicago Division have the same status as do those on the Urbana campus, as they are offered the same courses, credit for which may be transferred almost completely downstate in continuation of study in various fields.

Two years of pre-professional courses are offered in liberal arts and sciences, commerce and business administration, and engineering. Also available are curricula in the professional areas of architecture, architectural engineering, physical education, and a course leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in nursing. Courses in ROTC are also offered.

Through its educational, social, and cultural program, the Division provides its students with the same high degree of service which is a tradition of the University of Illinois.
The Division of Special Services for War Veterans was established for the purpose of giving extensive aid to veterans wishing to enroll in the University of Illinois. The program is a venture which breaks traditional policies; it allows educational freedom which will best serve the needs of individual students. The Division plans and administers programs for veterans whose special needs are not met by existing curricula; it can certify these students for the Bachelor of Science degree.

The Division offers veterans an opportunity to re-orient themselves academically through reduced programs and selection of courses; to move directly toward an educational objective by adding appropriate subjects to previously acquired credit; and to attain an educational objective which involves subject matter offered in several colleges.

Director Frank Bridgewater
The Division of University Extension is a means by which the University expands its sphere of influence. Its services now reach to many parts of the world.

Through the program of correspondence, over one hundred courses are available by mail to students unable to enroll in the University as residents. These courses are of an introductory nature and do not include subjects of highly advanced study.

In addition to its correspondence program, the Division rents University-owned educational films to high schools, colleges, and television stations. Recently annual shipment has reached the 100,000 mark.

Assisting Dean Browne, who has headed the Division since its establishment in 1933, is a small administrative body and a staff composed of members from the faculties of various schools and colleges of the University.

The Student Senate is the representative undergraduate governing body. It is composed of forty-three members, twenty-eight of whom are elected at two annual elections from geographical districts on the campus. The remainder are representatives of the housing groups and major campus activities.

The purposes of the Student Senate are to represent the student body in every level of the University decision-making process, and to present student opinion in the formulation of the rules and regulations affecting undergraduates.

The bulk of Student Senate work is carried out through an extensive committee structure where policy is formulated on all the problems facing students. Final decisions are made in the Senate itself, however, at open meetings to which all students are invited each Wednesday night in the Illini Union.

Senate carries on such diverse activities as developing awareness of national and international issues, promoting better human relations, holding conferences with faculty and administrative representatives to improve relationships, providing leadership training for potential campus leaders, and offering economic assistance to students. The Senate reviews many regulations affecting students such as hours for women, appearance of political speakers on campus, study day before final exams, car regulations, and senior exemption from final exams.

The Senate is assisted in its operations by the Freshman Council, a group of promising freshmen who meet periodically to study freshman orientation, to help Senate in various projects, and to gain experience in campus activities.

CO-ORDINATION COMMITTEE

The Co-ordination Committee is a sub-committee of the Committee on Student Affairs, established to administer the area of events of the various student activity organizations. A major responsibility of the committee is the final approval of the details of programs such as budgets, times, locations, publicity and contest rules.

All contracts which student organizations enter into must be undertaken by sealed bids under the auspices of the Co-ordination Committee. The committee works closely with the Office of Student Organizations on such matters. Student organizations' petitions for any social and special events and their details, all considered by the Co-ordination Committee, must be filed in that office.

The Co-ordination Committee each spring prepares an annual calendar of events and their locations for presentation to the Committee on Student Affairs. The committee also makes recommendations to CSA concerning the advisability of new programs.

Eleven members comprise the Co-ordination Committee, including eight students appointed by the Student Senate. Represented are the Illini Union Student Activities, the Concert and Entertainment Board, the University Theatre, and one senator from each of the four housing groups. The chairman is a student senate member of CSA who is appointed by the chairman of CSA.

The Co-ordination Committee is now in its eighth year. It has been most useful in working to prevent conflicts among programs and undesirable competition among student organizations.

The Committee on Student Affairs is a part of the University Senate. Its eight faculty members and a faculty chairman are appointed by the University Senate, which is composed of all the full professors in the university; and the eight student members are chosen by the Student Senate. This CSA committee meets once every week.

In policy matters the Committee on Student Affairs is responsible to the University Senate, and in administration it serves as an advisory group to the Dean of Students. It works in the field of extra-curricular activities as one of the principal contact points between representatives of the student body, the faculty, and the administration.

The purpose of the committee is to provide valuable services to the student body such as assisting them in setting up plans of self-government, in managing their social events and activities, encouraging their sense of personal responsibility, preventing extra-curricular activities from imposing on their scholastic progress, and helping to organize and maintain living conditions which are safe, healthful, and moral for college students.

The committee in collaboration with the Student Senate writes the "Code on Student Affairs" which is a set of regulations guiding the operation of all student organizations.
Panhellic is the governing and policy-making body for all sororities at the University of Illinois. It encourages high social standards, scholastic achievement and participation in activities among its members.

The Executive Committee acts as the judicial body of Panhellic and makes policy recommendations to Presidents' Council. Linking the individual sorority members and Panhellic, Presidents' Council is the policy-making body of Panhellic. Executive Committee is composed of the four officers, the senior chairmen, and pledge advisors of the five departments which are: pledge, social, scholarship, activities and rushing, the Shi-Ai president, the public relations chairman and a Senate representative.

Panhellic sponsors the Panhellic Ball every year. They also hold a Scholarship Dessert in the fall, and a Scholarship Banquet in the spring, at which time the 3.0 sorority women are honored, and the house scholarship trophy, the pledge scholarship trophy, and the improvement plaque are presented.

This year, with the proceeds from the 1954 Ball, Panhellic set up three $200 grants, for which all undergraduates women were eligible to apply. Panhellic supports a foster child in Italy under the Foster Parents Plan. Each week one of the sororities writes her a letter.
All sorority pledges belong to Junior Panhellenic, which is made up of four departments: pledge presidents, pledge activity chairmen, pledge social chairmen and pledge scholarship chairmen. Each department functions as a separate entity, and they are coordinated through Junior Panhellenic Executive Committee, composed of the pledge chairmen of the four departments and an advisor from Senior Panhellenic.

Each fall the pledges help decorate for Panhellenic Ball. Later in the year Junior Panhellenic sponsors the All-Pledge Banquet, which all sorority pledges attend. Junior Panhellenic and Junior IF put on an Easter Egg Hunt for orphans.
The Women’s Group System is the organization for all independent, undergraduate women on campus. W.G.S. strives to enrich the lives of its members and all students by encouraging fellowship, developing leadership, and promoting high scholarship and interest in participation in campus activities.

Second Council, composed of the presidents or representatives from W.G.S. houses, discusses the group’s activities and receives announcements of campus affairs. The executive board, comprising the W.G.S. officers and major chairmen, administers the social, activity, scholarship, and freshman advisory programs, investigates matters referred to it, and makes recommendations to Second Council.

Freshman Board, including one freshman from each independent house, voices the problems of the freshman women and encourages them to become active in W.G.S. programs.

W.G.S. sponsors scholarship and activity awards teas. It joins the Men’s Independent Association in planning the Dad’s Day Review every fall, in presenting the annual Sno-Ball informal dance, and in publishing their own newspaper, The Indee News. W.G.S. sponsors such campus-wide events as coffee hours and mixer dances.

The Men's Independent Association of the University of Illinois is the representative body of the organized independent men's houses on campus. Governing power of the group is maintained in the Monday Council, composed of representatives from each of the member houses. The President's Cabinet, made up of the officers, major committee chairmen, and representatives to other campus organizations, acts as an advisory, executive committee. Another advisory group is the Faculty Advisory Board, a body of administrative and faculty members which offers information and suggestions about subjects affecting the organization.

Most activity comes in the Monday Council, where decisions of policy and expressions of opinion on campus problems are formulated. Action taken by this group is presented to administrative and student bodies as representative of the members. The body serves a further function by disseminating information about campus activities and administration policy to the member houses.

Besides coordinating student activity on the Illinois campus, the organization maintains a contact with the other independent student groups by an active membership in the National Independent Students Association.

The Interfraternity Council is the governing and supervising body of all social fraternities at the University. The Council studies such current problems as scholarship, pledge training, activities, house finances, and house management.

The Council includes a junior and senior representative from each of the fifty-eight fraternities. It is the largest and oldest such group in the country. At regular weekly Council meetings and committee meetings, the representatives get acquainted and discuss constructive ideas for fraternity operations to take back to their houses.

Council functions are planned by the following committees: executive, judicial, pledge training, programs, activities, intramurals, and house managers.

Last year Interfraternity Council sponsored such events as pairings for stunt show, a Christmas Party for underprivileged children, Greek Week, and IF Ball.

The Board of Fraternity Affairs, composed of three staff fraternity men, three local fraternity alumni, and the Executive Committee, advises this group. The assistant dean of men for fraternities supervises Interfraternity Council.

In its third year, Junior Interfraternity Council had two main objectives: the stimulation of the pledge classes' interest in interfraternity affairs and University activities and the maintenance of pledge class grades on a satisfactory level.

The governing body of Junior Interfraternity Council consists of a president, vice president, secretary-treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms, each with a one year term. They appoint committee heads and officiate over all committees.

Last year Junior Interfraternity Council planned numerous events such as the Junior Interfraternity Ball held in November. On Homecoming Week-end the pledge classes maintained barricades for the judging of house decorations. In December a dessert was given for all the pledges. The annual Easter Egg Roll was held in the spring.

Part of the Junior Interfraternity Council is the pledge-training and scholarship committee which deals with the problems of fraternity pledges. Under it is a subcommittee of 58 pledge presidents which meets with the committee to formulate policies. These policies, when passed by Senior Interfraternity Council and instituted in the fraternities, aid the pledges in scholarship and university adjustment.
ILLINI FORENSIC ASSOCIATION

The Illini Forensic Association is open to any student interested in taking part in the Forensic program of debates, discussions, and public speaking events. The program is directed toward improving speaking ability and arousing interest in current events.

Intercollegiate debates and discussions permit an evaluation in comparison with other campuses. Intra-squad debates give practice and confidence to the debaters for such events. Monthly parliamentary debates, weekly radio forum programs over WILL and local demonstration debates and workshops also offer members an opportunity to gain practice.

Eight varsity and sixteen junior-varsity debaters are chosen by tryouts. An executive council composed of students with faculty advisors manages this student organization.
The Illini Union is the center of campus life. It was designed to be used by students, staff, alumni, and friends of the University.

In cooperation with the University of Illinois Foundation, the Union has been fully equipped. A grant of funds from the Federal Government, a separate loan, and contributions from alumni and friends of the University have made the Union possible.
Efficient handling of Illini Union Student Activities demands supreme cooperation and able leadership. Union Administration and Board and the Union President coordinate and supervise. Their efforts assure the smooth functioning of this organization.

Campus Chest was organized in 1948 to eliminate the numerous requests for donations to various charities. Campus Chest's purpose is to sponsor one charity drive per year.

Early in the fall, they begin preparations for the drive. They begin publicity through the Block I, the band, radio, TV, newspapers and displays. Also, an extensive program of educating the campus is organized.

In addition to this general drive, Campus Chest sponsors several other events. They conduct a book drive, a clothing drive, a boutonniere sale and orphan parties.

The proceeds from this drive, as well as those from Spring Carnival, are allocated to charities recommended by the Allocations Board. This board, composed of representatives from major student organizations, representatives from the Chest, and three faculty advisors, controls the proceeds from the drive, Spring Carnival, and other Chest activities.
The Young Women's Christian Association offers university women an opportunity to work, play, share and grow with people of many races, religions, and nationalities. It serves as a medium for the expression of creative ideas. Christian growth and fellowship with other young women in all types of activities from discussion groups to the administration of planned projects is the basis of the Illinois Y.

The Y Freshman Weekend is designed to introduce new students to college life and to help them make the most of their four years. The Y serves the campus and community further with its International Supper Club, Thanksgiving vespers, and deputations team.

Committees serve every interest and the girls enjoy their work at Chanute Field, with youngsters, and with transfer students. The Y's main areas of interest include Family Life, Social Recreation and the Little United Nations. The annual Y Christmas Doll Show is one of the year's greatest highlights.

The Y provides a wide choice of associations for it welcomes and encourages participation by all students, accepting them for what they are, and making no stipulations as to who may join.
Y. M. C. A.

The Y.M.C.A. is a non-denominational Christian organization serving the campus. Its purpose is to provide a program that will complete the student's education with deeper spiritual insights. To fulfill its function, it gives its members opportunities to work on more than fifteen standing committees and related projects.

The Y gives special emphasis to a wide freshman program and an international student program. Bringing students and faculty into better understanding has long been a concern of the Y. Increasing the student's sense of social responsibility and helping him to a more meaningful personal life are also major aims of the Y.M.C.A.

The large, well-furnished Y.M.C.A. building is open to all, with newspapers, magazines, study and meeting rooms, and the popular Kaeser Room available for student enjoyment.
In producing The 1956 Illio, its staff tried to turn out a book which will reflect all the phases of campus life—its social events, organized groups and administration.

Four seniors, an editor and three associate editors, planned the production of the book and supervised the over-all work of the staff. They judged a contest in which the artist who executed all the art work in The Illio was chosen.

Eleven junior editors were in charge of planning the eight sections which compose the book. These sections are: Chicago Professional Colleges, Sports, Residences, Activities, Seniors, Organizations, Illi-Noise and University.

Under the direction of these juniors, sophomore staff members typed, filed, drew layouts, cropped pictures and wrote copy for their assigned sections. Freshman staff members, who alternated between the business and editorial staffs, shared in this work.

Each spring the freshmen and sophomores attend a workshop in The Illio office to receive training in the many phases of yearbook work.

ILLIO BUSINESS STAFF
The responsibilities of the Illio Business Staff are the advertising, sales, and circulation of the 1956 Illio. The staff is kept busy with registration sales, “Turkey Sales,” and other special sales drives conducted throughout the year. The Illio Beauty Contest, held every fall, is under the supervision of one associate senior manager. The direction of the freshmen on both of the Illio staffs is the duty of the other associate senior manager. The operation of the entire Illio Business Staff is the responsibility of the general manager.

The eight junior managers are divided into two groups, advertising and sales. These managers handle the general office work which constitutes a large part of getting the Illio distributed. They organize all of the data, set up the work for the freshmen and sophomores, and supervise their activity. The freshmen and sophomores on the Illio staff have the responsibility of selling the books and doing general office work such as filing and typing. All of these students work to enlarge the distribution and to keep the popularity of the Illio high.

Serving Illini for over three-quarters of a century, the Daily Illini is an independent student newspaper, whose editorial news policies are determined by the student editors.

The reporters on three staffs cover the University, student groups and activities, and Champaign-Urbana. The sports news is covered by a separate department. A copy desk staff edits the articles of the news staffs and keeps a morgue file. The executive news editor is in charge of personnel, news-gathering, and day-to-day operations of the paper. All editorial and news functions are the responsibility of the editor-in-chief.

Stories are written during the afternoon and each issue is put together in the evening. With a late news deadline of 12 a.m. the paper is “put to bed” at 3 a.m.
The advertising staff of the Daily Illini handles solicitation and layout of ads, offers special services to the advertisers and selects the best individual advertisements. It is composed of three sections.

The display section sells space and handles customer-paper relations. The classified section handles all ads too small for display. The dispatch section runs proofs of ads to advertisers, lays out the paper and manages the office routine.

The circulation staff keeps records and sells subscriptions by selling on campus during freshman week, door-to-door canvassing of townspeople, and direct mail solicitation to out-of-town subscribers. During the semester, promotion projects are planned and carried through in order to “boost sales.” The circulation staff also maintains a file of issues of the Daily Illini for the convenience of people who want to buy past copies and for a complete and accurate record of campus news.

Representing the College of Engineering on the campus is the Illinois Technograph, a monthly magazine written and edited by students of the north campus.

The Technograph was one of the original ten members of the Engineering College Magazine Association. It is one of the oldest magazines of its type in the country and will have been on campus more than 70 years at the end of the 1955-1956 session.

The purpose of the magazine is twofold: to train technical writers and to provide the engineering student with a representative magazine in his field. Each issue of the magazine emphasizes one phase of engineering so that at the end of the year all areas of engineering are covered, giving the reader valuable information in fields of science besides his own. The combination of technical articles, articles of general interest and humor makes the Technograph a magazine engineers are justly proud of.
PHOTOGRAPHIC STAFF

The Illini Publishing Company Photo Staff is an independent body that is responsible for all pictures in The Daily Illini and informals for the Illio. Fourteen in number, the photographers work one afternoon and evening a week on the “beat” and any additional time as may be required to complete assignments. Night work usually extends well into the following morning.

The staff has two company-owned speed graphics at its disposal, but most photographers prefer to work with their own Rolleis. As a result, pictures reflect the scope and sharpness of the larger camera as well as the versatility and candidness of the smaller ones. To cope with this dual processing problem, the staff darkroom is equipped to develop roll as well as sheet film. Specialized developers and processing aids are available for special assignments.

Photographers are trained in the use of cameras, darkroom aids, and operation of the Fairchild Scan-A-Graver, with which the staff engraves all Daily Illini pictures. With the staff, lighting is an art. The photographers make use of natural, bounce and multiple lighting. There is a staff rule that all assignments are covered with at least two lights.

In 1955 the staff won a Fairchild Achievement Award for excellence in photo advertising.
The Illini Publishing Company is a non-profit corporation chartered by the State of Illinois for the purpose of printing, publishing, and distributing student publications at the University. It operates under a board of control headed by Prof. Frank Schooley, chairman, and Paul McMichael, general manager.

The board is composed of four students and four faculty members, who serve without compensation to help give student publications the best possible printing service at the minimum cost. The four students are nominated by the Student Senate and elected by the Board for two-year terms. The four faculty members are appointed for four-year terms by the President of the University upon recommendation by the Dean of Students. These faculty members control the finances and appoint the senior editors and managers for the different publications. These publications are The Daily Illini, the Illio and the Illinois Technograph.

The company operates a modern printing plant in the basement of Illini Hall, manned by union printers and pressmen. The Daily Illini and Illinois Technograph are printed there, along with a variety of commercial printing for student and University-connected organizations. The Illio itself is produced in other larger plants; this year it was printed in Bloomington, bound in DeKalb, and used covers that were made in Chicago. All the engravings were produced in Champaign.
Every year hundreds of students work at the University Theatre, a major extra-curricular activity. The Theatre offers experience in acting, costuming, stage design and construction, publicity and business. New members of the theatre work on several crews during the year to gain experience.

The University Theatre includes in its production program a variety of plays: comedy and drama, contemporary and historical, American and international.

Senior managers and the departmental staff are chosen by the governing body of the theatre, the University Theatre Board, which is composed of both students and faculty. In addition to the general manager and personnel managers, there are four other managers who head the production, workshop theatre, stage, and business departments. The departmental staff is composed of faculty staff managers who provide technical direction.

A Workshop provides experience for beginning actors and a place for student-directed and student-written plays to be presented.

Since 1890 Star Course has been host to internationally famous artists in the fields of music, dance, and drama. During the past year Star Course has presented both classical and popular programs including, among others, The Boston Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Charles Munch, the Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra, Leon Fleisher, Clarínac Turner, Szymon Goldberg, Sir Thomas Beecham, Sarah Vaughan, and Duke Ellington and his Orchestra.

The Star Course is a student organization sponsored and controlled by the University Concert and Entertainment Board, a student-faculty group which makes all final decisions and supervises the appointment of staff members. The two senior managers are the overall directors of Star Course. Working directly under them are junior managers who supervise publicity and advertising, sell tickets, and make necessary arrangements for presenting concerts. The sophomores and freshmen usher at all concerts, help backstage, and take care of routine work in the Star Course office.

Three of the six major choral groups, the Men's Glee Club, University Choir, and Oratorio Society, are conducted by Paul Young. The Women's Glee Club and Junior Men's Glee Club are under the direction of Russell Mathis. Ruthann Harrison conducts the University Chorus.

Each year the highly skilled University Choir presents several campus concerts as well as making a major tour of the state. This year the Women's Glee Club, University Choir and the Varsity Men's Glee Club presented two Christmas concerts. The University Chorus presented "The Messiah."

Brahms "Requiem" was presented by the Oratorio Society, which also participated in the Mozart festival under guest conductor, Sir Thomas Beecham.

Last year the "Singing Illini," the Men's Glee Club, made a tour of the East that was climax by their appearance on the Ed Sullivan "Toast of the Town" TV Show. This group also has an in-state tour each season.

The University of Illinois Symphony Orchestra, numbering 93 players, includes music students and any other students from the University who can qualify.

Besides regular concerts, the orchestra accompanies a distinguished soloist at least one Star Course concert annually, and it also enjoys the privilege of working with guest conductors of international fame.

An annual highlight of the orchestra’s activities is the Concerto Concert. The orchestra attracts national attention at the conventions of the Music Educators’ National Conference.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The University of Illinois Concert Band, conducted by Mark Hindsley, is one of the finest college bands in the nation. Members of this 110-piece band are chosen from new students by tryouts and from the ranks of the Regimental Bands.

Last year the band performed in the Festival of Concert Band Music in January, presented its 66th Anniversary Concert in March and traveled through northern Illinois on its annual Spring Tour. It participated in the twilight concert series, played in Commencement activities and performed on several WILL programs.

In the fall the First Regimental Band, conducted by Everett Kisinger, serves as the nucleus of the Marching Illini. Following the football season the band, which has over 100 members, becomes another concert organization presenting several concerts each year.

Notable among these concerts are the performance at the January Festival of Concert Band Music, the formal concert in April, and the twilight outdoor concerts in the spring. The band has broadcasts over WILL, and in cooperation with the Military Department it performs for important military ceremonies.

FIRST REGIMENTAL BAND

The Second Regimental Bands, Section A and B, conducted by Everett Kisinger, provide band training for some 150 University students. Some members of the football band are chosen from this group. When vacancies occur in the First Regimental Band, tryouts are held for promotion. The majority of the Second Regimental Band members are freshmen and sophomores.

This group plays at all pep rallies, Mothers Day ceremonies, twilight concerts in the spring, and for military parades. Rehearsals serve as a laboratory for the reading of both new and old band literature.

SECOND REGIMENTAL BAND

Teamwork, split-second timing, complicated formations, and well-performed music are all parts of the trademark of the Illini Marching Band. The 175 members execute these characteristics while marching, playing, and singing.

The Marching Illini are credited with numerous “firsts” including field formations, a cappella singing, and presentation of complete programs with only predetermined signals that are in the music.

Each maneuver requires a tremendous amount of work before it can be presented on the gridiron. Football band director, Everett Kisinger, designs the formations and arranges the music and parade routines.
MARCHING BAND

For each formation, every member receives charts and music with the marching cues marked. Hours of rehearsal and drill are then spent in preparation for each Saturday's show. One of the most spectacular maneuvers of the 1955 football season was a running torch bearer that was dedicated to the forthcoming Olympics.

Gaylord Spotts for the third straight year portrayed Chief Illiniwek. The drum major was a freshman, Edmund Williams, from El Reno, Okla. The football band had four home appearances and one at East Lansing, Mich., for the Illinois-Michigan State game.

Over 1,500 spectators filled the Stock Pavilion to see the 30th annual Little International Horse Show on November 5.

Competing in eight classes were over 140 entries from Illinois and surrounding states.

The event was sponsored by the Hoof and Horn Chapter of Block and Bridle.
PANHELLENIC BALL

This year's Panhellenic Ball, held on October 22, enveloped Huff gym in a "Coral Mist" with fish, shells, and corals for decorations. The dance was unique on this campus in that two bands—those of Buddy Moreno and Tony Pastor, performed alternately—thereby making the music continuous throughout the evening.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation of the Ideal Sorority Girls, one from each of the 28 sororities on campus.
"It’s Greek to Me" was the theme for the 1955 IF Ball with music by Ralph Marterie and his orchestra. A backdrop for the bandstand was a replica of The Parthenon with its many columns. The name of the dance was on the triangular roof of the "Parthenon" backdrop which was made out of glittery material with a wooden framework.

In the center of the dance floor was a small stand with four columns and a triangular roof, in which was displayed the queen’s crown with the pins of all 57 fraternities. The walls of the gym were decorated with pictures and drawings of the fraternity houses on the Illinois campus. At eleven o’clock the nine queen candidates were announced and escorted to the stage.
“Club Success” was the theme of the 1955 Senior Ball. It was moved off campus to the Moose Club for the first time in twenty years. The setting resembled that of the most exclusive nightclub. Dinner with a wide choice of delicious foods and complete with music preceded the dance.

Music for dancing was provided by Dick Cisne and his orchestra. A capacity audience was entertained by the comedian, Clarence Snyder.

General chairman for the evening was Larry Chapman. Clare Lueking was in charge of programs, and Robert Trumble was in charge of tickets and publicity. Appropriate decorations were planned by Frank Gerace and Jerry Bond, and arrangements were done by John Hoyt and Marilyn Kasson.
HONORARIES

High scholarship and outstanding achievements are the attributes of the students who make up the University honoraries. The members have scholastic attainments, notable accomplishments, and common interests.

The honoraries strive to promote scholarship, cooperation, friendship, and achievement. They try to encourage leadership, service, research, greater understanding of the subject, and high professional ideals.

Some of the societies have originated at this University to fill the needs of the students, while many are chapters of national organizations.

Through membership in these groups, students find closer social and professional companionship and fuller development of character and personality. Members have the opportunity of experimenting in practical application in their future profession, and of exchanging ideas with others in the same field.

A student who is chosen to become a member of an honorary has the opportunity to work with other students of high standing and is thus able to increase his own knowledge.

ORGANIZATIONS

Students obtain an excellent opportunity to develop their personalities and social adeptness through their work in the many organizations, clubs, and societies represented on the campus. Experience from these organizations leads the members into future success and leadership.

A student is wise to select an organization which pertains to his chosen field and through which he can meet and converse with prominent men, participate in field trips, and bring himself up to date on recent advancements. All these things add to his knowledge and understanding of his field. The student is also able to increase his knowledge through its application in practical situations.

Important also is the opportunity the student has of developing his personality and character through his participation in the numerous social activities held by his organization. Because through organizations students are able both to develop their personalities and to increase their knowledge of their chosen fields, they are becoming increasingly important in modern education.

Orchesis is an organization which offers both men and women students of the University the opportunity for creative dance study, composition, and performance. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in dance as an art form and to foster standards of performance, appreciation, and understanding of this art in the community.

Each spring, Orchesis sponsors a concert in conjunction with the Contemporary Arts Festival. A part of the proceeds from this concert is allotted for a scholarship to be awarded to one or more of its members for summer study at a school of dance.

Orchesis also sponsors concerts by visiting artists and organizes symposiums in which other colleges are invited to participate.

Student Radio Station WPGU at 1241 Euclid broadcasts its programming for the students. Besides providing fine entertainment, the objectives of the station are to provide valuable experience for those interested in radio announcing, advertising and continuity.

WPGU was started in 1953 when two electrical engineering students began the project. Since that time the station has moved to its present location, been rebuilt and remodeled by the student staff, enlarged its broadcast day and grown in status on the campus. The station has gained national reputation among other campus stations by winning first prize in a national contest in 1955. WPGU is recognized as one of the most progressive and forward looking stations in America.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

The Church is important in everyone's life and students are not exceptions. The religious organizations on the campus satisfy this interest. The students help govern these organizations through student councils which are made up of church staff members as well as students.

These organizations strive primarily to supply the spiritual needs which cannot be found in the classroom. Each foundation conducts services, gives credit courses in religion, and maintains libraries which contain religious literature.

Besides their religious emphasis, these organizations are rich in cultural and social life. Choral groups, forums, discussion groups, and lectures contribute to the cultural aspect; while coffee hours, picnics, mixers, and supper clubs provide social life.

Through participation in the activities of these campus foundations, students enrich their lives by the fellowship they share. All the students help each other to better their personalitities and characters through their work together on the projects of their respective organizations.

Through the Reserve Officers Training Corps unit here at the University of Illinois, one may obtain a commission in either the Army, Navy, or Air Force.

Coordination of the three ROTC units is achieved through the Armed Forces Council. This Council is composed of the Army Cadet Commander and his Executive Officer, the Navy Midshipman Commander and his Executive Officer, and the Air Force Cadet Commander and his Executive Officer. In addition, each unit provides a junior to serve on the Council and the ROTC unit in charge for the current year provides a commissioned officer to act as advisor.

Functions of all three ROTC units include the Military Ball, Camid Hop, Veteran’s Day Ceremony, and the Honors Day Formation.
The Army Reserve Officers Training Corps has been in existence at Illinois since the University's establishment and has constantly increased in strength through the years.

Col. Frank Leakey, senior officer and academic head of the Army department, is Commandant of Cadets and Coordinator of Armed Forces at the University.

At the present time, seven branches of the United States Army are represented in the Cadet Brigade.

The cadet governing body of the Corps is the Military Council, which consists of ranking senior cadets from each of the seven branches and delegates from the three military honoraries: Scabbard and Blade, Phalanx, and Pershing Rifles. This group acts as a sounding board for student affairs and as a liaison body between the Commandant and the Corps of Cadets. During the 1955-56 school year, the Council was presided over by Cadet Colonel Bruno Dal Corobbo, Brigade Commander of the Army ROTC.

The youth of America today have a challenge in the opportunity to serve the nation as officers in the fighting fleet of the United States Navy.

The Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University of Illinois is composed of 280 midshipmen who are required to study twenty-four academic hours of Naval subjects which are integrated with their regular college curriculum.

Upon graduation, a midshipman receives a commission in the Navy at the rank of Ensign or in the Marine Corps as a Second Lieutenant, and is then immediately assigned to active duty in his respective service.

Behind Coach Ray Eliot, the fighting Illini hoped to get back on the winning trail after a 1-8 1954 season. Veterans Emerit Lindbeck, Abe Woodson, Bob DesEnfants, Rudy Siegert, Percy Oliver and sophomores Rod Hanson, Bob Mitchell, and Ray Nitschke gave primary support to the promising young team.

Inexperience was the main factor against the light and offensively fast team. Consequently, Coach Eliot predicted that the Illini would not have a spectacular season, but a good one. Sports writers the nation over said that the Illini would wind up at the bottom as they did in 1954. Only time would test these predictions as the season began.
Thirty-three Illini flew to the West Coast to meet the Golden Bears of California in the opening game of the season. The Illini upheld their West Coast reputation, whipping the Bears 20-13.

A stubborn California team dealt the first blow, scoring shortly after the beginning of the second period. The Illini, however, roared back, culminating a 46 yard drive with a 13 yard plunge by Abe Woodson.

The Illini struck again in the third quarter. Mickey Bates and Harry Jefferson ran wild as the scoring drive went 61 yards in 15 plays. Lindbeck completed the drive with a 6 yard pass to end Rod Hanson in the end zone.

The Golden Bears were not to be denied, however, and scored on a 42 yard pass play.

In the fourth quarter, Em Lindbeck placed the game on ice by guiding a 73 yard offensive in eight plays for the final score.
The Illini offense took complete command in its first home game and handed the Cyclones of Iowa State a decisive 40-0 defeat.

A first quarter 31 yard screen pass from Lindbeck to Mickey Bates highlighted the first scoring drive of the game. Ray Nitschke finished the task by diving over from the two.

The second, third, and fourth touchdowns came in the second quarter. The second score resulted when Nitschke blasted through the middle from 12 yards out. A 69 yard dash from Illinois' 19 yard line to the opponent's 12 by Abe Woodson set up the third touchdown. Danny Wile made this one official, going over the middle from the 9 yard line. The fourth touchdown came four plays later when Bob Mitchell intercepted a pass and sprinted 52 yards to score. In the third quarter, Nitschke scored again by going over right guard for the final 15 yards. Late in the fourth quarter, Everett intercepted a pass and raced 34 yards to paydirt for the final score.
OHIO STATE

In its first Big Ten game, the light Illini line fell by a score of 27-12 under the battering of a heavy and skillful Ohio State line. The Illini, however, struck first in the game. Lindbeck completed the nine play, 64 yard drive himself with a plunge from State’s one yard line. It took just 40 seconds and three plays for an enraged Ohio State team to tie the score. They quickly struck again, capitalizing on an Illini fumble. Statistically, the first half exhibited a pair of evenly matched teams, however, the weight of Ohio’s line took charge in the second half and Ohio methodically pounded out 75 and 51 yard drives for their third and fourth touchdowns respectively. Late in the fourth quarter, the Illini caught fire once again when Hiles Stout skillfully guided the team toward paydirt and scored himself the final points of the contest.
MINNESOTA

A heavy line did not stop the Illini again as they defeated Minnesota 21-13. It wasn't until the second quarter that the Illini scored the first points of the contest. Harry Jefferson "did the deed" with an 11 yard slash. Em Lindbeck scored the second touchdown, concluding a ninety yard drive highlighted with long runs by Jefferson and Woodson. The Golden Gophers suddenly came within one point of tying the score in the third quarter when they struck twice with sixty and sixty-five yard touchdown plays. The Illini, however, recovered from the shock and in the fourth quarter with the aid of Hiles Stout's passing, they confidently drove for the final score. A sixteen yard touchdown pass from Stout to Woodson was all that was needed for a successful victory.
Meeting Michigan State for the first time in history, the Illini went down to defeat by a score of 21-7 under a devastating passing attack.

Michigan State scored first with four minutes and 47 seconds gone in the first quarter. The Illini came back with a 68 yard surge in four plays and tied it up early in the second quarter. Em Lindbeck dove over from the five. In the third quarter, State scored rapidly with 60 and 23 yard pass plays. The Illini were never able to produce another successful scoring drive thereafter.

Although the team went to defeat, the spirited and alert Illini received national acclaim for its defensive skill against the Michigan State ground attack.
A damp, cold wind chilled a Memorial Stadium crowd of 61,261 at Illinois' 45th Homecoming game. Purdue, with a 218 pound line also chilled the Illini's offensive power and went on to win, 13-0. A powerful 82 yard drive in the first quarter produced the Boilermakers first seven points. The Illini, however, tightened firmly and held off several Purdue thrusts. With just two minutes remaining in the first half, Purdue had one yard to go for a first down on the Illini 13. Alert defensive play by line backer Ray Nitschke stopped a fourth down quarterback sneak and shattered the scoring threat.

Although playing valiantly against a line that outweighed them, the Illini failed to mount a successful offensive as fumbles and pass interceptions plagued the backfield throughout the game.
A Dad's Day crowd saw an inspired Illini team rout the Wolverines, 25 to 6.

Soon after a pass interception by Jim Minor, the first points were scored on a 25 yard pass from Lindbeck to DesEnfants. The lone Michigan score resulted in the second quarter when they capitalized on an Illini fumble. The famed Wolverine second half comeback was neutralized when Abe Woodson scored after taking a screen pass from Lindbeck in a fake field goal play that carried 24 yards. Bob Mitchell was not to be denied in this game as he quickly totaled 173 yards in ten plays. While doing so, he scored Illinois' third touchdown with a sixty yard run in the fourth quarter. A few seconds after Hanson intercepted a pass, Rolla McMullen completed the rout, plunging over his own left tackle for the final score.
An underdog Illini team traveled to Madison and with a score of 17 to 14 became the first Illinois team to defeat the Badgers at Madison since 1943.

Early in the first quarter, Bob Mitchell raced 39 yards for the first score. In the second quarter brilliant running by Woodson and Mitchell put the Illini into scoring territory. When the drive faltered, Dick Miller came in and kicked a 17 yard field goal.

The Illini kept the pressure up in the third quarter, scoring their second touchdown with 5:36 remaining in the period. At the end of the quarter, however, the Badger's passing attack came to life. Shortly after the fourth quarter began, Wisconsin scored on a 38 yard pass. With 5:56 remaining in the game, another Badger touchdown was added to the scoreboard.

The Illini finally halted another drive on their own 10. A hard charging line foiled a fourth down field goal attempt by Wisconsin. The jubilant Illini gained possession of the ball and ran out the remaining 29 seconds of the contest.
NORTHWESTERN

Although previously shattering the Wisconsin jinx, the Illini could not summon enough power to break Northwestern’s spell and tied the Wildcats, 7 to 7.

Bob Mitchell caught fire briefly and raced 50 yards to score the Illini’s only touchdown in 2:52 of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Northwestern marched 81 yards for what proved to be the final touchdown.

The young Illini team did not place 10th as others predicted, but placed a healthy and promising 5th. The tremendous improvement in the line was among the many reasons for this. The team also outdistanced the opponents, gaining 2,084 yards on the ground and 892 yards in the air.

Sophomore Bob Mitchell, although placing second in Big Ten rushing with 469 yards, set a new rushing average for the conference of 8.8 yards per carry. Harry Jefferson, hampered in the last three games with a severe chest injury, took third with 383 yards gained.

However, everyone owed their stardom to the fine ball-handling of senior quarterback, Em Lindbeck. As a result, the Illini voted Em the most valuable player.

BASKETBALL
With seven returning lettermen forming the nucleus of the 1955-56 basketball team, University of Illinois fans were again looking forward to another successful season. And the team did not let them down.

Under Coach Harry Combes' experienced guidance, the Illini five opened the season with an impressive 107-75 victory over Butler. After losing by one point at the University of Missouri, the team beat Notre Dame and Washington (St. Louis) on the road. Returning home to Huff Gym for a five game home stand, the squad continued its winning ways, knocking off De Paul, Oklahoma, Drake, Michigan State, and Wisconsin in turn.

Following two "must" games at Indiana, in which the Illini romped to apparently easy victories over the Purdue and Hoosier quintts, the team came home for semester finals possessing an impressive 10-1 mark. Iowa, always one of Illinois' roughest opponents, was second in the conference at mid-season with a 4-1 record. As defending Big Ten champs, the Hawkeyes led the conference defensively. The Illinois-Iowa game between the top two contenders figured to be quite a battle, with the winner probably taking the title.
At mid-season, the Illini were the hottest scoring team in the Big Ten Conference, averaging 89 points a game. They ranked third offensively in the nation and possessed a 40.6 conference shooting percentage. In the United Press and Associated Press national polls, the team was ranked third and fifth respectively.
Besides Illinois' accurate shooting, unequalled depth in player personnel helped put the team on top of the conference. If one player was cold on a particular night, the squad's balanced scoring attack took up the slack. Aggressiveness in the rebounding department also aided in securing control of the backboards. The great depth allowed Coach Combes to substitute freely without endangering the outcome of the game.
Little Bill Ridley and Captain Paul Judson as guards provide the spark and playmaking ability necessary to make a championship club operate smoothly. Bill Altenberger, plagued by an attack of glandular fever at the season's onset, appeared to have regained his shooting eye and playing form by mid-season. The team also awaited the return of Phil Judson after a semester's ineligibility, giving it a set of the speediest fast-breaking guards in the nation.
Center George BonSalle turned in stellar performances at the pivot and under the boards. At forwards, Harvard Schmidt and Donald Ohl did excellent work. Rugged Hiles Stout and Bruce Brothers helped in a reserve capacity for both the center and forward positions. Brothers, participating in his last season for the Fighting Illini, proved invaluable as a rebounder and defensive standout, besides making his share of baskets.

Bruce also took over the job of second-string center after Theodore Caiazza suffered a knee injury. James Chengary, Lawrence Breyfogle, and John Paul all fit into the Illini lineup without loss of smoothness or scoring punch. With many of the players coming back for next year's team, Illinois fans will again be able to look forward to a successful campaign.
Seeking their eighth and ninth straight Big Ten Championships, the Illini went into the 1955 season with a serious lack of depth. However, led by Captain Willie Thomson, the Illini proved better than expected.

In indoor track, Abe Woodson showed his speed by tying the world record for the 50-yard high hurdles in :06.1 at the Milwaukee Journal Relays.

Willie Thomson was selected to be on the U.S. team in the Pan-American Games at Mexico City. Unfortunately, he was unable to compete because of a leg injury.

The Illini finally hit rough weather at the Big Ten Indoor Championships as only seven members qualified. Fighting gamely, the team finished fourth, far behind a strong first place Michigan team.

At the Drake Relays, Willie Thomson smashed a personal jinx as he scored Illinois' only first.

Moving outdoors, the team lengthened its stride in the fresh air. Willie Thomson tied the Big Ten record for the 120-yard high hurdles. Qualifying only four in the Big Ten Championships, the Illini bettered all expectations and finished second. Captain Thomson again led the team with firsts in the 220-yard low hurdles and in the 120-yard high hurdles.

In the NCAA, Thomson was unable to defend his hurdles championship as the result of his re-injured leg.

The Fighting Illini, with six returning lettermen but a very young, inexperienced team, rose from last place standing in 1954 Big Ten baseball to a first division team in 1955. Illinois lifted its average from a low .267 to .538 to take fourth place in the Big Ten. The team's season record of 16 wins and 10 losses, as compared with its conference mark of 7 and 6, showed the improvement over 1954.

The Illini won its first two games, both at home, by scores of 10 to 2 and 5 to 1, against Washington University. Traveling to St. Louis, it lost to that team 6 to 3.

On its first southern tour, the team won over Pensacola 6 to 0, but lost to Loyola of the South 2 to 1, and was rained out at Tulane.

Heading back home, the Illini lost another close one to Southern Illinois 8 to 7, but went on to defeat St. Mary's 10 to 2 and Valparaiso 8 to 4. Opening its Big Ten season against Minnesota, Illinois lost 12 to 8, and were rained out once again at Iowa.

The Illini beat Illinois Normal 10 to 8, but lost to Michigan 13 to 3. They took a Big Ten double-header from Michigan State 7 to 1 and 9 to 5 and ran over the Chanute Air Force team 11 to 3 and Arkansas 13 to 2. This streak ended, however, with losses to Ohio State 4 to 3 and Indiana 8 to 1. The team then scored a win in its second game of the Indiana double-header 6 to 2.

The Illini then lost to Wisconsin 9 to 6, but took another double-header from Northwestern 3 to 1 and 5 to 4. The team’s next game was a loss to Illinois Normal 9 to 7, but it went on to win two out of three games from Purdue, 12 to 7 and 5 to 3, losing the third by a score of 3 to 2. Illinois, in its last game of the season, scored a win over Illinois Wesleyan 12 to 3.

Marvin Graves was the leading hitter of the ’55 squad as he pounded out a conference average of .500 and a seasonal mark of .450. In conference play Joe Fitzgerald and Vic Petreshene followed Graves with averages of .448 and .333, while the entire team had an average of .267.

Illinois’ pitching was a decisive factor in its attaining a first division berth in 1955. Richard Vorreyer and Marvin Graves both came through with 3-1 records for conference play, with Vorreyer winning 4 and losing 2 and Graves winning 4 and losing 3 during the entire season.

Robert Shoptaw and Vic Petreshene, respectively, placed on the second and third all-Big Ten teams.

The Walter H. Roettger Memorial Award for the most valuable player was presented to Marvin Graves.

Danny Dudas is captain-elect for 1956.
GYMNASTICS

The gymnastics team again came through in high-flying style as it was the only 1954-55 Illinois team to take a Big Ten title.

Besides walking off with its sixth consecutive Big Ten championship and thereby setting a new record, the squad captured first in the NCAA championships held at Los Angeles, California. The gymnasts placed first with 82½ points, beating out second place Penn State, who finished with 69 points.

Led by Jeff Austin, Tom Gardner, Tony Hlinka, and Richard Jirus, the team scored 139½ points in romping to the Big Ten Championship at Minnesota. Austin, who received the most valuable player award, gained a tie for first in tumbling in addition to winning first in free exercises for the second straight year.

Captain Gardner repeated as Big Ten Champ on the parallel bars. Tony Hlinka was among the top ten in four different events.

As a whole, Coach Charlie Pond's team had a very successful season. Jirus was elected 1955-56 captain.

WRESTLING

Illinois' 1954-55 wrestling team improved over the previous year's squad in both Big Ten and nation-wide competition. The "rasslers" garnered third in the Big Ten and notched ninth in the NCAA Championships at Ithaca, New York, to complete a better than average season.

Competing in the 25th Annual Big Ten Championship Wrestling Meet held at Minnesota, the Illini took third with 33 points. Michigan and Iowa finished one-two with 50 and 46 points respectively.

Junior mat-man Larry TenPas, second in the Big Ten and third in the nation in 1954, won the Big Ten Championship in his individual weight class. The only sophomore ever to win the Newt Law Award for the most valuable player, Larry was elected 1955-56 captain. He also won the MVP award for the second year in a row.

Buel "Pat" Patterson coached the team, which was captained by Ed Jackson.

GOLF

The 1955 golfsters had a below average team last year. Guided by Coach Fletcher, the Illinois squad had a record of 5-6-1. They placed eighth in the Big Ten Conference tilt which puts them three notches lower than they were in the 1954 season. Roger Mueller was captain-elect for 1956.

TENNIS

Through Coach Howie Braun and the team’s untiring efforts, Illinois placed third in the 1955 Big Ten race. Eleven victories in 14 matches enabled the racketeers to rise two places higher than their ’54 finish. Conrad Woods captained the squad. Braun stated that the team was the best Illinois had produced in several years.
SWIMMING

Coach Al Klingel's tank men placed eighth in the Big Ten Swimming Meet this year. Although this is a drop from last year's fourth place in the same meet, their season record was much better than the standings indicate. Jake Grossman served as the 1955 team's Captain and George Gfroerer was chosen as the most valuable member of the team for the year.

The Tribe of Illini is a social organization for all men on the campus who have earned a major "I" in athletics. The recognized goal of every Illinois athlete is to win his "I" and become a member of the "Tribe." This organization gives the members a chance to get better acquainted and fosters good relations between the "I" men and the rest of the students. New members are elected and initiated after awards are presented in each sport.

The men leading this year's Tribe were Jacob Grossman, Bruce Brothers, Hiles Stout, Thomas Luker, and William Altenberger.
MANAGERS

Working behind the scenes in all sports, Illini athletic managers perform the tasks necessary for successful presentation of sports at the University. These men are often not given all the credit they deserve for their hard work and loyalty to the coach and team.

The senior managers for each sport have many responsibilities. Among their duties is handling the money when their team leaves town. They pay all the bills, make all the reservations, and take care of all the other little things to make the trip as easy as possible on the players. These seniors are also responsible for all reports that the Athletic Association requires each sport to turn in. They are also in charge of the junior, sophomore, and freshman managers.

There are eleven senior managers who are each assisted by two juniors and several underclassmen.

Junior Managers—Top row: Gene Bergschneider, Wayne Marthaler, Robert Little, Marvin Ginsburg, Max Whitman, Bernard Filler, Donald Fricker

Using as its slogan “Let’s Cheer This Year,” the Illini cheering squad for 1955-56 led students, faculty, and fans in rooting for the football and basketball teams.

Headed by Dick Flores, the cheerleaders increased the spirit among the Illinois rooters with enthusiastic pep rallies every Friday night before home football games.

Competitive yelling between members in both “Block I’s” spirited the Illini gridiron team on to victory. “East is East, but West is Best,” echoed through the stadium as west block members chanted defiantly to their rooting rivals in the east block.

Most Valuable Player

Em Lindbeek, quarterback of the 1955 Fighting Illini, was selected by his teammates at their annual banquet as the most valuable player. After quarter-backing the Illini to a 5-3-1 season record, including an upset win over Michigan, he climaxed the season by starring in the annual East-West Shrine game.

Athlete of the Year

In the campus-wide poll, Paul Judson, guard and most valuable player on the '54-'55 varsity basketball team, was named athlete of the year. Paul, who starred on Hebron's 1952 Illinois State Basketball Championship Team, paced Illini scorers with 363 points and a 16.5 average. The man Coach Harry Combes described as having the "quickest pair of hands in the conference" was elected by his teammates for the '55-'56 captaincy.

Conference Medal Winner

The Conference Honor Medal was awarded to Ed Jackson for being the top athlete-scholar of Illinois for 1954-55. Ed captained the 1955 varsity wrestling team, while maintaining a 4.78 scholastic grade point.
The University of Illinois’ Department of Intramural and Recreational Sports plays a vital role in the extracurricular activities of the University student. The IM program furnishes the recreational activities a student needs to supplement his classroom work. By participating in intramural activities, a student receives the relaxation gained by a stimulating workout. The IM sports roster provides for competition on both the group and individual basis.

This department, sponsored by the Athletic Association, has Intramural, Recreational, and Co-recreational programs. The IM Rec Board, with Allen Klingel as faculty supervisor, directs the department. The Supervisor, Assistant Supervisor, Senior and Junior Managers, Chairman of the Officials Association, and representatives of the Intrafraternity Council, Men’s Independent Association, and the participating Independent and Greek houses make up the Board. This Board sets all program policies and acts as a Protest Board.
The IM department provides clean, wholesome competition for the students with a keen rivalry existing between the fraternities and the independent houses. Preseason coaching and practice clinics are held before the competition begins in the various sports.

The recreational department provides activities for those interested in athletics for their own sake alone. Graduate students and staff can enter in the special events and tournaments open for them in their own program.

The Co-Rec department provides sports where both men and women can team up in competition. Such co-rec sports are: volleyball, bowling, and softball. Special activities clubs are formed by students showing a special interest.

Election to Bronze Tablet is the highest scholastic honor awarded to seniors at the University of Illinois.

A senior who has been in the upper three per cent of his class in his respective college during his junior and senior years is entitled to have his name inscribed on the Bronze Tablet. This means he must have received Junior and Senior Honors.

High scholarship maintained throughout any one of the four years at the University is awarded by College Honors. Seniors may also qualify for University Honors if they have earned College Honors twice and have maintained a scholastic average for their first seven semesters equal to or higher than the four-semester average of the lowest student recently chosen for University Honors from their college under the preceding qualifications.

Senior transfer students who have not been at the University for four semesters before graduation may achieve University Honors if their average for the past three semesters is equal to or higher than the four-semester average of the lowest student currently elected to Bronze Tablet. The average of their transferred credits for the year before they transferred must also be equal to the average needed for University Honors.

The University of Illinois Scholarship Key is given to recipients of University Honors.
Education for the health professions of Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, and Nursing is centered in the University of Illinois Chicago Professional Colleges. Located in the heart of a great metropolitan medical center district, it draws strength from close relationships with many other public and private institutions.

Through its programs of professional education, the University of Illinois is preparing the young citizens of Illinois for competent and devoted service to humanity. Graduates of these colleges are located throughout the state as a result of cooperative efforts with state-wide associations.

Through its Research and Educational Hospitals, its clinics, and the Division of Services for Crippled Children, the University provides health services to thousands of Illinois citizens annually. Through its research carried on in these Colleges, the University of Illinois is continually advancing our knowledge and applying it to ever-changing needs.

In this way higher education has increased in stature and has encompassed, as a phase of its total responsibilities to an expectant society, the advancement of imaginative thought and formalized learning to the very borders of the known.

Through the device of fellowships, research assistantships, and research grants, graduate work at the Chicago Professional Colleges is encouraged. The immediate objective is to increase the supply of teachers and investigators in professional schools dealing with the healing arts. Properly accomplished, graduates thus extend their influence to neighboring institutions of learning and reflect the contributions of our University to the total purpose for which they were created.
The University of Illinois College of Dentistry was founded in 1892 and is located on the near west side in Chicago's vast medical center.

This year brings to the College a new Dean, Dr. Isaac Schour who succeeds Dr. Allan Brodie. Dr. Brodie served well as Dean for eleven years, and relinquished the Deanship so that he might devote his time to teaching and research in orthodontics. Dr. Schour has been with the College of Dentistry since 1924; he was appointed Professor and Head of the Department of Histology in 1935, and Associate Dean in 1945.

To assist in meeting the nation's increasing dental needs, the College admits as many students each year as its facilities permit. The number of first year students has been increased to eighty, and will be ninety hereafter. All entering students have a minimum of two years of college credits.

Because the College is striving to educate dentists who apply medical sciences in dental practice, science courses and clinical practice are distributed throughout the four years. The student begins to care for patients in his first year. By the time he graduates, he is well prepared to do his part in caring for the dental needs of the population.
The University of Illinois College of Pharmacy for many years has been a pioneer in pharmaceutical education. Today it is still very much a leader, for it has recently completed building one of the most modern and futuristic educational buildings of its type in the world.

The building has many unique features including escalators, walls constructed of moveable steel partitions which insure easy modification of the size of any classroom or office, laboratories which will accommodate at least one hundred students at a time and which afford complete visibility of the room without obstruction from pillars or pipes, a superb air filtering and ventilating system, and forty-three large display cases located along the corridors which contain interesting and educational displays. The new pharmacy building also has a very well-planned and equipped manufacturing pilot plant which is of great research and educational value.

The many wonderful facilities of the new College of Pharmacy building will contribute much towards the education of its students and the promotion of research and progress in the field of pharmacy.
SCHOOL OF NURSING

The University of Illinois School of Nursing inaugurated a four-year curriculum leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing in 1954. The first students to be admitted to the professional phase of the curriculum enrolled at the Professional Campus in September 1954. In addition to the four-year curriculum in Nursing, the School of Nursing also provides, for the well-qualified graduate of hospital school of nursing programs, a Continuation Program in Nursing.

Both of these curricula provide for a broad background in the Liberal Arts, for carefully selected clinical experiences in the Nursing Units of the University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospitals, and for experiences in public health and rural hospital nursing. With such preparation, the professional nurse can be expected to assume the broad responsibilities of modern nursing and to exert leadership in the community and in her profession.
COlLEGE OF MEDICINE

The University of Illinois College of Medicine is located in the Medical Center District two miles west of the loop section of Chicago. Thus in close relation to the other health science colleges, Dentistry, Pharmacy and Nursing, and the Research and Educational Hospitals, it forms an important part of a vast group of health profession installations.

The College of Medicine became affiliated with the University in 1897 and in 1913 became an integral part of the University of Illinois. In 1941 the staff of the Rush Medical School was added to the faculty of the College of Medicine and in the same year Presbyterian Hospital, through formal agreement, became affiliated with the University. The College of Medicine, through expansion and remodeling of its facilities, has in recent years greatly improved the educational opportunities for its students in the science and art of medicine.

Within a radius of four blocks from the medical school, there are four hospitals having a total capacity of more than five thousand beds. These hospitals include the University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospitals, the Cook County Hospital, Presbyterian Hospital, and the West Side V. A. Hospital. All are used to a greater or lesser extent in the undergraduate teaching program. The University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospitals, including the Neuropsychiatric Institute, have 810 beds and 50 bassinets and these hospitals are directly connected through corridors with the medical school itself.

The College of Medicine faculty numbers approximately one thousand specialists in the various branches of medicine and of these, about eight hundred provide their time without renumeration to student teaching and research programs. All departments in the College have active investigative programs dealing with basic biological problems and clinical research. The composition of the faculty and the facilities in which the faculty work are such as to offer a fine opportunity for the medical students in preparing themselves for the practice of medicine either in the general practice field or in some specialized area of practice.

COUNCILS AND CLASSES
EXECUTIVE STUDENT COUNCIL

DENTAL STUDENT COUNCIL
The Medical Student Council administers the student government of the College of Medicine. This group is elected from the four medical classes and is composed of twelve council members and the four class presidents.

The Council is growing in importance as a liaison between the student body and faculty administrative groups. It is the Council's responsibility to weigh problems of student interest, present recommendations to faculty administrative groups, and to act as the official voice of student opinion in faculty-student relationships.

Annually the Medical Student Council sponsors the Raymond B. Allen "Golden Apple" Instructorship Award to the outstanding instructor of each class. The 1955 awards were made to Richard Winzler, freshman class; William Whitehorn, sophomore class; Nicholas Cotsonas and Oglesby Paul, junior class; Carl Marienfeld and John Reynolds, senior class.

The Council contributes each year to the Henry G. Poncher Student Aid Fund, from which loans are made to students in emergency situations.

PHI LAMBDA KAPPA  Medicine

A Residence Hall, on a college or university campus, is not only a facility whose basic function is to provide food and shelter for its occupants, but is also a laboratory designed to teach students social behavior, self-management and a spirit of community living.

It is a predetermined fact that the physical structure, with its many features and facilities, will comfortably provide the basic needs of all individuals who reside in it. It is not, however, a predetermined fact that the spirit and success of good living will be achieved, for this achievement lies wholly within the organization, the attitude, and the industry of the people who reside in it.

The Residence Hall Association is designed to promote and maintain a program of self-government for the well-being and development of its occupants who may present their views, desires and opinions. It is anticipated through the years that a very effective and meaningful educational service will be rendered for the mutual benefit of the members of the Association and the University.
HONORARIES, ORGANIZATIONS AND ACTIVITIES
Alpha Omega Alpha, honorary medical society, is the only order of its kind on the continent. Promotion of scholarship and research in medical schools, encouragement of a high standard of character among medical students and graduates, and recognition of high attainment in medical science and related fields are the aims of the organization. Members promote the society's ideals and foster the scientific and philosophic features of the medical profession.
RHÔ CHI promotes the advancement of the pharmaceutical sciences

PI KAPPA EPSILON honors medical students who are elected by vote of the sophomore class
All students enrolled in the College of Pharmacy are eligible for membership in the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association. The students become aware of the many organizations presently active in the profession and are introduced to current legislation which affects the profession. Future leaders are prepared for their positions of leadership by becoming interested in activities such as these.

The members of the student branch receive the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association, which contains news and information of particular interest to members of the profession.

By means of these activities and many others the student of Pharmacy becomes integrated into the profession upon which he is soon to embark.
ASSOCIATION OF PHILIPPINE GRADUATE DENTISTS promotes scientific and social fellowship between the students and personnel of the University

STUDENT AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION promotes the ethical, intellectual, and professional improvement of its members

ILLI-SOTA

Illi-Sota, the Illinois Student Occupational Therapy Association, has a chapter on the Urbana campus and one on the Chicago Professional campus. The association is designed to orient both members and non-members with the curriculum and activities of Occupational Therapy.

Six semesters of the ten-semester Occupational Therapy curriculum are taken in the College of Liberal Arts and Science in Urbana. The remaining four consist of clinical theory and experience in the College of Medicine on the Chicago campus and at various hospital affiliations.

WESLEY FOUNDATION stimulates spiritual development among professional students through discussion, worship and activities.

DENTAL CHRISTIAN MEDICAL SOCIETY presents positive witness of God our Father, Jesus Christ our Savior, and the Holy Spirit to the dental profession.
The Union is the campus social center. Its programs are planned by members of the three Union committees—Social, Music, and Display. These committees cooperate with one another in executing the major functions, such as the Open House for new students, Carnival, and the Christmas Sing and Dance. They also work independently to provide a variety of weekly and monthly activities.

The building furnishes headquarters for many student committees, as well as being a good place to schedule a dance, meeting, luncheon or dinner. The Union facilities—lounges, game room, snack bar, and dining rooms—provide a pleasant place to relax and meet friends.
The Illio Committee of the Chicago Campus is responsible for the composition of the section of the yearbook devoted to the Chicago Professional Colleges. Sales, publicity, group pictures, page lay-outs, write ups, and copy editing keep the group busy September through November.

The Illio Committee consists of eighteen students who represent their respective colleges, with the Social Director of the Chicago Illini Union acting as advisor. The Union Building serves as headquarters for the Committee, although this is not an official Union organization.

Recreation and competition by means of a well-rounded athletic program is offered to all students by the physical education department of the Chicago Professional Colleges.

Facilities are mainly located in the Chicago Illini Union Building with the nearby Duncan Y.M.C.A. open to students for swimming and handball. The athletic program is under the direction of John Brown, now in his twelfth year in the position of director of physical education.

Athletics are organized under three main types. Varsity teams compete against other Chicago colleges in basketball, tennis, and golf. The intramural program consists of badminton, basketball, floor tennis, free throw shooting, fall and spring golf, handball, soft ball, swimming, table tennis, tennis and volleyball. Recreational activities for those who play only for fun include all intramural sports plus weightlifting, handball, fencing, boxing, wrestling, and gymnastics.

The varsity basketball team ended their last season with a six won-seven lost record. The tennis team won three and dropped two dual meets, but the Illini netmen placed third in the Chicago intercollegiate championship tourney held at the University of Chicago. The golf squad, after winning two out of three dual matches, climaxed the year by taking first place in the Chicago intercollegiate meet held at Longwood Golf Club.

IT MAKES SMALL DIFFERENCE

WHAT MY Talent IS . . .

Perhaps I sing . . . or paint . . . or write . . .
Or free from stone an image I alone
Perceived before.

Or then, perhaps,
Mine is another gift . . .
The gift to teach . . . to build . . . or to extract
From earth and air and sun and sea
New knowledge, power, or wealth.

But, as I say,
It makes small difference
What my talent is . . . however grand
Or humble its estate.

Let me but have, as well,
Its rare companion gift
Of wisdom.

Let me be but wise enough
To nurture talent with my toil,
And moisten it with sweat . . . to swell
Its growth with diligence,
And wear its bloom with grace.

Then only will my song
Stir echo in Man's heart, and my painting
Find reflection in his eyes . . .
Then only will my written word find permanence,
And my sculpture honored place.

Finally . . .
Let me be but wise enough
To know my talent's Source,
And let me then—in gratitude—
Give all to it . . .
But more important still—however grand
Or humble its estate—
Give it to All!

Your door to Campus Contacts

As Illinois will always be your school, you will want to retain those important contacts you have made. The Alumni Association is your contact with campus.

The services of the Alumni Association are many and vital to the University and yourself. It publishes the Alumni News, giving you all the news of what's happening on campus. It cooperates with the University Placement Bureau in procuring jobs for students and alumni alike. It establishes Illini Clubs throughout the country for Illini. It maintains a vast file of all alumni of our University, telling you where and what they are doing when YOU want to know. These are just a few of the services the Association provides for you as a member.

If you act before graduation you may use one of the following special student rates:

Perfect pair from ELGIN

There's a made-for-each-other look about these Elgins you'll want to be part of... to share with the very special one in your life. (Of course, you don't have to pair them—but what a wonderful idea it is!)

And these superb Lord and Lady Elgins more than look alike. They are alike in the years and years of amazing performance they will give you, too.

Each was made by the only watchmaker in the world who has made over 50 million fine watches...tuned to the stars by Elgin's own observatory, Elgin, Illinois.

But most important, each has the same heart—Elgin's heart that never breaks. This is the exclusive DuraPower mainspring, that's guaranteed to never break. Neither can it rust nor lose its power.

Surely you know someone with whom you would like to share the pleasure of owning a Lord and Lady Elgin? Why not visit your Elgin jeweler soon? Product of the Elgin National Watch Company. Plants at Elgin, Illinois and Lincoln, Nebraska.

Give an ELGIN watch, the beautiful way to tell time.

The glamour of huge industrial plants, intricate machinery, and mass production methods is the usual mental picture of American Industry. And a true picture of much manufacturing... but not so with photo engraving.

Machinery? Certainly! Precision equipment, but not mass production. Glamourous? Yes! Skilled hands and chemical processes and always intriguing.

Your year book is the result of many procedures... photography, copy writing, art, engraving, printing and binding, plus salesmanship, accounting, etc.

The graphic arts industry has many branches and many opportunities. You might consider the possibilities of your future in this highly interesting business.
