1958 ILLIO

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
URBANA ILLINOIS
From Freshman Days on, our Alma Mater has guided us. Through the rich and traditional heritage of our University we have discovered broader horizons and have acquired convictions that will help us to fulfill our responsibilities in a complex society. From enriching experiences and treasured friendships we have here accumulated countless memories—memories that need not be forgotten. For here is our campus, as we remember it: the tree-bordered quad-rangle; the chalk-white spire of the Illini Union at night; casual, yet friendly greetings of people you knew; the profs who endlessly graded papers; activities and organizations that claimed your time and devotion; the sports you couldn't miss; the "home away from home" where you studied half the night; and the seniors, whose faces you'll miss next fall: all memories that will continue to live in one volume, the 1958 ILLIO.
Classical Greek influence extends from the most tangible things, such as campus architecture, to the modern democracy in which we live. Our university thrives on the results of the influential ideas of the Greek people. Among these results are science, philosophy, and art as we study and understand them today.

Feeling that the foundations of our university and a great part of our culture has these classical roots, the artist has embodied a classical theme. By introducing the Greek love of simplicity and clear arrangement, he has created an over-all feeling of formal design, contrasting the classical elements of Greek antiquity with the classical elements present in our culture today.
From in front of the Library, one views South Campus and David Kinley Hall, home of commerce students.
Used by all students of astronomy, the Observatory supplies homework for star-gazers throughout the year.
The chimes of Altgeld Hall mark time throughout the campus. One of the oldest University buildings, it formerly housed the College of Law and is now occupied by the Math Department.
Our huge Armory houses the R.O.T.C. units, indoor track and other athletic events, registration, High School Circus, and the Illini Union spring event.
Luxuriant Allerton Park, an estate operated by the University, annually attracts thousands for retreats, conferences, and picnics.
In the very heart of the campus, the Alma Mater stands as a symbol of the traditional heritage of the University of Illinois to students, alumnæ, and guests. Over the years, Lorado Taft's sculpture has observed the constant growth and development of an institution founded by a handful of people and now serving many thousands.
UNIVERSITY
Dear Students,

The ILLIO is a graphic presentation of life at the University of Illinois. The 1958 staff have caught the spirit and personality of a great institution and are to be congratulated for their achievement.

The ILLIO should be something more than an album of pleasant personal recollections. The memories of friendships, of happy events, of exciting experiences are important outcomes of college life; but they are not very meaningful unless they serve to identify one with the ongoing work of the University itself.

We hope that this year book will be a permanent reminder to all who see it of the basic importance of the University to them and to others. That the University occupies a central place in the welfare of the State and that its strength and future growth are vital to all the people is a thesis which requires continuing emphasis.

The University is a partnership of many individuals and many groups. We hope that you will always be proud to be in that company and that your membership will be an inspiration to you all your life.

Sincerely,

The great responsibility of providing for the welfare of each student at the University of Illinois lies with the deans. Their job is difficult; often they receive bitter attacks and little praise for their efforts.

All petitions for scheduled events must be carefully approved by Dean Fred H. Turner, who heads the Committee on Student Affairs. Often approval must be made in the face of conflicting recommendations. Petitions for all social events must go through the Dean of Women’s Office. The screening process is not an easy job for this large campus.

“Ex-officio” duties are also part of the hectic job. Someone always gets picked to serve on a contest judging committee. The bid for an all-campus dance always lists the deans as guests. Many times they must take part in a debate in a meeting of the housing group they advise.

The deans work hard in performing the necessary functions of their office and maintaining good relations on all levels.

The University of Illinois Foundation, which has 168 members, is a non-profit corporation whose function is to encourage gifts for the purpose of assisting the general educational and research program of the University.

Through its Illini Achievement Fund, organized in 1948, and the income from its endowment funds, the Foundation has supported many projects of major importance to the University.

One of the Foundation's opportunities for service to the University and the state is to provide thousands of dollars in grants which encourage research and aid staff members who have special training and talent in certain fields.

Each year the Foundation provides scholarships for students who need financial help to further their education. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of high academic attainment and definite financial need.

Another major division of the Foundation's work is library enrichment. Many important collections have come to the University Library through this program.

Special projects, such as memorial funds, are carried out by the Foundation to meet specific needs of the University. The projects augment facilities provided by state funds and expand the services of the University to its students and the citizens of Illinois.
THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Since 1873 the Alumni Association has worked to build a greater University of Illinois and to serve the alumni and students. More than 19,000 Illini are dues-paying members of the Association, making it one of the largest alumni organizations in the nation.

Through an extensive records system, the Association keeps in touch with the vast Illini family throughout the world. Address and biographical information on these alumni is readily available to all Illini.

Across the nation and overseas the Alumni Association, through a network of Illini Clubs, brings alumni together for fellowship and for cooperation on projects of assistance to the University.

Publishing the Illinois Alumni News is another service of the Association. Eight times a year its members receive this publication with its excellent coverage of University life and events.

The Student Alumni Board, consisting of one member from each class and a representative from the I.U.S.A., is an important liaison unit between the student body and the alumni of Illinois. Through its varied activities it symbolizes the vital interest of alumni in student affairs and general well-being.
The College of Agriculture trains men and women for a variety of careers in agriculture and home economics.

The instruction offered by the College on the Urbana campus makes up only one of three major divisions in the College. It also conducts the Agricultural Experiment Station for research in agriculture and home economics and the Extension Service which carries the results of this research to the people in the State.

By finding and teaching better ways to produce, process, and sell food and clothing materials, the College helps to insure a higher standard of living for the farmer and city people alike.

The College of Agriculture carries on research to bring about improved qualities of food products.

The ability to judge animals is tested through competition among teams such as the one pictured below.
The problems of national income are discussed in an economics class.

COLLEGE OF COMMERCE AND BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The College of Commerce and Business Administration is organized under the teaching departments of Accountancy, Business Education, Business Law, Economics, Finance, Management, and Marketing.

The major aim of the College is to offer a variety of courses in a broad curriculum which should equip students to meet the problems of everyday living as well as for careers in business, economics, and the administrative branches of government. This is accomplished through training in modern business practices and in the fundamentals of economics.

A well-rounded program includes basic and general training with opportunities for specializing in various fields.

The College also conducts three bureaus—the Bureau of Commerce Placement, the Bureau of Business Management, and the Bureau of Economic and Business Research.
Students in the College of Education are potential leaders in the fields of teaching, special educational services, and school administration. In the teaching field, undergraduate curricula are offered for both high school and elementary teachers and for teachers of the mentally handicapped and deaf or hard-of-hearing. The student gains practical experience from the practice teaching system established by the College.

Curricula draw on the broad resources of the University for general education. Graduate courses are offered for the development of appropriate fields of specialization.

Research is also a major facet in the work of the College of Education. The University High School provides facilities for the development and testing of new programs and teaching materials, while the Bureau of Research and the Office of Field Service conduct programs of aid for public school systems in both fundamental and applied problems.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

The College of Engineering, through its eleven departments, offers its students a thorough professional education for service to the state and nation. Classroom and laboratory instruction is supplemented by a large and active research program through which staff members can fulfill balanced roles.

For students, the College emphasizes personal contact with instructors and a wide range of student activities. These include eleven honor societies, sixteen student professional groups, and the Engineering Council to coordinate and represent the student-body opinion. These are supplemented by The Illinois Technograph student magazine, Engineering Open House which each year in mid-March draws some 15,000 visitors from the twin cities and the state at large, and, in the social realm, St. Pat’s Ball, an engineering-sponsored all-University dance on Open House week-end.

This combination of sound teaching in a research-balanced atmosphere and contact with one’s fellows amid the diverse resources of a full university presents an unusual opportunity for those who seek both breadth and depth in their education.
The College of Fine and Applied Arts offers a wide variety of opportunities by teaching aesthetic knowledge and appreciation as well as preparing students for professional careers.

There are more architecture students at Illinois than in any other school in the United States. The other teaching departments in the College are Art, City Planning and Landscape Architecture, and Music. In addition, the Small Homes Council and the Bureau of Community Planning carry on research and extension work. The University Bands are a separate division of the College.

To promote interest in music, the College presents concerts by the various orchestras, choral and chamber music groups, recitals, public lectures, performances by the Opera Workshop, and year-round exhibitions in several campus buildings. The School of Music sponsors radio broadcasts over Station WILL. Distinguished visitors in the various teaching fields are frequently brought here. The College is also instrumental in the planning of the biennial Festival of Contemporary Arts.

GRADUATE COLLEGE

Graduate studies at the University of Illinois began in 1892 when the Board of Trustees authorized four fellowships for postgraduate work to "... stimulate in all departments the idea and habit of research..." In the academic year 1907-08, the Graduate School (now College) was officially established as an educational unit of the University. From a small beginning, the graduate student body has grown to 3,600, the third largest college on the campus.

Graduate programs stressing independent work and individual research have been established in over sixty-five departments and divisions of the University. The four original fellowships authorized by the Board of Trustees have been increased to provide a substantial number of awards for students of unusual promise. Other students of exceptional ability gain valuable teaching and research experience through the many part-time assistantships which are available. The Graduate College has recently conferred about 1,462 Master's degrees per year and 281 doctorates during the last calendar year.

A new name and broader activities are the results of reorganization of the former School of Journalism and Communications, approved by the University Board of Trustees in June, 1957, and effective last September.

The new College takes over the Institute of Communications Research, which was formerly under the Graduate College, and continues to administer the Division of University Broadcasting, formerly called the Office of Broadcasting.

The three instructional divisions of the College offer students professional training in journalism, advertising and broadcasting. Housed in Gregory Hall, the College makes available an outstanding library, special classroom and laboratory equipment, AM and FM radio stations and a VHF educational television station.

Courses in journalism have been offered by the University of Illinois since 1902. The School of Journalism was established 30 years ago, and the name changed in 1950 after the addition of the radio curriculum, since expanded to include television.

COLLEGE OF LAW

Since its founding in 1897, the College of Law has been in the forefront in the movement for improvement of standards of legal education and admission to the bar in the United States.

Training men and women for the practice of law is the primary purpose of the College. But its program is also valuable for those who become judges, legislators, and teachers of law, for administrators in government, and for executives in private business. It seeks to guide students in appreciating the functions of law in the social order and in aiding the law to keep pace with changing conditions. Its responsibility embraces much more than the mere learning of legal rules and formulas; it provides part of the educational foundation for men and women who will become leaders in community service and directors of public thought.

The fall of 1955 marked the moving of the staff and facilities of the College to its new, modern building on south campus.

Dean Russell N. Sullivan
The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences serves several major purposes. It provides for the traditional liberal education and also offers programs leading to professional degrees.

Work in the College is divided into the following general areas: biological sciences, humanities, social sciences, and physical sciences. The general curriculum requires a nucleus of courses in these groups and a certain amount of concentration in the subjects chosen as majors and minors. It leads to the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree depending upon the field of concentration and emphasis of study.

The College also functions as a service unit for other colleges by offering curricula in pre-professional training for nursing, medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, law, and journalism. This training includes work in English, foreign languages, sciences, and social sciences, which constitute established all-University requirements.

LIBRARY SCHOOL

The University of Illinois Library School, established sixty-five years ago, is the third oldest professional school on the Urbana campus. It has alumni in every state of the union and in at least twenty foreign countries.

Students are prepared in the Library School for careers in all types of libraries: university, college, school, public, and special. Among its more than four thousand living graduates are numerous leaders of the library profession, at home and abroad.

Pre-professional library science courses are offered at the undergraduate level in the Education and Liberal Arts Colleges. The professional program is in the Graduate College, leading to Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

The home of the Library School is in the University Library, the third largest of American university libraries. The Library contains over three million volumes, among which are distinguished collections in many fields, supporting the work of all University departments.
The College of Physical Education is composed of four Departments: Physical Education for Men, Physical Education for Women, Recreation, and Health and Safety Education. Each of these Departments conducts professional training programs in undergraduate and graduate work for both men and women.

The College also conducts a service program in physical education for undergraduate students who, by University regulations, must earn four semester hours of credit in the subject. This program is pointed at developing competency in the fields of sport, dance, and exercise; improving physical fitness; engendering appreciations of physical activity; and, for some, correcting or ameliorating physical defects or deficiencies.

Established as a School at the University in 1933, and changed to a College in 1957, it is outstanding in conducting a program of fundamental research in motor, organic, and physical fitness, and formulating fitness tests for youth and adults.

COLLEGE OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION
Counsel to veterans is often given through correspondence.

DIVISION OF SPECIAL SERVICES FOR WAR VETERANS

The Division of Special Services for War Veterans has served Illini veterans since the end of World War II. General counseling and orientation to the University is available to all veterans as well as to the veterans enrolled in the Division.

The Division assists its students in preparing individual curricula to meet specific educational objectives based on need, aptitude and interest, eliminating some of the traditional emphasis on required curricula. At the same time, the Division's regulations provide for a well-rounded education in the fields of science, humanities, social sciences, and communications. Successful completion of this program leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science from the Division of Special Services for War Veterans.

Established in 1946, the Chicago Undergraduate Division of the University of Illinois is now in its twelfth year of service. Students on the Chicago campus have the same status as those on the Urbana campus; they are offered the same courses, credit for which may be transferred downstate for continuation of study in their chosen fields.

The Chicago Undergraduate Division offers: (1) the complete pre-professional studies necessary for admission to the professional colleges and schools of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, law, journalism, library science, and nursing; (2) the complete freshman and sophomore studies in liberal arts and sciences (including chemical engineering), commerce and business administration, engineering, architecture, physical education, elementary and secondary education.

By means of its educational, social and cultural program, the Chicago Undergraduate Division provides its students with the same high degree of service and excellence of educational opportunity which are a tradition of the University of Illinois.

DIVISION OF UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

The Division of University Extension provides the University of Illinois with a statewide campus through its services to citizens who cannot study in residence.

By means of short courses, conferences, extramural classes, and correspondence courses, last year it extended the resources of the University to nearly 22,000 adult students throughout the state and in many other parts of the world.

The Division administers the world’s largest lending library of educational films; operates Allerton House, famed University conference center near Monticello; arranges cultural and educational tours by student and faculty music groups to communities throughout Illinois, and operates a series of two-week Summer Youth Music camps for gifted grade and high school musicians. Summer extension programs in art attract hundreds. Through its Police Training Institute and its expanding programs in firemanship and driver education training, the Division is bringing higher standards of safety to all residents of Illinois.

Dean Robert B. Browne, who has headed the Division since its establishment in 1933, is assisted by a small administrative staff, augmented by members from the faculties of various schools and colleges of the University.

Dean Browne is also Dean of the Summer Session.
The broad scope and diverse responsibilities of Veterinary Medicine today require training of students toward both the basic and applied sciences. The problems involved in preventing and alleviating diseases that attack both wild and domestic animals as well as man are many and continuous. The challenge to intellectual and scientific curiosity and the opportunities for service in the many areas of veterinary medicine are virtually unlimited.

Graduate study, extension education, and veterinary medical research are also integral to the College's program. Instruction utilizes animal patients and specimens from the resident and ambulatory clinics, and the research and diagnostic service centers.

The Veterinary Medicine Building was completed in 1952 and a new large animal clinic was opened in 1955.

ILLI-NOISE
ILLI-NOISE: sounds across our campus; sounds of living and learning—voices, laughter, footsteps, music . . . .
REGISTRATION:
sounds to usher in the new term—sighs of the confused, groans of the frustrated, chuckles of the satisfied. . . . The armory is masqueraded with direction signs, snow fences, checking stations, instruction desks, cameras, cashiers and an endless number of students. First come the upper classmen, achieving their plateau of priority through past struggles with IBM cards, closed class lists and conflicting schedules. Sophomores and freshmen follow on their heels. During these brief hours spent in the armory, all the technicalities of being a U. of I. student are taken care of: such things as identification cards, insurance, and tuition fees. Thoughts of registration are forgotten, as students literally dance into the new semester at the Registration Dance which climaxes the week.

The activities offered on the campus are as varied as the classes offered. The serious-minded student, interested in campus politics, may choose from Student Senate, Illini Union committees, and the “Y” organizations. For someone in search of expression through the arts, there are opportunities in Orchesis, University Theatre, and the glee clubs.
HOME COMING:

sounds of a high-spirited, happy crowd of alums and students—the approving whistles for the smiling campus queen and her court, the wild cheers for the orange and blue at the Saturday game, the hearty applause for the talented entertainers at Stunt Show . . . Homecoming weekend is the climax of weeks of preparation, anticipation, and suspense. Excitement rises as the pep rally nears, bringing with it the coronation of "Miss Illinois" and her court. With grotesque monsters and menacing Indians to assure the returning alums of a "sure win" in the big game of the week, greek and independent houses compete for coveted trophies in the annual house decoration contest. The casual informality of after-the-game open houses is the setting for memories re-lived and tales of days gone by.

AUTUMN:

sounds of a busy, active campus—the frolicking laughter of a group raking leaves, the shouts and confusion of the annual turkey run, the means that accompany the first round of hourlys. They began as the momentary beauty of Indian Summer lures students from libraries and labs for a final round of picnics, street dances, and pajama races.

DAD’S DAY:
sounds of a special weekend—the cries of welcome when he arrives, the excited chatter of everything back home, the delirious uproar of the football afternoon, the enthusiastic applause of the concert at Smith ... these combine to make Dad’s Day weekend a very special weekend on the student’s calendar. Just never knew what a wonderful pal and buddy Dad could be.

STUDY AND LEARN:

sounds with a purpose and potential—the heated but friendly discussion over the last problem on the exam, the steady scratch of the pen at three in the morning, the frantic plea of the coed to postpone the assignment just two days . . . Each year thousands of people flock to the U. of I. to teach, to study, and to work—to the classrooms, and lecture halls, to the libraries, and back to the house, for that final step—to absorb and comprehend those notes. Many and varied are the memories which classes recall—that eight o'clock softball class, that three hour lab Saturday morning, and that dry lecture late in the afternoon. Yes, labor and learn, for all too soon semester exams roll around, and socializing bows out to seminars and dates turn into study sessions. Coffee and "No-Doz" go hand in hand with those final cram sessions, when the only chatter heard is the hurried clatter of a typewriter down the hall as it taps out that last lab report.

TGIF:

sounds of a campus uninhibited, relaxed, at ease—the voluminous roar of the numerous participants, the happy chuckle of the wealthy proprietor, the unusual message of the extemporaneous speaker . . . For college life is not entirely academic. Coffee breaks, coke dates, and house exchanges make for variety throughout the week, but come Friday—and it's TGIFing time again. The trials and tribulations of books, classes, and profs are foreign to the exuberant attitude of the student body. Pizza and beer are in order as an easy tranquilizer for any lingering headaches. Troubles and cares dissolve in a cool refreshing glass, a lusty round of songs, a throaty laugh of the girl at the next table, as students seek distraction and relaxation. Whether it's bowling with the gang at the Illini Union, rushing for the 4:45 and a weekend at home, or a "short one" with the boys in Kam's basement—relax and Thank God, It's Friday!
sounds of a festive campus bustling with activity — the merrymaking and gaiety of Yuletide activities and parties, the steady undertone of assignments, and those inevitable finals . . . as the thermometer gradually sinks downward, and snowy, rainy weather becomes the daily forecast, as the gridiron garb is packed away and students realize there are only thirty-five more days before finals—these are the annual events that usher in winter on the U of I campus. Seldom does the student’s life gain such momentum as through these busy weeks prior to the holidays. Academically the list includes volumes of reading, term papers, hour exams, quizzes, themes, and headaches. On the lighter side, the season is a whirlwind of concerts, dances, parties, and basketball games. With Christmas in the background, the campus is trimmed in festive lights and greenery, and groups of campus carolers are not uncommon at the neighboring hospitals and homes. It’s a busy, happy life with everyone anticipating the long awaited vacation; yet all is toned down by the nearing finals of January.

DATING:

sounds of evening on the campus—the music of the dance band, the jazz session, the record player turned low, the laughter and gaiety of the casual date, the silence of the front hall at twelve fifty-five. . . . To the “happy medium” collegiate, a college education means studies and social life. And dates on the campus come in assorted shapes and sizes. Costume parties, picnics, movies, and formal dances are just a few. The Panhel and Military Balls are highlights of the year’s social calendar. But whatever the occasion, there is always that all-important telephone call and the planning of what to wear. As the time approaches, the hectic scramble begins: the men try to get that extra smooth shave while the girls attempt to beat down that loose strand of hair. The effort is worth it, for those fleeting hours of gaiety and laughter are pleasant interludes to the ever-constant grind of studies.

A short ride, a show, and coffee are a standard date.

sounds that rise above the din of the campus life, the reverent hush of the student chapel, the quiet (and sometimes heated) discussion that searches for answers to real problems, the choir of voices lifted in songs of praise and thanksgiving.

The various churches and religious groups on campus offer all students inspiration as well as fellowship. One's sense of duty toward his fellow man is sharpened through worship, work and play with others. The Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., organizations based on the Christian way of life, sponsor activities ranging from the Annual Doll Show to the International Supper. The yearly Hillel Seder highlights the Passover Festival Celebration. Although typically celebrated at home, there is a large communal celebration at Hillel so that those away from home may participate in this meal.

In the silence of a chapel, in the peacefulness of the organ prelude, or in the beauty of the campus in any season, one receives an awareness of an Almighty Power and an assurance of an Eternal Partner.

SPRING:

sounds of a campus moving to the out-of-doors—the strains of the concert band across the quadrangle on a quiet Wednesday evening, the laughter of the strolling couple discovering again the beauties of the campus in April, fanciful melodies of the serenade floating on the night air ... spring time on campus is delightful romance. Sudden cloudbursts, steady drizzles, and just plain rain are familiar bywords of spring on campus. But there's magic under those thick grey clouds, and soon bright green buds adorn the trees, which only a short while ago were barren and naked in the winter sky. As nature awakens a drowsing campus, so students leave their hibernation in stuffy classrooms for fresh air and sunshine. Instructors yield to the temptation and lead their classes out-of-doors. Evidence of spring fever can be found under almost every tree, where a student, attempting to study in the cool retreat of the shade, lets a book slide from his fingers as his head nods in a dreamy doze.

ENGINEERING OPEN HOUSE:

sounds that suggest the learning of science and technology . . . annually the engineers on campus open their doors to the public with amazing and interesting developments and unusual phenomenon in their particular fields. The engineers enjoy a day free from classes, and the general public is treated to an interesting exhibition in a wide variety of fields.

MOTHER'S DAY:

sounds of a special weekend honoring great ladies—the excited welcome of a happy reunion, the deserving applause for those recognized at honors day, the murmured approval of the lovely queen as she passes by . . . it's a busy weekend for Mother and her coed, often beginning with a Friday evening at the annual Shi-Ai Sing, or an entertaining visit to University Theater for its special performance. The calendar is filled with numerous activities and programs for the honored guests. Saturday morning finds Mother meeting her associates at a coffee hour, then assembling on the quadrangle for the Mother's Day Queen Procession and Coronation. Next on the ladies' agenda is an evening of entertainment which again includes a schedule filled with outstanding events — the Watcheka Sing, the Terrapin Show, and the Spring Musical. Seldom does the campus see such an array of talent, and when could it be more appropriate than the weekend the University of Illinois honors its Moms.

The long hard grind of finals

A quiet place

The water riot breaks the monotony. Getting ahead on the summer sun

sounds that bring another semester to a close, the low, mournful moan emitted upon first glance of the final, the silence of the sundeck where ambitious, bathing suit clad coeds claim to be cramming, the first splash of water that later sends the campus into complete and delightful chaos . . . exam week denotes sleepless nights, gallons of consumed coffee per day, nerves strained to the breaking point, the longest three hour sessions of a lifetime, and finally that day when it's all over and the student has only to await the results.

But for those whose aspirations have led them upward to the final goal, the finish of feverish week of finals brings other "Illi-noise" . . . the inspiring message of the commencement speaker, the trail of footsteps across the platform, and finally the sincere congratulations of a proud and happy family.

Thus, these brief hours in the stadium climax, for many, the climb for the heights of education. But aside, from the knowledge attained, each graduate has gained depth and breadth to his character from his experiences on the University campus.

The Student Senate is the representative undergraduate governing body for the University. The membership includes twenty-eight district senators, two being elected from each of the fourteen districts by student vote, and fifteen ex-officio senators, selected by student organizations. This year the Student Senate provided for an additional ex-officio position by including in its membership a representative from the Association of International Students.

Student Senate's function is to represent the student body to the administration and faculty, to appoint the student members of various University committees, and to exercise general policy-making authority over campus activities in conjunction with the Committee on Student Affairs.

The bulk of Student Senate's work is carried out through an extensive committee structure. These committees formulate policy on many problems which face students.
Under a three-commission system, committees study and propose action in such fields as traffic and safety, human relations, student discipline, student economic welfare, international student affairs, class and curriculum, National Student Association projects, and changes in Student Senate by-laws and the Code on Student Affairs.

The district councils, co-ordinated by the Senate's vice president, are composed of representatives from organized houses within each of the fourteen districts. They establish a close tie between the Senate and the individual students.

One of the many educational projects Student Senate undertook this year was a Human Relations Conference held in October. Foreign and American students and faculty members participated in a discussion regarding the worldwide significance of discrimination in the United States.
The Freshman Council, chosen to "promote the general welfare of the freshman class and to assist the Student Senate in its duties," was selected by interviewing at the beginning of the first semester.

Realizing the problems that freshmen encounter when entering the University, the Council’s activities this year centered mainly around freshman orientation. Two committees were organized, one which planned state-wide tours for pre-freshman orientation, and one which handled the problems of the freshman foreign student.
COMMITTEE ON STUDENT AFFAIRS

The Committee on Student Affairs is a committee of the Urbana-Champaign Senate, a body comprised of all the full professors on the Champaign-Urbana campus. The committee is composed of eight student members chosen by Student Senate, eight faculty members, and a faculty chairman. The faculty members are elected by the Urbana-Champaign Senate.

The Committee on Student Affairs serves as an advisory group in administration and policymaking to the Dean of Students and the Urbana-Champaign Senate. CSA also works in the field of extra-curricular activities as one of the principle contact points between representatives of the student body, the faculty, and the administration.

The purpose of CSA is to provide valuable services to the student body such as assisting in setting up plans of self-government, supervising social events and activities, encouraging a sense of personal responsibility, preventing extra-curricular activities from imposing on scholastic progress, and helping to organize and maintain living conditions which are safe, healthful, and moral for college students.

The Committee on Student Affairs, in conjunction with the Student Senate, formulates policy and regulations which are based on the "Code on Student Affairs." This code is a set of standards and regulations which guide and direct the individual and organizational activities of the students.

The Coordination Committee, a sub-committee of the Committee on Student Affairs, is responsible for supervising and administering regulations for dances, concerts, and other general University events. All petitions and specific details of the events must be submitted to the Committee for its approval before any further contracts or arrangements for the events can be made. Each spring the Committee prepares a calendar of events for the coming year, which is submitted to the Committee of Student Affairs.

The Coordination Committee is composed of two faculty members, the Dean of Student Activities, and eight students representing various activities on campus. The Committee, now in its tenth year, has been instrumental in preventing program conflict and undue competition among student organizations.
The Board of Fraternity Affairs, composed of three faculty fraternity men, three local fraternity alumni, the Interfraternity Council Executive Committee and the Dean of Fraternity Men, advises the IF Council. Besides acting as a board of appeals for the judicial committee decisions, the Board formulates the general policy of the Interfraternity Council. The fundamental aim of the Board is to help fraternities to take their proper place in the University.
Lowry Bayley, president

The Interfraternity Council is the governing and supervising body of all social fraternities at the University. This group has the notable distinction of being the oldest and largest organization of its kind in the United States, and in 1957 it was selected as the most outstanding council in the National Interfraternity Council.

The Council is the legislative body of the fifty-seven fraternities on campus. Its function is to protect and promote the individual houses. Current problems such as scholarship, activities, rushing, house finance, pledge training, house management, and public relations are discussed at regular meetings.

IF Council is composed of the president and a junior representative from each fraternity on campus. These representatives serve as legislators and also on such committees as pledge training, scholarship, Greek Week, intramurals, rushing, and public relations.
During the year the Interfraternity Council sponsors such events as Greek Week, IF Pajama Races, and Christmas parties for underprivileged children. IF also sends speakers to high schools throughout the state and promotes various community projects.

IF and Panhellenic send two representatives to the Inter-Club Council, composed of the local benevolent organizations to arrange for civic projects to be carried out by the Greek system. Panhellenic and IF also join in publishing a monthly newspaper, The Illigreek.
Besides serving as a training ground for Senior Interfraternity activities, Junior Interfraternity Council has three main objectives: the stimulation of pledge class interest in the affairs of the University, the maintenance of pledge class grades on a satisfactory level, and the investigation and improvement of rushing and of Greek-Independent relations.

The Council consists of one delegate from every fraternity pledge class. Its affairs are conducted by committees. The executive committee formulates policy, and the activities committee deals with social and scholastic problems of fraternity pledges.

The Council planned the annual Junior Interfraternity dance, "Pin and Paddle Ball," and sponsored a queen contest in January and the Easter Egg Hunt in the spring. On Homecoming weekend pledge classes maintained barriers on one-way streets to insure the smooth flow of traffic.
IF BALL

A small park scene highlighted the decorations for the 1957 Interfraternity Ball held on March 30. Hanging from the ceiling were the insignias of the fraternities on campus. The theme was "It Happens Every Spring" and couples danced to music by Woody Herman and his orchestra.

Margo Kriege was crowned IF Queen with the purple velvet crown bearing pins of all the fraternities. Delta Chi received the traveling trophy for sponsoring the queen.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Panhellenic is the governing and policy-making body for the twenty-eight sororities and the Panhellenic housing for sorority transfers on campus. Good scholarship, high social standards, and participation in worthwhile activities are the goals of Panhellenic.

The Executive Committee serves as the co-ordinator for the various departments in Panhellenic. It makes policy recommendations to the presidents of the houses in Presidents Council, the legislative body of Panhellenic. Executive Committee is composed of the four officers, the senior chairman and the pledge advisers of the five departments, the Shi-Ai president, the public relations chairman, and the senate representative. The five divisions of Panhellenic are pledge, social, scholarship, activity, and rushing.
Junior Panhellenic is composed of all the sorority pledges on campus. There are four departments of Junior Panhellenic: the pledge presidents, pledge activity chairmen, the pledge social chairmen, and the pledge scholarship chairmen. Each department carries on separate activities, and all ideas and projects are coordinated through the Junior Panhellenic Executive Committee.

Junior Panhellenic is organized to help the pledges become aware of their responsibilities as campus citizens and as members of Panhellenic.

New pledges first come into contact with Junior Panhellenic at the All-Pledge Welcome in the fall. Projects sponsored throughout the year are events such as the Pledge Banquet, the House Mother Tea, and the Easter Egg Hunt.

Aside from projects, each junior department devotes time to strengthening the quality of leadership among its own members. Many discussion groups provide for an exchange of ideas and assistance in solving common problems.
“Southern Cotillion” was the name of the 1957 Panhellenic Ball held on November 9. White pillars, a pond and a rustic bridge, and a Confederate flag under a starry sky lent a Southern touch to the evening. Music was provided by Charlie Spivak’s band.

Dressed in a Confederate uniform, Lowry Bayley as master of ceremonies introduced the 1957 Ideal Girls, representing each of the twenty-eight sororities on campus. Selection of the Ideal Girls is based on personality, scholarship, house and campus activities, appearance, and contribution to the sorority.

Following the presentation, Noel Biery sang his composition, “My Ideal Girl,” and the band played for the “Waltz of the Ideal Girls.”

LITTLE INTERNATIONAL HORSE SHOW

The thirty-second annual Little International Horse Show was held on Dads Day, November 2. This annual event is sponsored by the Hoof and Horn Club, an agricultural student society. Seventy entries competed in seven classes in the Stock Pavilion.

This year Karen Roberts was chosen as queen of the 1957 Horse Show.

SNO-BALL

Sno-Ball, an annual winter event, is co-sponsored by Women's Group System and Men's Independent Association. This year a sell-out crowd danced among snowflakes and snowballs to the music of Dick Cisne's band.

Kay Reese was selected to reign as the queen of the Sno-Ball. She will represent the University of Illinois in the sweetheart contest at the National Independent Students Convention in Oklahoma in the spring of 1958.
WOMEN'S GROUP SYSTEM

Women's Group System is the organization of all the independent, undergraduate women on campus. By developing leadership, encouraging fellowship, and promoting high scholarship and interest in campus activities, W.G.S. attempts to further a fuller and richer life for its members.

The Executive Council is composed of the officers of W.G.S., the major chairmen, and the faculty adviser, Dean Harrison. Its functions are to advise the social, activity, scholarship, and freshman programs, to formulate general policies of W.G.S., and to make recommendations to Second Council.

Among the various events sponsored by W.G.S. are the scholarship and activity awards teas, coffee hours, and mixer dances. Every year W.G.S. joins M.I.A. in planning the Dads Day Revue and the annual Sno-Ball and in publishing their own newspaper, The Indee News.
Composed of the presidents and representatives from all W.G.S. houses, Second Council discusses the group's activities and receives announcements of campus affairs. The Council votes on campus issues, or representatives take questions back to their respective houses for consideration before voting the following week.

Freshman Board is an organization of freshman women from all the independent houses. Its purpose is to voice the problems of freshman women and to encourage them to become active in W.G.S. programs.
MEN'S INDEPENDENT ASSOCIATION

The Men's Independent Association represents the organized independent men's houses on campus. Active in promoting scholarship, athletics, and social events, MIA attempts to give the independent male student a solid background in all aspects of campus life.

The Association gives the independent student the opportunity to have a voice in campus issues affecting him. The Monday Council, composed of representatives from each of the member houses, discusses and evaluates the campus problems brought before it and formulates MIA's official position.

Acting in an advisory capacity to the Monday Council is the President's Cabinet which consists of the Association's officers, committee chairmen, and special representatives to other campus organizations.
Among the major activities sponsored by MIA during the school year are the annual Dads Day Revue, the Sno-Ball dance, and the scholarship awards banquet. In addition, coffee hours and mixers are sponsored by MIA in conjunction with other organizations.

As a result of its efforts through the years on behalf of independent students at the University of Illinois, MIA has achieved outstanding recognition among other members of the National Independent Students Association as one of the finest independent student groups in the nation.
Over fifteen years ago, in 1941, the Illini Union Building was opened to the students, alumni, faculty, and visitors of the University of Illinois, with the mammoth purpose of serving everyone. Since that time, the Union has been used by hundreds of thousands of people, all of them adding impetus to the reason for its existence.

The Illini Union Administration is composed of eleven people including the director, the assistant director, the social director, and three assistants to the director. The proper functioning and the coordination of the operations of the Union is the responsibility of the administration.

Through the efforts of these people, the Illini Union has gained wide renown as a service center for the University. The Union Building is a place where students can come to rest, relax, study, or participate in the social, recreational, educational, and cultural services which it offers to all University students.
The Social Director, administrative assistant, and three program advisers help students develop the cultural, recreational, educational, and social interests of the student body and the University. This purpose is accomplished by programs and services which aid in the development of leadership and provide opportunities for students to develop skills in human relations.

The staff is concerned with educational experience outside the classroom. Correlating the academic programs with the social programs and services, they are concerned with each individual student becoming a vital person with a well-rounded personality. The social program teaches students “the fine art of living” and considers social living and recreation a part of college experience.

By helping the student to learn to make the best use of leisure time resources in a way that will contribute most to the individual personality, the Union Social Programs Department realizes another purpose.
The Illini Union is the community center of the University of Illinois, serving the entire University family of students, faculty and staff, alumni, and guests. Besides having many services and facilities, the Union is an organization with a well-considered and well-developed program of activity designed to foster and encourage the sound cultural and recreational life of the students.

The Illini Union has often been referred to as the campus "living room" for students. It provides a central meeting place for both individuals and groups. Throughout the day the Main Lounge is dotted with students reading and relaxing. Many coffee hours and receptions are held in the building.

On such special occasions as Homecoming the Union is the headquarters for the festivities, with informal gatherings of alumni in the morning and dances in the Ballroom in the evening.
Of the more than 19,000 students on the Illinois campus, many rely almost exclusively on the Union cafeteria for food service. Students also enjoy the facilities in the bowling alleys, the billiard room, and the browsing room. The comfortable atmosphere of the Colonial Room provides an ideal spot for dinner with parents or dates.

In Room 322 the Illini Union offers daily evidence of student activity to provide the University with nearly thirty recreational and service programs. This activity program, the Illini Union Student Activities, attempts to be an integral and contributing part of the students' educational experience.

More than 800 students participate in arranging and executing the big campus-wide weekend events such as Homecoming, Stunt Show, Mothers Day, and Spring Musical, and weekly programs including Social Forums, Union Movies, Dances, and Music Hours.
Coordinating the many events taking place on Dads Day weekend is the job of the Dads Day committee. The members handle the King-for-a-Day Contest, sell “Illini Dad” derbies, and compile Dads Day programs.

Planning conferences at Allerton and in the Union building for Illini Union personnel are part of the responsibilities of the personnel committee. This committee also organizes the annual Key Banquet, held in the spring to honor outstanding members of the Union.

The Fine Arts committee organizes all art shows, contests, and displays in the Union. This year the committee held a slide contest, photography contest, and an undergraduate competition in oil painting.

Each year the Spring Event committee sponsors a spring event for the campus. This year “Sheequon” was the 1958 campus-wide spring event.
DEPARTMENT B

Homecoming
Coffee Hours

For forty-seven years the University of Illinois has celebrated Homecoming. The planning of events such as the queen contest, house decorations contest, and nation-wide publicity is done by the Homecoming committee.

Coffee and a friendly smile are the two ingredients for the successful Illini Union Coffee Hours. Providing a pleasant atmosphere for students and faculty to get acquainted, the committee serves free coffee every Thursday afternoon in the Union.

A night club atmosphere may be found each weekend at Club Sophisticate in the Commons room in the Union. The purpose of Club Sophisticate is to provide inexpensive dances for University students.

To further friendship and understanding between American and foreign students, the Union has an International Programs committee. Through various events this committee brings students together in friendly atmospheres.

The oldest of the Illini Union Student Activities is the Music Hours committee. This group plans, publicizes, and arranges programs of classical and contemporary music each day in the Union.

For one weekend in May, the Mothers Day committee plans special events to honor and entertain the mothers. It sponsors a queen contest and coronation, Illini Mom Contest, coffee hour, honorary procession, and numerous displays and programs.

Every Thursday evening the Jazz-U-Like-It committee supervises jazz programs in the Commons of the Union. Members contact bands and special performers and arrange for publicity. Each year this committee also puts on one special program of jazz.

Stunt Show, a highlight of Homecoming weekend, is organized by the Stunt Show committee. This committee handles publicity, physical arrangements, judges, and awards presentation.
Social Forums are well known on campus through their informal, after-dinner discussions of social customs and manners. Besides being given for organized houses, Social Forums may be given for special groups such as international students.

International Fair is an annual event sponsored by the Illini Union. Many shops and exhibits are set up in the Union which explain customs, food, and dress from foreign countries. Students from different countries display their talents.

One of the main attractions of Mothers Day weekend is Spring Musical. This show is produced mainly by University students and the cast is entirely composed of students.

Public Relations is one of the basic committees of the Union. Informative material on all methods of publicity is released to each committee to aid in publicizing programs most effectively. A workshop on publicity is held each year.
"Pop Purdue," "Retire Ohio," and "Ground the Gophers" are typical themes of the Friday night pep rallies before each home football game. The Pep Rallies committee makes all the arrangements for the band, cheerleaders, and speakers.

Homecoming dances, fall and spring registration dances, and football dances are sponsored by the Union Dance committee. The committee also holds a record dance in the Union Commons four times a week.

High School Circus provides entertainment for visiting high school students attending the statewide "Elite Eight" basketball tournament in March. Shows, food booths, and games of skill provide opportunities for fun between games.

To acquaint the incoming University student with the Union activities, the Illini Relations committee organizes open houses, displays, and panel discussions. It also sponsors the 100 Banquet, honoring seniors in activities and athletics.
The University of Illinois Block I, composed of 2200 students, is the largest card section in the country. Block I committee members are kept busy during football season designing the stunts and putting them into operation.

The Union Movies committee arranges for the Friday and Saturday night showing of American films and for the Sunday showing of foreign films. This program attempts to provide good entertainment at a low cost to students.

Forums and Town Meetings include such programs as "Speaking of Books," "Readers Hour," and "Forums." This committee is responsible for Dr. Paul Landis' annual presentation of Dicken's Christmas Carol.

The Campus Relations committee handles Activity Night, the night in which all campus activities are presented to the students. The committee also uncovers and files all talent on campus for use by University groups and organizations.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE

As the constitution of the University Theatre states, the purpose of this organization is to "afford educational and recreational experience for interested students," and to provide "practical training and experience in the theatre for students registered in the Department of Speech" and related fields.

The University Theatre is governed by a faculty-student Board of Control. The duty of this board is to establish all major policies and procedures of the organization.

Any regularly enrolled student is eligible to try out for roles in University Theatre plays. The various productions of the Theatre allow numerous opportunities for experience under professional direction. In addition to several groups of one-act plays presented at Workshop, the Theatre produced five major plays this year. The Theatre also provides a major activity for hundreds of students interested in production work.
The direction and supervision of the work of University Theatre is conducted by a faculty staff. The executive director, Mr. Joseph Scott, supervises and coordinates the work of the faculty staff and the student staff.

Direction of the season's regular bill of plays is handled by four faculty members. This year Mary Arbenz directed "The Lark," Barnard Hewitt did "Juno and the Paycock," Charles Shattuck handled "The Tragedy of King Richard III" and "The Skin of our Teeth," and Clara Behringer directed "The Birds." Directors Arbenz and Behringer also supervise the Workshop Theatre.

In addition to the play directors, the faculty staff includes a technical director, costumiere, and a director of Playwrights Workshop.

A group of eight graduate students act as technical assistants for the Theatre's productions.
THEATRE
STUDENT STAFF

The University Theatre student staff provides the direction and manpower for all of the production, stage, and business crews. This staff is headed by a general manager, Jo Ann Williamson. The five remaining managers are Simeon Trotter, personnel manager; Ernest Humphrey, business manager; Barbara Seyler, production manager; George Swift, stage manager; and Suzanne Peterson, Workshop Theatre manager.

In addition to the six senior managers, there are department managers who head various crews including advertising art, box office, scenery construction, costumes, house management, make-up, personnel, playbill, properties, publicity, scenery painting, stage management, and workshop theatre. Any interested student may participate on these crews and obtain valuable experience in the production of plays.

For sixty-seven years, Star Course has presented to the campus the finest artists in the fields of music, dance, and drama. A well-rounded program of both classical and popular music is included each year in Star Course concerts. The artists featured in the 1957-1958 series included the NBC Opera Company’s English version of “La Traviata,” the Bach Aria Group with Jan Peerce, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Antal Dorati, Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians, and “Jazz for Moderns” with George Shearing, Gerry Mulligan, and the Australian Jazz Quintet.

Star Course is a non-profit student organization, operating under the auspices of the University Concert and Entertainment Board. This board, composed of six faculty members and six students, selects the artists and makes all final decisions concerning the operations of Star Course. Two senior managers are the overall directors of Star Course, one in charge of finance and one in charge of personnel. These seniors are automatically members of the University Concert and Entertainment Board, Student Senate, and Co-ordination Committee.
COURSE

Directly responsible to the senior managers are the eight junior managers. These students supervise publicity, advertising, tickets, public relations, concert arrangements, personnel, physical plant, and office management. It is the duty of the junior managers to organize each concert into a smooth-running unit, arranging for staging, lighting, and programing, and securing accommodations for the artists.
The Star Course sophomore managers, totaling forty-nine in number, comprise a very essential branch of the activity. This sophomore staff is divided into four groups each of which is headed by two junior managers. In order to acquaint the sophomores with each phase of Star Course, these committees rotate, working on a different assignment each month. Each week the managers attend a brief committee meeting at which assignments and general instructions are given. Besides ushering at concerts, sophomore jobs include typing, making and delivering posters, and counting tickets.
STAR COURSE ARTISTS

GEORGE SHEARING

Although illness prevented Shearing's appearance with his famous sextet, he has played his "Shearing Sound" into the circle of topflight jazz progressionists.

FRED WARING

Fred Waring and all the Pennsylvanians created a new sensation by adding "the third dimension" in "Hi-Fi Holiday."

JOSEPH FUCHS

A renowned violinist throughout Europe and America, Fuchs gave an impressionable performance of Bach, Beethoven, and Mozart on his "Cadiz Stradivarius."
THE MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Among the major orchestras of America, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra has had a particularly distinctive “personality.” The organization’s conductor is Antal Dorati.

ANTAL DORATI, conductor

Born in Budapest, Mr. Dorati has devoted his entire life to music. His career as a conductor began at the early age of eighteen when he conducted opera in his home town. Since then he has been musical director for some of the foremost ballet companies in the world and conducted the greatest symphony orchestras in the United States, Mexico, Australia, and Europe.
THE NBC OPERA COMPANY presenting "LA TRAVIATA"

The NBC Opera Company presented an English version of this classic romantic opera. This performance was the first opera presented by a professional opera company in Urbana-Champaign.

GARY GRAFFMAN

One of America's most gifted young pianists, Gary Graffman thrilled his audience with his highly expressive interpretations of compositions by Chopin and Rachmaninoff. Owing to his exceptional talent and long years of training, he is repeatedly greeted by critics as "a brilliant pianist in the great tradition."
"To realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God" is the purpose of the Y.W.C.A. Through its program of service to the campus, the community, and the world, the "Y" endeavors to fulfill this goal.

The work of the "Y" is divided into four main areas with a major chairman for each one. The Membership Area is responsible for membership drives and new member orientation.

The Personal Life Area is concerned with the social, mental, and spiritual growth of the students. Discussion groups, activities for fun and fellowship, and religious services are sponsored by this area.

Service to the community is the aim of the Effective Citizenship Area. Members work in homes for the aged, read to the blind, and provide entertainment for youngsters in children's homes and schools.

The International Area seeks to bring American and foreign students together through discussion groups and social gatherings.

The fifty-second annual Doll Show was held at Christmas. In addition to the doll exhibitions, a party was given for children of the community.
The University of Illinois Y.M.C.A., in its eighty-fifth year and only one year younger than the University, has a long record of service to the campus. Although the oldest student organization at Illinois, the “Y” is a dynamic and growing activity.

The Y.M.C.A. pioneered many of the functions that are now handled by the University. The “Y” ran the first student dormitory, provided the first employment service, and initiated the international student program.

Through their participation in the “Y” program, students have opportunities to develop leadership. The Y.M.C.A.’s program divisions include effective citizenship, Christian emphasis, international suppers, Little United Nations, social recreation, international friendship, freshman weekends and orientation, faculty-student relations, and membership.

Located at the busy corner of Wright and Chalmers streets, the “Y” occupies a substantial physical plant for entertaining. The building contains meeting rooms for students and visiting groups and numerous places to study. Recreation facilities are available, and the Kaeser Room is a favorite coffee spot.
CAMPUS CHEST

Campus Chest was established at the University in 1946 to prevent numerous charities from soliciting students and faculty members. This unique fund-raising organization is the only charity drive that is allowed on campus.

Each year a general fund drive is conducted on the entire campus. In addition to this drive there are several special events which occur during the year. A book sale in the fall, a photograph sale in the spring, balloon sales, and coffee hours are other methods that Campus Chest used to raise funds. The proceeds from the spring event also are given to Campus Chest.

The planning, coordination, and work which is necessary for these various activities requires the cooperation of every one of the 100 members of the organization. Through its extensive charity work, Campus Chest has proven itself to be "an activity with a purpose."

The Campus Chest Allocations Board handles the interviewing and selection of the various charities to which the funds from Campus Chest are to be given. The board attempts to maintain a balance between University, community, national, and international charities and selects the charities which are most justifiable to the student body.

The board consists of an executive member from Student Senate, Panhellenic, W.G.S., I.F., M.I.A., the Illini Union, Y.M.C.A, and Y.W.C.A. There are also three faculty advisers and the director, associate director, treasurer, and Board secretary from the Campus Chest Organization.

The Student News and Information Bureau, called SNIB, is the College of Agriculture's student news service. Through the press, radio, television, photography, and visual aids, SNIB publicizes the activities of the students in the College.

Any student in the College of Agriculture or any interested student may petition for a position on the staff.

SNIB press activities include publishing a newsletter every two weeks and printing a pamphlet of the activities of the twenty home economics and agriculture clubs on campus.

The television staff produces, directs, and supplies talent for weekly shows on WCIA-TV and WILL-TV. The radio staff produces three weekly radio shows.

The photography staff gives picture coverage of all the events in agriculture and home economics. The visual aids staff provides exhibits in campus buildings.
ILLINOIS
TECHNOGRAPH

This year marked the seventy-second consecutive year of publication for The Illinois Technograph, a student magazine of the College of Engineering. The Technograph is one of the oldest magazines of its type in the country.

From October to May The Technograph, read by most engineers on campus, is published once each month. In presenting articles of a technical and semi-technical nature, humor, and the latest industrial releases, The Technograph provides the student engineer with an up-to-date survey of his field.

The Technograph cooperates with the Engineering Council and other engineering societies in holding an annual open house on the engineering campus.

The staff of The Technograph is made up primarily of student engineers, but any student is eligible. Selection for membership is based on personal petition by prospective staff members.

The Technograph is also sent to most of the high schools in the state.
The organization and production of a yearbook such as The Illio is an all-year job. Preparation of The 1958 Illio began early in the spring of 1957. Four seniors, an editor and three associates, were chosen to organize and supervise the entire work of the staff. The artists for The Illio were chosen from the results of an art contest judged by the senior staff.

As soon as the layouts are drawn and decided upon, the junior editors must obtain pictures. The twelve juniors are responsible for the complete production of each of their sections.

Sophomores are taught early in the year how to do such things as draw layouts and crop pictures. As the pictures are collected, they are cut down to the correct proportion and then sent to the engraver. The engravers return the pictures in the form of "picture proof," a print of the picture in the exact size and shape that it will appear in the book.

The picture proof is cut out and put on the layout in the correct position. Junior editors, with the assistance of sophomores, write and edit copy for the section. When the copy is finished and the identification for the pictures is checked for spelling errors, the entire page is typed up and sent with the layout to the printer.

At the printer's, the page is composed and printed in the form of "page proof." This proof is then returned to the editors for a final check for grammar, spelling, and general appearance. With the final okay on each page, the book goes to press. The result may be seen in the spring as the efforts of an entire year are returned in the form of The Illio.
The Illio Business Staff has some very enjoyable responsibilities and also some tedious jobs. Among its more pleasant tasks, the Business Staff is in charge of The Illio Beauty Contest in the fall of every year. The contest, judged by a well-known panel or celebrity, is under the direction of one of the six junior managers.

One of the more tedious but important jobs for the freshmen and sophomores is that of indexing. The page on which each name is found in The Illio must be entered after that name on an alphabetical list.

Besides these two very different responsibilities, the staff handles the advertising, sales, and circulation for the book. Advertising which is to appear in the book is solicited from local businessmen by the members of the junior staff. The responsibility of selling books falls to the sophomores and freshmen, but juniors organize the numerous sales campaigns.
One enormous duty which confronts the Business Staff is that of distribution. In the spring when the finished books arrive in the basement of Illini Hall, the staff must provide a method of delivering them to the students and faculty.

The freshmen on The Illio staff are responsible to the junior and senior members of the Business Staff. A senior manager and associate senior manager supervise the over-all activity of the business staff. One of the two senior managers is in charge of directing the work of the freshmen. Freshmen help both the editorial and business staffs by filing, typing, indexing, and selling.

All of these students work to enlarge the circulation and to keep the popularity of The Illio high.
The Daily Illini is an activity-business, nearly as old as the University. Since the University’s third year, The Daily Illini has reported and interpreted campus and local news. During the eighty-seven years since that first year, the newspaper has seen many changes in style, structure, and personnel. But the basic purpose—to inform the campus and to give editorial space for the free flow of ideas and opinions—is still the same.

Structurally, the editorial staff of The Daily Illini is split into six divisions. The campus staff handles academic news and the activities staff, the non-academic aspect of campus coverage. City reporters are responsible for securing the news of Champaign and Urbana outside the campus area. All athletic events are covered by the sports staff. The staff in charge of reading and correcting all stories is the copy desk group. The sixth division is the photography staff which services the advertising staff as well as the editorial department.
Each reporter on The Daily Illini is assigned a definite beat and is held responsible for securing all news related to that particular beat. This involves establishing a good working relation with key sources of news on each beat.

The experience which reporters gain in securing news and writing stories is supplemented by individual training in such special areas as meeting and speech coverage, interviewing, and feature writing.

Further training is necessary to prepare students in the production aspects of newspaper work, such as proofreading, headline writing, wire editing, and page makeup. Every staff member works at least one night a week performing production tasks in preparing The Daily Illini to go to press.

The Daily Illini receives its state and national news via the Associated Press wire service. It was the first college daily paper to use the service.

Each staff is headed by a staff editor who in turn is responsible to the executive news editor and ultimately to the editor-in-chief, who heads the entire Daily Illini operation.

Editorial policy is determined by an editorial board of about fourteen members, including the editor-in-chief, executive news editor, staff editors, and top reporters. Since The Daily Illini is in no way subsidized by the University, its editorial policy is formulated independently of University control. It is this independence which emphasizes the necessity for objective news coverage and responsible editorial criticism in The Daily Illini.
Though The Daily Illini is a student newspaper and its staff is composed of students, it is a business. And as a business it has the responsibility of making a profit. This means that circulation must be maintained and that The Daily Illini’s advertisers must receive the best possible results from their advertisements.

In order to meet this responsibility, The Daily Illini has a business staff composed of three departments: circulation, classified, and display advertising.

It is the job of the circulation department to maintain and increase the circulation of the paper. This department handles most of the paper’s clerical work and plans all promotional projects to boost sales.

The classified department is responsible for receiving, writing, and handling all classified ads to be run in The Daily Illini.

The display advertising department exists primarily to service the advertisers of The Daily Illini.
The copy and layout staff creates, writes, and makes up all the ads for local advertisers. Contact is maintained with these advertisers by the members of the advertising sales staff who call on each advertiser periodically. It is their responsibility to make sure that the local retailers are satisfied with their advertising in the Daily Illini and to sell additional advertising space whenever possible.

The dispatch staff proofreads all advertisements to be run in the paper, distributes proofs of these ads to the advertiser before it is run, and makes the page layout of the paper.

The combined efforts of these departments determine the effectiveness of the Daily Illini as a business and is ultimately responsible for obtaining all income that the paper receives.

The result is that it is necessary for the members of the business staff to consider their work as a job that requires intelligence and hard work, in addition to an activity.
Frank Schooley, chairman

Paul McMichael, general manager

The Illini Publishing Company operates a modern printing plant in the basement of Illini Hall, manned by union printers and pressmen. A variety of commercial printing for student and University-connected organizations is printed there along with The Daily Illini and Illinois Technograph.

A non-profit corporation, the Illini Publishing Company was chartered by the state for the purpose of printing, publishing, and distributing student publications.

The company operates under a board of control. The board is composed of four students and four faculty members who serve without compensation. The students are nominated by Student Senate and elected by the board for two year terms. The four faculty members are appointed for four-year terms by the President of the University.

PHOTOGRAPHIC STAFF

The Illini Publishing Company Photo Staff, an independent activity, is responsible for taking all pictures which appear in The Daily Illini and the informals for The Illio. Each photographer spends one afternoon and one night a week on the “beat” and any additional time needed to complete all assignments.

The staff has two company-owned Speed Graphics, but many photographers prefer to work with their own cameras. The staff darkroom is thoroughly equipped to develop roll as well as sheet film. Specialized developers and processing aids are available for special assignments.

All photographers are trained in the use of cameras, darkroom facilities, and operation of the Fairchild Scan-A-Graver with which the staff engraves all Daily Illini pictures. Lighting is a specialty of the staff and is practiced in natural, bounce, and multiple lighting.
The Illinois Football Band, called the "Marching Illini," is made up of men students of the Concert and First Regimental bands and the most qualified members of the Second Regimental Band. The band, directed by Everett Kisinger, has a regular marching formation and instrumentation with a total membership of over 175.

The Football Band performs for all home games, besides taking a trip to another school for one of the away games. This year the "Marching Illini" traveled to Madison, Wisconsin on November 16 to play for the Illinois-Wisconsin game.

For each performance John Forsyth wears the costume of Chief Illiniwek, representing the University's spirit and tradition. He is the thirteenth chief in thirty-one years since the character was originated. Edmund Williams serves as drum major when the band performs.
The First Regimental Band, despite its military title, is a concert organization of over one hundred members. This group, directed by Everett Kissinger, studies serious concert band literature, as well as being a nucleus for the “Marching Illini” and a training organization for the Concert Band.

This year the First Regimental Band’s performances included the Band Festival Concert, the American Bandmaster’s Association Concert, a formal concert on April 16, the Spring Children’s Concert, and the Twilight Concert on May 14.

Besides regular concerts, the band takes part in military events such as Veteran’s Day on November 11 and the Honors Day Review in May.

The annual spring concerts may be heard over the radio on station WILL.

SECOND REGIMENTAL BAND

The Second Regimental Band, with a membership of 135, is a concert organization with almost complete instrumentation. Everett Kisinger conducts the band with the assistance of James Fleischer. For facility the group is divided into two divisions with approximately sixty to one hundred members in each.

In conjunction with the other University bands, the Second Regimental Band presents several concerts including the Festival Concert on January 11 and the Spring Twilight Concert in April. The band also participates in the Mothers Day program.

The Second Regimental Band joins the First Regimental Band to take part in military events and parades and to broadcast concerts over WILL.

The band also plays for all pep rallies held before home football games.
The University of Illinois Concert Band is recognized as the finest college symphonic band organization in the nation. Conducted by Mark Hindsley and composed of carefully selected musicians, the Concert Band performs the best music in a professional manner.

For several years the band has made a tour to various sections of Illinois or neighboring states. This year the band visited several towns in southern Illinois including Alton, Metropolis, and Carmi.

During the first week in March the Concert Band participated in the dedication of the new band building.

Besides the tour and dedication ceremony, the band appeared in the fourth annual Festival of Concert Band Music, the sixty-eighth Anniversary Concerts, the fifty-ninth annual Twilight Concert Series, and the June Commencement.
SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The University of Illinois Symphony Orchestra, numbering approximately ninety players, includes music students and any other students from the University who can qualify.

The student symphony has appeared in recent years under the batons of Sir Thomas Beecham, Leopold Stokowski, Eugene Ansermet, and other world-famous conductors. Under the direction of Prof. Bernard Goodman, its conductor for the past seven years, the orchestra has accompanied such soloists as Joseph Fuchs, Leonard Rose, and Max Rostal.

The symphony has made a number of recordings in the School of Music Custom Recording Series which are broadcast over the student radio station.

An annual highlight of the orchestra's activities is the Benefit Concerto Concert, given in the spring to raise funds for scholarships for music students. The concert features senior and graduate students who are ready to embark on professional careers.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Recognized as one of the top collegiate men's glee clubs in the country, the University of Illinois Varsity Men's Glee Club, conducted by Professor Harold Decker, has reached a standard of excellence in performance rarely achieved by this type of organization.

The club's repertoire includes the finest music available for men's voices, ranging from sacred and classical works through opera and operetta, folk songs, spirituals, and contemporary choral arrangements.

Membership in the Men's Glee Club is open to any qualified male singer enrolled as a student in the University. Of the present seventy-five members only nine are enrolled in the School of Music. The remainder represent almost all the schools of the University.

In addition to campus activities, each year the glee club gives several off-campus concerts and takes an annual spring tour.
WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Women's Glee Club is one of the four choral organizations on the campus. All four classes and most of the schools of the University are represented by the sixty-five members.

Members are chosen by audition during freshman week in the fall. Women are not only picked for their voices but also for their musical ability.

The main purpose of the Women's Glee Club is to promote enjoyment and pleasure through singing and to better musical knowledge while doing so. Music is varied so members can gain experience singing all types of music.

In the fall the Glee Club performed for Odgen and Champaign High Schools. Just before Christmas the group traveled to Chanute Air Force Base to present a Christmas concert. During the spring semester, the Glee Club made two tours, one to Chicago and the surrounding area.
The University Choir, now in its fourteenth year, is the most advanced singing organization on the campus. The sixty-five members of the choir are some of the most highly skilled singers in the University. Many are voice majors in the School of Music, but there are representatives from almost every school of the University. The organization performs a varied repertoire, representing all types of musical literature.

The choir, directed by Professor Harold Decker, is under the auspices of the School of Music. This year was Professor Decker’s first year as Choral Director and as director of the choir.

In past years the University Choir has made extensive tours of Illinois, singing at high schools, conventions, and community activities. This year the Choir traveled in both Illinois and Iowa, singing for a wide variety of audiences. The organization also performed for many campus activities and functions and for groups in the Champaign-Urbana area.
UNIVERSITY CHORUS

University Chorus, numbering about 150, is a training group for the more advanced choral organizations. Members must audition and also demonstrate a real interest in choral singing.

Directed by Russell Mathis, the Chorus performs a wide variety of music to obtain as much experience as possible. The group participates in one concert each semester.

MEMBERS:

The Oratorio Society is composed of students, faculty, and townpeople with advanced vocal ability. This group, composed of 130 members, presents two major choral works every year under the direction of Mr. Harold A. Decker. On December 17, 1957, the Oratorio Society presented Haydn's Imperial Mass assisted by the Symphony Orchestra.

Soloists: James Bailey, Jeane; Margaret Rice, soprano; Harold A. Decker, director; Dorothy Clark, alto; Robert Ehrman, bass.
OPERA WORKSHOP

The Opera Workshop at the University of Illinois was formed in 1948. Its immediate purpose is to give voice students in the School of Music practical experience in operatic literature and stage techniques. Furthermore it serves to introduce the student body and the campus community to opera as a living art expression.

With twenty-six students, most of which are in the School of Music, Opera Workshop presented three programs this year in November, March, and May. Each production contained about eight scenes from various operas.

Since its inception, Opera Workshop has presented twenty-three operas, including sixteen contemporary works and ninety-four different scenes from the standard repertoire.

The Workshop is under the musical and artistic direction of Ludwig Zirner.

MRH DANCE

On the evening of November 16, 1957, Men’s Residence Halls sponsored their first all-University dance, the Moonlight Formal. Over 200 couples danced to the music of Johnny Rinaldo’s band in the ballroom of the Illini Union.

The highlight of the dance came during intermission when Marlene Delveaux was crowned as queen. She was chosen from six candidates by a vote taken in the men’s residence halls.
ST. PAT’S BALL

The 1957 St. Pat’s Ball, sponsored by the Engineering Council, was held in the spring in Huff Gymnasium. The gym was decorated in a typical Saint Patrick’s Day style with shamrocks and kelly green providing the color.

The customary ceremony of knighting the twelve top seniors in the School of Engineering was held during intermission.

Each year a queen of the St. Pat’s Ball is chosen. For the 1957 dance, Laurel Baier reigned as queen.
HONORARIES

Each of the colleges in the University has one or more honoraries composed of students who have high scholarship or who have made outstanding achievement in their particular field. Some honoraries, such as Shi-Ai and Alpha Chron, draw their members from more than one college.

These honoraries encourage leadership, service, research, greater understanding of the subject, and high professional ideals. They strive to promote scholarship, cooperation, friendship, and achievement.

Many of the societies are chapters of national organizations, while some have originated at the University of Illinois to fill the needs of the students. National honoraries have also originated at the University of Illinois as did Alpha Lambda Delta.

Students find closer social and professional companionship and fuller development of character and personality through membership in these groups. They have the opportunity to experiment in practical application in their future profession and to exchange ideas with others in the same field.

A student elected to membership in an honorary is able to increase his own knowledge by working with other students of high standing. Through membership in these groups, students find closer social and professional companionship and fuller development of character and personality.

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA

Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity, offers an opportunity to participate in activities and campus projects which serve as a preparation for the job after graduation. A further opportunity to realize the fraternity's motto, “Bridging the Gap,” comes through the twelve active alumni chapters located in major cities throughout the country.

Selling local advertisers space on sandwich boards and in Tumor, taking field trips to agencies and media in Midwestern cities, attending monthly meetings of the Champaign-Urbana Advertising Club, sending delegates to “Inside Advertising” week in New York, as well as to the ADS national and regional conventions, are evidence of this professional's busy agenda.

The ADS membership card entitles the bearer to privileges in the Advertising Federation of America and in the Advertising Association of the West, whose local chapters work closely with ADS.
Alpha Lambda Delta honors freshman women.

The Alpha Lambda Delta is the freshman women's scholastic honor society. This national organization of eighty-two active chapters was founded at the University of Illinois in 1924 by Miss Maria Leonard, then Dean of Women.

Membership requires the student to attain an average of 4.5 while carrying fifteen academic hours her first semester or thirty academic hours her first year. A special tea is held first semester for all freshmen women attaining an eight-week average of at least 4.0.

Special recognition is given to senior women who maintain the Alpha Lambda Delta average throughout their college work. Alpha Lambda Delta offers a scholarship assistance program without charge to any freshman woman.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

After beginning activities in 1949 as the Arnold Air Society of Air Cadets, the group merged with two other national organizations to become the Arnold Air Society, which is an honorary and fraternal organization for advanced AF-ROTC cadets. The first University of Illinois graduate to lose his life in the Second World War was Jake Schaefer, and it is in his honor that this squadron is named.

The purpose of the society is in line with the mission of the officers training program. The society strives to provide only the finest officers of the highest caliber by presenting a varied program of speakers, movies, and discussion at bi-monthly meetings.

Many worthwhile projects are carried on throughout the year. Among these are talks to high schools about the future of the Air Force; the Sabre Squadron, a freshman-sophomore society patterned after Arnold Air Society; a yearly dance; and displays during the Engineering Open House and the "Elite Eight" basketball tournament.

The Jake Schaefer Squadron is the command squadron for Area F which covers the states of Michigan, Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Illinois. There are eleven squadrons covering the continental United States.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Kappa Delta Pi was founded on March 8, 1911 when Alpha Chapter was instituted at the University of Illinois. From that time until now this honor society in education has grown until there are 222 chapters located in 45 states.

The purpose of Kappa Delta Pi is to encourage high professional, intellectual, and personal standards and to recognize outstanding contributions to education. To this end, it invites to membership such persons as exhibit commendable personal qualities, worthy educational ideals, and sound scholarship. It endeavors to maintain a high degree of professional fellowship among its members and to quicken professional growth by honoring achievement in educational work.

Besides honoring high scholarship in the field of education, the Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi takes pride in the various educational events it sponsors on this campus each year. Both alone and in cooperation with other educational organizations, it has presented a distinguished list of educators as speakers and panel members. The chapter presents an annual award to the outstanding undergraduate student in the field of education.

OMEGA BETA PI

Omega Beta Pi is a national honorary pre-medical fraternity whose purpose is to promote a better understanding among pre-medical students of the problems, aims, and high standards of their future profession. With this objective in mind, the organization endeavors to present its members relevant programs including movies and lectures by prominent medical men.

In addition to the high scholastic requirement for membership, Omega Beta Pi seeks to stimulate and encourage the attainment of superior grades by presenting at the annual banquet each spring a twenty-five dollar award to the Sophomore pre-med who has achieved recognition for outstanding work in the physical sciences. As a further service to pre-medical students, Omega Beta Pi sponsors tours of publicly and privately supported medical schools and other institutions.
Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman men's scholastic honor society, was founded in 1923 to encourage and reward high scholarship attainment among college men. Alpha Chapter at the University of Illinois was admitted in 1937 to membership in the association of College Honor Societies.

Any Illinois freshman who attains a grade average of 4.5 or higher, either during his first semester or his first complete school year, may become a member of Phi Eta Sigma.

Most of the work of Phi Eta Sigma is concerned with promoting scholarship. The chapter sponsors a booth at the annual Freshman Week Activity Night, honors those freshmen whose eight weeks grades average 4.0 or above with a smoker, and holds an exchange with Alpha Lambda Delta, the freshman women's honorary.

SHI-AI

Shi-Ai, the sophomore activity honorary for sorority women, works to promote and strengthen friendship among the sororities and to encourage interest in campus activities. The group holds exchanges with Alpha Chron, Star and Scroll, and Skull and Crescent.

Established jointly in 1920 by Illinois and Northwestern, Shi-Ai holds bi-monthly dinner meetings and participates in many service projects. This honorary sponsors Shi-Ai Sing during Mothers' Day weekend and provides four one hundred dollar scholarships for needy sophomore girls with the proceeds.

Every spring, each sorority chooses two freshman girls outstanding in leadership, activities, and scholarship to represent them in Shi-Ai.
A new member receives his shingle from Prof. Bohl.

SIGMA TAU

Sigma Tau, engineering honorary, was founded in 1904 at the University of Nebraska with the desire to be of service to engineering education. The objectives of the fraternity are the recognition of personal attainments of engineering students, promotion of the interests of the engineering college, and encouragement of fellowship among students training for the engineering profession.

Membership is made up of junior and senior engineering students who meet the required standards of scholarship, leadership, and character. In recognition of outstanding work while an undergraduate, Sigma Tau offers a fellowship which can be used to finance post-graduate study at a recognized university.

The Illinois chapter of Sigma Tau was established in 1914, and since its founding has offered an opportunity for the development of professional contacts and friendships.
SKULL AND CRESCENT

Skull and Crescent, which chooses its members from the twenty-five oldest fraternities on campus, is a national fraternity honoring sophomore men who have gained high achievement in scholarship and activities. Its primary objectives are the promotion of interfraternity fellowship and the encouragement of freshmen to perform well in scholarship and activities.

Each year the new initiates earn Skull and Crescent pins, which are passed down from previous members. In return, the alumni are awarded a paddle for a keepsake.

Among the annual activities of this sophomore men’s honorary, are a pajama race in the Armory, a pledge banquet, a contest with Tomahawk, numerous record dances, an exchange with Shi-Ai, and a formal dinner dance at the Urbana-Lincoln Hotel which is highlighted by the coronation of a queen.

STAR AND SCROLL

Star and Scroll is an honorary composed of two sophomore men from each of the twenty member fraternities. It was founded at the University of Illinois for the purpose of promoting interfraternity fellowship, raising freshman scholastic standards, encouraging freshmen in activities, and perpetuating the traditions of the university.

Members are selected every year on the basis of their scholastic standing and potential success as campus leaders in extra-curricular activities.

The coronation of a queen at the annual Star and Scroll formal dance is one of the highlights of the year’s activities. Star and Scroll also participates in the High School Circus and in a Union Coffee hour with Shi-Ai.
Scabbard and Blade is a national honorary military society composed of advanced corps cadets from Army, Navy, and Air Force with the intention of fostering closer military relationships between cadets and midshipmen. Scabbard and Blade provides a sabre arch for university functions.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Sigma Alpha Iota is a national professional fraternity for women in the field of music, which furthers the highest standards of musical performance and appreciation among women in music.
Sigma Delta Chi is a national journalism fraternity promoting the principles of talent, truth, and energy. Campus activities of the Illinois chapter include publication of "Tumor" and the Gridiron banquet.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

SOCIETY OF ILLUSTRATORS

The Society of Illustrators promotes the ideals and interests of art and artists with emphasis placed on fine art as well as commercial art. The members have the opportunity to discuss their views with visiting artists and faculty members on an informal basis.
TERRAPIN

Terrapin is an honorary swimming club whose chief objective is the promotion of interest and proficiency in aquatics.

All women students are eligible for membership in Terrapin. New members are selected by tryouts on the basis of their swimming skill.

The annual events which highlight the year are the Inter-House Swimming Meet, the High School Clinic, and the Mother’s Day Water Show. The High School Clinic aids various high schools in Illinois to start or improve their swimming programs. In the Inter-House Swimming Meet there are three events: a marathon swim, speed swim, and form swim.

Terrapin also offers an educational service fund which awards cash prizes to graduate women for projects relating to the interests of the Terrapin Club.
Tomahawk is a national sophomore honorary activities society which gives recognition to independent freshman students for their outstanding work in campus activities. Tomahawk also serves to inspire its members to even greater heights of service and achievement during their remaining school years. Through its activities, Tomahawk develops greater bonds of friendship among independent men.

Tomahawk chooses its members from church groups, band groups, athletics, and many other campus organizations. In addition to acting as a service organization to the university, it also provides for a scholarship, chapter exchanges and unlimited fellowship among the members.

Zeta Phi Eta, national professional speech arts fraternity for women, strives to build a philosophy for women in the speech profession, to aid speech students after graduation, and to encourage speech enterprises. Among its projects are International Fair and a fellowship for a graduate speech student.

ORGANIZATIONS

For the many students to whom the nucleus of college life is the membership in campus organizations, the University of Illinois has an impressive number of these organizations tailored to fit every taste. There are clubs which promote modern dance to the study of nuclear physics.

Through work in an organization whose activities pertain to the student’s chosen field the student is given the opportunity to relate and apply the theory learned in the classroom to the type of work in which he will be engaged in the future. He may meet and converse with prominent men in his chosen profession, participate in field trips, and keep himself informed of present trends and developments in his field.

Important also is the fact that the student has the opportunity to develop his personality and character through participation in the numerous social activities held by his organization.
Accountancy Club, which is open to all students interested in accountancy, seeks to promote knowledge in the science of accounting.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS
This group stimulates student interest in the professional and industrial growth of chemical engineering through industrial speakers. It sponsors a senior-faculty banquet and student get-togethers.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERS

AMERICAN RECREATION SOCIETY

The American Recreation Society, a national, professional organization, provides its members with the opportunity to become acquainted with the recreation program and experienced workers in the field.
AIEE-IRE

The combined student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers is affiliated with the national organizations of the same name. Its purpose is to promote interest in the electrical engineering profession, and to further student-faculty relations outside of the classroom.

Talks are given throughout the year by outstanding men in the engineering profession. This program is designed to give AIEE-IRE members an insight into the electrical engineering profession, showing what the electrical industry is doing today, and what it will be doing tomorrow.

The AIEE-IRE sponsors the senior-faculty banquet, picnics, inspection trips, intramural sports, and participates in St. Pat’s Ball and the Engineering Open House.
Student chapters of the American Society of Civil Engineers are established to help all civil engineering students to enrich their college courses by beginning those professional contacts and associations which, continued through life, are so valuable to the practicing engineer.

Talks by professional engineers and discussions of engineering problems and projects, often illustrated by movies or slides, highlight the programs of the society’s monthly meetings.

A.S.C.E. is represented on the engineering council, and its members take an active part in the Engineering Open House.

Social activities of the society include smokers, picnics, and participation in the annual St. Pat’s Engineering Ball.
This organization strives to promote professional interest and social activity among agricultural engineers. Activities include discussions with professional engineers and an inspection trip.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers sponsors technical lectures and an annual student paper contest to increase students' interest and knowledge in the field of mechanical engineering.

HAWAII CLUB

The Hawaii Club, open to all who are interested in Hawaii, fosters greater fellowship and encourages the development of cultural understanding of Hawaiian social and traditional ways of life.
HOOF AND HORN CLUB

The Hoof and Horn Club is an organization composed of agriculture students interested in livestock and the animal science field. The experience and knowledge which members encounter in this organization is a valuable supplement to their classroom work.

Included in this year’s activities were the Little International Horse Show, annual Spring Barbecue, honoring an outstanding senior member, and awarding keys to the outstanding livestock judges in Animal Science 101 and 103 classes.

In the spring semester, the club sponsors and participates in the Spring Judging Contest, Meats Contest, Showmanship Contest, and Senior-Faculty softball game.
ILLINI YOUNG REPUBLICAN CLUB

Illini Young Republican Club membership is extended to all students Republicanly inclined.

The club's basic purposes are to foster and stimulate political thought among the members and to develop potential party leadership for the years after graduation. Its political interest is not confined to national and international matters, but includes state and local matters as well.

Aside from general business matters, speaking programs, conferences and conventions, and social functions constitute the club's annual calendar of activities; a newsletter is published monthly.
The Home Economics Club promotes friendship and furthers interest in home economics.

MASK AND BAUBLE

Mask and Bauble is an honorary that recognizes those persons who have contributed to the University Theatre. Membership is gained through work on stage or backstage.
ORCHESIS

Orchesis is an organization which offers to both men and women students of the University the opportunity for creative dance study, composition, and performance. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in dance as an art form and to foster standards of performance, appreciation, and understanding of this art in the community.

Each year, Orchesis sponsors two concerts to benefit a scholarship fund which enables one or more of its members to study dance during the summer. In the fall, a guest artist is featured, and in the spring, Orchesis members present a concert of their own works.

Orchesis also sponsors concerts in conjunction with the Festival of Contemporary Arts and organizes symposiums in which other colleges are invited to participate.

WOMEN'S SPORTS ASSOCIATION

The Women's Sports Association, formerly the Women's Athletic Association, offers a diversified program of sports and recreational activities for all undergraduate and graduate women. The aims of the organization are to provide recreation through participation in a sports program and to promote leadership in such activities.

The W.S.A. program includes field hockey, basketball, bowling, volleyball, fencing, golf, softball, tennis, apparatus, badminton, and ice skating during special seasons of the year. Membership is based on participation in the various sports, either individually or as a member of a team representing a house.

In addition to the regular intramural program, W.S.A. sponsors Sports Days with other colleges and universities. At the annual W.S.A. dessert a trophy is awarded to the house having the highest percentage of participation and a plaque is awarded to the house which has accumulated the most points in team competition.

The Women's Physical Education Major Club has as its major objective the provision of guided professional opportunities and experiences for students enrolled in Physical Education, Dance, Health Education and Recreation.
WPGU

WPGU is the student radio station of the University of Illinois. The station is operated completely by a student staff, which numbers 156 this year.

The radio station is one of the few campus organizations which operates as a business; the entire cost of operations is covered through the sale of air time to both local and national sponsors. Most of the equipment is built by staff members.

Recently College Radio Corporation published a book explaining WPGU's unique method of building transmitters. This book has gained an excellent reputation as a guide for other student stations.

WPGU enjoys the reputation of being one of the top three college radio stations in the country. It broadcasts to over 4,250 students presently, and plans are being laid to increase the coverage to over 15,000 with the completion of the new residence halls in 1959. The station operates 138 hours a week, which is longer than any other radio station in Champaign-Urbana.
RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

The Church is important in everyone's life, and students are no exception. Through participating in the activities of the religious organizations on campus, students enrich their lives by the fellowship which they share. The students help govern these organizations through student councils composed of church staff members as well as students. These organizations are primarily striving to supply the spiritual needs which cannot be found in the classroom. Each of the foundations conducts services, gives credit courses in religion, and maintains libraries which contain religious literature.

In addition to their religious emphasis, the organizations are rich in cultural and social life. Contributing to the cultural aspect are choral groups, forums, discussion groups, and lectures. Coffee hours, picnics, mixers, and supper clubs provide social life.

Seabury Foundation, the home of the Congregational Christian and Evangelical and Reformed Students, helps the members examine and apply their Christian convictions and principles.
THE NEWMAN FOUNDATION

The Newman Foundation is the Catholic student center at the University, providing a program spiritual, educational and social in nature. Foremost among the Foundation’s activities is the work of St. John’s Catholic Chapel, the heart of Catholic liturgical and sacramental life on campus.

As its contribution to the intellectual life of its members, the Foundation offers a series of accredited religion courses, conducted by the priests of St. John’s, including classes in philosophy, theology, the spiritual life, social problems, church history, scripture and liturgy.

An important affiliate of the Foundation is the Newman Club, the official organization of Catholic students on campus. A member of the National Federation of Newman Clubs and through it united with more than 500 other such groups on campuses throughout the nation, the local club offers Illinois students a widely diversified schedule of events including lecture series, discussion groups, dramatics, an annual Christocentric Arts Festival, choral activities, refreshment hours, intramural sports, outings, dances and other socials.

The Graduate-Faculty-Staff League of the Foundation carries on a separate program for interested members of the campus community. Director of the Newman Foundation is the Reverend Edward J. Duncan, who is assisted by the Rev. Edward W. O’Rourke, the Rev. James B. Martin and the Rev. Joseph B. Mackowiak.
The University Baptist Church seeks to administer to the students and staff at the University of Illinois. Through fellowship, it seeks to nurture a Christian faith relevant to each individual.

ARMED FORCES COUNCIL

Through the Reserve Officers Training Corps unit here at the University of Illinois, one may obtain a commission in either the Army, Navy, or Air Force.

Coordination of the three ROTC units is achieved through the Armed Forces Council. This Council is composed of the Army Cadet Commander and his Executive Officer, the Navy Midshipman Commander and his Executive Officer, and the Air Force Cadet Commander and his Executive Officer. In addition, each unit provides a junior to serve on the Council and the ROTC unit in charge for the current year provides a commissioned officer to act as adviser.

Functions of all three ROTC units include the Military Ball, Camid Hop, Veteran’s Day Ceremony, and the Honors Day Formation.
The Army Reserve Officers Training Corps came into existence at Illinois the same year the University was established and has constantly grown in strength and popularity throughout the years.

Colonel Paul Steinbeck, senior officer and academic head of the Army, is Commandant of Cadets at the University.

At the present time, seven branches of the United States Army are represented in the Cadet Brigade. The Cadet governing body of the Corps is the Military Council, which consists of ranking senior cadets from each of the seven branches and delegates from the three military honoraries: Scabbard and Blade, Phalanx, and Pershing Rifles. The group acts as a sounding board for student affairs and as a liaison body between the Commandant and Corps of Cadets. During the 1957-58 school year, the Council was presided over by Cadet Colonel Keith Quackenbush, Brigade Commander of the Army ROTC.

The primary source of officers to lead our Air Force is the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps of which the University of Illinois has one of the largest wings.

From the Wing Commander down to the freshman basic, the Wing is operated by the student officers and guided and supervised by the regular Air Force personnel. The cadets are given as much responsibility as possible so as to train them to assume positions of responsibility when they are called to active duty.

Besides classroom and drill floor instruction, field trips to Air Force bases and orientation flights provide opportunities for the cadets to become more familiar with the primary mission of the Air Force—flying!

The Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps Program prepares the youth of America to assume positions of commissioned officer responsibility in the United States Navy and the United States Marine Corps.

The Illinois Unit is comprised of approximately three hundred carefully selected young men who are preparing for service in the Navy and Marine Corps.

During their four years of school, midshipmen study essential Navy subjects. During the summers, the midshipmen participate in world-wide training cruises to augment their formal training with a practical background.

Upon graduation, midshipmen receive commissions as Ensigns in the Navy or Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps and are given immediate assignment to active duty.

Trident was founded this year as a Naval honorary for juniors and seniors in NROTC. The purpose of Trident is to promote interest in NROTC activities and to present informal discussions on current events in the Navy.

This year Trident sponsored the First Annual Trident Ball at the Urbana-Lincoln Hotel honoring the officers of the unit and Ann McCartney, Trident sponsor.

"It is impossible to predict how well this team will do on the field through nine tough games because of the great number of question-marks which still existed at the end of spring practice," Coach Eliot reflected in a pre-season statement.

No words could better explain the final record of the 1957 Illinois varsity football team. Suffering heavily from graduation losses of a 1956 squad which compiled a 2-5-2 record, the "Fighting Illini" finished the season with a 3-4 Big Ten record and a 4-5 overall record.

The 1957 season, which had many ups and downs for the Illini, included a smashing 34-13 Homecoming victory over Minnesota, then ranked one of the nation's top teams; a thrilling 20-19 triumph over Michigan; a heartbreaking 19-14 loss to MSU, ranked one of the top two teams in the nation all season; and a revengeful 27-0 victory over Northwestern.

The Illini were led by Captain Dale Smith, playing his final season at halfback. End Rod Hanson was named most valuable player, and fullback Jack Delveaux was elected as captain for the 1958 team.
That's not in the rule book!

UCLA

Illinois, off to a slow start, started to click in the fourth quarter only to find it was too late to catch an inspired UCLA football team. The Illini took a 16-6 trimming in their 1957 season opener.

Illini fumbles and other miscues set up the two Bruin touchdowns and the field goal to make the score 16-0 at half time.

A third quarter comeback attempt by the Illini was unsuccessful, but as the final quarter opened they completed a 91-yard scoring drive. Tom Haller's 22 and 11 yard passes to Rich Kreitling and Rod Hanson, interspersed by center punches by Ray Nitschke, got the ball down to the Bruin 23. Then a pitch to Hanson was good for 15 yards. The remaining yardage was gained by Don Grothe in two short drives.

COLGATE

Bouncing back from defeat in the season opener, Illinois brushed up for its conference debut with a convincing 40-0 victory over Colgate.

The Illini climaxed an 80-yard march from the opening kick-off with Ray Nitschke going over for the first TD. Several minutes later, a pass to Bob Mitchell boosted the margin to 12-0.

After a second period lull, the Illini surged forth with Nitschke scoring early in the third period on a 10-yard pass. A recovered Colgate fumble, two more plays, and Nitschke scored again. Then a startling 42-yard run by Don Grothe made the score 33-0 going into the final quarter.

With Tom Haller doing a masterful job of directing the attack, the Illini operated swiftly and smoothly while allowing Colgate to penetrate Illinois territory only twice in the entire game.
After showing great promise by their 40-0 victory over Colgate, the Illini succumbed to Ohio State's power plays and met with a 21-7 defeat in their first Big Ten encounter.

Ohio State clearly dominated the first half of the contest making 14 first downs to Illinois' seven and advancing 165 yards to the Illini's 54. They had possession of the ball 48 times to Illinois' 19. Yet, the Buckeyes were only able to penetrate the Illini goal line once—and that wasn't exactly easy. Twice in the second period, Illinois took over on downs after Ohio State had advanced to the one yard line. Doug Wallace, Bob Delaney, and Bill Burrell were among the outstanding Illini defenders on these occasions.

The brightest moment for the Illini came early in the third period as Don Grothe's 18 yard sprint returned the kick-off to the Illinois 42 yard line. A long pass from Tom Haller to Rich Kreitling, who made the catch at full speed on the Buckeye 20 yard line dashed across the goal line, accounted for the Illini's lone TD. Haller's place kick tied the score. Two costly fumbles in the last half ended the Illini threat.
MINNESOTA

After a rather uninspired game against Ohio State, the Illini were to face Minnesota's Golden Gophers, a team that seemed on its way to a Big-Ten football title, a trip to the Rose Bowl, and possibly a national championship.

What chance did the Illini have against such a powerful team? On paper, Minnesota was favored to win by at least two touchdowns!

But the charts simply don’t count when Illinois plays before the alumni. This was it! This was Homecoming, and its spirit was electrifying!

The Illini eleven played a brand of football much superior to any they had displayed thus far in the season. Their tackling was rugged. Their blocking was sharp. The whole team was aggressive and really clicked, working under the quarterbacking of Tom Haller. All of these factors led to another amazing Homecoming upset as the Illini walloped the big Gophers 34-13!

The Illini marched 82 yards in 12 plays for their first touchdown with Jack Delveaux accounting for 45 yards in three plays. Then the Illini took a 14-0 lead as Delveaux added a second touchdown after a fumble set up the score.

The entire Illini squad received praise for the exhilarating game with special commendation going to Haller, Delveaux, and to Bob Mitchell, heralded by Minnesota’s coach as a fine runner.
MICHIGAN STATE

Playing before a capacity Homecoming crowd and out for revenge after last year's 20-13 defeat at the hands of the Illini, Michigan State was well prepared to meet the Illinois eleven. But the Spartans were surprised at the effort it took to get their 19-14 win over the Illini.

The triumph over Minnesota caused Illini fans to speculate—Was the win a true indication of Illinois' capabilities, or was it merely the big game of the season? All misgivings were erased, however. In spite of the loss to Michigan State, the Illini played an excellent game, overcoming a 13-0 margin at half time to gain a 14-13 lead in the third quarter with Tom Haller and Bob Mitchell doing the scoring.

The final blow was dealt by the Spartans on a 36-yard trap play as their 9.7 second 100-yard sprinter cut clear and scored. The 3½ remaining minutes of play were not sufficient for the Illini to complete a successful drive.

"He'll never get away—"
Since the last meeting between Purdue and Illinois had resulted in an uninspired 7-7 tie, there was much anticipation about the 1957 game with the Boilermakers. However, the dismal weather dampened not only the crowd but also the spirit of the players, and the game ended in a 21-6 defeat for the Illini.

The game proved to be quite contradictory to all statistical predictions. The vaunted ground game of Purdue rarely made headway against Illinois. The supposedly weak pass department of the Boilermakers provided Purdue’s first two touchdowns. Purdue’s big line, supposedly invulnerable, was punctured by the Illini for an 83-yard march. These antagonistic facts and a barrage of mistakes blended well to provide a dreary Dad’s Day game.

The Illini highlight of the game was the 83-yard march for the Illinois score in the opening period. Two 11-yard charges by full back Jack Delveaux and a series of off-tackle gains by Bob Mitchell rolled up six straight first downs to Purdue’s 10. Then Mitchell climaxed the drive with a 10-yard scoring dash.

Bob Hickey attempted to awaken Illinois’ pass attack and did succeed in covering 54 yards in the fourth period on two completions to halfbacks Gene Carr and DeJustice Coleman, but the Illini lost the ball on the Purdue 12. As the game ended, Hickey hit Ed Jerzak with a 38-yard aerial, again on the 12, but time expired before Illinois could run another play.
Playing before an enthusiastic I-Men’s Day crowd in Memorial Stadium, the Fighting Illini squeaked by with a 20-19 win over Michigan’s Wolverines.

After compiling a 20-6 lead with only one minute elapsed in the fourth period, the Illini withstood a two-touchdown Michigan assault to win by only one point. Two blocked point-after-touchdowns by Bob Mitchell in the first and fourth quarters provided the Illini with their margin of victory, while quarterback Tom Haller converted the important PAT’s twice for Illinois.

Michigan was handicapped seriously in its running game when Jim Pace, halfback All-American candidate, was forced to leave the game in the first quarter after colliding with Illini fullback Ray Nitschke. Pace averaged 10.4 yards in five carries and managed to rip off one run of 48 yards while still in the contest.

Although Michigan outgained the Illini in total yards 338 to 322, the home team led on the ground 311 to 213. Nearly all of Michigan’s yardage gained through the air came in the last period as the Wolverines struck back with their ace senior sharpshooter, quarterback Jim Van Pelt. A stiff 30 mile an hour wind hindered passing and punting all during the game, and Michigan wasn’t able to unloosen its passing attack until the fourth period when it had the wind at its back.

Illinois’ rushing advantage was shown clearly by the averages of its backs for the afternoon: Haller—7.3; Mitchell—4.8; L. T. Bonner—7.0; Ray Nitschke —7.6; and Jack Delveaux—6.0.
A spectacular aerial assault in the closing minutes of the game decreased Wisconsin's margin but didn't close the gap, and the Badgers emerged victorious over the Illini 24-13.

The last minute 76 yard drive engineered by Bob Hickey was made strictly on passes after picking up a first down on an option play. A 15 yard pass from Hickey to Doug Wallace put the ball on the Illinois 49 yard line. Another pass, this one snagged by DeJustice Coleman, brought the ball to the 27 yard stripe in Wisconsin territory. Then came the brightest spot of the game for the Illini as Hickey completed his touchdown pass to Coleman with two seconds to go.

While Hickey's play calling accounted for the final Illinois touchdown, it was Tom Haller who engineered the first Illini score, which came in the second quarter, after Wisconsin had taken a 14 point lead.

The Illini took over on the Wisconsin 28 yard line when Rod Hanson blocked a Badger punt. Jack Delveaux smashed his way to the Wisconsin 17. Haller then passed to Rich Kreitling for the touchdown and kicked the extra point.

Strong line play set up the final Wisconsin touchdown early in the last period. Then a Wisconsin punt put the ball on the Illinois 24 from where Hickey started his aerial touchdown drive.
NORTHWESTERN

For the final game of the 1957 season, the Illini, acting as host for the Northwestern squad, defeated the Wildcats by a rousing 27-0.

Early in the first period Ray Nitschke, aided by DeJustice Coleman and Rich Kreitling, sprinted 84 yards for a touchdown. Tom Haller’s kick for the extra point was good. As a thrilling climax to a second Illinois drive, Kreitling recovered Nitschke’s fumble on the two-yard line and went over for the touchdown.

Stunned by this early scoring of Illinois, Northwestern didn’t even pick up a first down until thirty seconds after the start of the second quarter. Until then, their deepest penetration had been to the Illinois 45-yard line.

Sparked by Chip Holcomb, the Wildcats attempted a drive in the second period but were halted on the 14 yard line by a fumble. This was the only Northwestern threat of the entire game.

The dominance of the Illini was even more obvious in the second half as Illinois, spearheaded by the running of Nitschke and Delveaux, retained almost complete control of the ball.

Despite several penalties, the Illini continued marching in the second half with Nitschke climaxing an 80-yard drive with a three yard touchdown plunge. Then 16 plays and 57 yards later, Delveaux dove over the goal line from the one yard stripe to score again. Both attempts for the extra point were good.

Defeating Northwestern was a great way for the Illini to end the season, particularly for the senior members of the squad. Fullback Ray Nitschke climaxied a brilliant career at Illinois with his greatest offensive game, going 170 yards in 21 carries for an 8.1 yard average and scoring two touchdowns.

At the end of the 1957 season, Illinois fans kept telling themselves, “Wait till next year!” With 23 lettermen returning for the 1958 team, it looked as if the Illini would have all the necessary ingredients for a Rose Bowl contender. However, before spring practice even started, Illini fans were disheartened to learn that junior quarterback Tom Haller had signed to play professional baseball with the San Francisco Giants and had dropped out of school.

Besides finding a quarterback for next season’s team, Coach Eliot is also faced with the problem of finding capable replacements for graduating halfbacks Bob Mitchell and Captain Dale Smith. Mitchell played in the East-West Shrine game in a post-season affair. Fullback Ray Nitschke, end Rod Hanson, and tackle Paul Adams competed for the North in the annual North-South tussle. Nitschke and Hanson also played in the Senior Bowl contest, and Nitschke racked up the game’s best ground gaining average, while Hanson was named most valuable player.

With captain-elect Jack Delveaux returning to lead the team from the fullback slot, the 1958 edition of the “Fighting Illini” should improve considerably on its seventh place showing of last year.
BASKETBALL

Losing four three-year lettermen through graduation, Coach Harry Combes faced a tough situation at the beginning of the 1957-58 basketball season. With such former Illini mainstays as Harv Schmidt, George BonSalle, Hiles Stout, and Bill Altenberger graduated, Coach Combes looked to his sophomores for help.

The 1957 team had won 14 games and lost 8, although it finished seventh in the conference with a 7-7 record. The team averaged 84.1 points a game, second highest scoring average in history, exceeded only by the 1956 team. Its record included victories over Butler, Dayton, and Notre Dame. A win over San Francisco ended a 61-game winning streak, the longest in collegiate basketball history.

The record-breaking 1957 team was led in scoring by BonSalle and Schmidt. Although BonSalle did not compete in the last eight games due to scholastic ineligibility, he had the highest average per game, 19.8. Schmidt was named most valuable player by his teammates and led the team in total points scored with 414. Seven all-time records were tied or broken by the 1957 team—most points, one game; most field goals, one game; most points, both teams one game; highest shooting percentage, one game; highest shooting percentage, one game both teams; and most free throws, one game (tied twice).
With junior Roger Taylor and senior Don Ohl returning at guard, along with captain John Paul, who was shifted from guard to forward, the 1958 Illini still needed a forward and center. Lacking a good “big man” for the center position appeared to be the Illini's most pressing problem. And the season's record proved this to be the case.

 Forced to rely on 6-3½ sophomore Govoner Vaughn at center and 6-2½ sophomore Mannie Jackson at the other forward, Combes fielded the fastest and smallest team in the Big Ten. This lack of size caused the Illini to be one of the most unpredictable teams in Illinois history.

 Ted Caiazza, 6-7 senior center, who was counted on for at least reserve duty at the pivot, reinjured his knee in pre-season practice and was not able to play basketball. His height would have helped the Illini considerably in the rebounding department. Reserve forward Tom Haller was also lost later in the season when he signed a major league baseball contract.

 Injuries further handicapped the Illini. Paul and Taylor both had to be replaced as starters for a few crucial contests in the middle of the season. Paul wrenched his back against Miami, and Taylor suffered a shoulder separation at Wisconsin.

 Sophomore Al Gosnell took up some of the slack as the number one “fireman” in early games. Other sophomores who saw frequent action were 6-3½ forward Bruce Bunkenberg and 6-5 center Ed Perry.

 Bob Brown

 Let's go, Illini!
What a time to hold hands!

While winning only five of fourteen games in the Big Ten for a share of seventh place, the Illini still managed to wind up with an 11-11 season record, thus making it the first time since 1938 that Illinois did not have a winning season. The team won six of eight games against non-conference opponents, losing only to Notre Dame and Iowa State while triumphing over such powers as DePaul, Butler, and Rice. The 5-9 league record was Illinois’ poorest since 1944, when Doug Mills’ wartime team posted a 5-7 mark.
The season held many high and low points for the Illini. A seemingly impossible 85-82 conquest of Rice, a team of giants who towered 6-10, 6-9, and 6-8 across the front line; a decisive 99-84 win over Purdue, which finished in second place; and a thrilling 102-98 overtime victory at the expense of a much taller Northwestern squad were high on the team’s list of accomplishments.

The season’s lows, as expected, came against the Illini’s taller foes. Northwestern’s Joe Ruklich, Indiana’s Archie Dees, Notre Dame’s Tom Hawkins, and Michigan State’s Johnny Green had field days against the shorter Illini.
Probably the two biggest individual highlights of the season were the standout performances turned in by guards Don Ohl and Roger Taylor. This back-court combination gave the Illini probably the top set of guards in the conference. Ohl contributed the most to the Illinois scoring attack, tallying 431 points for a 19.6 season average. Taylor won the Ralf Woods free throw trophy, sinking 54 of 64 free throws in Big Ten play for a .843 percentage.

Ohl was among the top 40 scorers in the country, and Taylor's free throw percentage placed him among the nation's top ten. As a result of their stellar performances, Ohl was voted most valuable player, and Taylor was elected captain for the 1958-59 team.

Sophomore Govoner Vaughn performed well, playing against centers who were much taller and more experienced. The team's third starter from Edwardsville, Mannie Jackson, turned in a fine job at forward, although a bit erratic in his scoring. Captain John Paul, besides averaging 14.1 points a game at the other forward, helped supply the spark for the drive and fire which enabled the 1958 Illini to live up to its fighting tradition.

Illinois' indoor track team had some bright moments in dual and triangular competition but sank to a tenth place finish in conference championships for the first time in Coach Leo Johnson's 20 years with the Illini.

The Cindermen totaled the most points over Purdue and Northwestern at the only home indoor meet but didn't prove so skillful against other Big Ten contenders.

Even with the individual gains of Capt. Bob Dintelmann, Karl Jonsson, Larry Stewart, Al Urbanekas, Bob Mitchell, Jerry Stanners, Frank Hedgcock, and Ron Maris, the Illini sank from fifth to tenth place in indoor competition.
In the meet against the Michigan Wolverines, Dintelmann won the 880-yard run and the one-mile run for the third consecutive meet, but other Illinois blue ribbon winners were scarce. Stanners tied for top ranking in the pole vault, and Mitchell won the 65-yard low hurdles for the only other Illini victories at that meet.

A new conference record was set by Illinois' champion high jumper, Urbanckas, who leaped to 6-8¾.

Few Illinois track teams in recent years have been plagued by as much uncertainty as the 1957 squad. Much of the success that they did gain, however, can be accredited to a large group of talented newcomers such as Ernie Haisley and George Kerr, former Jamaican Olympic team members, John Lattimore, and Charles LeCron.

The success of this group and possibly of returning squad members, Duane Forter and John Ravencroft, certainly helped determine Illinois' place in 1958 Big Ten indoor championships.
Illinois placed fourth this year in outdoor track activities which is a surprisingly good gain over last year's seventh rating. Young Larry Stewart set a new varsity shot put mark in the N.C.A.A. championship meet with a toss of 54 feet and 3¾ inches. This year Al Urbankas won another feather in his cap by setting a new conference high jump record of 6 feet 3¾ inches. Illinois had a fine season once again in track.
The Illinois cross-country team captured fourth place in National Collegiate Athletic Association finals, climaxing a very successful 1957 season. Second rating in the Big Ten championship was also claimed by the Illini harriers.

Karl Jonsson, senior, was top performer for the cross-country team and finished 35th in N.C.A.A. Jonsson finished in first place three times during the season's dual meets and took second once.

Also comprising the team were Frank Hedgcock, Tom Luker, Bob Dintelmann, and Verlon Sheuring.

Prospects for developing the 1958 Illinois track team into a chief Big Ten contender looked good if Coach Leo Johnson could keep his group of newcomers intact. Hopes were high for raising the 1957 Big Ten Standing.

The Illini should have the finest trio of high jumpers in the Big Ten if Al Urbanckas returned along with Ron Mitchell and Ernie Haisley.

Bob Mitchell was expected to become a big point winner in dashes and low hurdles, as well as in broad jump, while sophomore Jim Bowers should have shown excellent possibilities in the two-mile and one-mile runs.
1957 was the best baseball season for the Illinois team since 1954. The Illini squad vaulted from last place in '54 to a very impressive second place finish at the end of the '57 season. Coach Eilbracht sparked the Illini to an overall 17 to 9 win-loss record for the season, including non-conference opponents. The season ended in success due to the high spirit of the team led by a fighting captain, Dave Williams.

Effective pitching gave Illinois the necessary drive to make the jump to second place. Only eight runs were given up in the last eight conference games, four being unearned, for a combined earned run average of one-half runs per game. Eilbracht's "Big Three," Jim Flynn, Bob Tedesco, and Frank Schwartz, did most of the hurling during the eight game stretch. Schwartz paced the Illini's pitching staff with a solid six won and two lost record.

Sophomores played an important role in the diamond-men's success. As many as six first year men were often in the starting line-up. Shortstop Bob Klaus, one of the fastest players on the team, strengthened the infield and slammed out a .394 batting average, fourth in the Big Ten. Fast Rich Pawlow covered the territory in center well. Wayne Lanter backed the plate as a regular and showed good power and a good arm. Tom Haller at first base lettered in his third sport.
Illinois opened the season with an 8-2 victory over Valparaiso; then it went on a Southern road trip, winning seven games and losing two. In other competition outside the Big Ten, the Illini beat Wheaton and Illinois Wesleyan, but lost two games to the class "D" Decatur team and one to Illinois Normal.

During overall conference play, Illinois belted out 46 runs to their opponents' 38. Jim Frillman, senior right fielder, proved an important figure in the hitting department with a .304 average in conference play. Frank Schwartz was the team's leading fireman, finishing the season with an excellent 6-2 record. Good all-around performances in the pitching, fielding, and hitting areas were mainly responsible for the team's fine showing.
Almost out of habit, Coach Pond’s Illini gymnasts won the Big Ten title for the eighth consecutive year. The University of Illinois team managed to obtain a total of $143\frac{1}{2}$ points against $111\frac{1}{2}$ total number of points for Michigan. The team also remained undefeated in the dual meet competition.

In addition to winning the Big Ten title again, the Illini, with a narrow margin, were defeated for the N.C.A.A. Championship. The team encountered some trouble due to the fact that the all-around-star, Don Tonry, was unable to attend because of illness. In the A.A.U. meet, the Illini gymnasts finished second.
Abe Grossfeld, a sophomore, won the national collegiate horizontal bar championship. Besides winning a national championship, he is considered to be the most valuable member of the 1956-1957 gymnastic team. Other Illinois gymnasts who have won national titles this season are John Davis for the side-horse and Frank Hailand for his tumbling.

Mike Karon, 1957 captain, will pass his title on to Don Tonry, next year’s captain-elect, who hails from Brooklyn, New York. The Illinois team will lose only two senior lettermen, Andy Kostick and Bob Heil. As usual, Coach Charlie Pond’s men came out on top in all fields of endeavor.
WRESTLING

Nine returning lettermen and a number of promising sophomores gave Coach “Pat” Patterson’s 1956-57 squad depth and experience. The matmen ended the season with a six won, three lost, one tie record.

The Illini’s big, quick heavyweight, Bob Norman, won both the N.C.A.A. and Big Ten Championships in his class. He became Illinois’ first national collegiate heavyweight champion. Sophomore Werner Holzer compiled an outstanding record in his first year on the team. Entering the Big Ten Championships unbeaten, he wrestled his way to first place in the 147-pound division. Letterman Dave Moore also proved to be a mainstay for the Illini, placing fourth in the N.C.A.A. finals.

Coach Ralph Fletcher's team slipped from sixth to eighth position in the Big Ten Conference, even though the team won eight of its eleven regular seasonal meets. The team was defeated by Purdue twice and once by Wisconsin, the Conference champion. The Illini golfers ended the season with a total point number of 1575 while Wisconsin's, the Illini's roughest contenders, total number of points was 1512. Competition this year, as last year, was much improved over the previous year.

Charles Correll played in the number one spot this season, compiling a dual meet record of seven wins and two losses. Correll was also the team's medalist in the Conference meet with a 304 for 72 holes. The team will lose four of its lettermen: Charles Correll, Robert Pell, James Slothower, and Dale J. Smith.
The Illinois team compiled one of the best dual meet records in Illinois’ history, winning fourteen and losing only two. The team has a record of winning all seven and losing two of the Big Ten meets. The Illini ended the season with a fourth standing as compared to the fifth standing Coach Braun’s team held at the end of last season. The team was narrowly rooted out by the third place contender, Indiana. Michigan, the Big Ten Champion, Northwestern, and Indiana were the only teams escaping defeat at the hands of the rapidly improving Illinois team.

Junior Carl Noble and sophomore Al Holtman gave Illinois a potent one-two punch during the regular season. Jim VanTine, this year’s captain, and Dick McDonald are the only two lettermen who will not be back next year. Carl Noble, who possesses an excellent record, will serve as next year’s captain.

SWIMMING

Coach Klingel’s team compiled the Illini’s best dual meet record in history with a 8-1 record, losing only to Ohio State. In the Big Ten Swimming Meet Dick Whittaker placed fourth in the 1500 meter race and set a new Illinois record. Joe Hunsaker placed fifth and fourth in the NCAA 100 and 200 yard breast stroke events. The Illini’s most valuable swimmer, Nick Karpinchik, service returnee, placed fifth in the 100 yard free style.

The 1958 team will be under the leadership of Bob Hunt, captain-elect. The prospects for next year’s season look hopeful with nearly all the swimmers who placed in the conference meet returning. All, with the exception of Karpinchik, will be back next year. Jack Garland, Ned Loar, Nick Karpinchik, Bob Miller, Don Larson, Dave Sterrett were the Senior letter winners.
Although the fencing team was not able to maintain last year's sensational record, it finished the season with a second place in the Big Ten and with a fifth in NCAA.

Coach "Mac" Garrett has as mainstay of the team Arthur Schankin, who won 39 consecutive foil matches. Schankin, next year's captain, and this year's most valuable fencer, was named to the All-American team for the second time.

The senior letter winners were Captain Tyler Hunt, Don Fricker, Gerald Haselhuhn, Paul Kadota.

The 1957-58 Illini cheering squad led students, faculty, alums, and fans in cheers of encouragement and victory chants for the football and basketball teams.

After three days of practice and instruction, these cheerleaders were chosen by a Cheering Board during competitive tryouts. Each member was chosen for a term of one year.

Dressed in new uniforms and headed by Larry Tompkins, the cheerleaders heightened the spirit among Illini rooters with enthusiastic pep rallies in back of the Union every Friday night before home football games.

The Illini gridiron team battled its opponents amid the cheering and competitive yelling of both "Block I's." As the claim that "East is East, but West is Best" echoed through the stadium, east block members chanted defiant replies to their rooting rivals in west block.
MANAGERS

The Illini athletic managers spend many hours of hard work in performing the tasks necessary for the successful presentation of sports at the University. United in their loyalty to the coaches and teams, these men work behind the scenes in all sports.

When their team leaves town, the senior managers for each sport are responsible for handling all financial affairs involved in the trips. As part of their many duties, these seniors pay all the bills, make all the reservations, and take care of all the other little things in order to make the trip as easy as possible on the players. They are also responsible for all reports that the Athletic Association requires each sport to turn in.

Being in charge of the junior, sophomore, and freshman managers, each of the nine senior managers is assisted by two juniors and several underclassmen.
The Tribe of Illini is a social organization for all men on campus who have earned a varsity letter in intercollegiate athletics. An "I" man takes pride in being a member of the tribe because of the hard work and long hours which are involved to achieve this goal. This organization helps to foster good fellowship between the student body and varsity letter winners. New members are elected after awards are presented in each sport. The tribe strives to maintain the true fighting Illini spirit and practices the Illini Code of Sportsmanship in intercollegiate athletic competition.
Abe Woodson, outstanding trackman and football player, was named Illini Athlete of the Year by popular vote of students and faculty last spring. A January graduate, Woodson made his last contribution to the track squad in the spring of 1957. Then, he was outstanding as a 70-yard low hurdler. In football, Woodson excelled as a leading scorer, punter, ground gainer, and pass catcher. Woodson also played in the 1957 East-West Shrine game in San Francisco, scoring a touchdown as his East Squad lost 14 to 13.

AWARD WINNERS

Most Valuable Player of the 1957 Illini football team was end Rod Hanson of Harvey, a senior in the school of Physical Education. Hanson, who achieved three varsity letters, also participated in two post-season bowl games. He played for the North, coached by Ray Eliot and MSU's Duffy Daugherty, in the North-South game in Miami. In the Senior Bowl contest at Mobile, Alabama, his all-around defensive play and timely block of a South punt, led to a North victory. He received the game’s most valuable player award.

Robert Dintelmann, senior in the College of Agriculture, was awarded the 1957 Illinois Conference Honor Medal for proficiency in scholarship and athletics. Dintelmann was captain of the 1957 Illinois track team and won three letters in that sport. He was an outstanding competitor in the 880-yard run and in the one-mile run. He maintained a 3.91 scholastic average to complete his qualifications for the title of Illinois’ top athlete-scholar.
Big Ray is watching you!

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Among the students' favorite extra-curricular activities are those offered by the University of Illinois Department of Intramural and Recreational Sports. The IM program, including competition on both the group and individual basis, supplements academic work with stimulating physical workouts in the form of wholesome recreational activities. The department includes Intramural, Recreational, and Co-recreational programs, all sponsored by the Athletic Association.

The IM department furnishes healthful and exciting competition among the rival fraternities and independents groups. Pre-season coaching and practice sessions are held before competition begins in the events.

For those interested in sports for "Athletics" sake, the Recreational department provides many interesting activities with special tournaments and programs for graduate students and staff members.
Sports in which men and women can team up in competition are handled by the co-rec department. Among the co-rec sports are: volleyball, bowling, and softball.

The IM Rec Board, with Allen Klingel as faculty supervisor, directs the Department of Intramural and Recreational Sports. The Board, composed of the supervisor, assistant supervisor, senior and junior managers, chairman of the officials association, and representatives of the Interfraternity Council, Men's Independent Association, and the participating Independent and Greek houses, sets up all of the program policies and acts as a protest board.

CHICAGO PROFESSIONAL COLLEGES
UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
CHICAGO PROFESSIONAL COLLEGES

The CHICAGO PROFESSIONAL COLLEGES of the University of Illinois constitute a major resource for the development of Illinois youth in the health professions.

To support its educational programs in MEDICINE, DENTISTRY, PHARMACY, NURSING, OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY, SOCIAL WORK, and MEDICAL ILLUSTRATION, the University has close working relationships with the many adjacent medical institutions.

Beyond teaching, the faculty and student body have a most important role in advancing the health of all people by their contributions to our knowledge through basic scientific research and clinical investigation. From the laboratories of these COLLEGES and those of the University's RESEARCH AND EDUCATIONAL HOSPITALS there has been a steadily growing body of knowledge and experience of inestimable value. Through a division of the University's GRADUATE COLLEGE, research and graduate study leading to advanced degrees is encouraged.

Herbert E. Longenecker
Donald J. Caseley, medical director of Research and Educational Hospitals and associate dean of the College of Medicine

Franklin C. Dalla, director of housing and the Chicago Illini Union

Maurice J. Galbraith, dean of student affairs

Hooker Goodwin, director of Illustration Studios

Howard A. Hazelton, business manager

Harry G. Higgins, administrator of the Research and Educational Hospitals

George F. McGregor, associate director of non-academic personnel

Margaret D. Johnson, food service manager

George R. Moon, examiner and recorder

Harry W. Pearce, Superintendent of buildings and grounds

Wilma Troxel, librarian

John H. Worthington, manager of public information
University of Illinois Chicago Professional Colleges present a diversified picture of campus life. Here both graduate and undergraduate students receive their professional training. Half of the student body commutes to school, while the other half lives on campus. Nearly a third of those enrolled are married. The campus atmosphere as a whole encourages individual initiative and thinking.

The College of Dentistry, affiliated with the University of Illinois since 1901, became an organic part of the University in 1913. In 1937, the college moved into the Dental-Medical-Pharmacy Building where it now shares facilities with the College of Medicine. The expansion and improvement of both clinical and laboratory space in recent years has permitted the College to accept ninety first-year students for dental training.

The purposes of the College are:
1. To prepare dentists to diagnose and treat diseases of the oral structure, and, so far as present knowledge permits, to prevent these diseases.
2. To prepare graduate students for the practice of the oral specialties such as oral surgery and orthodontics.
3. To add to the existing knowledge of the normal processes of the body, and of the etiology and control of disease.
4. To educate teachers and researchers who are qualified to prepare others for dental practice, teaching and research.

5. To bring to practicing dentists information concerning the latest theories and techniques in dentistry.

In achieving these goals, cooperation among the University Colleges that prepare students for the health professions, is important. These colleges and the hospital are housed in the same or adjacent buildings, and are associated in both research and teaching.

Courses in the basic sciences are distributed during the four years of dental training. Clinical and practical work are begun in the first year, with increasing responsibility given to the student each year. Through proximity of the courses in science and practical experience, students learn the value of each in the field of dentistry.

The Dental Student Council is a group very representative of the student body. It offers every student the opportunity to participate in the administration of the school, thus bringing about a better spirit of understanding. It is an independent governing body having its own constitution and by-laws.

ASSOCIATION OF PHILIPPINE GRADUATE DENTISTS

DENTAL CHRISTIAN MEDICAL SOCIETY

Dental Christian Medical Society aims to present a positive witness of God our Father, Jesus Christ our Saviour, and the Holy Spirit to our associates in the profession.
The University of Illinois College of Medicine, along with the University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospitals, is located approximately two miles west of downtown Chicago in the Medical Center District, which is one of the largest medical centers in the world. Other hospitals in the Medical Center District, including Cook County Hospital, West Side Veterans Administration Hospital, and Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital are used extensively in teaching. The Hines Veterans Administration Hospital located several miles west of the medical center is also used to a considerable extent in the teaching program of this College.

There are more than 1,200 physicians and scientists on the teaching staff of the College of Medicine, and approximately 900 of these are practicing physicians who serve the University without salary.

The College of Medicine of the University of Illinois was established in 1913 when the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago, which had been affiliated with the University since 1897, became an integral part of the University of Illinois. Presbyterian Hospital became affiliated with the University in 1941, and members of the faculty of Rush Medical School became members of the University of Illinois College of Medicine faculty. Recently the agreement between the University and Presbyterian Hospital has been extended to St. Luke's Hospital which is now being merged into a single hospital known as the Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital.

In 1958 two hundred students will be enrolled in the freshman class. For all its medical students the University provides an unexcelled opportunity for the study of medicine in an area with outstanding facilities for teaching, research, and patient care.

The Medical Student Council administers the student government of the College of Medicine. It is composed of the president, vice president, past president, and two representatives from each class.

The Council is an important instrument for communication between the students in medicine, the faculty, and the administration. It is the Council's responsibility to discuss problems of student interest, present recommendations to administrative groups, and to act as the official voice of medical student opinion in faculty-student relationships.

Each year the Medical Student Council sponsors the "Golden Apple" Instructorship Awards. The Council also contributes to the Henry G. Poncher Student Aid Fund, from which loans are made to students in emergency situations.

Recently the Council has been concerned with sponsoring an annual student research forum in cooperation with the faculty. Areas for increased alumni-student contact are being explored, and a subcommittee has been formed to work with a faculty group in bringing students and faculty together socially. Another subcommittee is currently working on the feasibility of an honor system within the Medical School.
The Raymond B. Allen Instructorship or “Golden Apple” Award was set up in 1948 as a means of expressing appreciation to faculty members who sincerely endeavor to further medical education, of recognizing helpful instruction, and of honoring excellence in individual instructorship. Awards are made at a general assembly of the entire Medical School. All students vote for the instructors whom they deem worthy of the award. The Freshman and Sophomore classes each select one instructor, the Junior and Senior classes vote for two, one clinical and one didactic, respectively. This award has now come to be one of the most sought-after honors in the College of Medicine.

Preparation for nursing on a baccalaureate level is a recent development in Illinois. The University of Illinois School of Nursing, now in its fourth year, has pioneered in the establishment of nursing education completely within the context of higher education. There is a growing recognition of the need for larger numbers of practitioners with this type of preparation who can be expected to exert leadership and to contribute to the improvement of health conditions. The curriculum in nursing provides for a broad background in the liberal arts, as well as for a sound preparation in nursing and the allied sciences.
The basic science departments of the colleges of medicine and pharmacy provide pre-clinical instruction. Representatives of the other health professions contribute consistently throughout the clinical years. The University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospitals provide facilities for clinical practice. Experience in these facilities and in selected small community (rural) hospitals. Through the careful selection of a wide range of experiences, the graduate of this program is prepared to participate in the health care of people in hospitals and public health agencies in both urban and rural communities.

The Graduate College on this campus, under a separate Associate Dean, holds a unique position in that it exists semi-autonomously as a division of the Graduate College within the University. The national need for full-time teachers and research workers in the medical sciences has never been greater. More men retire each year from medical science faculties than are entering graduate study toward doctorates in these sciences. The greater availability of money for research and support of graduate education has as yet not reversed this trend. The future health security of this country will be determined in part by the extent to which this challenge is met. Many well-trained men with Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in basic medical sciences are needed to meet this existing crisis. The division of the Graduate College on this campus is engaged in a continuing program to alleviate this critical problem.

Pharmacy is a science based upon two fundamental sciences—the biological and the physical. During the last decade Pharmacy has seen momentous advancements in both of these fields. The antibiotics, hormones, and drugs affecting the central nervous system have swollen the pharmacist's card index. This is primarily due to not only biological advancements but those in pharmaceutical chemistry as well.

The College of Pharmacy itself has followed many transitions and advancements since its foundation in 1859. Since 1954, the College has been relocated in a new self-contained pharmacy building at 833 South Wood Street. Four floors of laboratories in addition to a pharmaceutical manufacturing plant working in conjunction with the hospital pharmacy are two important features. Thus, the College has kept pace with the progress of the profession.
In the above, the Junior-SeniorDispensing laboratory is pictured. It is one of the up-todate laboratories in the College of Pharmacy. Each student has within his reach a kit which is modelled after a prescription counter, containing all the equipment and materials necessary to fill the assigned prescriptions of the course. The learning is complemented by the environment.

The Pharmacy Student Council acts as a coordinator between the four pharmacy classes and their programs and as the connecting link between the student body and the faculty of the Pharmacy School. It solves student problems and refers them to the faculty.

The Council is composed of nineteen members: the president and vice-president of each class, two elected representatives from each class and the past presidents of each of the classes. A president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer are then elected as the council officers. A member of the faculty is also present at the meetings as the faculty adviser for the council, giving a guiding hand to the organization. Regular meetings of the council are held twice each month and special meetings are called when the occasion arises. The powers of the council are those conferred upon it by the Committee on Student Affairs of the Chicago Professional Colleges.

All students enrolled in the College of Pharmacy are eligible for membership in the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association. The purpose of this organization is to help members enlarge their professional knowledge by stimulating participation in study and research and to keep them well informed through the presentation of current pharmaceutical and scientific literature. Each month members of the student branch receive the JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION, which contains news and information of particular interest concerning the profession of pharmacy and its allied sciences.

The students become aware of the many organizations presently active in the profession and are introduced to current legislation which affects the profession. Future leaders are prepared for their positions of leadership by becoming interested in activities such as these.

By means of these activities and many others, the student of pharmacy becomes integrated into the profession upon which he is soon to embark.

The Union is the hub of social and recreational activities for the Chicago Professional Colleges.

The Display, Music, and Social Committees plan such events as the Christmas Sing and Dance, Open House for New Students, quarterly mixers, and movies, as well as the Winter Carnival, in which all fraternal groups participate.

Additions to the Union's program include a Presidents Dinner and formation of a Coffee Hour Committee. The former brought together leaders of all organizations and representatives of the administration to discuss common problems. The Coffee Hour Committee will plan a variety of programs to highlight the Thursday afternoon get-togethers.

Winter Carnival is an annual event at the University of Illinois in Chicago. Any organization may enter and present a variety of entertainment. Each of these organized groups has the privilege of nominating a queen candidate. The queen is chosen by a number of faculty judges.
The Executive Student Council acts as a liaison between the student councils of all four colleges, the administration, and the Chicago Illini Board. The presidents and two representatives from each student council are selected to serve on the Executive Student Council. Dr. E. J. Forest, Chairman of the Committee on Student Affairs, acts as adviser.

ILLIO COMMITTEE

The Illio Committee of the Chicago Campus is responsible for the composition of the section of the yearbook devoted to the Chicago Professional Colleges. Sales, publicity, group pictures, page layouts, write-ups and copy editing keep the group busy from September through November.
The Illio Committee each year sponsors a photo contest to encourage campus photographers. Everyone from the Chicago Campus may submit pictures. They are judged by a committee of three from the faculty. First prize is $15.00, second is $10.00 and third is $5.00.
A residence hall, on a college or university campus, is not only a facility whose basic function is to provide food and shelter for its occupants, but is also a laboratory designed to teach students social behavior, self-management and a spirit of community living.

The physical structure must first of all comfortably provide, with its many features and facilities, for the basic needs of those who reside in it. However, the achievement of the spirit and success of good living lies wholly within the organization, the attitude, and the industry of the residents of the structure.

The Residence Hall Association is designed to promote and maintain a program of self-government of the well-being and development of its occupants who may present their views, desires, and opinions. It is anticipated through the years that a very effective and meaningful educational service will be rendered for the mutual benefit of the members of the Association and the University.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Recreation and competitive sports are offered to all students by the physical education department of the Chicago Professional Colleges through the means of a well-rounded athletic program.

Facilities are located in the Chicago Illini Union, and the nearby Duncan Y.M.C.A. is available to students for swimming and handball. The athletic program is directed by Mr. John Brown, now in his fourteenth year as the director of physical education.

There are several main types of athletic programs. Varsity teams compete against other Chicago area colleges in basketball, volleyball, softball, handball, swimming, tennis, golf, floor and table tennis, and free throw shooting. There are also recreational facilities available for those who wish to relax and find diversion from studying.

The varsity basketball team won seven and lost four games during the season. The tennis team captured two out of three dual meets. After taking first place for two years, the golf squad dropped to second place by two strokes in the city collegiate tournament held at Mount Prospect Country Club.

Set your own pace for your future in engineering with Douglas largest and most stable unit in the aircraft industry

At Douglas, young men like you are planning far into the future...building careers in engineering in an industry headed for a half century of expansion.

Some of the goals which you can help to achieve were beyond man's wildest dreams when Douglas was making early aviation history in 1920 with the first airplane to carry a payload equivalent to its own weight.

Today, Douglas is recognized throughout the world as the leader in aviation. The best opportunities for young engineers are with a company which has accepted the challenge of this world leadership. Your ideas, ability and ambition will establish the pace of your career at Douglas...and both recognition and promotion will be your rewards.

DOUGLAS PLANTS FROM COAST TO COAST

Douglas offers engineering opportunities in the nation's choice geographical locations. In Southern California, Douglas plants are located in Santa Monica, El Segundo and Long Beach. Others are in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and in Charlotte, North Carolina.

Research, development, and manufacture of commercial and military transports—including the new DC-8 jet transport—and of guided missiles are centered in Santa Monica. Navy combat aircraft are designed and manufactured in El Segundo. The Long Beach Division is concerned primarily with the design and manufacture of huge military logistic transports and high-speed tactical bombers. The Tulsa Division is an alternative production source of the B-47 Stratotjet bomber and also produces a third version of the B-66 tactical bomber. The Charlotte Division is primarily a missile production facility.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

The Engineering Departments are organized on a functional basis and, in general, include the following three main groups:

A BETTER LIFE...GREATER SECURITY

In addition to offering young engineers the opportunity to live in some of the most ideal locations in the country, Douglas provides one of the broadest programs of employee benefits in the aircraft industry.

In nearly all assignments, on-the-job training assures full development of your talents. Scholarships and fellowships are available for continuing your education at nearby universities. Liberal vacations... sick leave... company-paid insurance... hospitalization... cash awards for your ideas... and a generous pension plan are among the benefits enjoyed by every Douglas employee.

Finally, challenging opportunities exist for all categories of engineers and scientists. All Douglas executives and administrators of high responsibility have advanced to their present positions from within the company. The choice of a future is yours in the most rewarding of American industries. Your future is unlimited at Douglas.

There are plans that I must draw.
Then let this timid hand of mine
Be guided, line for line,
With that steady, certain trueness
Of the Hand that planned
This universe.

There are materials I must choose.
Then let this casual mind of mine
Choose with the wisdom of the Mind
That fixed the substances
Of things like grass and trees
And mountain peaks.

There are decisions I must make.
Then let me make them with that sureness
That divided land and sea,
And day and night, the birds that fly
And beasts that roam the field.

I've a future I must build.

There's a determination I must have.
Then let me bind myself unto such things
As principles, and truth, and right
With that same permanence
That holds in their celestial places
The sun, and stars,
And all the heavens' gems.

I've a future I must build.
So, let me build it with such care,
Such tools, such wisdom,
And with such a rugged firmness,
That all the fiercest thrusts
Of host or elements
Cannot destroy it.

Aye, I've a future I must build . . .
Let me rise, then, to the task!

Just as classrooms and buildings have become more modern and functional, so have means and methods of producing engravings.

But hand-in-hand with modernness go tradition and experience...and fine engravings for yearbooks have been a tradition with us for 48 years.
